Hymn Sing To Be Sunday Night
The Hilltop Hymn Sing scheduled to have been held at the Immanuel Baptist Church Sunday night, has been postponed until Sunday, March 2, at the same place. The fact that this Sunday marks the second anniversary of the song services and confers in the schedules of several participating churches Sunday night, led to the postponement.
The service is open to hymn lovers of all faiths. The service starts at 8 p. m., immediately following the regular evening worship service.

GO TO CHURCH

This is your special invitation to attend the church of your choice during the Lenten season. Hilltop churches of all denominations, both Protestant and Catholic, are cooperating in the community-wide endeavor and seek your cooperation.

REGULAR CHURCH ATTENDANCE

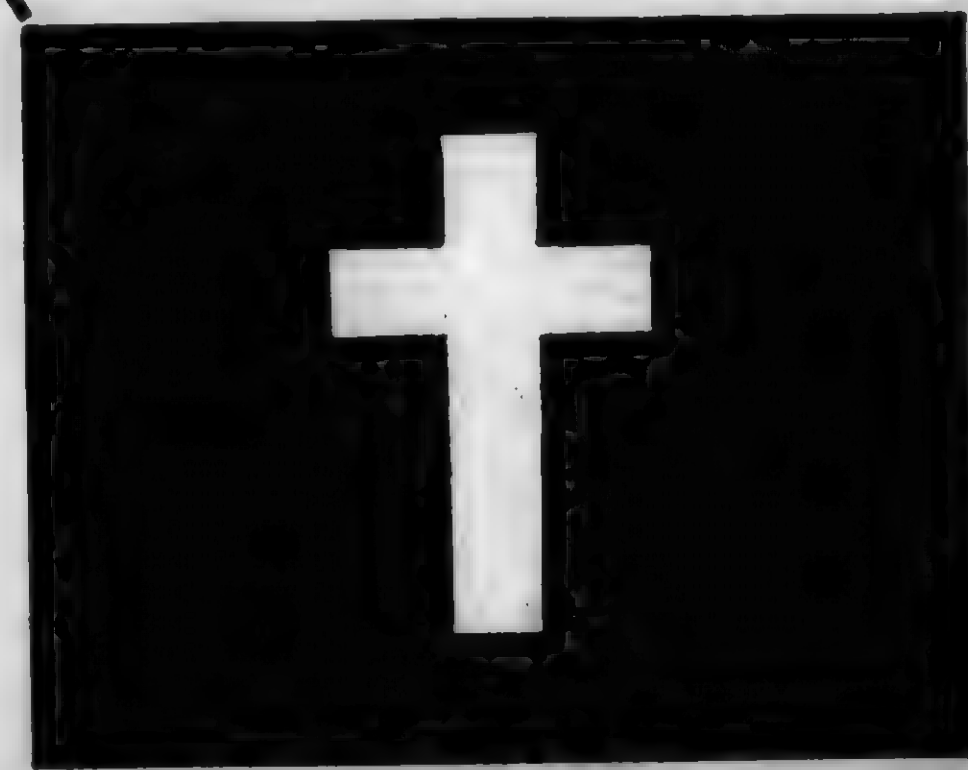

1. Lifts you above the everyday things of life.
2. Makes you better fitted for your place in the life of the community.
3. Makes a more desirable community in which to live.

The place occupied by your church is high on the list of places to be known by you and your family and your friends in the discharge of your civic and spiritual responsibilities.

What would your community be without churches?

In times of discouragement and distress the church is one source of solace and communion with God. While there are many faiths, there is but one church, the church you attend or support.

Reports Good In Red Cross Drive Here

Early reports from the local women's divisions in the annual Red Cross drive show that response has been good on the Hilltop and West Side.

Mrs. Harold Kay, 91 Schultze, av., colonel for the Valley group, said that approximately two-thirds of her $1200 quota had already been reached this week.

Mrs. Leonard Wisdom, 245 N. Harrison, colonel for the Hilltop, said that although only a few of the workers had reported, $300 had been turned in Monday of this week.

They Are Featured In Variety Show

This group of musicians will share the spotlight in the Eighth Annual Band Variety Show to-night, tomorrow and Saturday night.

Entertainer

Jim Blackwell

A song and tap number done in the Louis Jordan manner will be presented in the Eighth Annual Band Variety Show at West High School auditorium tonight, Friday and Saturday.

This will be the fourth year that Jim has had a part in a variety show at his alma mater, one for which he graduated at mid-year and is coming back to do his bit this year. His number will be "The Chick's Too Young To Fry."

Music is almost second nature to young Blackwell, who has his own orchestra complete with vocalists. He's taken only about eight tap lessons from Jack Sheridan, but he performs like a veteran trouper.

He admits he took "a few" piano lessons but most of his talent on the ivories he developed himself. He has played over the radio three times—once on the Hi-Jinks program over WCOR, and twice over WHCK on Stars of the Future.

Jim played a tuba with West High's fine marching band and has worked as hard as the next one to put West out in front of that department. He expects to make music his career and is at present attempting to book his hand into some regular spot in the Columbus area.

Playing with him are Gregory Burke, alto sax; Ralph Jones, tenor sax; Richard Alston, trumpet; Donald Tate, trumpet; George Farley, bass; Flynn Ford, drums; and Mollie Brooks, vocalists.

Jim is one of four brothers who grew up on the Hilltop. Their mother is Mrs. Louise Blackwell, 2407 Ray-st. Jim was outstanding as a grid star at West, and now is a trumpet player in New York. Allan is the third brother.

Basketball Dinner Is Wednesday Night

Tickets for the West High School basketball dinner to be held at the Westgate Methodist Church, 345 S. Brinker-av., Wednesday night, were much in demand this week.

Reservations must be in the hands of the committee before Tuesday evening. Tickets set for $1.50 each and may be purchased at the Equine Men's Shop, 2502 W. Broad-st., or from Booster members.

William Bernhart, athletic director at Capital University, and Otto H. Magly, former West principal, are the speakers. M. E. (Jack) Senebrenner will be the master of ceremonies.

Two Traffic Lights Put Up On W. Broad

Two more items in a 14-point safety program proposed several weeks ago by interested Hilltop groups were added to the approved list this week with the erection of two traffic signals on W. Broad-st. and the assurance that a large sign could be erected on the New York Central Building overhauled at the city limits.

Traffic lights were installed on W. Broad-st. at Rays and Algonquin-av. in an effort to reduce driving speeds and afford motorists protection in crossing the thoroughfare.

Safety Director C. C. Cole said The Hilltop Record that a large caution sign would be erected on the NYC overhauled near the city limits on W. Broad-st. In large letters drivers entering the city will be confronted with the following message:

"City of Columbus. Traffic Laws Enforced. Reduce Speed. Please Drive Carefully."

The sign will be illuminated so that it will serve its purpose both day and night. Curtis G. Wilcox, 2887 Palmist-st., presented a drawing of the proposed sign to the Traffic Commission several weeks ago. It was just one phase of a 14-point safety program drawn up by the safety committee.

Another phase of the Hilltop safety program will become a reality as soon as it is approved by the city.

Charles E. Martz

Martz To Talk Before HBA Group Tues.

Paper Drive Over The Top

The West High Boosters' paper drive is "over the top."

That good news was announced Tuesday morning when M. E. (Jack) Senebrenner, chairman of the drive, received a check in the amount of $1005.40 from the Indianapolis Paper Company. Dick Francis, president of the club, and other Boosters who had worked so hard in the effort to collect $1000 worth of paper were overjoyed when the word got around. Proceeds will be used to make improvements to Magly Field.

It was the biggest drive of its kind ever put on in the city as far as any one could determine. Linden McKinley High School reported something over $800 from a three-day drive in that community during the war.

In spite of the fine results of the Sunday drive, Senebrenner said that additional paper would be collected this week, where people were not home or where a house may have been missed. Final pickups will be made Saturday. Anyone having paper to contribute to the drive can contact either M. Francis, RA. 0725, or Mr. Senebrenner, RA. 2080.

Students Worked Hard
Officers of the Boosters' Club were enthusiastic at the fine response on the part of West High School students, coaches and all who helped to make it the biggest event of its kind thus far. Many of those who helped worked until 8:30 that night and still one large truck was not unloaded until morning.

Charles Lane, manager of the C. & S. Dime Store at Broad-st. and Hague-av., applied an entire truckload of corrugated paper. Bob Wolfe and Bill Buckingham helped unload paper until the last amful was on the scales Sunday night.

Francis announced that there would be a meeting of the West High Boosters' Club Monday at 7:30 p. m. at Room 101 at the school. A complete report of the drive and plans for the basketball dinner to be held at Westgate Methodist Church.

A total of 122,475 pounds of paper were collected up through Monday of this week. It consisted of 2,995 pounds of corrugated paper, 800 pounds of tags, 91,700 pounds of news and 26,700 pounds of magazines.

The C&S Dime Store contributed a total of 1200 pounds of corrugated paper and 1025 pounds of news papers.

next Wednesday night will be made.

Many of the West students, both boys and girls, worked diligently all afternoon at the task of ridding doublets and carrying paper up out of basements to the street, but no one took the job more seriously than Tommy Timmon, 197 S. Rutherford-av. Tommy, who is still a pupil at John Burroughs School, worked with a crew all afternoon and despite advice that he go home and get warm, he stuck with the job until his fingers and feet were almost numb from the cold. He was determined to help put the drive over and according to other workers he "did his share."

To express the appreciation of the Boosters for the help of everyone concerned, Senebrenner made the following statement:

"The Hilltop Boosters say thanks to all the people who helped in any way to make our waste paper drive a success. Especially we owe much thanks to the students of West Junior and West Senior High School who worked themselves to the verge of exhaustion in putting this drive over. We of the Boosters are proud of you."

"To you who loaned your trucks—thanks is such a little word. May you have the realization that you have had a big part in making this a better Hilltop."

"In closing, the Hilltop is what it is because of you. The collective goodness of all for the betterment of the place we live in and especially the boys and girls is a power so strong that it united together nothing can destroy. You who helped had a share. Your joy should be unlimited. Thanks again."

Demand For Tickets Great

An unprecedented demand for tickets for the Eighth Annual Band Variety Show as soon as reservations went on sale last week led the Band Parents' Club, sponsors of the affair, to schedule a third showing at the West High School auditorium Saturday night.

The curtain will go up on the first performance tonight at 8 o'clock. Both tonight and tomorrow night the auditorium is a virtual sellout with reservations gone by Tuesday of this week.

All seats for the Saturday performance will be on a "first come first served" basis with no reservations. Holders of the yellow general ticket will be admitted in the order in which they arrive at the school. Tickets for this show will be delivered to the home by one of the students if a call is made to the school—RA. 0633.

Attention is drawn to the starting time of the shows. All performances will begin at 8 o'clock sharp due to the length of the program. The show will be approximately two hours in length and will include "pop" concerts by the senior and junior high bands followed by the variety show, made up of 16 acts with more than 50 performers and accompanied by the 16-piece swing band.

All proceeds from the show will be used to support the school band and orchestra. Mrs. Cranston Williams, 586 S. Ogden-av., is president of the Band Parents' Club.

Kenneth Dickinson, Jr., will be master of ceremonies for the variety part of the program. From Charles Bennett, the director, and via the magazine, it is understood that rehearsals have been going on steadily and that a most entertaining evening is promised each of the three nights.

This advance will mark the last Band Variety Show for many years at West High. Thirty-five senior band members will be making their last appearance in the annual event. Many of the acts are also making their last show appearance. These include the "The Four Tones" quartet, Blackwell, Kutt, Chas. Nancy Waters, Lou Fuller, and a large part of the swing band.

Invitation To Attend Church Goes Unheeded

Local ministers are wondering how seriously a certain burglar will consider an invitation to attend church after last week's incident.

On Friday night someone used a torch bar to force the lock on the front door of the Hilltop Sporting Goods Co., 2481 W. Broad-st. next door to the Hilltop Record. Right beside the lock was pasted the invitation "Let's All Go To Church." The sticker was one of many appearing in business places and on the windows of homes in a community-wide effort to stimulate interest in church attendance through the Lenten season.

Temporarily, at least, the invitation did distract the burglar from his task, for he walked off with half a dozen guns of various types, a supply of ammunition, some gun scope-sights and perhaps other items that could not be determined at the moment.

Churton Is Selected By Honorary Groups

Paul Churton, 224 W. Wood-uff-av., a graduate of West High School, has been selected for membership in two honorary engineering societies at Ohio State University.

Saturday night at the Engineers' Ball given at the campus he was tapped by Tuxinko, an honorary group. Membership requirements include both scholastic records and achievements in the field of university life. Members of this week he was given membership in Tau Beta Pi, an honorary group stressing scholastic work.

Churton, a veteran of three and one-half years' naval service, is a junior at OSU.

Booster Paper Drive Goes Over

That old "never say die" attitude that has come to the fore so many times to put projects over on the Hilltop was evidenced again this past Sunday when members of the West High Boosters Club raised over $1000 in their paper drive.

This was the largest drive of its kind ever held on the Hilltop and we are inclined to believe it set a new city-wide record.

The money will go toward a scoreboard for the athletic field. Congratulations, gentlemen. It was a fine job.

Spoon Fashion

This little story is supposed to be true.

It seems a couple of young ladies were traveling to New York in a sleeper. One young lady left the berth only to return a few minutes later and say to her companion as she crawled into bed, "Let's sleep spoon fashion."

At this point a hand was placed across her mouth and a gentleman said, "Now don't get excited, but you are in the wrong berth."

The young lady quickly excused herself and found the proper berth.

Next morning in the diner she recognized the gentleman she had met in the sleeper episode of the evening before. She barely allowed her eyes to travel in his direction but when she did he acknowledged her glance by lightly waving a spoon in her direction.

West High Boosters still haven't given us a definition of an "icky" as used in their paper drive band bills last week.

Phyllis West, one-time Record employee, writes from Arlington, Va., it's a red-headed daughter named Pamela Ruth at their house.

Fred Shepard, Hilltop Sportsman's Club proxy, writes from New York where he is attending the Sportsman's Show, saying he wouldn't trade the Hilltop for Manhattan and Brooklyn thrown in.

Want Ad Page Takes New Dress

Today's issue of the Record comes to you with what we believe to be an improved Want Ad section.

Black face type, so prominently displayed in the past several years on the want ad page, is being eliminated in favor of lighter faces, which we believe will be more acceptable by our readers and give every advertiser an equal display of his ad.

License Tag Sale To Start On March 10 On The Hilltop

The Hilltop Kiwanis Club will again sell auto license tags to Hilltoppers, starting March 10 and continuing through March 31 at Robinson's Electric Store, 2403 W. Broad-st.

The club sold more than 3,000 tags in the same location during March, 1946, and, according to Russ Henry, committee chairman and Robinson's store manager, sales should go considerably over that figure this year.

An appeal is being made to club members and their wives to help issue the tags so that there will be a minimum of waiting for those purchasing their tags. There will be two instead of the single tag this year.

Henry said that the store will be open for license tag sale each Wednesday afternoon during the sale period.

Revenue obtained from this project will go into the general fund of the Kiwanis Club for use by the underprivileged children and other committees, officers of the club and.

Letter Writing Contest Still Open

Work on the 30th anniversary edition of The Hilltop Record has been going forward with copy completed on at least two sections of the paper. Organizers not already contacted are invited to make arrangements now for some news coverage of their activities.

The contest for the best letter written on the subject, "Why I Like To Live On The Hilltop," has brought in several entries. The deadline for entries in this competition has been set at March 20.

Ten cash prizes totaling $25 will be given for the best entries. All letters should be addressed: The Hilltop Record Contest Editor, 2405 W. Broad-st. The first prize is $10; second prize, $5; third prize, $3; with the next seven best letter writers receiving $1 each.

Orders for extra copies of the anniversary paper are being mailed anywhere. They may be ordered by calling RA 1125.

The building editor of the Record, published last August, was judged the finest special edition among weekly papers in the state at the recent Osmond Honoring Newspaper Show.

Camp Chase Post To Meet
Camp Chase No. 91, American Legion, will meet at post headquarters, W. Broad-st. and Burgess-av., tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Service and ex-service men and women are invited to attend.

Buckeye Super Mkt. Group Is Organized

Two Hilltop and West Side grocers are instrumental in the formation of the Buckeye Super Markets, Inc., a group of 25 independent, privately-owned food markets. The organization is described as a co-operative buying corporation with contacts for direct buying from the manufacturers.

Otto J. Trott, owner of Trott's Super Market, 184 S. Sandusky-st., is president of the organization. Carl Capretta of Capretta's Market, 2006 Sullivan-av., is a member of the board of directors.

Two or three other Hilltop merchants may be affiliated with the group.

3 Hilltop Women Are Honored At Ohio State

The outstanding women students at Ohio State University were honored Friday evening at a banquet in University School for their service, leadership and scholarship.

Monte Board, women's campus leadership society, invited 134 women to the fifth annual recognition banquet.

Among the group honored were three Hilltop girls, Mary Jo Chis, 237 Nashville-av., Edith Neff, 2040 Crescent-dr., and Mary Adams, 2433 Sullivan-av.

95% Attendance Shown By Kiwanis

The Hilltop Kiwanis Club maintained a 95 per cent attendance record for the month of January, it was announced here last week.

For today's luncheon meeting of the club, the speaker is to be Walter Bluck, secretary of the Ohio Council for Cooperatives. His subject will be "Value of Co-operatives in Relation to Business."

Last week Kiwanians saw how a gas line was installed from Texas to West Virginia under pressure of a war-time emergency.

On March 13 Hugh Huntington, attorney with offices at 16 E. Broad-st., will address local Kiwanians on the subject of Wills and Inheritance Taxes.

Mr. Huntington has given much study to the subject of wills. He is recognized as an authority on the effect of inheritance taxes on both large and small estates.

He has defended wills in which more than 500 wills of famous people, most of them contested in court. He has made wills in which gifts were made to the Children's Hospital, Charity Newages, Travelers Aid, Ohio State University and numerous other religious groups and charities.

pleted her ensemble. Attired in a grey crepe dress with black accessories, and wearing a corsage of red carnations, was Miss Jo Ann Krause, a close friend of the bride, who served as maid of honor.

Hobby Show

The school will sponsor a hobby show March 11 and 12. The exhibit will be held in the library. Pupils are invited to bring in displays of hobbies that interest them in their spare time. These may include models, collections of various kinds, handwork, canning, etc. A certain amount of space will be allotted to each entry. Pupils will have the opportunity of visiting the show during their English classes.

The Purpose of the show is to acquaint the students with the wide variety of interests the boys and girls have developed, and to encourage the cultivation of hobbies as a worthwhile use of leisure time.

Y-Teen Activities

The Starling Y-Teen held a Valentine party which was attended by 50 girls. Games were played, prizes awarded, and refreshments served.

Officers for this semester are

Members are

Anita Laugh-futte, Carol Bennett, Georgia Bowen, Doris Yeldyke, Barbara Blake, Marion Cloud, Charlotte Renner, Barbara Baumgardner, Virginia Dawson, Marian Scoberry, Phyllis Taylor, Jean Vincent, Jean Lorie, Norma Jean Puckett, Marjorie Mallory, Hazel Lewis and Ruth Evans. Any girl who wishes to join may apply for membership.

Poster Contest

To advertise the Y-Teen carnival a poster contest is being held throughout the school. The carnival will be held Friday, March 21, from 7 to 10, at the YWCA, 85 S. Fourth-st. There will be dancing, a fish pond, refreshments, and many other forms of entertainment. The 15c admission includes a talent show. All boys and girls are invited to attend.

PTA Burs Hours

The Starling PTA has purchased two E-flat alto horns for the school band and orchestra. Younger pupils, probably 7B's, will be selected to learn to play these instruments, as it will be time for them to learn. At present Mr. Rockey has 20 boys and girls preparing for the band.

Tax Stamps

Pupils of the school collected $13,358.22 in tax stamps for the School Sports Program Operating In The Black

Lights, Seating Accommodations To Boost Magly Field's Attendance Records

Receipts, totaling $4,746.48, furnished several hundred dollars surplus each year.

The whole program of spring sports, including baseball, track, tennis and golf, must be maintained out of revenues furnished by football and basketball.

These spring athletic expenses amount to approximately $1200 per year.

Since the payment of the stadium debt, the West High Athletic Department has been able to accumulate a surplus of approximately $8000, which will be paid out on the new lighting setup for Magly Field, Mr. Zolout reports.

Cowboy Basketeers Down Aquinas, Lose To Grandview Bobcats In Tournament

West's 1st Tourney Victory Since 1938

Cowboy George Williams and his West High quintet broke something of a precedent at Delaware Friday night when the Cowboys defeated Aquinas 45 to 36 in the Central District Class A Tournament. It was the first time since 1938 that a West team had won a tournament game.

That distinction was somewhat dulled the following evening, however, when the Cowboys bowed to the Grandview Bobcats 56 to 40. The defeat rung down the curtain on basketball for this season for the Hilltoppers.

Thelsen Out Of Lineup

The Cowboys were playing without the services of Paul Thelsen, high scoring center and one of the all-city selections for this year. He contracted the flu just the day before tourney time and was also nursing an injured ankle. He was not in uniform either night.

In the absence of Thelsen, Chuck Weeks took over the pivot position on the court and did a good job, leading the scoring against Aquinas with 14 points. Jack Thrush was effectively covered all evening and was able to pick up only one bucket from the floor but tossed in seven for seven at the charity line. Walter Hicks hit his stride in the second half of the Aquinas contest as he connected for 13 tallies and played an aggressive floor game. Ralph Waite and Don Anderson played good defensive ball and Anderson contributed eight points from the floor.

A smooth-working Grandview five blessed with plenty of height was more than a match for the Cowboys minus the services of Thelsen Saturday night. West battled on nearly even terms

The meeting is open to the public. All persons interested in game or soil conservation are invited to be present.

Kiwanis Game Long On Entertainment -- Short On Skill

By Libby Downing

Bloody noses, hot-dogs and brawls are merely three of the more interesting phases of the basketball game between the Hogenites and the Kiwanettes in a preliminary to the Northwest vs. Hilltop Kiwanis game, Friday evening.

MC Herb Deems introduced both of the girls' teams. "And now," he said, "the Kiwanettes!" Whereupon lithe figures in white blouses and long, red, flowing pantaloons ran out onto the floor. The first "little chick" to appear was Mrs. Dale Rose. She was quite up to snuff with pig-squeals and a middy blouse over anklet-length black pantaloons.

As game time neared, a nervous crowd gathered at the hall door. And now, and now, the captain of the Kiwanettes! Her highness, Anna Fywid, bore along on the shoulders of her team-mates. The atmosphere grew tense, and now she has alighted and is standing in the center of the floor. The entire team drops to its knees and sighs "Allah, Allah!"

Sweeney Release

The official of the women's game was Bud Sweeney, announcer on Station WHKC. (It might be closer to the truth to refer to him as the referee.)

In a tense moment, a certain lady whom we'll refer to as R. A. gave Sweeney a push and yelled "Get outa the way!"

We won't mention the incident of a Hogenite getting popped on the nose by a Kiwanette. Who's interested in the "gory" details?

At the half the score was 12-5 in favor of the Hogenites. During the second half of the game the Kiwanettes came back to tie the score 17-17 and, believe it or not, by some odd coincidence the game ended in the tie score.

The game was over, but what's this? At the opposite end of the floor the "ladies" have ganged up on the poor "referee" and you can't even see him. And then his shirt goes sailing out in the air, then a shoe, and another shoe, and his pants, and the poor man stands up only to find that his only possession is his red flannels.

Between the games, two mysterious hot-dog vendors appeared on the floor and stuffed a little pup into a box. After grinding the crank at the side of the box for a few seconds, a line of hot-dogs appeared and the vendors, who closely resembled Charlie Kent and Joo Goodwin, tossed them into the stands.

The game between the Northwest and Hilltop Kiwanis teams was nip and tuck all the way. The final score read Northwest 26 and Hilltop 21.

The Hilltoppers tied up the game 3-3 at the half after being ahead 5-3 at the end of the first quarter. But at the end of the third quarter they were trailing by one lone point. In the final period the Northwesters clinched the game by making 8 points while holding the Hilltoppers to 4.

Dancers Entertain

vided some lively entertainment by doing specialized taping routines.

Representing the Kiwanettes were Alice Rose, Emma Ewald, Chloe Anne Sparks, Rosalie Agee, Elva Clark, Elizabeth Swiegood, Marilyn Hoelcher, Ruth Hoelcher, Lorene Briggs, Betsy Sparks, Jane Morgan, Marjorie Borland, Mary Miller, Rosalie Witherspoon and daughter, Jinx.

The Hogenites were made up of Jeanine George, Barbara Una, Barbara McCracken, Doris McCracken, Jean Beem and Jean Wave, manager.

Starring for the Hilltop men's team were Sam Alford, Phil Stout, Morgan Murphy, Jerry Watson, Mack Pemberton, Leo Phillips, Bill Ewald, Fred Warden, Dale Ross and Joe Agee. Their manager is Harold Cunningham.

Although the men's game was more serious than the preliminary, it had its humorous moments too. When the Kiwanians weren't shooting at the baskets or reaching down the floor, they were "on the floor."

One instance occurred when Murphy fell down, causing an opponent to go with him and before they could get up several other fellows, both Northwest and Hilltoppers, were down with them.

One player fell over his opponent's foot, one of those size 6 jobs, and when his head hit the floor, it sounded for all the world like a pumpkin.

All in all, the games afforded the audience many laughs and plenty of hilarious fun.

through the first period but gradually lost ground from that point on as Eddie Smith led the Bobcat scoring with 16 tallies. This was no better than Thrush's contribution but West lacked the scoring punch from other members of the team. The Cowboys had pulled up to within four points of the Bobcats at the end of three periods.

Members of the basketball team will select the outstanding player of the year at the dinner honoring players and coaches to be given by the West High Boosters Club next Wednesday night at Westgate Methodist Church.

William Bernlohr, athletic director at Capital University, and Otto H. Masly, former West principal, are to be the speakers. M. E. (Jack) Sensentrenner will act as master of ceremonies.

Thrush, Thelsen On All-High Team

Jack Thrush and Paul Thelsen rated positions on the Dispatch All-high basketball selections announced Sunday. Earlier the Ohio State Journal had placed Thrush on the first team and Thelsen on the second team.

Walter Hicks and Don Anderson rated honorable mention in the Dispatch selection while Hicks was so honored in the Journal "mention" list. Thrush led the City League in individual scoring with 153 points while Thelsen was third with 127 tallies. Hicks held the seventh position with 117.

We Give Africa Back To The Arabs

Kel Fuller

One bright morning in April, 1944, when most of us had given up hope of ever getting out of the olive grove at Tindja, an order came to pack up equipment and prepare for an overland movement. It didn't take much imagination to guess that soon we would be on the way to sunny Italy. However, England wasn't ruled out entirely as a possibility and a rumor originated at the starting point of all rumors, that we might go to India. This supposition kept recurring at intervals and took a lot of joy out of life. One deluded soul even thought we might be going home, under somebody's foot, away his opinion pure.

Few tears of sadness were shed when, during the last week of April, we "folded our tents like the Arabs and not so silently stole away." We carefully filled all the dishes and raked away the streets, leaving the area more or less as we found it, boarded trucks and traveled fifteen or so miles to Bizerte, in high spirits, gazing for the first time at the familiar landmarks we had seen so many times during the seven months of residence. I remember clearly the great hill mass "609" which overlooks the flat country-side and the great freshwater inlet that forms the bay at Ferryville. Along the paved black top highway were the Arab huts, the olive groves, the stone houses of the "well to do," a stone quarry, a camp where a regiment of fierce looking colonial soldiers were training and the winery from whence flowed the great African drink "Vino."

Until then this had been our war. During the brief ride to the docks a new spirit came into being. The stagnation of eight almost useless months began to drop away and, relatively green, we were, we were coming into the light of a new sphere of action and were eagerly anticipated. Speculation as to our destination was the topic of the hour and the fervent hope was that it would be Italy.

The sun was shining brightly as we rode into the ruined city of Bizerte. Progress toward reconstruction was immediately discernible. The streets were completely clear of rubble and Arab junkmen had placed the debris in great neat, black-lining piles preparatory to rebuilding.

Some people had begun to move back and the city had the general appearance of orderliness, in sharp contrast to the gaunt war devastated look of seven months previous. Few of us realized on that bright sunny spring day that we were to see cities infinitely more destroyed—cities in which destruction would be complete almost to the last brick.

Karouba Docks, where we were to board ship, was the principal loading point in that sector. We were aboard in a matter of minutes, a record in efficiency, because a loading operation usually takes a few hours.

The Mediterranean was choppy and our ship, a tiny LCI, bobbed around like a cork. The rail was a popular place long before we got absolutely free from crap games because nobody could stay away from the rail long enough to play. The fish in the Mediterranean were well fed. The voyage was of only two days' duration. We ate "K" rations, which are as good a thing to feed the fish as any I can think of.

We sighted land in the morning but didn't dock until late afternoon. The sea calmed as we entered the beautiful arc of the Bay of Naples and spirits brightened perceptibly. It was possible to take stock of the surroundings. The morning sun brought out distinctly the irregular coast line and bathed the distant city in brightness. We moved slowly past the Isle of Capri, at the entrance of the bay, and through the narrow channels charted by the navy. The waterway was cluttered with sunken ships, evidence of the German attempt to render the harbor useless. On the right, the huge mountain belching smoke was easily identified as legendary Mt. Vesuvius.

By the time we had tied up in the afternoon the rumor mill was going full blast again, but in spite of the fact that some startling branchings were fostered, that which lay ahead was as much an enigma as ever.

But one pertinent fact stood out above all others. This was Italy, where a war was being fought, and every one had a strong hunch that it would be very much different from Africa. It was!

Dr. Deck To Conduct "Religion Is Essential Part Of Man's Life," Riepenhoff Says

Dr. Q. A. Deck, presiding elder of the eastern district, Western Conference of the Evangelical Congregational Church, will conduct the "second" quarterly conference at the St. Paul's Evangelical Congregational Church, Saturday at 8 o'clock, and will preach and administer the Holy Communion at both the morning and evening services. The vested choir, under the direction of George Kennedy, will sing at both services.

Special Services Announced
 March 9 has been set aside as visitors' Sunday at the Westgate Methodist Church.

The pastor is now preaching a series of sermons on "Christ, the Builder." March 9, "The Builder of Personality." March 16, "The Builder of Society." March 23, "The Builder of Churches." March 30, "The Builder of Nations." April 6, Easter Sunday, "The Builder of Eternal Life." The Gospel of John is being used as the foundation for this series of sermons.

John Riepenhoff
EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of a series of interviews with prominent laymen of local churches. They are being published in connection with the community-wide effort being made between now and Easter to interest people in the work of Hilltop churches.

"Religion is an essential part of every man's life," is the theme of John Riepenhoff, in business on the Hilltop since 1920 and an active member of St. Aloysius Church during that same period of time.

He is another of the busy Hilltoppers who find time to devote a portion of their time and energy to the support of local churches in the community.

Riepenhoff believes that the churches are doing a "wonderful job" on the Hilltop in making it a finer place in which to live. He has served as a member of the church committee for more than 15 years and has headed various committees assigned to carry out special events in connection with the church and school. He recently headed the annual Neil House Party put on by his church.

Headed Two Groups
 A past president of the Hilltop Business Association and the United Business Men's Association, he has worked on numerous committees of both groups. He has been particularly active in planning Hilltop Minstrels during the past 18 years.

Riepenhoff came to Columbus from Weston in 1920. He was employed by two different downtown firms before opening his dry cleaning business at 2550 Sullivan-av in 1924. It was moved to 2530 Sullivan-av some time later and for the past eight years has been at 2532 Sullivan-av.

Mr. and Mrs. Riepenhoff brought up their three children on the Hilltop. All three were well known for their ability as a dance team. They appeared in several local minstrel shows and other amateur entertainments.

Dr. John Riepenhoff is now connected with the Veterans Administration at Chillicothe while the two daughters are both in Columbus. Anna Lou is employed at the Columbus Army Depot, while Virginia Lee just recently graduated from nurses' training at Ohio State University.

Hymn Sing Has 2nd Anniversary

The second anniversary of the Hilltop Hymn Sing was observed Sunday night when 162 persons attended the bi-weekly song service held at the Immanuel Baptist Church. Eight churches were represented.

The attendance banner was won by Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church with 53 per cent of the evening attendance present at the "sing".

The first Hilltop Hymn Sing was held March 4, 1945, and has been held in 13 different churches in the Hilltop since that time. Nineteen churches have taken part in the services at various times and 11 churches have won the attendance banner.

The largest recorded attendance was on April 21, 1946, when 380 were present. The Kiwanis sponsored "sing" last year had a larger attendance but the exact number was not noted.

The next song service will be held at Highland Avenue Friends Church March 16, starting at 9 p. m.

Religious Drama To Be Given Sunday

The one-act religious drama, "Demas," will be presented at the Hilltop Church of God Sunday night by members of the Youth Fellowship at 7:30. The play is based on the life of St. Paul and has as its setting the prison dungeon where Paul awaits his last hours before appearing before Caesar.

The part of Demas is taken by Gerald Plank. Harold Butcher portrays the character of Paul. The Roman soldier is played by Montie Ball. Mrs. Montie Ball takes the part of Claudia. Rev. Smoot is the director.

WCTU Institute

There will be a casserole luncheon at 12 o'clock and each person is asked to bring his own silverware.

SUNDAY LESSON

Disciples Receive An Unforgettable Lesson in Humility

The International Sunday School Lesson for March 9
 Scripture: John's Gospel, Chapter 13

THE 12 men whom Jesus gathered around Him, as His first disciples, though they came from fishing, tax-gathering, and other humble occupations, were no ordinary men. They were capable of adventure and ambition.

One sees this in various glimpses of the New Testament record—the request of "the mother of Zebedee's children" that her sons, James and John, should occupy the highest places in the earthly kingdom; that she assumed Jesus was going to set up, the intense indignation of the other disciples when they heard her request.

Again and again Jesus rebuked them. But despite the Master's teaching and example, it seemed that the disciples would not learn, and now, in the closing days of His ministry, He determined to give them one perhaps unforgettable and adequately impressive lesson by an act of complete humility and lowly service.

Foot-washing was a prevalent and very necessary custom in that dry eastern climate, with its scarcity of water, and the wearing of sandals.

And when a Pharisee who invited Jesus to his home complained because of the woman who washed the Master's feet with her tears, Jesus reminded him that he had neglected that courtesy, failing to offer Him water to wash his feet.

The disciples, therefore, were well acquainted with the custom, but in their high-toned notions of greatness they would have scorned to perform such a service for one another. Imagine the greatness of their surprise when they saw their Master doing that very thing!

Was the lesson effective, and did it stick? The answer is in the later lives of these disciples, typified by the beloved disciple, John, whose ambition to be first had all melted away in a new vision and experience, "We know that we have passed from death into life, because we love the brethren."

Pupils Compete On Radio Show West Broad St.

Six top ranking students from the West Broad Street Elementary School will face six pupils from Clinton School Saturday, March 8, at 10 a. m., over Radio Station WBNS on Columbus Square radio show, Quizdown. Quizdown is sponsored jointly by the Columbus Dispatch and WBNS.

The members of the West Broad Street team are Dorothy Castled and Roy Darnell of the fourth grade, Carolyn Smith and Ronald Wilcox of the fifth grade, Elaine Cristee and Bill Moore of the sixth grade. Alternates who will be introduced on the program but will not compete unless one of the regular members fails to appear include Jane Baker, Paul Rausch, Ray Thomson, Clark Redick, Lee Addie and Joe D'Amico.

There'll be lots of fun for the participants and an interesting half hour for the listeners too. But the competing pupils and the youngsters who submit questions are going to get more than just fun out of this radio show. There will be prizes for everyone.

The winning school will receive $25 in cash for its school fund while the runner-up gets $10. Individual high point winner (the boy or girl who answers the most questions correctly) will receive a beautiful pen and pencil set valued at $9.

Each and every participant on both the winning and losing team will be presented with a chrome plated, automatic pencil, while a large photograph album with the student's name imprinted in gold will be the reward for those whose questions are used on the Quizdown program.

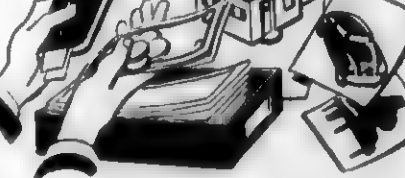

So next Saturday morning have your radio tuned to WBNS at 10 o'clock, when Quizdown comes on the air. You'll hear for yourself what the students at West Broad Street Elementary School are learning. Or, if you prefer, you can Central Bank, and get the Quizdown show in action. Admission is free.

Teen Canteen Dance Postponed to March 15
The hard times dance scheduled for Saturday night at the Teen Canteen has been postponed due to the third night performance of the West High Band Variety Show. The dance will be held Saturday, March 15.

A second cleanup party in as many months was held last week at the canteen. It was followed by a pot-luck supper with baked beans, potato chips, winners and cookies.

A number of tournament plans are under way for members and applications for chess, checkers, pool and ping pong are now being accepted. It is planned to start the playoffs around April 1.

Bob Cramer and Jake Jacques, designer and carpenter respectively, have announced that the library will be ready for use by Saturday. It has been redecorated and completely furnished, and will serve as a reading room, study and game room.

Around West High

By Janet Baker and Judy Jones

Greetings, eve, yone, we know you all are getting out your best bid and tucker for the Band Variety Show which comes up March 8th and 7th. If you read a little further and you will find that due to the overflow of would be purchasers for B. V. S. tickets, it has been decided to repeat the show March 8 also. These seats are not reserved so its first come, first served.

Observing the number of West students helping on the show, Paper Drive we think it should be a big success. Stanley Charles and Spunk Tinner were seen manfully shouldering huge bundles into one of the trucks.

The senior scholarship tests are this Friday and we have heard Marjorie Mitchell mumbling things about light reflection. Ah, these brilliant people.

Congrats to Jo-Fondaw who is editor of the Annual this year. Annabel Crawford also deserves some noteworthy praise for her first prize winning review of the Columbus Philharmonic when they played at West High about two weeks ago.

A new innovation at West is the senior dining room. This room 137 has been set aside the sixth period for 12B's and 12A's only. We have never noticed before the enormous appetites of these senior boys. Jack Trimmer is to be commended on his wonderful (?) ability to eat.

David Blum, Don Cross, John Prose and Brad Richardson entertained their senior music class the other day by singing "Maggie Murphy." Real good fellas!

Bob Herbert thinks he should be noticed for his outstanding shoes. Lil' Abner, size 12. So here he is noticed.

The Spike Bones Band is raring to go with their "Little Gems of Music," just ready to perform at some great concert hall, so you had better not miss the B.V.S. Bye now.

Times Have Changed
Mrs. W. E. Ferguson brought a copy of an old Columbus Citizen to our office last week that well tells the story of the change in our way of life.
The particular page was from the classified section and the date had been destroyed but figure that out for yourself when you look back and see that a five-room apartment was advertised for rent, everything modern, for $17.
A six-room house was for rent for $10 and seven rooms and bath were available for $20.

Hilltop To Get Four New Tennis Courts

Four new hard-surface tennis courts, a baseball diamond and possibly a softball diamond will be made available to the Hilltop and West Side this summer as a part of the $775,000 bond issue approved by the voters in November, 1945, for recreational needs.
Glenwood and Holton Parks will each get two tennis courts while a baseball diamond will be made available at McKinley Park. If sufficient space can be worked out there will also be a softball diamond there. N. J. Barack, recreation superintendent, said.
Approval of this much of the program was given by City Council Monday night. Bids for the work will be invited as soon as the required advertising can be done. It is expected that these facilities can be made available before the end of this summer.
Mr. Barack pointed out that the tract of waste land south of Sullivan-av., between Woodbury and Columbus-aves., had been purchased from the recreation funds. This land was purchased by the city almost a year ago. The recreation superintendent said this final plan for the use of this land has not been worked out pending completion of the city-wide recreation survey.

Rush Is On For Auto Tags Here

There was a first-day rush for new auto license plates down at Robinson's Electric Store, 2403 W. Broad-st., Monday morning when the sale started.
Members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club are handling the sale of tags for the second year. Last year more than 3,000 plates were sold.
Russ Henry, chairman of the committee in charge of sales, urged Hilltoppers to get their tags early since they must be in use by April 1. The sale is starting 10 days later than other years.
Wives of Kiwanis members are handling most of the clerical work again this year. Henry said the store will be open for license tag sale every Wednesday afternoon during the month.

The appointment of Mrs. Mildred Harper, 186 S. Warren-av., as a deputy in the office of Clerk of Courts William F. Berkhomer, was announced this week.

Hughes Sisters Will Celebrate First Anniversary In Local Restaurant

A cake with one candle will be appropriate for the Hughes Sisters Restaurant, 2725 W. Broad-st., April 25, as this well-known eating place with the unusual name celebrates its first birthday as a business managed and operated by four members of the Hughes family—three sisters and a brother.
Of primary interest now are the three sisters in this four-sister team. Wilma, Catherine and Elizabeth, for they conduct most phases of the business, do the cooking, buying and clean-up, and serve as waitresses.
Wilma Hughes McDonald, who, with her son, Ben, lives above the restaurant, is chief cook, assisted by Elizabeth Hughes Burch and Miss Catherine Hughes, who also wait on customers and keep the books. All three help on the inevitable clean-up process.
Brother Isham Hughes is employed at the Omar Baking Co. and helps the girls in business matters.
The home-like atmosphere of Hughes Four Restaurant Restaurant comes naturally for the building was formerly the residence of Dr. Woodruff, and although its exterior has been altered a bit by the addition of booths and a juke box, its initial architecture with open stairway and rich stained woodwork and mantel piece has been retained.
The C. H. Campbell, 91 S. Walnut-av., recently enjoyed his wedding anniversary dinner at the restaurant in com-

Foreign Relations Are Human Relations, Martz Says

"Foreign relations are human relations," Charles E. Martz, editor of Our Times magazine, told a record turnout of the Hilltop Business Association at the March meeting held Tuesday evening.
"The character of the men who handle our foreign affairs makes all the difference in the world," he continued.
Mr. Martz, who is also moderator of the Columbus Town Meeting and a recognized authority on the subject of foreign affairs, said that the most hopeful sign of our day is the fact that Americans are finally becoming interested in what is going on in the world. It is this balance wheel of public opinion that is needed to make our foreign policy effective, he believes.

"We must have in this country a continuous foreign policy, so that our representatives at the peace table can speak with the assurance that they will be backed up at home," the speaker said.
Up until now this assurance has not been manifest because neither political party has outlined a clearcut view on foreign affairs, Martz stated.
During the business part of the meeting reports were given by the minstrel committee by C. Carlton Hartley; membership, Don Smith; safety, Curtis Wilcox; and business advancement, Curt Roberts.

4 Are Rescued In Two Fires

The quick thinking of a Hilltop housewife and the bravery of a World War II veteran were credited with saving the lives of three small children and preventing serious injury to a local woman.
Mrs. Opal Hoover, 35, of 92 Belvidere-av., received second and third degree burns on her back when her dress ignited from the top burner of a kitchen range. Mrs. Janet Koehler, who lives in the other half of the double house, was visiting Mrs. Hoover at the time. Quickly grabbing a small rug from the floor, she wrapped it around her neighbor and smothered out the blaze.
Firemen took the victim to Mt. Carmel Hospital where she was treated for burns and allowed to return to her home.

Three small children owe their lives today to the bravery of Elza McIntire, 30, of 1860 Richmond-av., a veteran in the Brown Road community. When the two-room residence of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Self burst into flames, McIntire rushed in and carried two of the children to safety. In order to gain entrance the second time, it was necessary for him to get down on his hands and knees to reach the one-year-old baby in the living room.
The parents were not in the house when the fire broke out. The father was at work and the mother had gone to the house of a neighbor. The Selfs live at the rear of the Richmond-av. address. Damage to the building and contents was estimated at $1000.

Deadline Nears In Writing Contest

This is the last call for entries in The Hilltop Record letter writing contest being held in connection with the 30th anniversary edition of the Record to be published April 27.
A list of 19 cash prizes are being offered for the best letter written on the subject: "Why I Like To Live On The Hilltop." All letters must be postmarked by midnight on March 20 to be considered in the judging.
A flock of entries were received in the mail last week. Letters should be brief and to the point.
Due to the uncertainty of the newspaper supply, C. Carlton Hartley, publisher of the Record, has urged that any business firm planning to be represented in this anniversary edition should get its copy in at the earliest possible moment to insure its having space.
Meanwhile, orders for extra copies of the 30th anniversary edition are being booked at the rate of 10 cents per copy, each over the counter or 15 cents mailed anywhere. They may be ordered by calling RA. 1125. All regular subscribers will get their copies as usual at no extra cost, but additional copies will be available on special order only.

9 Homes Are Robbed Over The Week-end

Columbus police were on the lookout this week for burglars who entered at least nine separate Hilltop homes over the week-end and fired five shots at one local man when he surprised them by returning home early in the evening.
James Johnson, 545 Wrexham-av., was the target of five shots, all wild, when he and his wife returned home about 9:30 Sunday evening to discover some one in the house. When he commanded the two intruders to halt, they rushed out the front door, firing as they went. Luckily Mr. Johnson was not hit by any of the bullets.
The thieves took $304 which he had in the house to pay income tax. He and his wife, Betty, operate a confectionery at 998 W. Broad-st.

Five other homes in the neighborhood were burglarized by thieves who used the same method of gaining entrance, smashing the glass panel of the rear door.
At the home of Tom C. Alkire, 545 Belvidere-av., the thieves took $41, a 32-caliber revolver, a box of cartridges, two rings valued at $200 and a brooch valued at $50. Mr. Alkire is a retired policeman.

The thieves took items valued at $15 from the home of Harry Mullenkamp, 496 Belvidere-av., and $3 and a flashlight valued at $1 from the home of Herman B. Appel, 556 Wrexham-av. The home of James C. VanSchoik, 517 Wrexham-av., was ransacked but nothing was taken.
Thieves also ransacked two S. Roys-av. homes. Loss was not determined at the residences of E. J. Roys, 55 S. Roys-av., and J. S. Roys, 55 S. Roys-av.
At the home of Oscar Way, 305 S. Warren-av., silverware, jewelry and electrical appliances valued at $222 were taken.
Arnold Zimmern, 63 Binn-bld., reported the theft of $250 from his home over the week-end.

Boosters Approve New Scoreboard

Definite progress was being made this week towards getting lights and a new electric scoreboard for Magly Field in time for the 1947 football season.

Six 100-foot wooden poles arrived Friday and it is understood that work of installing the lighting system will be started within a week or two. Coach Mack Pemberton said that wiring, reflectors and other materials needed to install the lights were now on hand and that the contractor, Rollie Haines, would be ready to get the job under way very soon.
At a meeting of the West High School Boosters Club Monday night the "go ahead" signal was given for ordering the electric scoreboard to replace the manually operated board now on the field. Coach Pemberton said that the order would be placed within a few days for the 12-unit board, which is to be the only one of its kind in high school stadiums in this part of the country. It is expected to cost in excess of $1000 by the time it is installed.

The board will be made up of 12 removable electric units, each giving statistics on the progress of the game. It will carry the official playing time (in minutes and seconds) remaining in the game; scores of both teams; which team has the ball; the down; yards to go for first down; and the quarters of play. Each unit will be 17 1/2 by 11 inches and will contain 18 bulbs.

The entire cost of the board is being paid by the Boosters from funds derived from the paper drive conducted March 5. Mr. (Jack) Sennelberger, chairman of the drive, reported that final figures came to $1025.84. It was the largest drive ever put on in the city.

Coach Pemberton, who said this week that arrangements had been made for renting 1000 seats which will be erected along the east side of the playing field during the football season. The bleachers now used for baseball will be moved up behind the south goal post, accommodating 1100 more persons. This, added to the 4000 seats in the permanent bleachers, will bring total seating capacity to more than 6000.

The use of the new electric scoreboard will necessitate the use of an official time keeper who will not be on the playing field. That is the way the scoreboard at the Ohio State Stadium is controlled. Teams must of course agree to this method before the start of the game.

The framework for the board will be built by a separate contractor. It will be in the same approximate position as the present board, standing six feet off the ground and being 10 feet high and 20 feet long. All of the electrical units will be removed immediately following each game so that they will not be damaged by weather or vandalism.

In anticipation of having the lights this fall a 10-game schedule has been arranged for the first time. It will include six home games with the following teams: Centre, Clinton, East, South and Jackson. All except the Jackson game will be night games. This will be the traditional homecoming game and will be an afternoon affair.

Cubbers Pow Wow Held At Glenwood

The Southwest District Cubbers conducted the first Pow Wow meeting on Tuesday evening, March 4, at Glenwood Methodist Church. Den chiefs, den mothers, cub leaders, and pack committeemen from Cub Packs 21, 31, 56, 63, and 88, congregated to discuss ways of improving their program in cubbing.

The meeting opened with a handicraft soap carving demonstration by Cub Jimmy Schuman, of Pack 43 and a series of games by Cub Pack 63. Asst. District Commissioner James McCready directed the cubbers participation.

The group was called to order with the singing of songs, pledge of allegiance to the flag and a welcome made by "Gil" Bolin, field scout executive. This was followed by a pack committee meeting demonstration by Cub Pack 43 and was followed up by a meeting of Cubmaster A. Anderson and his den chief at which time they discussed the theme which the pack committee had decided upon—"Kites and Games."

This was followed by a meeting of Den Mother, Mrs. George Lamneck, and her den chief to develop the pack plans so that it might operate in her den. With the conclusion of the demonstrations group round tables were conducted. The den mothers met with Mrs. James McCready of Cub Pack 63; den chiefs with Mr. Vernon Sanford, S.S.S. No. 3; cubmasters with A. Anderson of Cub Pack 43; pack committeemen, Ernest Schuman, Cub Pack 43. One item of importance was noted that parent participation is a necessary factor to make cubbing a success on a group or organization basis.

Recreation Field Being Developed

City Council Monday night approved the vacating of an alleyway immediately to the north of the Confederate Cemetery to be used by St. Mary Magdalene School as part of a recreation center now being developed between Powell and Royce-av. Rev. Raymond Bauschard, pastor of the St. Mary Magdalene Church, said that additional improvements would be made to the athletic field and playground this summer as materials are available. The plot of ground includes almost four acres. At present it has a football field laid out but it will require further grading this summer. Tennis courts, handball courts and a shelter house are included in the long range plans for the recreation center, Rev. Bauschard said.

Variety Show Rates High With Three-night Audience

By p. w.

The Hilltop Business Association will have to look to its laurels this year if it puts on a show that rates any better with the public than the Eighth Annual Band Variety Show presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights to near capacity audiences at West High School auditorium.

This was our first taste of the band show and after seeing the Thursday night rendition it isn't hard to understand why the third night booking was necessary to accommodate the demand for tickets. To tie up our impressions of the entertainment in a few words, it's the best 60 cents worth of show fare we've seen in many a day.

On the quality side, two numbers were outstanding in the long list of good acts—Marilyn Ring's rendition of "Indian Love Call," and Richard Bowles' singing of "Ole Man River." The latter number is done with surprising ability by a little-known Negro boy, but it was definitely a "show stopper." The Thursday audience insisted on an encore, which was politely refused by the young singer in conformance with the "no encore" policy of the show.

The swing band, under the direction of Charles Bennett, is definitely out of the usual high school class. The two featured numbers and the all-around ability in setting the tempo for the show made an outstanding contribution to the evening's entertainment.

Ken Dickerson, Jr., in the role of principal of a school in the year 1960, was at times a little awkward and did a nice piece of ad libbing to straighten things out in one awkward spot.

Protest Entered On Quiz Program

Elaine Christen, a pupil at West Broad Street School, was one of four contestants who attained a perfect score in the first Dispatch-WBNS "Quizdown" held Saturday morning in Central High School.

The two participating teams, Clinton and West Broad Street Schools, were composed of six members each and three alternates. The students were from the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

The questions were sent in by students in corresponding grades. The Clinton team won the bout.

Miss Ma'ida Stuart, principal of West Broad Street School, told The Hilltop Record Tuesday that she was sending letters of protest to Irvin Johnson, the quizmaster, Raymond Cramm, promoter, and the Columbus Dispatch, and the three judges.

She points out that Ronald Wilcox, one of the West contestants, was given only two-thirds credit on a question that she contends was answered correctly.

She further alleges that a Clinton pupil was allowed full credit for answering a question, which should not have been allowed since he changed his answer after prompting from the audience. Either of the two disputed questions might have changed the final outcome and allowed a perfect score.

Mr. Cramm told the Record he would see what might be done to clear up the misunderstanding. Representing West Broad were Jane Baker, Paul Rausch, Dorothy Castee, Elaine Cristee, Carolyn Smith, Ronald Wilcox, Joe D'Amico, Roy Decmer and Bill Moore.

A cash prize of $25 was awarded to Clinton School and a $10 prize went to the local group. The contestants with perfect records received gold-filled pens and pencil sets and mechanical pencils were given to all contestants on both teams.

Joe Fody has joined the Walt Schumm Orchestra as tenor sax man, it was announced this week by Walt Schumm.

Hoge Breaks Up Burgess 9-Game Winning Streak

Hoge Memorial broke the Burgess Avenue winning streak in the West Intermediate League at Glenwood Shelter House Tuesday night when they pulled a 26-24 win. The Burgess defeat had no bearing, however, on the championship since they had clinched that title last week. It was a moral victory for the Hoge boys and marred an otherwise perfect record for the U.B's.

Riverside Methodist earned the right to represent the Class B division in city playoffs by defeating St. Aloysius 26 to 23. Fists were swinging in the Glenwood-Salvation Army game and three players were banished from the floor as the result of a player flareup. Glenwood won the game by a close 27-26 count. The other game saw West Park take an easy 39-18 defeat from Westgate Evangelical.

The final standings for the season are as follows:

Burgess Avenue	9	1
Hoge Memorial	7	3
Glenwood	7	3
Salvation Army	5	5
Riverside	5	5
West Park	4	6
St. Aloysius	3	7
Westgate	0	10

The possible consideration of the Jack Johnson estate on W. Broad-st as a site for the new Franklin County Children's Home was suggested by Dr. R. J. Miller, president of the association.

It was pointed out that George Matson, 87 N. Warren-av, a county commissioner, is not in favor of the proposed Frank-rd site. He contends that it is too far from a bus line and does not offer the kind of a setting that he feels is in keeping with the $1,225,000 project.

He has favored the Logan Livingston farm on Alum Creek near the present County Home and the Tuberculosis Hospital.

4 Are Injured In Crash Tues.

Four persons were injured Tuesday evening in an accident involving a passenger car and a Grove City bus loaded with passengers in the 700 block of Harrisburg-pk.

Seriously hurt were Robert Lynch 43, driver of the auto, who suffered head injuries, and his wife, Blanche, 38, with a leg injury. Both are in Mt. Carmel Hospital. They live at 174 E. Eleventh-av.

Ray Barbee, 28, of 1462 Thom-ss-av, suffered facial cuts, and a bus passenger, Mrs. Henrietta Mitchell, 30, of Urbancrest, received an ankle injury.

Sheriff's Deputies Loren Campbell and David Stygler said the auto driven by Lynch was in collision with the bus carrying 23 passengers and driven by Charles Martin, 3305 Clime-rd. Lynch was cited for reckless operation of his car.

Four persons were injured Tuesday evening in an accident involving a passenger car and a Grove City bus loaded with passengers in the 700 block of Harrisburg-pk.

Seriously hurt were Robert Lynch 43, driver of the auto, who suffered head injuries, and his wife, Blanche, 38, with a leg injury. Both are in Mt. Carmel Hospital. They live at 174 E. Eleventh-av.

Ray Barbee, 28, of 1462 Thom-ss-av, suffered facial cuts, and a bus passenger, Mrs. Henrietta Mitchell, 30, of Urbancrest, received an ankle injury.

Sheriff's Deputies Loren Campbell and David Stygler said the auto driven by Lynch was in collision with the bus carrying 23 passengers and driven by Charles Martin, 3305 Clime-rd. Lynch was cited for reckless operation of his car.

Joe Fody has joined the Walt Schumm Orchestra as tenor sax man, it was announced this week by Walt Schumm.

Gay St., is a graduate and all-letter man of Springfield Mass. College. Upon completion of his collegiate years he was immediately appointed to the post of head coach and athletic director of Windsor, Vermont, schools.

Voted the "Mr. Ohio of 1945" by the A.A.U. committee, he was also an outstanding aerial acrobat with Ringling Bros. circus.

Acting as professional adagio performer at the Persian Room of the Park Plaza Hotel in New York Mr. Ferguson was well received.

As a physical culture teacher and body builder, Mr. Ferguson is among the nation's best.

Local graduate James Denton, who ran in second place as "Mr. Ohio in 1946" will display his ability on the evening of March 28.

A telephone employee and former service man, Mr. Denton likewise donates his service for the cause of Magly Field lights.

Champion Ohio State wrestler for ten years in the 133 pound banion-weight class and national champion of 1946, Mr. Fauver will demonstrate his Atlas agility. Significantly honored three times in one day, Mr. Fauver won one district wrestling title in the morning, the gymnastic title in the afternoon and then topped the district weight lifting title in the evening. All in a day's work.

Hand-balancing and acrobatic teams from the Central YMCA, including Fred Smith, Junior, two grads, Moe Scott and Roy Williams, and Bob Johnson, will exhibit their feats of accomplishment.

Proceeds from the show will go to the installation of the Magly Field lights. Detective Leo Phillips will act as master of ceremonies.

They Direct Camp Fire Activities

These ladies are officers in charge of Camp Fire Girl work on the Hilltop and West Side. They have been busy planning the birthday celebration activities of Camp Fire Girls to be observed from March 17 to April 13.

Camp Fire Girls Have Anniversary

The 35th anniversary of Camp Fire work will be observed throughout the nation from March 17 to April 13. The theme for the year has been "Going Places."

In keeping with this idea local Camp Fire Girls have taken trips to various points of interest throughout central Ohio. On March 1 the girls from Pimminon and Wakiva groups chartered a bus and visited the Columbus Airport and were shown through the operation there.

Other projects this year have included making of scrap books; making of favors for the Hare Orphanage at Christmas time. On March 16 the groups will attend church services in a body. The project will close with a Council Fire at Glenwood Methodist Church April 13. At that time awards and honors for the year will be given out.

Mrs. Fred Bowman, 686 Racine-av., is in charge of Pimminon while Mrs. Harry Myers, 479 Hilltop-av., is in charge of Wakiva.

The Lucky 35 Club, Inc., will celebrate its second anniversary as an incorporated club Sunday, March 18, with a meeting and special dinner at Saxons Hall, 320 Woodrow-av.

Salvation Army To Enter Playoff

West Park Methodist won the West Church Senior Basketball League Monday night by defeating Hoge Memorial 29 to 14. The victory broke a three-way tie for first place in the "nip and tuck" battle for leadership in the league.

Glenwood Methodist, although out of the race, contributed materially to West Park championship by downing Holy Family 39 to 17. Holy Family was one of the three teams tied for first place.

In other games played Monday night Salvation Army No. 1 defeated Westgate Evangelical 38 to 28 while Central Presbyterian downed Avondale Evangelical 22 to 19.

The Salvation Army victory put that team in the elimination playoffs as winner of the B bracket. Two teams are selected from each league to enter the city playoffs which will more than likely get under way Tuesday night.

Some of the city eliminations will be played at Glenwood, possibly starting Tuesday and continuing on Thursday night.

The final standing in the West Senior loop finds four teams tied for second place with a record of six wins and four losses. The final standings are as follows:

West Park Methodist	7	3
Holy Family	6	4
Glenwood Methodist	6	4
Hoge Memorial	6	4
Salvation Army	6	4
Westgate Evangelical	4	6
Central Presbyterian	3	7
Avondale	2	8

Track Squad Starts Work To Hold Title

Coach Rufe Glass has already started work on conditioning his West High track squad in defense of the City League title won last year.

For more than two weeks the boys have been working out before school, starting at 8 o'clock. Evening workouts will start as soon as all basketball activity is completed.

Thus far conditioning exercises have been held in the gym, including calisthenics and other gymnastics. Running will start in the halls as soon as the regular work schedule is started. Outside work will depend on weather conditions.

The first meet will be held at Magly Field April 4 when Linden McKinley visits the Hilltop. Five lettermen are back from last year's championship team. They are Dave Hamilton, pole vault; George Lohr, broad jump; Bruno Mssdes, dashes and weights; Walter Hicks, hurdles, dashes and broad jump; and Fred Harper, distance.

Reserve lettermen include Jim Dennis, Paul Love and Kenneth Mahan, dashes; Bob Smith, dashes; Fred Smith, weights; Roland Stout, dashes; Dick Ham, distance; Jay Witcher, dashes; Dick Lanigan, dashes and high jump; Charles Miller, hurdles, and Kenneth Evans, dashes.

Another promising hurdler this season is Bob Jones.

Basketball Players Honored At Dinner

Members of the West High School basketball team, managers and coaches, were guests of honor last night when the West High Boosters Club held a dinner in their honor at the Westgate Methodist Church.

Thrush, Young On All-City Five

Bill Thrush, the younger brother of West High's all-round athletic star, Jack Thrush, and Phil Young, both members of the 1946-47 West Junior basketball team, were given places on the Dispatch All-City Junior High Team last week. The selection is made by vote of the coaches in the league.

Thrush was one of the two unanimous selections. The other was Bob Blanchard of Crestview. Young received six of the votes cast.

Frank Carson and Bob Epps rated honorable mention in the selections. Thrush is one of the leading scorers in the junior loop for the year.

William Bernlohr, coach of Capital University's Ohio Conference basketball champions, and Otto H. Magly, a former principal at West, were scheduled to speak.

Let's Back The Red Cross

Early reports on the progress of the Red Cross Drive on the Hilltop indicate that the response in many cases has been disappointing to the volunteer workers. With a goal of $2600 for the Hilltop area it would seem that little would need be said to insure its being reached and on time. However, numerous reports of little or no financial support of this worthwhile work continue to come in.

We believe that the Hilltop understands the worthwhile work done by the Red Cross without going into details on that score. It would seem, however, that too many of us are assuming that some one else will carry our share of the load. This fallacy in our thinking should be corrected before the close of the work, scheduled for Mar. 17. The facts are that although the quotas generally have been reduced this year in keeping with a leveling off of Red Cross activities, it is important that each of us do our part to put the drive "over the top."

The Hilltop area recently led all other sections of the city in supporting the March of Dimes appeal. We believe that no serious thinking Hilltopper would want to see us fall short of our goal in backing the Red Cross in this drive.

If you have not been contacted at your place of business or your home, call Mrs. C. E. McKee, 582 S. Roys, RA. 7581, or Mrs. Leonard Wisdom, 245 N. Harris, RA. 4978, on the Hilltop or the Red Cross office, MA. 6841.

WE CAN LAUGH AT DEPRESSION

Of course times may get tough, but we're never so bad off we can't draw on the money we've invested in insurance policies. It's a smart way to save and still be covered with insurance. Find out about it today!

122 Scouts Have Week-end Camp

Scouts and scouters of the Southwest District spent a week-end of winter camping at Camp Lazarus Feb. 22 and 23. One hundred and twenty-two scouts and scouters representing eight troops participated in the fun. The "early-bird" arrivals were scouts from Troop 235 with their scoutmaster, Joe Smith, and committeemen, Harold Ball, Gene Cornwell, Otto Mithoff and Eldon Markell.

Troop 173 experienced some difficulty in locating certain camp items, but with the assistance of their scoutmaster, Jack Hostetter, and assistant scoutmasters, Dick Beem and David Hastings, they finally settled down.

While half of the boys from Troop 20 prepared the evening meal, the other boys, led by Scoutmaster Ken Hennes and Committeemen Bill Peoples, cut an extra supply of wood for the campfire in the Exchange Lodge. Scoutmaster Roy Benjamin and his scouts from Troop 193 lent a helping hand.

Assistant Scoutmaster Gene Ridenour of Troop 5 acted as master of ceremonies at the evening campfire program. The activities got under way with a showing of Camp Lazarus movies, followed by troop stunts. Troop 131, under the direction of Scoutmaster Richard Glass and Committeemen I. A. Thompson and H. Eberhard, assisted the scouts from Troop 20 in presenting the telephone skit. Troop 5, with James Estell, depicted the country store skit. Troop 20's contribution was made by Scouts Smith, Ashton, Johnson and Huffman, who sang comic songs. Troop 162 and Committeemen William Biggers "tickled everyone's funny bone" with their jokes. Committeemen Jim Ward, Carroll Snook and Ray McVay helped the scouts of Troop 161 relate the tall tale of the pet mountain lion. These activities, interspersed with scout songs, made the evening one long to be remembered.

The evening was climaxed by a game of hounds and hares. Scoutmaster Cecil Cope of Troop 161 and his scouts, combined with Gene Ridenour of Troop 5 and his boys, were the hares and led the game. The other scouts, as hounds, gave the hares a "hot chase."

Assistant district chairman, Jim McCreedy, conducted the staff meeting, discussing troop camping problems and training needs. Plans were drafted for the Sunday church service to be followed by troop advancement programs.

The church service was held in the Exchange Lodge. Louis Smith of Troop 20 led the hymn singing while Huber Gontz, scoutmaster of Troop 5, gave the Lord's Prayer. A trio of scouts from Troop 20 sang "Onward Christian Soldiers." Ferry Temple, Troop 5, gave a very good Scripture lesson and W. O. Colwell, chairman of Troop 162, closed the service with benediction.

Italy Suffers In The War

To say that Italy suffered in this war is an understatement. The slow relentless campaign up the boot of Italy toward Rome crushed nearly everything in its path. The stone structures of the cities and the rural farm houses were almost literally reduced to dust. The retreating Germans carried off the available food and the civilians who were caught in the battle zones found themselves without assistance as well as without shelter.

The unfortunate predicament of the civilians touched the hearts of the soldiers who fought there. It was a common sight to see a GI stand quietly, not saying anything; the half starved look in their eyes telling more than any words. The expression on their faces was one of numbness. They were numb by the frightful artillery, by the lack of food and by fear of the vindictive Germans. It would be possible to write extensively of the intense human suffering during this war. There was much of it.

Naples Has Epidemic
We arrived in Italy in the spring of 1944. At that time the allies were in position from Minoturno through Cassino to the Adriatic Sea above the British base of Ortona.

Naples, the great seaport in southern Italy, was in the process of being deloused. A typhus epidemic had broken out, and the city was placed off limits to troops. The medical corps, in the meantime, waged a terrific battle against lice, the carrier of the disease in the city, using new white insecticide powder as the principal weapon. The epidemic was curbed only after the entire population had been dusted with the powder. Eight months had passed since the first American troops landed at Salerno. Allied soldiers in this area comprised the most polyglot group ever assembled under one command. There were Canadians, Poles, Englishmen, Americans, Greeks, Frenchmen, Arabs and a variety of fierce colonial soldiers from the British and French empires. The latter were extremely strange but effective native fighters. The methods of warfare in this the most modern of all wars. Many spine-chilling tales are told of the Goums, "Sengelese, Sikhs and Gurkhas — tales of their stealth and ability to wear long knives. It was a soldier's ability were measured by the fierceness of his appearance, these colonial troops would be the worst of the best.

Topographically Italy was a nightmare in which to carry on an aggressive campaign. Conversely, it was perfectly constituted for defense, a factor that aided the Germans in ending the Apennine Mountains rugged and forbidding, form the backbone of the country, and constituted the most formidable natural obstacle, not to mention the numerous rivers.

In the spring of 1944 the allied offensive had been dormant for several months—stopped by the German winter line, of which Cassino was the main bastion. The town was astride highway "six" which led to Rome. The Germans held tenaciously to the tiny cluster of houses and the great mountain behind it. The coastal road was highway "seven" and it ran along the Tyrrhenian coast to Rome. These two blacktop highways were the main through arteries from Naples to the Italian capital.

We stayed in the staging area at Naples one day. Then trucks came for us and we moved north into Fifth Army territory. The vehicles came to a stop alongside highway "seven" in the foothills of the mountains. We bivouacked in a grove of trees at the side of the road. We were to find out in a very short time that this was almost as far as the American Army had advanced. The mountains a few miles beyond were in German hands. There, for the first time, we heard the sporadic thundering of artillery as the gunners on opposite mountains occasionally let go at their rivals. Sleep didn't come so easily that first night.

All the medicines needed to cure you of what ails you are here on these shelves. Everything you need is here, everything except the hands of the pharmacist, skilled to mix the proper proportions! But even the most highly trained medical men have not yet found all the answers. There are thousands of experiments still to be performed: years of research are still undone.

Everything you need for security is right around you. All the ingredients for happiness are within reach. But you also need trained hands to mix the right proportions. The Church is skilled in that very art. It can tell you how to combine the elements of life in the best possible way.

But even in the Church there are thousands of experiments still to be performed, years of research still to be done. The Church needs your steady hands, your questioning mind, your eager soul to help it in its search for further truth. You cannot live a truly healthy life without it; and it cannot progress without you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake of his children's sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

An Invitation To Crime

Most every resident of this community has had the feeling in recent weeks that his or her home might be the next on the list to be entered and burglarized.

The fact that four West High School boys were picked up this past week and have since admitted to some 35 to 50 such crimes is no reason to believe that your home is not next on a list. Because events of the past week and give proof to the belief that several other juveniles have taken it on themselves to try to get away with something that human decency and the law says is not the right thing to do.

Some kind of a code of ethics has come to the fore among Columbus newspaper men to prevent them from publishing the names of the boys now being held. Yet all the while the names of the boys are well known and perhaps, three-fourths of the student body out at school could tell any of us who they are.

Recently some young men were caught in Clintonville, guilty of similar crimes. Over in Arlington recently some boys were caught dragging a dog behind an automobile to give vent to their savagery. None of the names of the boys has been published. In the latter case nothing has been heard of that the consequences were, in a meeting on Monday I heard a common expression, "These boys will be released in a few days without any further punishment."

These same boys admit some 35 or more houses were broken into and they stole money and guns and other materials. In one case they shot at a man.

These young men were indeed fortunate. Perhaps they didn't know that some people on the Hilltop had turned out in a back room with a loaded shotgun ready to shoot!

Continuation of such escapades by these boys can eventually result in but one thing—some mother's son will not return some morning. Nor will it be a matter of merely having him spaced before the juvenile authorities and have him released on probation. Someone will have fired that shot.

As it now stands the fact that four young men have been caught and are now in jail, not serve to deter others from this same course. Your boy and your neighbor's boy know all the tricks of the trade. Movies and radio have trained them well. Many of them merely want a chance to determine for themselves what they can do, always thinking that the worst that will happen will be placing them on probation.

As long as parents are not acquainted with what their children are doing at late hours of the night and perhaps do not care when their boys have a standing invitation to crime.

In the event of probation in these cases it would appear that the parents owe it to their neighbors and to the community in general to let them know that unless the rear extremities of each lad was administered one H—of an application of a hickory paddle.

Three members of the 1946 West High grid team are understood to be heading for Capital University next fall where they will have an opportunity to play once more for Dale Rose, former Cowboy coach, now in charge of football at the Lutheran school. They are Bob Schlegel, Ralph Watta and Don Borror. Carl Hosler and Bob Phelps, ex-Cowboy athletes, will play for Springfield in the Ohio State League. This season.

Mrs. Irvin F. Young, wife of the West High principal, is recovering from a severe case of grip.

Frederick C. Othman, a United Press correspondent in Washington, D. C., had spent days listening and looking on as the argument over whether to cut the budget by 4½ billion or six billion raged on the Senate floor. When he couldn't endure it any longer, he turned to some figuring for relief.

Local Construction Firm Will Launch Million Dollar Apartment Project Here

Tonti Builders Plan 70 Bldgs.

Work will be started immediately on 70 brick duplexes in the vicinity of West High School by Tonti Builders, Inc. It was announced this week by Capt. Henry Meltragon, an official of the firm. The estimated cost of this development will exceed $1,000,000.

Each duplex will be ultra modern in design and facilities, consisting of five rooms, including living room, dining room, sleep-saving kitchen, two large bedrooms and bathroom. Each unit will be equipped with automatic gas heat and two-car garage.

During the past 12 months this organization has completed 105 homes on the Hilltop valued at $1,000,000.

The most recent development included in the 105 finished homes was a group of 27 homes located on Whitethorne-av. between Sullivant-av. and W. Mount-av. Construction on these homes started Nov. 1, 1946, and will be completed April 1, 1947. The Tonti Builders have just completed their 24th year of home building in Columbus. Their headquarters is located at 2384-2370 W. Broad-st.

Minstrel To Have Array Of Talent

A gala array of talent for the 18th annual Hilltop Minstrel is being announced this week by C. Carlton Hartley, director of the show.

Headed by an old timer in the Hilltop shows, Floyd Green, who

TICKETS ARE ON SALE FOR THREE-NIGHT SHOW

With less than three weeks remaining before the 18th annual Hilltop Minstrel opens its three-night run at the West High School Auditorium, preparations were being made for the "best ever" performance.

General admission tickets are 50c, including tax. Reserved seats may be obtained by trading in the general admission ticket plus 15c when the reservation desk opens at the office of Shank and Saunders, 2459 W. Broad-st., at 12 o'clock noon, April 5, and 11.

will act as interactor, the show will be supported by six dashing men, namely Billy and Marvin Southworth, Al Bettinger, C. H. Campbell, Harold Greene and Bill Conn.

A headline attraction of all the shows in years gone by will be that of the special numbers and backing on all musical selections by the Hilltop Chorus, this year under the direction of Leo Phillips.

Mac Tool's Band will again furnish the music and Herb Germaine, a member of the band, will be featured in a trombone solo.

By request of her thousands of admirers throughout the city, Gracebelle Day Spears will dance again this year. She has been a headliner in many past performances as well as in her recent tour of the stage all over America, on an extensive tour abroad.

The Hilltop's own Susie Johnson will sing for her home audience, taking time for a few rehearsals for the forthcoming production of "Naughty Marietta," in which she has the leading role.

For the past two years director of the show, Leo Phillips will return to the footlights to entertain with a specialty that is sure to bring down the house.

A dancing chorus of girls from the Keith School of Dance will have a top flight position as well as another dance made up of local business men.

Allyn Snoddy, a newcomer to the Hilltop, will be among those listed as soloists in Chorus Director Leo Phillips has consented to do a specialty.

Perhaps the best known of father and daughter acts in the country, George and Jackie Harty, will give a new and highly entertaining dance specialty.

The petite Cline Sisters, Kitty, Shirley and Jerry, are to be on the program with an old favorite vocal selection for this.

Accordian and marimba numbers will be played by Nancy Reed and Bill Minster. More squeeze box selections are in store from Nona Kimes.

So well received in last year's show was Carolyn Robinson that she has been requested to appear again in a light classical selection, and a newcomer to the Hilltop Minstrel will be Miss Ann Witherspoon singing a blues.

They Plan Highland Spring Festival

Looking over posters advertising the annual Spring Festival to be held at Highland Avenue School tomorrow night are members of the PTA, sponsors of the affair.

Seated are Mrs. Harvey Wilson, 184 Washburn-av. (left), recording secretary, and Mrs. Edward Thompson, 228 N. Oakley-av. president of the group.

Standing are Mrs. J. D. Fiedlerjohn, 194 Midland-av. treasurer, Frank Mason, 1308 W. Third-av. principal of the school, and Mrs. George Skipper, 40 N. Eureka-av. corresponding secretary.

Jack Thrush Is Honored At Dinner

Jack Thrush, star of the West High School Basketball team and highest individual scorer in the City League this year, receives the coveted "most valuable player" award from Dick Francis (right) at the annual basketball dinner put on by the West High Boosters Club last Wednesday night.

Two Local Veterans On Air With Programs Of Their Own

Two Hilltop veterans have "taken to the air" one to the radio and the other to the stage. William C. Ferguson, 33 Highland-av., conducted "Veterans Notebook" Saturday at 7 p. m. over WHKC when he assisted other veterans with their questions concerning insurance, pensions, and other pertinent items. His answers to the many inquiries he receives daily are supplied from reliable information received by the Veterans' Administration.

Ferguson, who served 21 months with the Navy, also interviews local personalities on his 15-minute broadcast. He is a graduate of West High School and attended Ohio State University. Now employed at the Perry Toy Motor Co., he was formerly with the VA, through which he got his own program. He is a native of Bridgeville, Pa. and has two children.

Carl Glade, 2405 W. Broad-st., will begin his program March 29, with the first in a series of eight radio dramatizations, the material for which is direct from the pages of a secret log he kept while a prisoner of the Germans. These authentic "Barbed Wire" stories will be aired each Saturday morning at 11:15 over WOSU. Glade is a speech major at Ohio State University.

Now married and the father of a young daughter, Glade was down over Germany in May, 1944. He and fellow crew members were captured when they parachuted to safety. Discovery of the written log of happenings which he kept during his captivity would have resulted in his death.

Star's Delivery Service Mrs. Robert E. Jones, 455 S. Hague-av., announced this week that she is starting a delivery service on the Hilltop to be known as the Hilltop Delivery Service.

Retail Delivery Service To Start Here Monday

Formation of the Hilltop Retail Delivery Service on the Hilltop was announced this week by Thomas McDonald, 2497 Steele-av. and Robert Beatty, 70 S. Wheatland-av.

Starting Monday, March 24, the new delivery service will make regular morning and afternoon deliveries for the following Hilltop grocers: Fox Food Shop, 2423 W. Broad-st.; Capetta Food Market, 2006 Sullivant-av.; Essman's Market, 2526 Sullivant-av.; Har- dy's Food Market, 2487 Sullivant-av.; Esterbrook's Market, 2552 Steele-av.; Henderson's Market, 2300 Sullivant-av.; Blake & Bond, 1881 Sullivant-av.; Penfield Market, 2147 Sullivant-av.

A small charge will be made for deliveries, this to be shared by the customer and the merchant.

Both men in the new company are veterans and have had business college training. They have two trucks at present and hope to enlarge the business considerably when it is necessitated.

Quarters For 10 Veterans Nearly Ready

The Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority expects to recent as completed two buildings in the McKinley Avenue Housing Project, which was announced by Russell Taylor, manager of the government housing program here.

The houses will provide living quarters for 10 families. They will be occupied as soon as the project is completed. The project when complete will provide homes for 36 veterans and their families.

Taylor pointed out that families in the project will be considered first for vacancies.

The McKinley Avenue project is now considered 80 per cent complete. It is expected to be finished by April 30. Streets and sidewalks will be completed at a later date.

Easter Program To Be Presented At Kiwanis Meet

A special Easter program entitled "The Cross Speaks" will be presented at the March 27 meeting of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. The impressive religious sketch will be read by M. E. (Jack) Senenbrenner with appropriate music furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vance.

Mike Ryan, Sr., of the Egan Ryan Funeral Home, will be the speaker at today's meeting of the club. His talk will be in keeping with St. Patrick's Day.

Pointing out that "you can't take it with you," Hugh Huntington, attorney, speaking at the Thursday meeting of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, told of many interesting wills he has seen, and gave reasons why everyone should make a will.

One of the most famous wills not to be contested, said Huntington, was that of Brigham Young, wherein he left an estate of three and one-half million dollars to his 20 wives and 5 children.

An extreme of the above was the instance of the wealthy man who left his nagging wife a dollar with instructions she should take the money and buy a rope with which to hang herself.

Pointing to the way the excessively high inheritance taxes can reduce an estate, he advised among the younger set, according to the canteen members.

Last week the members of the club issued a plea for old mattresses, to be used in stuffing furniture. Several mattresses were donated and if the club is able to obtain one more, they will be able to complete their task.

Last Saturday evening the canteen held a dance with music furnished by the new record playing public address system. The profit from this dance will be used to purchase a microphone for the system.

The canteen is planning to organize a special "Veterans Fields" such as photography, journalism, etc. Anyone interested in joining one of these clubs, or obtaining information about them, should contact the canteen members.

Red Cross Drive Nets $250 Here

The Hilltop section in the 1947 Red Cross drive reported $250 turned in with only a few scattered reports expected. This amount fell a little short of the $250 goal assigned for the community.

The victory drive was held at the Southern Hotel Monday night when it was announced that the county as a whole had over-subscribed the goal by 25 per cent. A total of $350,247.77 was turned in by the time of the dinner.

3 Slightly Injured In 2 Car Collision

Three persons were injured, none seriously, in a collision of the automobiles at Town and McDowell-av., Monday noon, police reported.

Police said the automobile of Russell Lewis, 28, of Nashobaville, was in collision with the car of Arrie Allen, 5030 Sullivant-av. Lewis suffered bruises of both knees and his wife, Mrs. Helen E. Lewis, 25, suffered a fractured nose.

A passenger in Allen's car, Mrs. Juanita Baugus, 22, of the Sullivant-av. address, suffered face cuts. All the injured were treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital and were released. Allen was charged by police with failing to halt for a stop sign.

Business Group Moves To Check Crime Wave On Hilltop; 4 Are Held

4 Teen-agers Are In Custody

A trio of West High School boys is being held on charges of delinquency in connection with the burglary or attempted burglary of 36 Hilltop homes during the past three months. The value of the loot, not including damage to property, approximately $3500. Their arrest last week followed a series of almost nightly burglaries of local homes, always during the absence of the occupants. The three are said to have fired five shots when they were surprised by the return of James Johnson to his home at 545 Wrexham-av., March 3. Earlier they are alleged to have pulled a gun on Albert H. Martack, 142 S. Terrace-av. when he came home to find the boys ransacking his residence.

A fourth teen-age youth was taken into custody by police Monday morning and is being held in connection with a series of burglaries said to have been committed several months ago.

Police officers said the boy, a 16-year-old student at West High School, has admitted committing more than a dozen burglaries in December, 1945, and January of last year. Loot valued at $400 was turned over to police by the boy's father.

A considerable part of the loot was recovered by city detectives who are still working on the case. Several guns and other items are believed to have been thrown into a quarry back of the Columbus State Hospital. Auto Tag Desk To Be Open Until 9 p. m.

In the interest of accommodating more auto tag purchasers, the Hilltop Kiwanis Club this week announces that effective Saturday, March 22, the plates can be purchased between the hours of 9 a. m. and 9 p. m. They are on sale at Robinson's Electric Store, 2403 W. Broad-st. At present the store is open until 6 p. m.

As of Saturday of last week, the sale this year was running almost double that of last year for the same period of time. More than 1000 sets of plates had been purchased during the 'first full week of business.

Russell Henry, chairman of the auto tag committee, points out that tags must be purchased and in use before midnight on March 31. Proceeds from the sale go to help support the benevolent work of the local Kiwanis group.

HCC Group To Meet Owners Of Theaters

A resolution to call on the operators of Hilltop movie theaters with the view of getting more suitable programs at their theaters was adopted unanimously at the Thursday night meeting of the Hilltop Community Council.

President Phil Stotter and the members of the three committees will act as a committee of the whole in this matter.

The action is an outgrowth of a study made by a committee from the council on the suitability of picture programs presented. Operators of all three theaters earlier told The Hilltop Record they would be glad to discuss the matter with any delegation from the Community Council.

The annual Easter Day Hunt will be held at Glenwood Park on Easter Monday at 2:30 o'clock. All youth of the neighborhood have been invited to participate. Members of the various PTA groups will color the eggs. A complete program on the egg hunt will appear in next week's Record.

Plans for the construction of the skating rink in Westgate Park are still held in abeyance due to the lack of building materials and shabby labor. Funds raised for this project are still being held by the council.

William Edwards, representing the Junior Chamber of Commerce, addressed the meeting and asked for the council's assistance in furthering a program of pedestrian education. The council will assist the JCC in moving the school of a movie along this line, suitable meeting place and time to be announced shortly. The Columbus Boys' Choir will appear on the program.

Rev. J. Herbert Goewey thanked the council for the active part members have taken in furthering the "go to church" campaign. The canteen committee reported on the recent meeting and several items of furniture and chairs. Adult instructors are being enlisted to teach lead classes in home economics, model airplane building, radio repair, stamp collecting, sewing and dance instruction.

A new public address system, to be used extensively for dance music, has been presented to the canteen by its supervisor, Melvin Griggs. The canteen committee will meet again this evening.

Beacon Light To Open March 29

Weather permitting, the Beacon Light Golf Course will be opened to the public on Saturday, March 29, Jack Kidwell, manager of the nine-hole course, said this week.

A few of the "early birds" got the urge to play a few holes one day last week when the sign shone for a few hours. Kidwell expects another record year this season. Last year was the biggest in the 18-year history of the course, he said.

A new irrigation system has been installed to water the greens and tees and it is expected that the course will be in the best shape ever.

Season memberships are now on sale for men and women. Junior memberships will be available soon.

Camp Chase Post To Meet Tomorrow Night

The next regular meeting of Camp Chase Post No. 88, American Legion, will be held Friday, March 21, at 8:15 p. m. at post headquarters.

Ex-servicemen and women are cordially invited to attend. Commander Ficus will preside at the meeting.

HBA To Add Policemen

The spotlight position of the Hilltop in the Columbus crime wave and what to do about it was the discussion topic of the executive committee of the Hilltop Business Association at a special meeting called by President, Dr. R. J. Miller, Monday afternoon at the First Federal Savings & Loan Association offices.

Members of the safety committee of the association are taking steps to see that the matter is handled.

The arrest of four West High School boys in connection with burglaries in the neighborhood has not ended the series of local crimes. It is to be observed this week.

At least four business places have been robbed since the arrest of the three boys, indicating that the series of burglaries has not been broken up as yet.

chase police force is enlarged and that more careful patrolling of the business section is thereby effected in view of the lack of police on duty here.

The city police department is being called on to provide additional help in the matter.

There was no criticism of the police department.

Merchant police are employed by local business men and it was suggested that they might also provide some service to residents as if enough contributors show interest in this service.

Meanwhile these burglaries were reported to police during the past week.

Two men broke the plate glass window with a stone and a piece of a brick and got away with six watches at the Hilltop Jewelers, 2421 W. Broad-st. The watches were valued at $205.50.

The theft occurred about 5 o'clock Saturday morning while early morning deliveries were being made along Broad-st.

Schmeizer Restaurant, 3178 W. Broad-st., was ransacked and an undetermined amount of merchandise taken and damaged when someone entered the building through a skylight Saturday night after the place had closed.

The same night the G & W Motor Sales Co., 3192 W. Broad-st., was entered, with $50 in cash stolen, along with a number of other loot taken from Schmeizer's was discarded in the auto sales room, police said.

Alfred Cooper, manager of Gray's Drug Store, 2781 W. Broad-st., said that $50 in cash and an undetermined amount of merchandise were stolen when someone gained entrance to the store by forcing a rear door some time Sunday morning.

The executive committee also voted hearty endorsement of the child welfare program as now being set up by that committee of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club under the chairmanship of Donald F. Smith, local attorney.

The schools committee of the association will seek an opportunity within a few days to meet with school authorities to determine what can be done to better employ children after school hours.

In a six point program presented to the committee Jerry Spears pointed out that the community should get behind a program to rehabilitate the police department; that the parents should be alerted to the hazard of ignorance of the dangers and whereabouts of their children after school hours; that school authorities should be contacted as to more required home work; that church leaders should confer on community-wide activities and facilities; that business men study human values against commodity values and plan a community program that will lift the youngsters another type of environment.

T/S William C. Fulcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Fulcher, 1542 Arlington-av. East, long-time Hilltop resident, is home on terminal leave, awaiting discharge.

He was attached to the 57th Composite Service Company, Eighth Army, in Yokohama, Japan.

Married Couples To Have Anniversary Class Party Mar. 27

The Married Couples Class of the Hilltop Lutheran Church will observe its seventh anniversary Thursday, March 27, at 8 p. m. at the church, by inviting other couples who they think might like to join with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kruckeberg, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McCreight and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Little are in charge of the refreshments. The decorations are being taken care of by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Bergman and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gardner. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Williams and Mr. Charles Maus are planning a good evening's entertainment.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Weber, 1482 Sullivan-av. and the bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. T. S. Fox, 26 S. Briar-av. Mr. Weber accompanied his daughter to the altar. For her wedding she chose a white satin gown with long sleeves, a round neckline and net yoke. The skirt fell softly into a train and her fingertip veil was fastened to a cap of illusion. She carried an arm bouquet of white flowers centered with an orchid. Her only jewelry was a string of seed pearls.

The bride's only attendant was her sister-in-law, Mrs. F. S. Weber, Jr., who wore a pink tulle gown with blue feathers in her hair and long blue gloves. She carried a colonial bouquet of blue and white flowers. A brother of the bridegroom, Dr. T. E. Fox, was the best man. Mrs. T. E. Fox was the vocalist at a half hour of music preceding the wedding with Mrs. Clyde Moore at the organ.

A reception at the church followed the ceremony, after which the couple left for a week's wedding trip to Niagara Falls. Mrs. Fox chose a beige dress with navy blue accessories for traveling and planned the orchid from her bridal bouquet at her shoulder.

The bride is a graduate of Central High School and before her marriage was employed at the F. & R. Lazarus & Co. Mr. Fox is a graduate of West High School and attended Ohio State University. He served three years in the Safety Hints For House Cleaning Are Outlined

Some extremely "early birds" are already at the spring house cleaning but for most of us it is still just around the corner. Mrs. Dorothy B. Hammans, vice-president for home safety, Ohio State Safety Council, offers the following suggestions to avoid mishaps during the cleaning period.

Be sure that the handles of brooms, mops and brushes are smooth and free from splinters. Use rubber gloves to protect the hands from the drying effects of chemical cleansers.

Use a sturdy step-ladder (five or six feet) for all tasks which you cannot reach while standing on the floor. A tall ladder provides space to put cleaning cloths and brushes, and gives one a chance to steady oneself, if necessary, by grasping the ladder with one hand.

Be sure the ladder's buckled shelf is sturdy and large enough to hold your cleaning bucket securely.

Clean the room of all movable pieces so you may not bump into or trip over them.

Carry all tools, equipment and articles to the place where you expect to use them. Leave nothing on the stairs.

Put small children in another room with playthings so they may be out of harm's way, and yours, during the cleaning operation.

DO NOT USE FLAMMABLE CLEANING FLUIDS INDOORS. Place the soap on the bucket shelf so the steps of the ladder do not get slippery.

Stop cleaning half an hour early so you have time to put things away before meal time, or the family comes from work or school.

Finally—do not try to do too much at a time. Haste to finish, combined with fatigue from the day's work can produce a serious injury.

Doing small sections of the house at a time makes the task less tiring and upsetting for the entire family.

Safe cleaning is efficient cleaning—and much less tiring than any other variety.

Loew's Broad
Loew's Broad is now showing for a second downtown week the lavishly produced technicolor spectacle, "California," starring Ray Milland and Barbara Stanwyck. It's a compelling saga of the goldrush days and of the struggle to make California a state. Barry Fitzgerald heads the large supporting cast. The Broad is showing "California" as a single feature.

Church Teaches Basis Of Living More Happily, Heisel

Dr. Heisel

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth in a series of interviews with prominent laymen of local churches. They are published in connection with the community-wide "go to church" campaign being conducted by Hilltop churches of all faiths in cooperation with the Hilltop Business Association, the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and the Hilltop Community Council.

"I go to church because in the teachings of Jesus I have found the basis of living more happily," Dr. Eldred B. Heisel, 341 Odenway-av, told The Hilltop Record this week.

Dr. Heisel, a dermatologist with offices at 150 E. Broad-st, is treasurer of the Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church and a member of the denomination's Council of Administration. Last fall he attended the uniting conference when the Evangelical and United Brethren Churches were united at Johnstown, Pa. "I have come to feel that the church is not simply an institution to save boys and girls from industrial schools or to help men and women to go to Heaven," he said. "It offers all who will become a part of it a way of life which is more abundant. The church gives each of us an opportunity and a real challenge to serve our families, our community and through her missionary program, the entire world." Dr. Heisel said he became increasingly concerned over the role of the church in today's world when he heard the chaplain of the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster make the statement that less than one-half of one per cent of the boys incarcerated there have ever been regular attendants at Sunday school.

Boys and girls who are afflicted with the principles which Jesus taught make good, honest citizens, the speaker had asserted.

"This statement deepened my feeling that the church, next to the Christian home, is the most important institution in the community. It made me know that it was my duty to go, to work in and to support that institution for the sake of my own family and for all of the children of my community whose lives we might be able to influence," Dr. Heisel continued.

"It also made me cognizant of the fact that I must repay in some measure the debt which I personally owe to those Sunday school teachers and friends who spent their lives in making the Sunday school and church a possibility for me. It seems to me that we as parents have not fulfilled our obligation to our children by simply sending them to Sunday school. That is a fine gesture, but we as adults must go, must work and must support that institution to really fulfill our obligation," he explained.

Dr. Heisel is the father of two daughters, Marian, 4½, and Marjorie, 2. His wife, Ruth, is organist at the Westgate church. He has been active in church work for more than 20 years.

He is a graduate of the Ohio State University School of Medicine and did postgraduate work under Dr. George C. Andrews, professor of dermatology at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University. He is a member of the American Medical Association, the Ohio State and Columbus Academies of Medicine, the Cleveland Dermatological Society and the American Academy of Dermatology. Two days each week he teaches dermatology at Ohio State University. Music and baseball are his hobbies.

GETS TEST—George Strickland, former West High boy, now a student at Ohio State University, will appear in the Athletic Show March 28.

An inductee of July, 1943, he served overseas since October, 1944. At the time of his induction he was employed by the Industrial Commission.

UNANSWERED PRAYER

We have prayed that the sun of the new year's course might never go down on a war-drawn blade. We have given our hostages, foot and horse, in pledge of the peace for which we prayed. We have cheered the dirge of the warrior clan, The Lion of Judah, the Persian Boar, Hannibal, Caesar and Genghis Khan. But all things are as they were before. The pageantry ended, the glamor was gone. With the War of the Field of the Cloth of Gold, But the dragon lives on in the dragon's spawn. And all things are as they were of old. Were we given to choose but a single prayer? To plead as men never before have pled? It might well be this, that the tribes declare "We have done with war till the world is dead!" "Touchstone" in THE COLUMBUS SUNDAY CITIZEN.

Reflected in a circular mirror over the fireplace in this suburban home is the utilization of windows to their fullest advantage. The windows themselves are actually convex in shape. Woodchuck Is Good Eating

"That elusive shadowy woodchuck, or groundhog, which figuratively thumbs his nose at you from the hillside, makes mighty good eating when properly prepared," says Henry F. Davis, Remington Arms Company, "and it's just plain foolishness to waste this good meat."

The woodchuck is strictly a vegetarian and despite his rough looking exterior is a stickler for cleanliness. He tastes a bit like racoon but is somewhat fatter. Want a good recipe? Then file this little item in your favorite cookbook for future reference:

STEWED WOODCHUCK

Clean woodchuck, remove glands and some of the fat. Cut meat into serving pieces. Soak overnight in a solution of equal parts water and vinegar, with the addition of a sliced onion and a little salt. Drain, wash and wipe. Parboil 20 minutes, drain and cover with fresh boiling water. Add one sliced onion, 1/2 cup of sliced celery, a few cloves, salt and pepper. Cook until tender. Thicken gravy with flour. Other vegetables may be added if desired.

Woodchuck, here in Ohio, may be hunted the year round except on Sunday, of course, and are well distributed throughout many counties of the state. Although there is no closed season, don't forget your hunting license which is a very important requirement. Best time of the year to provide dinner table with this unusual meat-treat is almost any time after August following weaning time on up until mid-summer.

I know the Bible is inspired because it finds me at greater depths of my being than any other books. —Cokeridge

West Park, Burgess Win In 1st Rounds

Burgess Avenue in the Intermediate and West Park Methodist in the Senior Church Leagues got by their first opponents in the city playoffs this week.
Burgess romped over Clinton Heights Lutheran by a score of 44 to 17 while West Park defeated Linden Methodist by a 20-18 count. Burgess will not play again until next Monday night when the semifinals get under way.

The playoffs will be resumed tonight when Riverside Methodist, the Class B winner in the West Church Intermediate League, meets Livingston Methodist at Glenwood. The senior loop goes into action at Schiller Park when Salvation Army, Class B winner, tangles with either First English or Hope Lutheran. West Park gets its second playoff test by meeting what is described as a tough Peace Lutheran outfit from Gahanna.

Other local teams in action this week will involve Haas Brothers vs. Model Dairy at Glenwood Friday night. At Schiller Glenwood AC will meet Kent Cleaners while Hill Tailors tangle with Seiler's.

Southwest district Boy Scout leaders, committeemen, district officials and commissioners are having a meeting Friday, March 21, at Hilltop Lutheran Church. The meeting will start at 7:30 p. m. It is a regular district meeting with showing of colored conservation movies by Ohio State Conservation Dept.

Teen-agers Find That Bowling Is Fun

Bowling is rapidly becoming the sport of teen-agers. This group of enthusiastic players was photographed recently by the Columbus Bowling News and Sports Review at the Hilltop Recreation Alley where they bowl every Saturday morning.
They are all members of Seiler's Brand Roster Boys' Bowling League, organized during the past winter by Paul Leightninger, of Seiler's, 2401 W. Broad-st. with the cooperation of Bill Wolfe, owner of the bowling alleys.

Fish Production Experiments Are To Be Continued

On the strength of a report by Lee S. Bosch, assistant chief of fish management in charge of fish production for the Ohio Division of Conservation, the Conservation and Natural Resources Commission favors continuing the experimental fishing water project initiated last year. In which nine Ohio lakes and one stream were opened to fishermen with all restrictions lifted; that is, no bag limits imposed, no legal lengths, and no closed season.
Three major projects designed to accomplish the objective of producing better fishing, were used to determine what effect heavy fishing with no restrictions would have on fish production and management in various bodies of water ranging from very small lakes to large ones. These projects included a test netting program designed to determine stock on hand; another was a creel census program designed to determine the harvest for the year and the third was a hatchery program designed to provide for new waters, a better grade of fish for existing water and to satisfy the demands of those fishermen who held on to the thought that restocking is the only answer to better fishing.

From April through August, 1946, 811,772 fishermen fished the 27,846 acres of water included in the experimental areas. This number was an average of 22 fishermen for each acre of water over a five month period. Fishermen removed an average of 68 fish from each acre of water during the period.

Test netting produced 23 species of fish 53 per cent of which were crappies, 27 per cent bluegills, 8 per cent bullheads, 2.8 per cent channel cats, 2 per cent carp and 1 per cent bass.

What does this mean for the fisherman? Well, the results of the creel census when analyzed from the standpoint of the fisherman, can tell him which fish were caught in greatest number, where, and at what time during the summer. The results of the test netting can tell him what fish were present in numbers that he overlooked, and in which waters the more desirable sizes were found.

Here are a few suggestions based on the survey. To catch the biggest variety of fish, irrespective of size or rate of catch per hour, best results will be had in April and May. Buckeye, Leesville, and St. Marys in order named yielded the most species.

To catch the most fish per hour, fish in August, although this varies with the lake fished. For best consistent bass fishing from April through August, Lake Alma should be chosen. Bass averaged about 11 inches in length. For greater numbers try Leesville and Goodwood in April, and Leesville again in May. However, the bass run small (9 to 10 inches in length). For larger bass (averaging 18 inches) but at a slower rate of catch try Buckeye, Lorain, St. Marys and Seneca in late summer. The most striking feature of the information revealed by the unrestricted experiment is the great variation between the lakes themselves indicating their individual differences which may be traced to their fish populations, the nature and condition of the drainage areas or the fundamental condition of the water.

Othman measured a dollar bill, finding it to be six inches in length, two to the foot, 10560 to the mile. Six billion dollars, he found, would stretch for 568,181 miles, or nearly 23 times around the world at the equator. Four and one-half billions would encircle the globe at its greatest girth about 17 times. He probably started pulling his hair at that point.

Inc. Petition To Go Before Twp. Trustees

The controversial incorporation issue involving a number of families west of the Columbus city limits will be revived when sponsors of the plan present a petition to the Franklin Township Trustees at the April 1 meeting.

According to Ed Lantz, 325 Derr-rd., one of the sponsors of the incorporation idea, the petition already has 43 signatures and others will be added up until the time of the meeting.

The petition will ask the trustees to call a special election to determine the preference of voters in that area concerning the proposed incorporation to be known as Camp Chase. It will be the third time this or a similar petition has been presented to the township officials.

In the most recent attempt to get the issue before the people, the matter was carried to the State Supreme Court. The high court did not uphold the sponsors of the plan, so now the group is starting in again from "scratch." Trustees have taken the stand that the calling of an election in this case is outside of their jurisdiction. Robert M. Draper, 74 N. Roys-av., has been the attorney for the petitioners.

The proposed village would include a territory bounded on the south by Sullivan-av. and the Sullivan-av. extension; on the west, the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks on the north; and Wilson-av. and the western corporation line of the City of Columbus on the east. The territory includes the new Fisher Body-Turnsted plant and considerable acreage of farm lands.

Property Owners To Meet
The Property Owners' Association of Franklin County will meet, Friday night at the Neil House, 215 E. Second, George S. Clements, director of Franklin County Planning and Zoning Commission, will be the principal speaker. The public is invited to attend.

Money raised at these socials will be used for playground equipment. It is planned to have this playground open early in the spring. Flowers and fruit for the sick are paid for from the money raised at these socials.

Plans are being worked out to have educational programs each Monday night. Subjects to be covered will include first aid, juvenile delinquency, fire fighting, etc. The organization is asking the city to install a street light at Highland-av. and Mound-st. Around West High

By Janet Baker and Judy Jones

On arriving in their classrooms Monday many teachers at dear old West were astonished by the quietness and unusual attentiveness of their pupils. On any other day giggles and boisterous laughter float out into the hall to meet them, but this day was different. In fact it seems this was the case in all classes. Finally the truth came to light. This week is "Courtesy Week." All these courteous, smiling students couldn't be the same ones who went to school last week! Jack Bohannon and Ken Evans with their white shirts and ties really looked nice.

Congratulations, seniors, on winning the girls' basketball tournament. Course, we knew you would, with Julianne Ammon, Audrey Southard and Dot McClain in these fighting. We also wish to commend all the juniors and sophomores who made the seniors fight to win.

Don't miss the big debate on the labor question between Ohio State and University of Maine March 23 at 2 p. m. Get your ticket early. We believe this is the first time any high school has ever entertained college debate teams.

Baseball season looms ahead and we hear Wally Watkins is just "rain" to go.

The annual Spanish and French Club party was held last night and from all accounts it was a huge success. How could it have been otherwise with Pat West working on it?

Did you know we had a confidant of President Truman's in our midst? Well, just talk to Annabel Crawford. Last Friday in Mr. Neeb's third period POD class Annabel was giving a current events report. She had a little competition, as most of the students were busy telling each other about "John's other girlfriend." After a few minutes of this Annabel became disgusted and quietly made the statement, "The president is going to dye his hair purple." With this world shaking remark made, she nonchalantly finished her report in a room so quiet you could hear a pin drop.

Two dates to keep open on your calendar are March 28, the Athletic Show, with many herculean stunts performed by West students, grads and others. John McClurg and Virgil Wharton will put on a boxing match that will be thrilling to witness. Tomorrow night is the Triangle Club dance with one out of 12 lovely girls chosen to be the queen of the evening. Always exciting is the man-hunt for "the marked man." Who will he be this year?

Question of the week: Who fell into the waste basket in third period study? We know that Kateley Wappel knows but we bet she wouldn't tell! So—from now till next time—Hasta la vista.

550 ATTEND DANCE
More than 550 pupils of Starling Junior High School attended the PTA dance held at the school Friday night. Tom Beckett and his band provided music for dancing.

Starling has three separate lunch periods to accommodate the pupils who eat there.

OSU vs. U. Maine In Debate Here

West High will be the scene of a college debate, March 25, between OSU and the University of Maine. The debate is being sponsored by the West Debate Club and will be held at 2:00 p. m.

It is not often that a high school has the opportunity of being host to college debate teams. It will be a regulation debate, and judged by a competent man. The question will most probably be about the labor situation in this country.

The University of Maine's debaters are touring the mid-west, and while the debate was originally scheduled for the campus, Edwin Kayles, Social Science and Debate teacher here, through arrangements with Ohio State had the contest moved here.

We believe that this will be the first time any high school has ever entertained college debate teams.

Tickets will go on sale March 17, in all rooms. All students buying tickets will be excused to attend the debate at 2:00.

To Our Customers

In the interest of protecting our customers in these days of high prices, we will continue to adhere strictly to these seven principles:

1. We, as building material dealers, agree to continue to make every effort to reduce our operating costs and, at all times, to ask prices reflecting only a fair return.
2. We pledge our support to the program of fighting the racketeer building material market.
3. We pledge our support to the program of seeing that those veterans desiring to remodel or build have the first opportunity to obtain the building materials available.
4. We believe that the only way that we can protect our market today and for the future is to continue to use our influence to keep the cost of housing down to a minimum and we pledge that we will exert every effort against the threat of inflation caused by the shortage of materials and the shortage of skilled labor.
5. We pledge that we will continue to follow a policy of frankly representing to our customers the quality of the products we are able to offer in these times when there is such a shortage of standard materials.
6. We, as retail merchants, assume the responsibility of keeping constantly abreast of new developments in building materials to provide greater economies and better livability in the building and remodeling of homes.
7. We, as retail merchants, assume the responsibility of keeping constantly accomplished these basic objectives in the interests of our customers and for the general welfare of our community.

A MESSAGE FROM
SECRETARY OF WAR

How you can help YOUR ARMY DO ITS PART FOR PEACE

With the President's proposal for the discontinuance of Selective Service on March 31, America will rely on voluntary enlistments for the maintenance of the Regular Army at authorized strength.

In view of world conditions today, this is a step of the gravest importance to every American citizen. Never before in history has any nation raised and maintained a million-man army by the volunteer system alone. Our ideals, our belief in individual freedom, our safety and our duty to promote world peace—all are bound up in this decision.

This is your Army, and voluntary enlistment is your choice. It must not fail. With your help it will not fail. The Army must continue to provide adequate occupation forces overseas, to supply these forces, and to help in keeping America strong and secure.

Your help and understanding can do much to encourage a steady flow of 3-year voluntary enlistments, necessary to sound training and the efficient performance of the Army's task.

When you discuss this subject with your sons, brothers, husbands or friends who may be considering an Army career, bear in mind the advantages offered by a 3-year enlistment. Among them are the choice of branch of service and of overseas theater where openings exist, and the opportunity for thorough training in valuable skills.

A job in the new Regular Army compares favorably with the average in industry, and has more opportunities for promotion than most.

You can help by giving your respect and support to the man who enlists voluntarily—to do his part in carrying out your country's world-wide obligations to build a peace that will endure.

SUNDAY LESSON

Prayers of Jesus Were for All Who Believe the Word

The International Sunday School Lesson for March 23
Scripture: The 17th Chapter of John

THE dictionary defines intercession as "a prayer or series of prayers for persons of different conditions."

Following the solemn conversations of Jesus with His disciples on the eve of His death, recorded in chapters 14 to 16 of John's Gospel, Jesus "lifted up His eyes to heaven" and made the prayer recorded in the 17th Chapter.

Though this is the only long intercessory prayer recorded, it was not the only intercessory prayer of Jesus. We may recall His words to Peter: "Simon, Simon, Satan hath desired to have thee, that he may sift thee as wheat; but I have prayed for thee that thy faith fail not." We may be sure that as Jesus prayed for Peter, He prayed for the others also.

He prayed, first of all, for Himself. Is not that the beginning of true intercessory prayer? Not that it is in any respect selfish, but the first function of prayer is to bring us near to God and to prepare and strengthen us for the doing of His will.

Note how definite and specific was the prayer of Jesus for His inner circle of disciples. His prayer was not a vague, general, and sentimental prayer for all humanity. "I pray for them," He said, "I pray not for the world."

But here were the men, the Twelve, though one was a traitor, through whom the ministry of Jesus was to be carried on. If salvation was to come to the world it was to come through them. And shortly, Jesus was to give them the commission to go into all the world and preach the Gospel. He knew that they would face hardship and persecution; so He prayed for them, that they might be sanctified, and made strong.

And He knew that when they had passed on other disciples must continue the work. So He prayed not for them alone, but for all who should believe through their work.

Attention! Pastors

The attention of pastors and secretaries of local churches is called to the fact that special programs of Easter activities must be submitted to The Hilltop Record several days in advance of the April 1 issue to insure their publication.

Any special Easter programs should be in the Record office not later than 5 o'clock on March 20. Copy received after that time will be accepted only on a conditional basis, depending on whether space is available for it. This will not affect the regular church announcements. They are accepted until Tuesday at 12 a. m. on the week of publication.

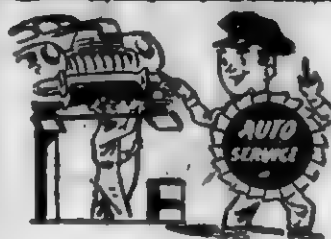

Gordon To Conduct 9 Special Services

Nine special evangelistic services have been planned by the Chicago Avenue Church of Christ and pastor, Rev. Omar Clary, to be conducted by Evangelist J. E. Gordon, of Columbus, beginning next Sunday morning, March 23, and closing on Sunday night, Mar. 30.

Rev. Gordon has had a wide experience in church work as pastor and evangelist. He has served small and large churches in both capacities.

Last fall he dedicated the new edifice of this local church and back in 1936 he conducted a two-week revival for the congregation with a number of new members added.

Rev. Gordon has also been associated with Rev. Mr. Clary in church work elsewhere, assist-

1,000 Is Goal Set By Church School At Glenwood

As a part of the stewardship year of the Methodist Church and in cooperation with the Hilltop Ministerial Association, Glenwood Church School has been making an effort to increase attendance.

The average for the first 10 Sundays this year shows an increase of 48 over that for the first 10 Sundays of 1946. The goal set is "1000" in church school next Sunday, March 23. Each class and department has been given a quota.

Special Pre-Easter services at Glenwood Methodist Church will start Wednesday, March 26, and continue through Friday night of that week, as follows:

Wednesday, March 26, 7:30 p. m., the Senior Youth Fellowship will have charge. Robert Kimes will preach on the topic, "The Living God" and the young people will furnish special music.

Thursday, March 27, the Women's Society of Christian Service will be in charge of the meeting at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. L. B. Galt, spiritual life secretary, will be the leader.

Friday, March 28, 7:30 p. m., the Young Adult Fellowship will be in charge of the meeting.

Sullivan Ave. Friends Win Sing Banner

Sullivan Avenue Friends Church again won the Hilltop Hymn Sing attendance banner Sunday night in the service held at the Highland Avenue Friends Church.

Eight churches were represented, with 165 persons in attendance. Rev. W. Howard School, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church, directed the singing.

The next song fest will be held at the Sullivan Avenue Friends Church on the evening of March 30.

The Perennial Complaint

Most of those who complain about the younger generation, no longer belong to that classification.

Kindling the lamp of truth might help make world peace approach reality.

Smooth efficiency and quiet dignity mark our services and funeral arrangements. In your time of sorrow come to us, to a friend, and let us take complete charge.

STEADFAST SERVICE

A funeral service should be a thing of sincerity, beauty, and quiet dignity. We know that the sudden passing of a loved one often places a severe strain on family resources and limits the amount of money available for last rites. Whatever your financial situation, we can arrange a funeral that need not be expensive. You pay only one reasonable fee and our experienced staff can be depended upon to handle all details faultlessly.

Come—Bring A Friend

The LOST CHILD

It's a big world! And it never seems bigger to anyone, than it does to the child who is lost. Some instinct compels her to go on... but she does not know where she is, or where she is going. Millions of American children are lost. They are growing up to face life without the sense of direction that makes all the difference between happiness and hopelessness. The simple religious truths that a child learns in Church—though they seem so elementary to parents—are the foundation of fruitful living. Faith in God, a knowledge of right and wrong, a sense of purpose in living... with these no one can be lost. What are you doing to help the Church to show your child the Way?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

A host of baseball and track candidates are impatiently awaiting a little spring weather out at Magly Field so that they can get down to the serious business of preparing for the 1947 spring athletic programs. All indications point to a record crop of candidates in both sports.

Already the weather is 10 days behind last year for the same dates. An early spring last year found outdoor practice on a regular basis by March 6, whereas wintry blasts have kept the players in up until this week at least.

Coch Rufe Glass has had his track candidates running in the halls of the school building three nights a week in an effort to get his boys partly conditioned before the first meet with Linden McKinley on April 2.

The track team will be out attempting to retain last year's city league crown. That this will be no small task this year can be seen in the fact that three of last season's regular first place winners have graduated. Their places must be filled by less experienced and in some instances untried performers.

The trio of Smith, Hall and Hutt, who started in almost every meet last spring, will be sorely missed, however, several promising boys have been developing and time alone can tell the story of how well they will perform under fire.

Coch Glass has lined up six dual and four relay meets thus far this season. His squad will again enter the Huntington Relay event in which West placed high last year.

A crop of 55 junior high boys has reported for workouts thus far to match an almost equal number trying out for varsity and reserve berths. So far the varsity has been working indoors on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings while the juniors have been running on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Dual meets are scheduled with Linden, Arlington, Springfield, East North and Chillicothe. Relay events will be entered at Ohio Wesleyan, Miami, Newark and Huntington. These are in addition to the city and district meets toward the close of the season.

Pirates To Play Birds Here In 2 Exhibitions

Some of the most colorful figures in major league baseball will appear in Columbus April 12 and 13 when the Columbus Red Birds play host to the Pittsburgh Pirates in two exhibition games. Benefits from both games will go to the Columbus Zoo.

Hank Greenberg, top home run hitter for the Detroit Tigers last season, who was purchased by the Pittsburgh club during the winter, will be aiming for the left field fence at the stadium. Billy Herman is starting his first year as manager of the pirates. Honus Wagner, one of baseball's greatest shortstops now a coach with the Pirates, will also be on hand.

Baseball fans will also get a good idea of the Red Birds' possibilities during the two days. It will be the first northern exhibition games for the club after leaving their summer and spring training grounds.

Tickets can be purchased from Earle "Circus" Sortman, promotion chairman of the Columbus Zoological Society, or at the Red Bird Stadium. Prices are $1.50 for box seats and $1.25 reserved.

Jack Thrush Most Valuable West Cager

Amid the applause of his teammates and a large gathering of former West High School students and boosters, Jack Thrush was awarded the gold basketball last Wednesday night as the most valuable player of the 1946-47 season. The occasion was the annual basketball dinner, honoring players and coaches, put on by the West High Boosters Club at the Westgate Methodist Church.

William (Bill) Bernlohr, athletic director at Capital University, and Otto H. Magly, former principal at West, were the speakers. Dick Francis, president of the Boosters, presented the award. M. E. (Jack) Schaeffer, a master of ceremonies.

The selection of the most valuable player was made by vote of the players themselves.

There was much fun and good fellowship as members of the varsity and reserve teams, managers and coaches received the plaudits of alumni of the school. Coach George Williams presented the members of the varsity team and praised their work as individuals and as a team. Assistant Coach Fred Heischman did the same for the members of the reserve squad. The varsity five ended the city league play in a tie for second place.

Two members of the varsity squad could not be present. Paul

Theisen, one of the team's outstanding players throughout the season, had just returned home from the hospital that day and was not able to be present. His father, Paul A. Theisen, 273 N. Ogden-av, was present, however. Ed (Sonny) Sahr, a second string man but a great favorite with his teammates, was absent standing players throughout the season, had just returned home from the hospital that day and was not able to be present. His father, Paul A. Theisen, 273 N. Ogden-av, was present, however. Ed (Sonny) Sahr, a second string man but a great favorite with his teammates, was absent

How to be a sensation with your inspiration

1. You've been practicing for the "Big Minstrel." Because there's a smooth Blonde accompanying you, your heart's really in that love song. For tryouts you arrive looking trim in an Arrow Trio: eye-catching Shirt, Tie, and Handkerchief.
2. While warming up your vocal cords you detect a melting look in The Blonde's eyes. You're not swoon bait, so the defrosting must be due to your handsome Arrow Shirt. Mitoga cut to fit. (Sanforized-labeled for shrinkage less than 1%.)

3. A loud-speaker mike? You didn't realize all those people would be listening! The Blonde sounds your cue and you give out a flat yodel. Your big chance is muffed. The only note of harmony is your Arrow Tie and matching Handkerchief.
4. Though you're not a famous growler, the Blonde likes the way you warble to her, exclusively. Moral: When "sweet and low" you can't croon, Arrow helps put a heart in tune. Make Arrow your theme song! Come see us for Arrows!

Lumber Firm Aids In Program To Hold Down Operating Costs

To protect local customers in these days of shortages and high prices, the West Side Lumber Company announced today that it had joined with 2,800 other lumber and building materials dealers throughout the United States in a movement to exert a stabilizing influence on the home building situation.

Companies that have joined this movement, which is now crystallizing in communities all over this state, have unanimously endorsed a set of seven principles of sound business practice, according to J. W. Slyh, manager,

Chief among these principles is a pledge to the public to continue to make every effort to reduce operating costs and to ask prices reflecting only a fair return.

"We want our customers to know," Mr. Slyh said, "that we expect to be in business for a long time and we do not intend to jeopardize our good will by asking more than we are entitled to receive just because there happens to be a huge demand at present for the materials we sell. On the wall of our office where all can see it we have hung a plaque on which the set of seven principles to which we have subscribed are clearly stated. Every dealer who has endorsed the program has a similar plaque.

Italy Suffers In The War

Just south of the Volturno River on highway "seven", the coastal blacktop that leads to Rome, is the little Italian town of San Marie. This was one of the few villages that remained relatively untouched by the drive northward. Here, the army set up a small Red Cross club and a GI movie theater. It was practically the only place where my troops could visit on pass during the winter and early spring of 1944.

The all soldier show "This Is the Army" featuring Irving Berlin, played a long engagement at the Opera House there and it is safe to say that nearly every American in the sector had a chance to see it. The show was genuinely enjoyed by a capacity audience every night and Irving Berlin brought the house down time and again when he sang his own memorable creation, "White Christmas." The great composer is a long way from being the best crooner in the world but he sang his own songs with feeling and the music struck the heart strings. "This Is the Army" was the finest entertainment treat I had in my two years overseas.

Kel Fuller

The Red Cross club in the little village had an attraction all its own. It was managed by a very lovely young American girl whose fine personality and general attractiveness brightened the surroundings no end. She had been overseas 20 months at that time and was probably a little weary of it all but this didn't seem to dim her spirits and she kept up a live round of chatter all the time.

Madeline Carroll, the popular film star, was active in the British Red Cross club at Orton and a lot of the fellows had a chance to see her. The report was that she did a fine job.

See Tracers At Night

Our bivouac area was located near a town called Sessa just behind the extreme western end of the Italian front, the sector held by American troops.

We were well camouflaged in the mountainous terrain. Each night the sentries could see anti-aircraft tracers being fired at German planes over the Anzio beachhead to the northwest and occasionally the same sight to the south as the raiders took a crack at Naples. No planes came over our area but we had nice zig-zag trenches dug just in case. The artillery firing at night was sporadic and generally things were pretty quiet. The ground was softer than that of Africa. For fifty lire (50c) you could buy enough hay to fill your mattress cover and sleep fairly comfortably at night. Italian women would come to the area, collect laundry in the morning and bring it back all done that night. The cost was only a little more. All throughout Italy it was easy to find someone to do the laundry. Some of the Italians who came around spoke broken English and confessed to living in the States for several years. They were rather sad that they had returned to Italy. Italian barbers even brought equipment into the area and cut hair. All they asked in return was three meals per day and a lot of spinach, beets and carrots, the most unpopular dishes among the GIs. It was a rather ironic note that in Africa the Arabs holed away the remains of the meals fed their pigs while in a modern civilized nation people were glad to get them for themselves.

Activity Increases

During the first week in May activity increased somewhat. The roads were alive with vehicles and the general drive indicated something was in the wind. Then, in the early morning darkness of May 10 a tremendous allied artillery barrage shook the earth and the horizon became alive with flame. The thunder lasted until dawn. As the first rays of light streaked the heavens the American planes came over. All kinds, from fighters to heavy bombers, filled the sky. When we were fully awake, the captain called a formation and read the proclamation issued by Sir Harold Alexander, the commander-in-chief in that theater. The proclamation stated that troops in Italy had been called upon to launch the first blow in the series of offensives that were designed to crush Nazi Germany. The long dormant Italian front had become alive. A mighty drive had been launched to destroy the German armies south of the Brenner Pass. Rome was the first principal objective.

False Alarms Are Serious

By Capt. John E. Jordan
Fire Prevention Bureau

The recent conviction of an 18-year-old boy charged with turning in false alarms brought to a close one of the most difficult cases to be investigated by the fire prevention bureau. The severe penalty rendered by the court should discourage any others who may imagine that turning in a false alarm might be fun and that they can "get away with it." Although the alarms were turned in by telephone, the fire department investigators were able to apprehend the offender and order his arrest. The average person is not aware that 94 persons were apprehended last year for turning in false alarms and other fire department violations. The recent case was unusual because 36 telephone alarms were turned in before a system could be devised to check the calls. The investigation of false alarms is carried on just as seriously as the investigation of arson and no effort is spared in obtaining the conviction of guilty parties.

False alarms are serious. A theater panic was narrowly averted in a downtown picture house when firemen were called to a nearby hotel on a false alarm. Hearing the sirens, one of the theater patrons ran up the aisle and threw open one of the exit doors. The open door allowed the sound of the sirens to multiply in volume inside the theater and soon many excited persons were screaming and running for the exits. Cool headed theater employees were able to restore order and averted a serious theater panic which might have killed or injured a great many persons. Another hotel false alarm was turned in while a two-alarm fire was burning in the downtown area. Since all of the downtown fire companies were fighting the two-alarm fire, it was necessary to call companies from the neighborhood sections to cover the hotel alarm. Had another fire started during this period it probably would have reached serious proportions before it could have been brought under control by the few remaining fire companies available in the outlying sections of the city.

Parents and teachers should devote some time at regular intervals to the task of impressing upon the minds of every child the seriousness of turning in false alarms. They should be made to realize, too, that they will most likely be caught and turned over to the police or juvenile court officials.

Keep Visitors Away

One practical method of poultry disease control is to keep farm visitors away from the poultry houses and yards. Bacteria which cause some of the more common poultry diseases can be readily transported on shoes, clothing, or hands of people. Many individuals who are interested enough to inspect one poultry flock are likely to want to see others and a series of such farm visits may be costly to poultrymen along the visitor's route.

There is but one law for all, namely, that law which governs all law, the law of our Creator, the law of humanity, justice, equity—the law of nature and of nations.

New Building Is Fireproof Structure

The newly completed K and D Building at 3109 W. Broad-st. was designed and built with the ideas of safety and convenience foremost in the minds of the builders. The building was built for Fred Deubner and Karl Kruckeberg by Kent Brothers, a Hilltop general contracting firm. It is built on a 42 by 60-foot foundation and is of all-concrete construction from basement to the roof. It houses the Columbus Stationery Company (occupying the basement), the Westgate Hardware and five apartments on the second floor. The basement has a 10-foot ceiling to provide for better working conditions and is equipped with an elevator for the purpose of moving materials up and down from the street level. There are four three-room and one two-room apartment completely furnished with laundry and storage space provided. The building is completely gas-heated with separate heating equipment for the various units.

The contractors began excavating on Feb. 28, 1946, and by Feb. 15, 1947, the building was completely occupied from basement to second floor. Paul Jones was the superintendent in charge of construction.

Included on the interdenominational board of directors, which supervises the institute are the following Hilltop residents: W. O. Rayburn, treasurer, 1950 Floral-av.; Rev. C. C. Clawson, 58 S. Use Finer Limestone Coarsely ground limestone is not available for use by plants as quickly as limestone ground finely enough so all of it will pass through a 100-mesh screen. Only 12 per cent of limestone screenings can be used by plants the first year after the lime is applied, but 100 per cent of super-fine limestone is available the first year. Plants can use 55 per cent of agricultural limestone the first year.

Columbus Stationery Firm Does Nation-wide Business

The Columbus Stationery Company, 3107 W. Broad-st., does a personalized stationery business from coast-to-coast with about 60 sales people in the field at all times. The company recently moved into the basement unit of the K and D Building at the above address after having moved three times during the past 10 years in expansion programs.

The firm is a partnership operated by Fred and William Deubner and Karl Kruckeberg. The Deubner brothers head the sales organization and Kruckeberg is the production manager.

All of their merchandise is custom-made high-grade personalized stationery. During the war a large portion of the output was sold at army PX's and navy ship stores to members of the armed forces. The stationery is known by the trade name Mayflower.

The three members of the firm, who came to Columbus from Greenville, Ohio, started the business at 11 N. Westmoor-av. in 1937, with just the owners doing all the work. Since then it has grown to an organization of 12 plant and office employees, not to mention the sales people.

It was not long before added space was needed so the shop was moved to 3093 W. Broad-st., then to 3115 W. Broad-st., later to 2840 W. Broad-st. and on Dec. 1, 1946, to the present location where the full 40 by 60-foot basement is used for shop and offices. The present plant is set up to operate another press that has been on order since 1943. This will add materially to production possibilities.

Employed by the firm locally are: Alyce Buzzard, 7 S. Hague-av., sec.; Doris Oliver, 2745 Steele-st., stenographer; Richard Reichart, 146 N. Haldy-av., plant foreman; Sam McKain, Jr., 175 S. Huron-av., pressman; Dean Rector, 1443 1/2 S. High-st., pressman; Bill Albert, 2185 Sullivan-av., pressman; Wayne Brown, 172 S. Hague-av., pressman; Jeanette D'Amico, 7 S. Hague-av., operator; Harriett Webb, 487 S. Highland-av., clerk; Mary Jane Foucht, 3111 W. Broad-st., Wilma Crabree and Maxine Seabrook.

When the German delegation came to Marshal Foch at the end of World War I to ask for armistice terms, the Frenchman picked up a paper from his desk and read a set of conditions:

Leader of the German officers (stammering in dismay)—But—there must be some mistake. These are terms which no civilized nation could impose on another!

Foch (gravely) — I am very glad to hear you say so. No, gentlemen, these are not our terms. They are the terms imposed on Lillie by the German commander when that city surrendered.

One Dangerous R. R. Crossing To Get Flasher Signals, Officials Report

Flasher Signals To Be Installed

Flasher warning signals will be installed at the Georgetown-rd crossing of the Big Four Railroad system as soon as the project can be launched, officials of the company announced here recently after a near tragedy occurred at that spot. Two east side men recently escaped uninjured by the narrow margin when the truck in which they were riding slid into the side of a moving Big Four passenger train.
Only a few days before, a Hilltop man and his family had a near brush with death when a train tore the front wheel and fender from his car.
The installation of flasher lights at this and the Wilson-rd crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad were included in the list of projects outlined by The Hilltop Record in C. Carlton Hartley's Spectator column at the beginning of the year.
The Georgetown-rd crossing is within sight of the new Fisher Body-Ternstedt plant, now increasing production daily. A heavy flow of traffic to and from the plant daily caused an additional hazard at the crossing.
J. D. King, assistant superintendent of the Big Four at Springfield, said that it was hoped that the new flasher signals would be in operation within a short while.

Local Bronze Star Recipient Returns Home To Housework

Mrs. Fleming

Mrs. Fred E. Fleming, 171 Belvidere-av, is probably the only woman who ever came home to make curtains the rest of the day after receiving the Bronze Star for meritorious service.
Mrs. Fleming received the star in special ceremonies Feb. 5 for valor in the wake of extreme danger to her life from Nov. 17 to Dec. 25, 1944, while with a Red Cross clubmobile group in Luxembourg. The citation, signed by President Truman, was presented to her by General Robert S. Beighler in ceremonies at Fort Hayes. She is one of the few American women so honored.
Mrs. Fleming, who has been a Hilltopper since Jan. 27 of this year, is now a full-fledged housewife, but as different from what she has been doing overseas with the Red Cross, as anything could be.
She and Fred Fleming were married in September, 1946, and the home on Belvidere-av is their first one together. Mr. Fleming is doing on-the-job training at McClelland's Book Store.
The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Henry, 313 Maynard-av, "Peggy" Henry Fleming served with the Red Cross in England and Holland and Germany before the eventful period in her life for which she was awarded the Bronze Star.

Only 1000 Yards From Front
When Field Marshal von Rundstedt launched his drive against the First Army in the last days of 1944, Margaret was at an army rest center only 1000 yards from German lines. Severe shelling and fighting were going on at a dangerously close distance, yet as soon as possible, she had set up her Red Cross Club and was serving coffee and doughnuts to the weary men. Her courage in the face of such dire circumstances boosted the morale of the fighting men and had the same effect as the hot coffee and "crullers."

As the Nazi push gained momentum, capture seemed inevitable, but miraculously Margaret, the only American woman, and three native women, were safely transported through streets swept by searchlights and machine gun bullets to the rear lines. Christmas dinner that year consisted of a can of C-ration hash, one piece of bread and a cup of coffee, with shells bursting nearby for dinner music.
The citation read "Mrs. Margaret Henry Fleming, American Red Cross, rendered meritorious service with Clubmobile Group F, 28th Infantry Division Rest Center, Cherbourg, Luxembourg, from Nov. 17 to Dec. 25, 1944."

"Despite heavy enemy shelling on the town, she steadfastly remained and continued to dispense coffee and doughnuts to hard-pressed men. Her display of courage in the face of the violent German Airplane attacks materially furthered the morale of the American combat soldiers she served."
After receiving the citation, though still thrilled, Mrs. Fleming went home and resumed sewing on new curtains for the home she and her husband are enjoying so much.
Before joining the Red Cross, Mrs. Fleming taught English several years at Main-Montrose Junior High School. She served until recently as field representative for Junior Red Cross in the eastern area, including Ohio and Indiana. She has two bachelor degrees and a master's degree from Ohio State University.

Rev. E. C. Anderson, A reception for more than 100 persons was held at the bride's home.

The club, which meets the first Thursday of each month, is composed of former pupils of Miss Sarah Carney, a retired school teacher.

John Oleksa of Bonebrake Seminary, Dayton, will be present to conduct the services which will continue for two weeks. Meetings will begin at 7:30 each evening. Mr. and Mrs. William Unger, 1811 Richmond-rd, entertained his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Unger, and his sister, Miss Unger, all of Indianapolis, last week-end.
The Red Cross drive having ended Monday, Mrs. S. R. Martindale, 1598 Garling-av, wishes to thank every person who helped bring the campaign to a successful close in Franklin Township. The schools, Skidmore, Wilson and Briggsdale, deserve credit for their part in the drive.

Hospital Plans 2 1/2 Million Dollar Improvement

A $2,500,000 construction program as Mt. Carmel Hospital's contribution toward meeting and solving the current Columbus hospital crisis has been announced by Sister Mary Alfreda, hospital administrator.
Plans calling for complete destruction and removal of the old portion of the hospital now facing State-st were revealed recently after the city had threatened to refuse to grant permission for continued operation of the maternity ward. The city had maintained that the building was not properly fireproofed.
The plans center around two new wings, running north and south, which will include 50 additional beds, an out-patient department, a physiotherapy and occupational therapy department, modernized emergency service and up-to-date laboratory facilities. The additional beds will bring total bed space to 331.
Of the two new wings, the one running south for a distance more than halfway from State-st to Town-st will be the largest. The estimated $2,500,000 cost will not include equipment, the hospital administrator pointed out, but in many instances completely new equipment will have to be purchased.

Hilltop Juvenile Council Proposed

Publicity Hits New High For HBA Minstrel

Publicity on the 18th annual Hilltop Minstrel reached a new high this week when the Columbus Dispatch devoted the front cover of the magazine section of Sunday's issue to a head and shoulders view of Harold Green, one of the end men. Another new publicity feature this year was the installation of a window display at Seiler's, 2404 W. Broad-st., showing pictures of many of the former minstrel stars.

Tickets for the three night performances of the minstrel on April 9, 10 and 11 were much in demand this week. General admission tickets can be purchased at the place of business of any Hilltop Business Association member.

General admission tickets are 50c, including tax. Reserved seats may be obtained by fradling in the general admission ticket plus 15c when the reservation desk opens at the office of Shank & Saunders, 2459 W. Broad-st., at 12 o'clock noon, April 5.

Curtis G. Wilcox has been handling publicity on the show again this year.

Athletic Show Set For Tomorrow

There are still tickets available for the West High Athletic Show to be presented at the auditorium tomorrow night. The event will feature some of the best athletic talent in the state. The proceeds from the show will be used for the benefit of the city of Columbus.

Only 1400 tickets will be sold for the event. There will be no reserved seats but every ticket holder is assured of having a seat. The performance starts at 8:15 p. m.

Highlights of the show are a boxing exhibition put on by John McClurg and Virgil Wharton.

A judo demonstration by Stacy Hall.

A wrestling match between George Strickland and Captain Wynn.

Tumbling demonstration, physical culture work, hand balancing and other gymnastics.

The West High School Band will furnish music for the occasion.

M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner, 335 Guernsey-av., will serve as master of ceremonies. It was learned this week, Leo Phillips, 617 S. Ogden-av., originally slated for that spot, is unable to be present that night.

Trials Set For Hilltop Youths

The case of three Hilltop youths accused of some 36 robberies in the community in recent months is scheduled to be heard in Franklin County Juvenile Court Monday.

A Hilltop father and his son are scheduled to face the same court on Tuesday. The father is accused of having concealed robbery loot in his home to protect his son more than a year ago.

Another Hilltop man was taken into custody Tuesday of this week and was being held for investigation. He is said by police to have sold the three boys obscene photographs and otherwise contributed to their delinquency.

Two Are Appointed Water, Sewer Lines Being Planned Here

E. O. Melvin Dr. C. O. Cramer

The Hilltop this week got top attention on two important city boards with the announcement from Mayor James Rhodes that two local men had been appointed to serve on the City Board of Health and the City Traffic Commission.

E. O. Melvin, 107 S. Warren-av., a retired hardware merchant, was appointed to the traffic board while Dr. C. O. Cramer, physician, with offices at 3181 W. Broad-st., was named to the health board. Both appointments are expected to be confirmed by City Council Monday night. Their terms of office will start immediately following their confirmation.

Less than a month ago Philip Stout, an attorney at 2532 W. Broad-st., was appointed to serve on the City Recreation Commission, thus providing the Hilltop with the strongest representation on city boards in many years.

Both Melvin and Cramer are members of the Hilltop Business Association and the Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

Melvin has been active in civic affairs on the Hilltop for many years and is at present chairman of the safety committee of the HBA. He was one of the leaders in formulating the 14-point safety program for the Hilltop a few weeks ago. His term will run for five years.

Dr. Cramer has taken an active part in community affairs since opening his office on the Hilltop. He served in the army during World War II. He built his own modern medical center on the Hilltop several years ago. His term will expire on Feb. 1, 1948.

C. H. (Doc) Campbell formerly served as a member of the health board.

Frank Richey To Coach Frosh Football At Ohio University

Appointment of Frank Richey, star quarterback at Ohio Wesleyan in 1943 and former outstanding all-around athlete at West High School, as freshman football coach at Ohio University was announced last week by President John C. Baker.

Richey, who lettered at West from 1934 to 1938, will join the Bobcat coaching staff April 1. He also will serve as a physical well-being instructor.

Football Coach Harold E. Wise, under whom Richey played his high school football, baseball and basketball, termed the new appointment "one of the finest quarterback I know." Both coaches are familiar with the T, single and double wing, and short punt formations.

Richey is 26 years old and a veteran of three years' service in the Naval Reserve. He was discharged with the rank of lieutenant (jg). He made two letters at Ohio Wesleyan in football and one in baseball before graduating with an AB degree in 1943. Richey won a freshman football number at Ohio State in 1939 as a halfback. He just finished the winter quarter there, working toward a BS degree.

While attending West, Richey played on the 1937 and 1937 city championship football teams, the 1937 city champion basketball quintet and the 1937 district's top baseball nine.

In 1939 he lettered at right half on the football team at the Hun School, Princeton, N. J.

The new freshman mentor enlisted in the Naval Reserve in 1943 while still a senior at Ohio Wesleyan. He was commissioned Women from four PTA groups will cook and color the eggs. Mothers of children in the parochial schools are also being invited to assist with the undertaking.

Presidents of the four groups are Mrs. Martin Lewis, 3028 Fremont-av., West Broad Street; Mrs. Edward Thompson, 220 N. Oakley-av.; Highland Avenue; Mrs. Edward Bradfute, 330 S. Ogden-av., John Burroughs; and Mrs. E. Markle, 582 Belvidere-av., West Mount.

Double Housing Project To Start

A $400,000 frame double building project will be started soon on S. Powell-av. by Todd Tibbals, it was announced this week.

Charles Lewis, 346 S. Southampton-av., building superintendent for Mr. Tibbals, said that the doubles would be in all probability be for rent. The project would provide living quarters for 88 families.

The doubles will each have five rooms with one bedroom on the first floor and one on the second floor. While the availability of materials will be a strong determining factor, it is expected that some of the houses will be completed within 90 days.

The firm completed 73 single homes in the Westgate Park sector during the last year and has three more nearing completion. The houses were all built for sale.

Two doubles are now under construction by the company on Whitethorne-av.

Basketball Letters Are Awarded Wed.

Ten varsity letters for basketball, three reserve letters and one manager's letter were given out at a special assembly held at West High School yesterday morning.

Jack Thrush was awarded the four shooting trophy and was named captain of next year's squad by the members of the team. Jack recently was awarded an engraved gold basketball by the West High School Club after his team-mate had selected him the "most valuable" player of the year.

Receiving varsity letters were Walter Hicks, Thrush, Paul Theisen, Ralph Watts, Don Anderson, Don Borrer, Marvin Schultz, Dick Longmire, Ed Sahr and Chuck Weeks.

Reserve letters went to Audrey Compton, Ed Sahr and Wally Watkins. Stan Deitcher received his varsity manager's letter.

Hilltop Kiwanis Club To Sponsor Program; Volunteers Are Needed

A plan for combatting the juvenile delinquency problem on the Hilltop was brought forth this week by Donald F. Smith, attorney with offices at 2405 1/2 W. Broad St. While not complete in all of its details it has been in the formative stage long enough that members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, sponsors of the program, felt justified in releasing the first information concerning it.

The plan, embodied in the formation of a Hilltop Juvenile Council made up of men and women in the community who are willing to give some time to the work. In this connection, Smith pointed out that the services of at least 18 women and 40 men would be needed.

The proposal has been under advisement by members of the underprivileged children committee of the local Kiwanis club. Smith is the chairman and the following other persons compose the group: Rev. Joseph Shellhaas, pastor of the Glenwood Methodist Church; Rev. J. Herbert Goewey, pastor of Hillcrest Baptist Church; George Williams, coach at West High School; Sgt. Leo Phillips of the Columbus detective bureau; Dr. Chester O. Cramer, physician; Phillip Stout, attorney; Charles Reichelderfer, insurance man; Dr. D. S. Cowles, physician; O. H. Craft, realtor; E. O. Melvin, retired hardware merchant; and Noble Allen, local mortician.

Legion Man To Address HBA

Aaron J. Malloran, Springfield attorney and vice commander of the Department of Ohio, American Legion, will be the speaker at next week's meeting of the Hilltop Business Association.

He will discuss the need for a permanent Veterans' Memorial for the Hilltop. The meeting will be held at Schmeizer's Restaurant, 3178 W. Broad-st., starting at 8:45 p. m.

An open discussion will be held following the talk by Mr. Malloran. The program is being prepared in the interest of the permanent veterans' memorial building planned for the Hilltop by the Camp Chase Post No. 98. The project was started during the war and a site has been selected for the building on W. Broad-st.

The April meeting has been moved up one week because of the Hilltop Minstrel the following week.

Mr. Malloran has been active in promoting junior baseball through the Legion in addition to his many other responsibilities.

To Be Chosen For Boys State

Three Hilltop or West Side boys will soon be selected to attend the 11th annual Buckeye Boys' State to be held this year at Ohio Wesleyan University June 14 to June 24, under the sponsorship of the American Legion of Ohio.

Camp Chase Post No. 98 will again arrange for at least three boys. They will be sponsored by the local post, the Hilltop Business Association and the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. C. W. (Chet) Wagner, 687 Wiltshire-av., is chairman of the committee this year. He pointed out that if any other group in the community would like to sponsor a boy, arrangements could be made by contacting him at RA. 5820. The cost to the sponsoring group is $25.

The 10-day school includes intensive study and practical experience in the organization and operation of the American form of government. Approximately 800 boys can be accommodated this year.

The local boys will be selected from West High School and Holy Family High School. They must be eleventh grade students who possess qualities of scholarship, leadership, sportsmanship and courage for service who will most likely carry the lesson of Boys' State effectively to many other boys in their home community. They must have an average grade of "C" or above, and must have demonstrated a preference for civics, public speaking or debate. Merit and ability alone are the basis for selection of these boys.

Townsend Club No. 7 will meet Friday night at 2393 1/2 W. Broad-st. for a business meeting and social hour and lunch.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the sixth in a series of interviews with prominent laymen of local churches. They are published in connection with the community-wide "Go to church" campaign being conducted by Hilltop churches of all faiths in cooperation with the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, the Hilltop Business Association and the Hilltop Community Council.

"It seems to me that bringing up a family in the atmosphere of the church is the best heritage you can leave them."

That is the belief of K. B. Neff, 2949 Crescent-dr., who has practiced that philosophy in his own family. He has been a member of the Hage Memorial Presbyterian Church for more than 26 years

Fire And Storm Does Damage

Fire was discovered in the Robinson Electric Store, 2403 W. Broad-st., a few minutes after it had closed Monday night. The quick action of passersby was responsible for extinguishing the blaze before much headway had been gained.

Russell Henry, manager of the store, said that damage would probably not exceed $100. He praised the work of four members of Sea Scout Ship No. 3 who were busily engaged in mopping up the floor of the store when he got back to the business house.

Ronald Taylor, Dick Burnett, Bob Burnett and Jack Mithoff had just left the weekly scout meeting when they saw their opportunity to do their "good turn."

High winds all Monday night resulted in considerable damage to many homes and business houses. Innumerable garage doors were blown off, windows broken and roofs damaged as winds reached 60 mile-per-hour proportions.

Electric power was off for a short while during the night. Streets and alleys were littered with limbs of trees and in many places utility wires were damaged. Insurance men were kept busy all day Tuesday taking inventory of damage done to policy holders' property.

The large neon sign in front of Hardy's Market, 2457 Sullivant-av, was blown to the ground and smashed.

A large plate glass window was broken by the storm in the Westgate Electric Store, 2655 W. Broad-st.

Several panes of glass were broken at the Yost Florist, 303 Belmont-av.

The honor roll board in Glenwood Park was partially damaged by the high winds but did not fall to the ground. Some of the supports were pulled loose but the board remained upright.

Senior Scouting Takes To the Air To Assist
In Make-believe Rescue Operation Sunday

By Paul Wichterman
Scouting has grown up. I came to that conclusion Sunday after tagging along to sea two senior scouting units carry out a rescue operation down in a wooded section of Pickaway County. Of course the rescue was all make-believe but it was carried out with all the reality of an actual disaster.

Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock I arrived at the Sullivan Avenue Airport, where members of Air Squadron No. 3 had already assembled with their squadron leader, Dal Shady, to set out in search of Sea Scout Ship No. 3, engaged in carrying out a rescue mission somewhere south of the city. Only the squadron leader knew the exact location of the sea scout camp.

On Saturday afternoon, the three crews that make up Sea Scout Ship No. 3 had set up a camp to the south of the city, where they spent the night. This group was under the direction of Skipper Vernon Sanford, 1st Mate Jody Gram and 2nd Mate Don Dorn, and Charles Reichelderfer, chairman of the scouting committee of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, sponsor of both senior scouting units.

The sea scouts were actually taking their standard Red Cross first aid test and were being graded on the way the work was being done.

Squadron Is Briefed

After a briefing period, Shady handed out clearance papers to all the air scouts present and outlined the plan of flight. We were to fly in four planes in a southerly direction to locate the sea scout camp and assist in carrying out the rescue operation. The only information the scouts were given was that the camp was within a 25-mile radius of the airport, between 180 and 210 degrees of a direct line of flight. The search area covered an area of 272 square miles.

Scout Dan Donaldson, Photographer Lee Washburn and myself were to fly with Shady in a new Stinson 150, donated for the day by the Jones Flying Service, in flight No. 1. On later flights he would pick up Scouts Harry Shonking and Dean Thomas. (All four planes were made available through the cooperation of Gomer Jones and the pilots who new them. The estimated rental time involved amounted to well over $100.)

Scheduled to go on flight No. 2 in a Taylorcraft piloted by Dave Ralph, were Donn Eiselle, Carl McKenna and John Scott on three different trips. (It so happened that Ralph was delayed in getting his plane out of Port Columbus and did not get to make the first trip with the rest.)

Flying with Eddie Bobbit, piloting another Taylorcraft, were to be Don Davis, David McLaughlin and Jim Steed in flight No. 3.

Flight No. 4, with Ken Capen at the controls of an Aeronch Champion, were to be Louis DiSabato, Tom Copley and Harry Randolph.

We took off at 10:25 a. m. with Photographer Washburn, who is also a pilot, and Shady in the front of the Taylorcraft, myself and Moe Moldy (sea scout), the dummy that was to be the object of the first aid treatment, crowded into the back seat.

We Locate Camp

We could see the oval race track at Reuland Park and the Village of Grove City to our left. Soon we sighted Harrisburg to our right. All the while Scout Donaldson consulted his map and kept a weather eye open for the sea scout camp that was the object of our search. At exactly 10:40 a. m. we sighted the camp in a clearing in a wooded section. A large block letter "F" in an adjacent field told us that the tent was in need of food. Pilot Shady dipped the wings of our plane to indicate to those below that we had sighted them and their message. I soon wished he hadn't done that for I had a problem keeping my breakfast down for the next few minutes until we were on the ground. Before landing we unloaded Moe Moldy, the "victim," out on the wheat field.

After a few minutes on the ground my eyes became adjusted to the landscape and I could see that the trees were not growing up-side-down. (Shady later apologized for giving me "the works" and promised "no fancy stuff" if I would fly back with him.)

The camp was set up in a circle with three tents for each of the three crews and the headquarters tent before which were posted an American flag and the ship's flag. It was directly over the "big inch" pipeline and was in the right-of-way cleared for that line. Reichelderfer told me we were on his brother, Frank's, farm just off the Jackson Pike, about six miles from Circleville.

After showing us the camp, Skipper Sanford ordered his crews to dress for inspection. In a few minutes the boys reappeared from their tents dressed in their regulation navy uniforms to stand inspection. He told us that, although the outfit was organized only a year and a half ago, it received regional rating last year. A minimum of 2500 points are required for such recognition. It was the only ship in Region 4 to get such a rating.

Following inspection Sanford called his boys in around the camp fire and we had devotions—the skipper reading a chapter from the Bible, followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison.

During this time the planes had gone back for the second load of air scouts. The No. 3 flight had failed to show up. We learned a few minutes later that Don Davis had gotten sick on the trip and had to be returned to the airport. He did come down later in the day, however.

After "chow call," an order that did not have to be repeated to the boys, we all stood or sat around the camp fire and had our lunch. Second helpings were much in evidence. The chili, prepared by Mate Don Dorn, disappeared in almost no time.

Following "chow," Crew No. 2 was ordered out to go through its first aid test. Photographer Washburn and I trailed along behind the unit out into the woods, where one Moe Moldy was reported to be near the point of death, and little wonder with all of these injuries—scalp wounds, suffering from shock, sprained right shoulder, broken lower left leg, broken upper right arm, to mention only the more severe injuries.

The boys went about their task with a surprising degree of reality while Washburn took pictures of the operation. In a few minutes the victim, swathed in bandages and securely splinted, was carried carefully from the woods on an improvised stretcher to the field where he would have been loaded onto a plane for evacuation. The only hitch was that the planes were all up at that time.

So, following some more group pictures in front of the planes, which came in on their third trip in a little while, we loaded up and prepared to start back to the Sullivan Avenue Airport. Our mission was completed. At exactly 1:55 p. m. we took off again. After circling the camp a couple of times so that Photographer Washburn could get a couple of shots of the camp from the air, we headed north.

I thought on the way back, how fortunate these boys are to have all the facilities at their disposal. Here Gomer Jones goes out of his way to make available the use of his flying service, including planes, map room and the rest of the layout. Here are capable leaders who give their time to work with the boys. But don't think for a minute that the boys are not getting a real thrill out of it. You have only to go with them as I did to see that they really mean business.

At 2:14 p. m. we set down on the runway at the local air field, our day's work done.

Yes, scouting has really grown up. It's an activity for real "the man" teen-agers who previously thought they were too old for scouting. It should be a challenge to all boys who like adventure and action. As for me, I'll be content to ride in a car the next time. Flying is still for the birds.

West Park Is Nosed Out In Senior Loop

The first league championship team in 20 years to represent West Park Methodist Church went all the way to the city finals in the 1947 basketball playoffs only to lose to South Methodist by a 21 to 18 score Tuesday night.

Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren, winner of the Class A Intermediate West Church League, will play North Methodist for the championship tonight at Schiller Park. The game is scheduled to start at 7 o'clock.

Salvation Army, winner of the Class B title in the senior church loop, won the city championship by defeating Grace Methodist 32-24 Tuesday night.

Salvation Army will meet Grace Methodist tonight for the city Class B Senior Church League title.

The champ of champs playoffs in the industrial leagues were scheduled to get under way at Glenwood Park last night. Church league winners will go into action, starting next Monday night.

Shellhaas, the Ladies' Auxiliary, Spanish American War Veterans No. 18, the Columbus Police Dept., Spears Funeral Home and their many friends and neighbors for their many kindnesses, sympathy and beautiful floral offerings during the illness and at the death of their beloved wife and daughter, Violet.

I wish to extend my heartfelt thanks and appreciation to all the neighbors on Westmoor Ave., for their kindness during the illness and death of my aunt, Mrs. Anna Ingram.

Mrs. Bess Rulmann

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to our friends, neighbors, and to Rev. Mr. Smoot for their thoughtful kindness and expressions of sympathy at the loss of our beloved mother, Hazel Sahr Crawford.

Gladya and Edwin Sahr

The members of the family of the late William Matheny wish to express their heartfelt thanks and appreciation to friends, neighbors, relatives, the Rev. Clary, Dr. Bunner, the W. S. Shroyer Funeral Home, and all those who were so kind in their expressions of sympathy during their recent bereavement.

Bertha Matheny and family.

We wish to thank our friends, neighbors and Rev. Shellhaas for their kindnesses and sympathy and the beautiful floral offerings at the loss of our mother and grandmother, Mary E. Trotter. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Trotter and son, Wallace, Columbus, O. Mrs. Ethel Hazlett and son, Cecil, Miami Beach, Florida.

Correction

The death notice of Bert Griswold in last week's Hilltop Record incorrectly stated the names of his surviving grandsons. Their correct names are Thomas E. Davis and Walter A. Davis. He is survived also by his daughter, Mrs. Lorraine Davis, and four great-grandchildren. Burial was in Grove City Cemetery.

Hilltop Juvenile

Attention: Good parents and Citizens of the Hilltop. This is YOUR Council and YOUR problem.

The famous American humorist, Mark Twain, once said that everybody talks about the weather, but no one does anything about it.

This might be said of juvenile delinquency except that we are able to DO SOMETHING very definite about it and it is possible to get EXCELLENT RESULTS.

The proposed Hilltop Juvenile

Council is already in effect in 30 cities and communities which have promoted Citizens' Juvenile Councils. In these places, because of the council, many youths have been rehabilitated, and delinquent parents educated toward higher standards of parenthood.

The arm of the law has been strengthened, resulting in less delinquency, fewer stolen automobiles and other valuable property, less shop-lifting in the stores, fewer cases of reckless driving with unsafe cars endangering lives on the highways, less unnecessary deafening traffic noises by undisciplined youths, and, on a more serious plane, there are FEWER HOMES ROB-BED BY DESPERATE JUVENILES, fewer rapes and criminal assaults on innocent victims and fewer gangs of dangerous young hoodlums to threaten life, bodily harm and insults to citizens and their loved ones.

Good parents have less cause to worry about the bad influence on their youngsters of delinquent youths.

Also, in these 30 communities, more than 1000 unfortunate youths, neglected or spoiled by their parents, have been given another chance for happy and useful citizenship instead of jails and the tragic road to reform schools and penitentiaries.

To you as citizens of the Hilltop and as good parents and useful citizens, ready to win the approval and esteem of your fellow citizens by taking the lead—now—by acting today—in promoting the Hilltop Juvenile Council in your community.

Cordially yours,
Donald F. Smith.

Fisher Body-Ternstedt Plant Sets Open House Apr. 22-23

Plans for an open house at the new Fisher Body-Ternstedt plant at Georgesville were announced this week.

Residents of Columbus will have an opportunity to see the plant in production on body hardware and fittings for General Motors cars on April 22 and 23.
James L. Conlon, resident manager of the plant, announced the program in conjunction with Demar S. Starkey, executive secretary of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, which will work with the plant in setting up arrangements.

The open house will be held during two days so that the families of all employees from both shifts, business, civic and professional leaders and the public in general may visit the plant.

Families of employees and Chamber of Commerce members will be invited to the plant at specified hours on April 22. The public in general will be invited on April 23.

Full details of the program will be announced later, Conlon and Starkey said.

L. W. Huber Heads School Gardens

L. W. Huber

L. W. Huber, principal of Starling Junior High School, has been named as director of the school gardens project in the city. It was announced last week following a meeting of Columbus Board of Education. Mr. Huber has served in that capacity for several years previously.

Bonds totaling $1,200,000 to finance construction and modernization of city school buildings were sold last week. Start of the building program depends on availability of labor and still-scarce materials. Superintendent
George E. Roudabush said.

Track Squad Cowboy Nine Opens Season To See Action Next Week

Given a break in the weather this week, the West High School track squad will get down to business in earnest to prepare for the defense of last year's city championship title.

Coach Rufe Glass has scheduled a meet for tomorrow between the junior group and the reserves in an effort to get a line on some of the more promising material. The team is of necessity going to depend on some boys of an unknown quantity as yet.

With only a week remaining until the opening meet with Linden McKinley at Magly Field on April 2, every hour is going to have to count, once the slender track dries off enough for running. The runners have been working out in the corridors of the building but the possibilities for conditioning there are very limited.

At present there are approximately 50 boys out for both varsity and in the junior high department. The prevalence of flu has added to the weather setback. The team has been facing, however, a practice meet was run in the halls last week with the running and hurdle events only being used.

The complete schedule for the season follows:
April 2—McKinley, here.
April 9—East, there.
April 16—Springfield, here.
April 16—Upper Arlington, there.
April 19—Huntington, W. Va. Relays.
April 23—North, here.
April 26—Ohio Wesleyan Relays, Delaware.
April 30—Newark, here.
May 3—Newark Relays, Newark.
May 6 and 7—City meet, OSU.
May 10—Miami Relays, Oxford.
May 17—District—Delaware.
May 20—Chillicothe, there.

"Play Ball!" Will Be Heard Sunday
The Hilltop Van and Storage softball team will open their season at Westgate Sunday with a double header starting at 1:30 p. m. in what will probably be the first game played by two organized teams this year when they meet the strong Orient State Farm School, which had a good record last year.

Hilltop Van and Storage would like to have two people volunteer as umpires for their non-league games. Proper equipment will be supplied. Anyone interested is asked to contact Pop Nader, RA. 7808.

Cowboy Nine To See Action On April 8th

In spite of spring rains the candidates for the 1947 West High baseball team have a steady been working out on the diamond at Masly Field. The season will open officially at Aquinas on the afternoon of April 8.

Coach George Williams has been looking over his material this week and has at least two men lined up for each playing position. Many of the boys are of an unknown quantity and competition promises to be keen between now and the opening game. These names stand out as good possibilities at this early date:
First base—Jack Thrush will get the nod when he is not being used on the mound. Dick Culbertson will see plenty of action when Jack throws 'em.
Second base—a new boy by the name of John Cherup, Jim Slager, or Marvin Schultz.
Short stop—Dick Kirk or Ed Sahr.
Third base—Sahr, Schultz or Dick Lamprecht.

Catcher—This is a wide open battle, with Starling Hutt, Jerry Chin, Bob Schlegel, Al Andrews and Don Little all in the running. The edge will be given to the boy who seems to be hitting the "ole apple" by starting time.
Pitcher—This department is not overworked with talent this season and, barring the return of Paul Thiers, there will not be more than four likely starters. Jack Thrush, of course, will be one of the hurlers, backed by Bill Buckingham, Chuck Weeks and Bob Hamrick. (Thiers has been laid up since before the end of the basketball season and it is unlikely that he will see much more action this season.)

A sophomore team will be organized shortly to compete against other soph teams on a schedule yet to be arranged. Coach Williams may have some help in this department from an OSI student who will be doing master teaching, but up to now he has been working with these boys also.

A few more games may be scheduled, so publication of the complete schedule is being held up until it is definitely set.

Memorial Baptist Church Completes Burgess Choir Improvement Program; Plan Services

The Memorial Baptist Church, 26 S. Sandusky-av, pictured here with its new Burgess choir, has made decided progress and advancement in the past year, and many new improvements have been made to beautify this house of worship.

Rev. C. C. Clawson, 58 S. Central-av, the present pastor, began his services with the church in April of 1945. Under this leadership a number of new members have united with the church, and new work at home and abroad has been undertaken. In the past year a new brick bulletin board has been erected on the lawn of the church, it is a real display of the church activities and fully fluorescent lighted. Iron guard rails have been installed on the main entrance of the building and a large new neon sign has been installed on the front of the church with the name of the church in large red and green letters. A part of the interior has been redecorated and the remainder is under the process of completion.

This church maintains regular Sunday services the year round, with Bible School services every Sunday morning at 9:30, preaching services each Sunday at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. together with a regular class for teachers every Tuesday evening and a regular prayer and Bible study service every Wednesday evening. It conducts a regular young people's organization which meets each Sunday evening at 6:30 p. m. This church maintains a full missionary program that has become world wide, the past year being the greatest in its history. This church stands for the undiluted Word of God. The Bible is the only recognized text book. The spiritual welfare of all its attendants is considered as paramount.

Beginning on Monday evening,

March 31, and continuing through April 14, special evangelistic meetings will be held in this church. The guest speaker will be Evangelist Rev. David E. Luttrell, of the Brookside Baptist Temple of Cleveland. Services are held each night at 7:30 o'clock with good singing and gospel messages.

Palm Sunday Services Planned By Church

A special Palm Sunday service will be held at the St. John's Episcopal Church beginning at 10:30 o'clock. There will be communion and a sermon with the traditional palms processional. Mrs. Grace Thompson Edmister, guest organist, will play "The Palm" as an offertory. Charles A. Vanderlip will be officiant at the service.

On Good Friday at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, prayer and litany in commemoration of the crucifixion will be conducted by Henry F. and Charles A. Vanderlip. Holy baptism will be administered at 4 p. m. Saturday, preceding Easter.

Burgess Choir To Sing Cantata

The senior choir of Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church, under the direction of Mrs. Edward Thomas, will present an Easter cantata, "The Home-Crowned King," at the church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Richard Grant is the accompanist.

The program follows:
Prelude—"Hallelujah Chorus"
Handel—Mrs. R. Grant
Processional—"The Pains"
Hymn—"All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name"

Italy Suffers In The War

The initial impact of allied offensive to take Rome, which began on May 10, 1944, smashed the German defense line and started the enemy in full retreat. The Americans on the west, the French forces in the center, and the British on the east, all made substantial headway the first few days. Only the great mountain mass at Cassino remained unconquered. The Germans resisted there for several days, although their flanks on either side were being rolled up. One week after the offensive began, Polish troops of the British Eighth Army cracked the bastion by outflanking it and forcing the defenders to surrender. With this obstacle out of the way, British armor pushed into the valley beyond and headed for Rome. The hurried Germans tried to form a secondary line with Terracina as the western terminus but it was of little avail. The troops at Anzio broke out of their perimeter and joined forces with the main body, and the combined weight of the Allied armies in Italy swept into the Italian capital on June 4th, just 25 days after the kickoff.

Kel Fuller

every foot of surface off the road was mined and placed definitely off limits. Cassino, which I saw several months later, was in the same condition and doubtless never will be reconstructed. Velletri and Valmontone, quaint mountain-side villages, in the Alban hills, were the last two German defended towns before Rome. They were only partially destroyed as they were not subjected to any sustained shelling. The population had holed up in caves and was doing nobly. As the Americans passed through, they were cheered on with "V" signs. It was a rather unexpected sight to see people carrying on life as usual in a place which had been "no man's land" only a few days before. The square was busy and women were washing clothes at the common water supply. Barber shops and stores were open and people had begun to dwellings. In a few cases more than just a patch was needed—more like a whole new second story. From Velletri it was all down hill to Rome. The Eternal City and the flat plain before it looked very inviting and peaceful in the cool spring morning. The worst of that campaign was over. The tortuous rivers and mountains were behind. Italy was flat from here northward for several hundred miles and the weather was warm, a time when armies move. This was reason enough for being a little optimistic.

(Next week: "A Night Raid")

Rome Church Will Have Sunrise Service

St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Rome will have a special sunrise service Sunday morning, beginning at 6 o'clock. Breakfast will be served after the service. This special service is sponsored each year by the Rhoda Guild, the young women's organization of the church.

Rev. Marcus Riecke, director of Youth Service for the American Lutheran Church, will be the festival speaker at the sunrise service.

The road to Rome, over which the Americans traveled, was the old Appian way, now a blacktop highway which travels up the Tyrrhenian coast and was for military purposes called highway seven, or more familiarly, "Via Roma." "Via Roma" passed through Cisterna, the town just off the perimeter of the Anzio Beachhead, which had been pumped severely for several months. Cisterna and Cassino were the two most totally destroyed towns I saw in all of Italy. There was not so much as a whole wall standing anywhere and in Cisterna the thick dust which came from the rubble was almost choking. A bulldozer cleared the main street for military traffic and that was all. Ev-

The government predicts that we'll hit an all-time high cost of living by next June, which is the month so many people decide two can live as cheaply as one.

President Truman has ordered inefficient government employees fired. So if either produces or get out and get a job.

Maybe the sun never sets on the British Empire, but the English sure wish it would come out often at home.

Lifting of the $10,000 ceiling on homes for veterans wouldn't make much difference. It's not the ceiling they're worried about, it's a roof over their heads.

Japanese war crimes defense lawyers are trying to blame the Allies for the war. The argument seems to be that Pearl Harbor had no business being there.

Lutheran Choir Was Organized 30 Years Ago
The St. John Lutheran Choir can trace its history back approximately 30 years, for it was soon after the organization of the congregation was effected that the choir began functioning.
Throughout the years it has played a prominent role in St. John's program, both by the rendition of suitable anthems in the regular services and by furnishing soloists or smaller groups of singers for special services or social occasions.
At present it is so large that the choir left is taxed to capacity. Mrs. Ida Grinstead has directed it since last September. Miss Janice Judy is the accompanist. The choir will make its first public appearance in the new robes shown in the accompanying photograph, on Palm Sunday.

Easter Cantata To Be Given Sunday
The choir of the Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Harris-av at Vida-pl, will present a program of Easter music Sunday evening, starting at 7:30 o'clock. The program will include the cantata, "Radiant Morning," by Haldor Lillemo.
Miss Thelma Trider will be at the organ while Mrs. E. J. Klamfoth directs the music. Rev. Elmer J. Klamfoth is the pastor of the church.

GO TO CHURCH

The months have been many since the end of conflict, and we have slowly assumed the calm of peace while building up the stability which will enable us to make that peace endure. As we join the joyous Church throngs this Easter, surrounded by loving family, cheering friends and friendly neighbors we can make one simple resolution in behalf of that peace. We can resolve to live the spirit of Easter throughout the year... and not shed our "Sunday manners" of tolerance and sincerity when we hang away our "Sunday clothes." And as the meaning of Easter now fills our hearts, let it also guide our deeds day in... day out.

He Ain't Heavy, He's My Brother

A tourist party traveling in the South came upon a little colored boy carrying another boy almost as large as himself. The car slowed down to get a better look at the human-interest picture. One of the men in the front seat leaned out of the open window at his elbow and addressed the elder boy:

"That boy you are carrying there," he said, "is too heavy for you." "Shucks, mister," replied the boy, "he ain't heavy, he's my brother."

What a lesson in life this little experience teaches. Often we are averse to shouldering the burden of a brother in distress, because we feel that our own burdens are heavy enough without taking on someone else's problems.

Yet, as we look at this picture, we see that although the elder boy looks as if he had all he could carry, he is smiling and the load seems light. He is making his brother happy.

The Bible and the church teach us that indeed we are "our brother's keeper," and that by shouldering the burdens of one less fortunate than ourselves, our faces will light up with the sheer joy of doing a good deed for someone else.

In an age when self interest is perhaps at the peak of its greatest expression, we could do with a little more cooperation. Neighborliness and kindness give one a feeling of inner well-being. Lifting the load from the shoulders of another and helping him when he is in distress is pleasing in the sight of God. Let's try to be more helpful.

Support Veterans' Memorial, Legion Speaker Advises HBA

Speaking in behalf of Camp Chase Post of the American Legion, Aaron Hallock, vice-commander of the Ohio American Legion, told members of the Hilltop Business Association Tuesday night that they should support the program being sponsored by the local post to build a veterans' memorial on the Hilltop.

Hallock pointed out the work of the Legion since World War I, with special emphasis on their efforts to stamp out communism in this country, and lauded the federal government's action, "after 28 years finally determining that communism is a way of life and not a political doctrine. It is a pagan way of life... it is evangelism for paganism."

He pointed out that an American Legion membership of three and one-half million last year will grow to five million this year, and that they will continue their program of Americanism with such projects as the sponsoring of junior baseball teams, essay contests, boys' and girls' state programs, etc.

A class of 15 new members was welcomed to the association. The following firms were voted into membership: A. H. Butler Furniture Co., Kirk's Appliance Shop, Mead Jewelers, W. F. Thiem, Westgate Superette Market, West Hill Furniture Co.

Wesley Fesler, new Ohio State coach, will be the speaker at the May 11 meeting of the group.

The association voted to buy a new hat for Charles Reichelderfer for his services in conducting the minstrel advertising sale this year, which reached a new high.

Music for the Tuesday meeting was by a quartet composed of David Hastings, Art Corcoran, Ronald Jones and Dick Nash.

800 Attend Sports Festival At West
Approximately 800 persons attended the West High Sports Festival held at the auditorium Friday night. A full evening of athletic entertainment was put on.

Net proceeds will amount to approximately $300, according to Harry L. Zulauf, school treasurer. All money will go into a fund to help pay for lights at Macky field.

50-Year Churchman Recommends Tithing
EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of interviews with prominent laymen of local churches to appear in The Hilltop Record in connection with the community-wide "go to church" campaign conducted by Hilltop churches of all faiths.

"After more than 50 years in the church I am a firm believer in tithing."

This statement was made by Dr. Howard Whitehead, a physician with offices at 2239 W. Broad-st., who will have completed 54 years in the practice of medicine in the Hilltop today.

Not only does he believe in tithing but he regularly hands out printed tracts on the subject to his patients.

He was one of the charter members of Glenwood Methodist Church and has held almost every office in the church at one time or another. As a matter of fact he has conducted church life as his only hobby he ever had.

Dr. Whitehead thinks that the church is the greatest organization in the world. He believes that its influence, the greatest of all, ought to be felt in the community and that it belongs to and support the church.

He has served as superintendent of the Junior League, superintendent of the Sunday School, president of the men's class, chairman of the pulpit supply committee and a trustee for the most of 50 years.

He came to Columbus from Licking County in 1893 and studied medicine at Starling Medical School (now Ohio State University). He opened his first office in the home of Miss Catherine Holt near the corner of Wheeland-av. and Broad-st., less than a block from his present office.

Easter Vacations Affects Schools

Students in the public schools in Columbus will have a two-day vacation from class rooms as a result of Good Friday and Easter. There will be no classes Friday or Monday in the city schools.

Franklin Township schools will have a vacation Friday but most of them will have classes Monday. It was understood.

The two Catholic schools will discontinue regular classroom work but will hold special religious services Thursday and Friday of this week.

The Concordia Lutheran School, 45 S. Brinker-av., will be closed Thursday and Friday. Classes will be resumed Monday morning.

3 Local Boys May Get BIS Sentences

Three Hilltop teen-age youths were expected to be committed to the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster this week and a local father was given a workhouse sentence (suspended) and fined in connection with a series of robberies covering a period of more than a year.

It is understood that the case is being argued by the attorneys before Judge Clayton Rose sometime next week and that commitment will be held up pending the outcome of the further hearing.

The boys had admitted participation in 35 burglaries.

The Hilltop father, who it is said concealed stolen goods in his home to protect his son, drew a 90-day workhouse sentence. He was suspended. He was fined $100 and ordered to make full restitution for stolen property.

The son was taken into custody by his parents with the case due for review in six months.

Juvenile Court Referee Genevieve Taylor recommended Monday that the three boys be sentenced to indeterminate terms at BIS. She termed them "not good risks" for probationary punishment.

and residence. Later he had his office in Uncle Joe Ong's place for a short while before he purchased the present site for his office and residence for $400. In 1915 he built a brick office building which he still uses.

Recalls 1913 Flood
Dr. Whitehead recalls that there were only two grade schools on the Hilltop when he first came out here. One was located at Warren-av. and Broad-st. and another on Clarendon-av. (then known as Price). He vividly remembers the 1913 flood, having come close to getting trapped by the flood waters while making a professional call on McDowell-st. Glenwood Church was thrown open for flood refugees and it became their only home for several days.

The Hilltop Juvenile Council Plan; Its History and Objectives

In the foothills of the Sierra Mountains high above Pasadena is a little town nestled in the hills called Altadena, Calif. It is a neighborhood which would compare very favorably with the Upper Arlington. But like all communities there were bad children and the Altadena Kiwanis Club decided to do something about delinquency in Altadena and there in September, the Altadena Juvenile Council began its operation.

Prior to this time and after several consultations with law enforcement officials, and finally upon the suggestions of the judge of the juvenile court of Los Angeles County, the juvenile committee of the Kiwanis Club of Altadena organized the Altadena Juvenile Council Plan on Sept. 8, 1943.

The first session of the council was held Sept. 15. The enthusiastic response of the council members with the procedure, and with the results obtained, showed that the plan was a success. Juvenile delinquency has been reduced in Altadena as a result.

Union Good Friday Services Scheduled

Easter Services Expected To Fill Local Houses Of Worship

Dr. Calhoun Leaves State

The resignation of Dr. C. H. Calhoun, superintendent of the State Department of Juvenile Research since 1921, became effective March 31.

Dr. Calhoun resigned to accept the position of superintendent of the Hamilton County's institution for delinquent children. Pending final decision on the selection of a person to fill the place, Dr. Calhoun is a member of the staff at the bureau for the past eight years, will act as executive psychologist.

Dr. Calhoun located in Columbus in 1920 and accepted his position as director of the Juvenile Bureau of the following year. He has degrees from both Ohio and Ohio State Universities.

Locally he is a member of the Optimist Club and belongs to several national professional groups, the American Psychological Association, National Probation Association and American Association of Mental Delinquency.

Dr. Calhoun and his wife, Virginia, reside at 2662 Elliott-av. They have five children. Mrs. Calhoun and three of their children will maintain residence here until school is out, about June 1, when they plan to move to Cincinnati. Dr. Calhoun left for Cincinnati earlier this week.

Dr. Simons has acted as assistant to Dr. Calhoun during the past three years. She holds a degree from the University of Indiana and has wide experience as a teacher in the field of special education as a psychologist in state hospital work. She resides at 340 Arden-av.

Refunds Are Received For St. Cleaning

Refund checks for a street cleaning overcharge in 1945 were being received by property owners along Broad-st. this week, it was learned from the city auditor's office.

The checks represent a difference between 51c per front foot paid for the cleaning service for 1945 and the 12 1/2c rate later agreed upon by city council. The area affected is a part of W. Broad-st. between Wheeland and Hague-av., where a full time man is retained to clean up through the business section.

The 12 1/2c rate, the same as that being charged for 1946 service for the same area. The auditor's office explained that some of the checks have not been mailed pending a check on additional charges since they were not complete when they were submitted for payment.

Henry Koons, 485 Hilltop-av., a councilman who is chairman of the service committee, announced that a public hearing will be held in council chambers next Monday night at 8 o'clock for the purpose of setting the rate for 1947. The ordinance as now drafted would continue to charge at the rate of 12 1/2c per front foot, he explained.

The mixup in the cleaning rate last year resulted after council approved the 51c charge. Property owners immediately challenged the jump in the rate, which in some cases amounted to as much as 500 per cent. Council then explained that it thought the rate contained in the ordinance was the same as in previous years. After considerable wrangling back and forth between the service department and the city fathers, a new ordinance was passed and enabling legislation instituted to make possible the refunds.

Union Good Friday Services Scheduled

The thoughts of thousands of Hilltopers are turned this week to the more serious things of life as churches throughout the community conduct special services in keeping with the Easter season. Many churches are expected to be filled to capacity tonight, and tomorrow night for special Holy Week services. Celebration of Holy Communion will be the central part of the worship services in many churches.

On Sunday most churches will be taxed to capacity to handle the overflow crowds that usually turn out. Several services will be repeated in order that all worshippers may be able to share in the observance of this high point in christian worship.

Good Friday union services will be held in at least three local churches tomorrow afternoon.

Hope Memorial Presbyterian Church, 28 S. Eureka-av., will be host to union services planned by the Hilltop Ministerial Association. The seven last words from the Cross will be the subject of meditation brought by seven local ministers.

Rev. Harold Dutt, president of the ministerial group, will preside at the two-hour service beginning at 1 o'clock. A choir from West High School will sing several selections and a West High student, Dick Bowles, will sing a solo.

Other ministers having a part in the service are Rev. A. J. Wald, the host pastor, Rev. J. Herbert Goewey, Rev. R. F. Forsgren, Rev. Enoch Smith, Rev. M. E. Nelson, Rev. C. F. Lutz, Rev. J. L. Dean and Rev. John Crumrine.

The Hilltop Evangelical Lutheran Church, Terrace-av., will hold its annual three-hour Good Friday service beginning at 12 o'clock noon. The choir will bring special music and the theme of the service will be "The Seven Last Words of Jesus."

Speakers will be Dr. Robert Remsburg, professor of Wittenberg College; Rev. Carl Orson, director of religious education, Synod of Ohio; Rudy Weller, a local student of Hamma Divinity School; and the pastor, Rev. Russell Olson.

Another union service of West Side and Hilltop Churches will be held at 2 o'clock Friday at the St. Paul Evangelical Congregational Church, 22 S. Warren-av. Dr. Harold A. Harris, the host pastor, will preside. Rev. B. A. Awe, of the First Baptist Church, and Rev. C. C. Clawson, of the Memorial Baptist Church, will be the speakers.

Other cooperating churches are Glenwood Methodist, West Broad Street Presbyterian, and Wheatland Avenue United Brethren.

Have a Beautiful Lawn!

You'll find that it's really exciting to have a weed-free, velvety-smooth lawn. The kind that neighbors envy.

You must start with good seed. Our mixtures are made from high germinating seed in formulas to meet your needs. But, it does take more than good seed to make a fine lawn. It takes complete plant food! We recommend Vigoro, complete plant food made by Swift & Company. It's balanced for gram.

Receiving Center To Be Set Up At State Hospital

Plans were being made this week for the setting up of a receiving pavilion for the mentally ill in the Columbus State Hospital, it was announced by Dr. J. F. Bateman, superintendent of the institution.

The hospital will serve Franklin and 18 other surrounding counties and will discontinue the necessity of holding many mental patients in jails. The receiving center will include one ward for men and another for women in the main building of the hospital. It will provide facilities for approximately 80 persons.

Under the new setup that is expected to be in operation by May, patients may go to the hospital voluntarily without first having been committed by a probate court.

With the new receiving center in operation patients will be observed there for a short time by competent psychiatrists. If they are found to be in need of further treatment they can enter the hospital voluntarily. The only cases which will have to go before the court will be those in need of mental care but who refuse hospitalization.

Well-known officials estimate that at least 450 mentally ill men and women were housed in the Franklin County jail here last year.

Loew's Ohio
Loew's Ohio for Easter week is showing as a single feature the romantic comedy, "My Favorite Primrose," starring Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour. Hope is a baby photographer who poses as a private detective in order to impress Dottie. The cast of villains who pursue Hope includes Peter Lorre, Lon Chaney, Jr., Jack La Rue and John Hoyt.

30th Anniversary Edition Of Record Is Being Compiled

These are intensely busy days—and nights—at The Hilltop Record office. Cause coming events cast their shadows before them. Or, in other words, we are busy as can be writing copy and making layouts for the big 30th anniversary edition of the Record that will be delivered to Hilltop homes on Sunday, April 27.

The paper will come out on Sunday and should serve to keep the entire family well entertained while they read its many pages through and through. If you are active in any endeavor on the Hilltop there is a good chance your name will be in it.

Extra copies of the paper may be ordered now from your Record route manager when he calls on you soon or by calling RA. 1125 and asking for the circulation department. Extra copies will be delivered on the Hilltop for 10c each or mailed anywhere in the United States for 15c each.

Advertisers are advised that they should get their copy in early to be sure they get a good spot in this special edition. And the Record does put out good special editions. Last year one of our papers was judged the best in Ohio.

Meat Cutting Is Demonstrated To West High Pupils

West High School students and faculty members were treated to a meat-cutting exhibition but not to the finished product at a special assembly Tuesday.

Marshall Olson, a representative of the National Livestock and Meat Board of Chicago, gave a 25-minute demonstration on how to cut up a 44-pound lamb. Students watched and listened intently throughout the demonstration as the speaker deftly cut up the carcass down to the last leg of lamb, but nary a taste of the delicacy did they get.

The program was put on as part of an educational campaign being conducted in connection with local meat dealers and packers.

THE HOUSE
We said that we would never sell that house—it would be our home. Always. One day they moved your chair to make room for a casket. And then we had no home—just a house. I sold the house today—You understand, don't you? Oh S. Runyan, in her book, STARLIGHT AND OTHER POEMS.

She Is' Bride Of Local Man

Mrs. Jack Bellar

Friday evening, March 28, at 8:30 o'clock, in the Indianapolis Presbyterian Church, Miss Betty Hilleary became the bride of Mr. Arthur Jack Bellar, Jr. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry C. Hilleary, 380 12th-av. and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Bellar, 326 Algonquin-av.

Dr. Robert Reed read the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with verdant huckleberry boughs, palms, white gladioli and seven-brench candelabra. A half-hour of organ music preceded the nuptials at which time Mr. Samuel Burkhard, minister of music, sang.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white slipper satin. The fitted bodice had a heart neckline and long sleeves coming into points over the hands. There were self-trimmed fitted bands at the waist and the skirt was plain over the hips with fullness concentrated at the back, falling into a long elegant train. The finger-tip veil of bridal illusion fell from a Juliet cap with seed-pearl trim. She carried a white prayer book and a white orchid with satin streamers. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, the gift of the groom.

Miss Mary Jane Lininger was the bride's maid of honor and only attendant in a benzaline gown of light blue and white with a high round neck and cap sleeves. The unusual color combination was carried out by using midriff bands of chartreuse against the blue. Her headpiece was a bonnet shaped cap with a shoulder length petal shaped veil to match the blue of her gown. She wore a double strand of choker pearls which were a gift of the bride, and carried scarlet carnations.

Mr. Walter Strauss was best man for Mr. Bellar and ushers included Mr. Perry Hilleary, Jr., Mr. Donald Hilleary and Mr. John Frak, Jr.

A reception for 100 guests followed the ceremony at the Beechwood. The bride's mother received her guests in a lime dress with which she wore a purple orchid, while the groom's mother chose a turquoise dress and an American Beauty rose corsage. Miss Dorothy Freas, Miss Esther Poenish, Mrs. Donald Hilleary and Mrs. Edward Underwood served as hostesses. A pink gabardine suit and hat combined with a black belted coat and black patent accessories were worn by the new Mrs. Bellar for her going away costume. She pinned the white orchid of her bridal corsage to her coat. The couple will be at home, 1700 Safford-av. after a wedding trip.

School Buildings Used By The Public

School buildings on the Hilltop are not used solely for school activities alone. They are used many times during the year by dozens of community groups.

During the school year 1946-47 school facilities were used by 674,258 persons for extra curricular affairs. Of course this included athletic events, school plays, etc., but many of the 5,987 times the buildings were used, they were serving a useful place in the life of the community.

Character building programs led the list of activities in the number of times used during this period. School records show that school facilities were used 2036 times for programs of this type, benefiting 57,479 persons.

Recreational events was a second choice in number of times used but showed a substantial majority of persons in attendance. For all athletic and playground activities, 272,885 persons were in attendance a total of 1901 times.

Educational movies, plays, parties, dances and operettas attracted 125,228 persons at 418 events throughout the city.

The widespread use of school facilities by the public as well as the schools themselves bespeaks a continued interest in the welfare of the schools on the part of the public. These statistics help us to see that in most communities, education is the number one business enterprise. The service rendered by the school program does not end with graduation of the pupil. It continues to be an important factor in the lives of all of us.

Around West High

By Janet Baker and Judy Jones

The smell of ancient India was in our midst last week when a certain senior boy was burning incense in the senior dining room. All that was needed, to make the scene complete, was a troupe of glamorous dancing girls!

Since the dramatics department has decided to produce the play, "You Can't Take It With You," the students at West have changed overnight from ordinary American boys and girls to Russian nobility, with very noticeable accents, ballet dancers, and all sorts of eccentric people.

The Lenten services, headed by Joan Lombard and Don Cross, V-Teen and Hi-Y presidents, respectively, have added much to the uplifted feeling we all have at Easter time. The assembly today contributed to this feeling by the very beautiful numbers performed by the choir.

"Look, there's a spider," yells a masterful boy Tuesday morning. "Where?" calls a frightened girl. "There," yells the boy, "on your arm." The girl gasps in horror and runs quickly away to the laughter of the boy and "April Fool's Day!"

Congratulations to all you people who made National Honor and "L" Society. Particularly we wish to express our admiration to Dot Lindner, who ranks first in the June graduating class.

While congratulations are in order we wish to mention the Martha Maid bowling team sponsored by Seiler's, that ranks first in the Teen-agers League. The bowlers are Babe Vina, captain, Laura Stille, Viola Ritzman and the authors of this humble column.

The girls' all star basketball team played an alumnae team last week and won 21 to 15. Janet Patton, Jerry Woole and Rose Byrum really played a swell game. Some of the alumnae who played were Lucille Burkett, a graduate of 1941; Betty Southard, Margaret Wesley, 1942; Barbara Donovan and Toxie Henne, 1945.

Everyone has been looking forward to the annual minstrel show next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. We just can't miss hearing Leo Phillips and his imitable "Dinah". The first baseball game will be with Aquinas, Tuesday, April 8. Seems like old times with Coach Williams out there giving the orders. Best luck to all you fellows, and we'll be there rooting for you.

Easter Poems

By Esther Weakley

EASTER
"Vale" was all the ancients said,
"Farewell for aye and eye."
There was no hope for all their dead;
No Resurrection Day.

When Jesus opened wide the grave,
He burst those walls of stone,
That all might know He came to save
And could for wrongs atone.

When Easter morn broke bright and fair,
Christ triumphed over sin
So every person everywhere
Could have God's peace within.

G. E. Swayer, D. D.

EASTER HYACINTHS
They must have heard the meadow lark's high call.
The robin singing in the April rain.

For just within the garden's sheltering wall
I saw white hyacinths rise again.
Could it have been for Easter Day
God planned these ivory bells of rare design?

Their fragrance drifts as incense while they stand
Like fair, white candles set before a shrine.

Elizabeth P. McMynn, in AMERICAN POETRY MAGAZINE.

HIS SPIRIT IS IMMORTAL
(Mt. 28: 6, Mk. 16: 6, Mt. 28: 16)
As was His birth, mysterious;
So now in death, imperious.
Not subject to mortality.
He rose to immortality.
To be the living Lord of those Who let their faith in Him repose.

The heritage He left His own
Was carefully and deeply sown
Within the faithful, sincere breast.

Of those apostles and the rest
Who followed Him unceasingly
And loved His cause increasingly.
Rev. Enoch C. Smith.

A POEM OF THE CHRIST.

THIS EASTER
I thank God for each Easter
That I have had with you.
They were so warm and lovely;
They were too few.

Now, though you are not with me,
Though much has come between,
The daffodils are blooming;
The grass is green.

I thank God for this Easter
That rises above pain;
Unshaken in the knowledge
That hope lives again.

Dorothy Quick, in AMERICAN POETRY.

Englishman — I'll never forget my feelings the first time I had breakfast in America, when the waitress leaped over my shoulder and whispered in my ear: "Are you through with your cereal?"

It was some time before I discovered that she meant: "Have you finished your porridge?"

American — Well shortly after I landed in England a waiter came up to me at luncheon and said: "How did you find your chop, sir?"

I replied: "Oh, I looked behind the potato and there it was."

Before I understood that he was asking me how I liked it.

Scotsman — That's nothing to what happened to me once. I was in lodgings in a small town in the west of Ireland. Half an hour after I had finished my supper an exceedingly pretty girl came into my room and said: "Will I strip now, sir?"

I fled into my bedroom and locked the door, but I found out afterward that Irish girls always talk about "stripping the table" when they mean "clearing away the dishes."

News of Rome

By Mrs. E. C. Sheets

Rome can now boast of a candidate for the young folks. The first affair was the birthday party last Sunday night in honor of Phyllis and Paul Armstrong, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Armstrong. It was their 16th birthday and about 75 guests were entertained. The hostesses were Mrs. Floyd Armstrong and Mrs. James Snyder.

Mrs. Roe Moore, 4049 W. Broad-st, entertained with a wedding shower for Kathleen Hammonds of Buena Vista-av. There were about 20 guests present and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

The Men's Forum of Rome Community, not representing any particular church, met in the basement of the Methodist Church Friday evening for a father and son banquet. The speaker representing the fathers for the affair was W. C. Lamb, the father of six sons. The son speaker was Clyde Wycker, son of Clyde Wycker of Norton-rd, who is a leader of the young folks in Rome. The youngest son was little Robert Miller, Jr. A travelogue picture was enjoyed by the group, being put on by the Greyhound Bus Co., under direction of Mr. French.

A combination class party and baby shower was held at the home of Mrs. Joe Coulter, Pasadena-av. After the regular business meeting of the Sunday school, the meeting was turned into a shower party for Mrs. Dick Rarey (Marion Howell), 2095 W. Broad-st. Delicious refreshments were enjoyed, served by the assisting hostess, Mrs. Dick Elliott.

A very profitable and happy evening was enjoyed by about 25 guests.

Jim Lamb of Buena Vista-av has been at home with mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Reibel of W. Broad-st have returned home from Florida, after a two week visit. They arrived home in time to welcome a new granddaughter, the baby of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Walz, 286 S. Richardson-av, who has been named Beverly Jean.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Kane (Lauretha Reibel) who have been living in Detroit, will soon be located in South Bend, Ind.

Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, the wedding of Kathleen Hammonds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hammonds, Buena Vista-av, took place in the Columbia Heights Methodist Church, with Rev. Rose, pastor of the church, officiating. The bride wore a peplum jacket suit of light gray wool with black accessories, with lavender halo and orchid. Mrs. Foster Herriot, sister of the bride, wore navy blue and carried pink flowers. After the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home for immediate relatives and friends. The music was furnished by Mrs. W. G. Lamb, who also assisted at the reception. The groom, Mr. Jim McCullough, is the son of Mr. Clyde McCullough of Amlin. The bride is employed in the offices of Cussins and Fearn, and after a wedding trip of a few weeks the couple will be located on their farm near Hilliards.

Rev. Harris B. Anthony

Possibly you're planning to spend Easter Sunday in such a way that you don't think you'll be able to attend Church services. But we'd like to suggest that you adjust your plans so you can go to Church somewhere, during some part of the day. Otherwise you'll be letting yourself in for a let-down!

You can't afford to miss the warm friendliness of people gathered together in the place of worship of their own choosing. You can't afford to miss the enjoyment of hearing Easter music sung by the sweet voice of youth . . . you can't afford to miss the message of Easter conveyed to you in His spirit. There are indeed many things to do on Easter Sunday . . . and above all, come to Church.

BEARS BEWARE!

Maybe you didn't know that bears were being trapped within a mile of the Columbus city limits.

Well, Take a look at this sign that was posted at the southeast corner of Hague-av and Fisher-rd a few weeks ago. The ground is owned by John W. Guy, resident in the court of domestic relations.

Mr. Guy did admit that the sign had something to do with the removal of trees and shrubbery from his property at one time or another. Although he has no bearskin rug on his floor since erecting the sign, he has noted that there has been no evidence of pillaging either.

A Night Raid

German use of air power in Italy wasn't extensive. The planes they had were needed elsewhere. Aside from the nightly raids at Anzio, they very rarely attacked. When they did, it was on a very small scale and usually didn't bother anyone except those in the immediate vicinity.

However, anyone who happened to be caught in one of those occasional low-level night bombing raids will never forget them. They were quite an experience to tell their grandchildren.

We moved into a little coastal town during the drive on Rome. It was a rubble heap like all the other villages that had been fortified by the enemy had used this group of houses as an anchor point for a hastily conceived defense line.

Almost every building was mined and a person moved about at his own risk. We felt rather fortunate in securing a large apartment building, which had been only slightly damaged, to use for our quarters—the first such facilities we had encountered in Italy. This apartment and the three surrounding buildings were the only habitable dwellings standing in the town. But the Germans were to see that we didn't enjoy any such convenience.

We moved in on a typical Italian summer night. A huge moon lighted up the surroundings and it was a relatively easy task to unload the equipment. We could see what we were doing without using lights.

Since we had entered at night, we had no conception of the terrain or the layout of the village. However we did know that we were the only troops there and the civilians had fled to the hills, leaving us the sole occupants.

Planes Come Over

The equipment was unloaded by 2 a. m. and all except sentries found a place to sleep; either on the floor in one of the rooms or outside in the stalls of a nearby market place. It was extremely quiet when we retired and no one had any inkling that German planes would come that night to attack one small unimportant army unit.

The room I was in had a large shell hole in the wall, making it possible to see outside. At approximately 3:00 a. m. we were awakened with a start. The street outside and the interior of the room were filled with an exceedingly bright glare. A plane had dropped a flare immediately over our area. Then, just as we got outside the door of the second story room the sound of a plane diving almost directly on us filled the air. This was followed by the agonizing whistle of a bomb dropped at almost roof-top level. I dived face down on the cement corridor and lay there while the missile completed its journey to the ground. It missed by a hundred feet and destroyed an adjacent empty building. The concussion jarred us severely but no one was injured. We made our way to the ground floor and lay in the corridor by the door; while for the next hour fifteen Jerry twin-engine bombers made repeated dives upon the installation. Each time the same process was repeated. A heavy roar as the plane came out of its dive, then the terrifying shriek of the falling bomb seeming to be headed straight for you; the eternally long second before it hit with a terrific roar, and then the jar of the concussion which fortunately was broken by the wails of the building. This was followed by a sigh of relief and a fervent hope that that was the last bomb. After the bombs had all been released, the Jerries came back and strafed, systematically, up one street and down the next. After a horrible hour, which I spent like a rat in a trap, the raid ended, and the planes drifted away.

Luck With Us
With just a little luck, the Jerry pilots that night could have claimed one entire company wiped from the books. But damn fortune was with us. Less than a dozen men were severely injured and only two killed. They had been outside and were hit by anti-personnel bombs. The majority of the men, huddled in one flimsy building, came out of it unscathed, but in one piece, and with a little better appreciation of life. The Jerries even failed in their mission to block the main highway with debris and hold up military traffic which was moving bumper to bumper due north toward Rome.

They did manage to set fire to an "ammo" dump and set off a startling display of fireworks. We thought this was "anti-aircraft" fire during the raid and this was all that helped our morale. We found out later that little or no flak had been directed at the raiders. This accounted for their being able to come in at roof-top level with no interference. They also destroyed three unoccupied buildings within 100 yards of where we lay.

We gladly moved out of that little Italian town the next morning. We went into the mountains again and back to the pup tents. Everyone was just as well satisfied. Every guy dug a nice comfortable hole a foot or so away from his tent and camouflaged everything, including the camouflage nets. No more chances. We never became involved in any more raids that severe but from that time on any enemy plane which circled overhead sent anxious GI's scurrying for cover.

Reichelderfer Has Office On W. Broad St.

Charles Reichelderfer has moved his office to 2826 W. Broad-st. where he will continue to operate his general insurance business on the Hilltop.

He has been in the insurance business for more than 12 years.

Caution Sign Is Erected On W. Broad St.

Another objective of the Hilltop Business Association's safety committee was realized Saturday when the safety department of the city erected the new caution sign on the New York Central overhead at the western city limits on W. Broad-st.

The large sign that has been installed on the west side of the viaduct, facing approaching traffic from the west, was suggested by the Hilltop committee and immediately acted upon by Safety Director C. C. Cole. The wording in large letters is as follows: "City of Columbus, Traffic Laws Enforced, Reduce Speed, Please Drive Carefully."

The sign will be illuminated so that it can be seen by drivers after dark.

It is hoped that the combination of the warning sign and two traffic lights, one at Algonquin-av and Broad-st and another at Royce-av and Broad-st, will slow down traffic in that section of the thoroughfare.

Imrie To Speak At Kiwanis Meet

Norman A. Imrie (major-reserve), nationally known as a speaker, humorist and lecturer, will address the Hilltop Kiwanis Club at the luncheon meeting today. He will discuss the merits of a universal military training program.

Major Imrie is a veteran of both World Wars and is now on reserve status. He has spoken on the Hilltop on other occasions but his announced topic promises to provide a most interesting program at this time.

He is listed in "Who's Who in America" as a lecturer and editor.

As a newspaper man, Imrie was associate editor of the Columbus Dispatch from 1934 to 1940. In 1942 he served as public relations representative for the Ohio State Highway Department. In his present capacity, he is a member of the public relations staff of the Fifth Service Command Headquarters at Fort Hayes in Columbus.

Glenwood Players To Do "Adams Evening"

The "Glenwood Players' Guild" of Glenwood Methodist Church announces the cast for "Adams Evening," which they will present Friday, April 18, at 8:15 p. m., in Motter Hall.

Katharine Kavanaugh's sparkling three-act farce calls for a cast of 10 people. The lead, Adams, a man-about-town who in his wife's absence has neglected to come home until 4 o'clock in the morning, will be played by Emerson Harlow. His wife, Ann, whom Adams tries to convince that his return was at 10 o'clock, will be played by Ethel Galloway, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Bean, who definitely complicates the situation, by Marie Gierselove.

Others in the cast are Casper, the colored servant, played by Tom Bohanan; Gertrude, the maid, by Marion Bohanan; Dr. Fragoni, the family physician, by Howard Moon; and Rosita, his wife, by Betty Moon. Elmer Green, a man who has an urge to commit suicide, will be played by Harold Remington, and Galloway will take the part of Mr. Cokes, who ought to be dead but isn't, and his wife, Mrs. Cokes, who wishes he were dead so she could collect his insurance, if the premises have been insured, will be portrayed by Dorothy Finley.

The entire production will be under the direction of Miss Annie Turner, assisted by Merle Earle.

"Adams Evening" is the seventh play produced by the Glenwood Players' Guild since its organization in November, 1944, and the first of the 1947 season.

Cowboy Nine Faces Aquinas On Tuesday

With a minimum of information on the caliber of his boys, Coach George Williams will be faced with the task of selecting a starting nine to take the field against Aquinas next Tuesday. The game will be played on the Aquinas diamond.

Cold weather, snow and rain have kept the boys indoors all except a couple of afternoons up until this week. Only on one day last week was the West diamond in condition to permit outdoor work.

Pitchers have been throwing indoors and light batting practice for the rest of the team is about all that has been accomplished. The only consolation in the picture is the fact that other city league teams have had the same inclement weather with which to contend.

Last year by this time the Cowboys already had a couple of preseason games under their belts and had fully three weeks of fairly consistent outdoor work.

Coach Williams still has a few games pending before the schedule is complete for the season.

Bordens Introduce New Ice Cream Here

Here's major news for ice cream lovers! And who doesn't love this popular American food? Jack Pentz, manager of Bordens' Moors & Ross and Furnas, announced last week that beginning April 1, Lady Borden ice cream, a delicious new high quality product, will be available in stores which regularly sell Bordens ice cream.

Lady Borden is a true postwar product, Mr. Pentz said, and it is superior to other commercial ice creams. Its superiority lies in its higher butterfat content, its high quality ingredients, and its special formula, he explained.

The new ice cream will be sold in attractive burgundy colored and pint cartons. Thus it will have the advantages of ready-

Burgess Bows To Champions

Winners of the Class A division of the West Church Intermediate Baseball League, Burgess Avenue went down to defeat by a one-point margin in the intermediate city finals Thursday night at Schiller Park.

The winner, North Methodist, was hard pressed all the way and won by the bare margin of a foul shot that broke a last minute tie. The final score was 33-32. The Methodists are undefeated in two years of league play.

Although the Hilltoppers were outdistanced in height, they made the North Enders get their points the hard way. Messrs. Kunz, Rose and Collins kept the shots well back on the court but could not control rebounds effectively. The Burgessites had no one tall enough to guard Shuttleworth, the lanky Methodist center.

At the half time the Methodists led by a mere two points, the score being 17-15. At no time during the game was the margin greater than four points.

Hilltop Minstrel Show Is Not Money Maker -- Production Costs Almost Offset Receipts; HBA Backs Many Projects

What happens to all the money that the Hilltop Business Association makes from the annual minstrel shows?

That question is asked frequently by scores of Hilltoppers. The answer is not a difficult one and is given by officials of the HBA to acquaint the community with its various activities held throughout the year.

In the first place the show itself makes a very small profit if any. As a matter of fact those in charge of making arrangements have to watch the "corners" to keep it from going in the red. The principal source of income from the show is derived indirectly through advertising space in The Hilltop Record. The advertising space is sold by members of the association and sufficient space is purchased directly from the Record for its publication.

These figures from the 1946 show are typical of the proceeds and expenses incurred by the HBA. Since the show played to approximately 4,000 persons last year it is obvious that not many more patrons can be accommodated this year.

Gross ticket sales amounted to $1804.54 and expenses totaled $1553.16, leaving a net profit from the show itself of $251.38.

Typical of the items of expense encountered include: orchestra, $378; union stage hands, $72; West High students (stage hands), $47; state tax, $40.48; federal tax, $286.23; costumes, $77.97; flowers, $83.95; candy, $6.30; stage scenery, $38.00; and printing $88.59. There were numerous other miscellaneous items not itemized above.

The list of charities and local civic projects that are supported in part or as a whole by the HBA is a long one.

Here are just a few of the typical expenditures: Columbus Philharmonic, Red Cross, Girl Scout camp program, Columbus Zoo, sponsored a local youth to "Boys' State," helped finance the Hilltop Community Council's Easter egg hunt and the community-wide Halloween celebration.

Delayed Fire Alarms Costly, Official Says

By John E. Jordan, Chief
Bureau of Fire Prevention

Delayed fire alarms are costly. Fire loss records of the nation will show that most of the major fires were out of control before the fire department was called. One of the chief lessons of the epidemic of serious fires which have been plaguing the country is that, in many instances where there has been a large loss of life and property, the fire department did not know of the existence of the fire until it was too late.

It is an axiom of fire fighting that "acting on the scene of the fire during the first five minutes is worth more than the next five hours." If the firemen know about the fire in its initial stages, they can isolate and extinguish the blaze before much damage is done. If large fire losses are to be reduced, it is important that every one be prepared for fire by knowing what to do when it is first discovered.

1. Call the fire department. The telephone number is MA. 3132. If the name is forgotten, dial the operator and say, "I want to report a fire." Then tell the fire alarm operator the location of the fire and what is burning.

2. Avoid being trapped while telephoning an alarm. If the fire has gained any headway, it may be safer to use a neighbor's phone. Then too, the fire may have destroyed the wires and the phone may be useless.

3. Use a fire alarm box if one is available as there is less chance of misdirecting the fire department.

4. Know the location of the nearest fire alarm box; the directions are explained on the door of the box as to its use.

5. Stay at the box and direct the firemen to the fire.

6. If there is a fire hazard in your home, have it corrected.

7. If there is a fire hazard in the place where you work, report it to your supervisor.

Boats To Be Allowed On Roosevelt Lake

The more intelligent, skillful bass and bluegills that for many years have been able to turn a tilted nose at the shore fishermen of Roosevelt Lake in Scioto County by staying out in the middle will have to think up another one to live longer this spring. The Conservation Commission has approved the use of boats for the first time on Roosevelt.

This 30-acre lake was originally constructed by the National Parks Commission but was turned over to the Division of Conservation about 15 years ago. The lake and surrounding forest area has been developed for the free use of the general public, providing swimming, picnicking

Young Hooper To Dance In Show

David Fisher, a "small fry" with lots of dance ability, is listed among the performers for this year's minstrel.

David, an outstanding dance student of Ed Walker, is seven years old. He will do a rhythm dance to "Swanee" and will be costumed accordingly complete with black face and checked suit.

David is a student at John Burroughs School and has been a pupil at Walker's dance studio for the past year.

Bunch of Bums

The customers fled in a hail of bullets—all except an Englishman, who stood at the bar calmly finishing his drink.

"Well?" snapped the gangster, waving his smoking gun.

"Well," remarked the Englishman, "there certainly were a lot of them, weren't there?"

Get Those Tickets Folks!

If you haven't got your tickets for the 18th Annual Hilltop Minstrel as yet, here's how to do it:

Purchase a general admission (stiff ticket) from any member of the Hilltop Business Association. That will admit you to the unreserved section of the auditorium only. (There will be some unreserved seats each night of the show.)

For a reserved seat, take the "stiff ticket" to the office of Shank and Saunders, 2459 W. Broad-st., any time after 12 o'clock noon on April 5. No reservations will be made by phone and not more than 20 reservations will be sold to any one person standing in line.

HE'S HELPED WITH EACH ONE

Lou Saunders

One of the originators of the first Hilltop minstrel show, Lou Saunders has had a hand in the preparation of every one of the 18 entertainments put on here.

When he is not working on general arrangements for the show he occasionally finds time to help his partner in business, Jack Shank, with their real estate and insurance trade at 2459 W. Broad-st.

Incidentally that office will be a popular place Saturday noon when the reserved seat tickets go on sale.

HBA PREXY IS BUSY MAN

Dr. R. J. Miller

Minstrel time is not the only time that finds the president of the Hilltop Business Association a busy man. The program outlined and undertaken this year by the HBA has been an ambitious one and its president, Dr. R. J. Miller, seldom finds a day go by that some of the affairs of this organization do not come up to demand a portion of his time.

Dr. Miller is a chiropractor with offices at 2493 W. Broad-st. For a professional man he gives generously of his time to promote the organization.

Although he has many other things to do these days he will also do a turn in the Hilltop Minstrel. He will appear as one of the dancers in Clarence Story's line of dancing dolls (7). He once served as interlocutor of the show and has filled other roles.

National Parks Executive (examining a candidate for guide)—What would you do if you met a bear?

Would-Be Guide—Climb a tree.

N. P. E.—But bears can climb trees, too.

W. B. G.—Not my tree. It would shake too much. —The Lookout.

"How do you spell 'graph-ic'?" asked the young woman. "With one 'f' or two?"

The old man sighed, "Well, he said at last, 'if you are going to use any, you may as well go the limit.'"

Former Stars And Newcomers To Headline 18th Annual Show

"Curtain going up."

That will be the cue for the start of the 18th Annual Hilltop Minstrel to open a three-night run at the West High School Auditorium next Wednesday night.

C. Carlton Hartley, director of this year's show, promises that there will be plenty of good clean fun for the entire family. A galaxy of stars of former shows and a number of newcomers will headline the old time minstrel and variety show that has come to be an institution on the Hilltop.

The minstrel committee of the Hilltop Business Association has spent untold hours in shaping up this year's show that promises to be the best two hours of entertainment available anywhere.

Here is a sample of what minstrel goesers have in store.

Green To MC Show

Floyd Green, former mayor of Columbus and an old timer to Hilltop Minstrel shows will act as interlocutor of the show, supported by six dashing end men in the persons of Billy and Marvin Southworth, Al Bettinger, C. H. Campbell, Harold Greene and Bill Coon.

A headline attraction of all the shows in years gone by will be that of the special numbers and backing on all musical selections by the Hilltop Chorus, this year under the direction of Leo Phillips.

Mac Toill's Band will again furnish the music and Herb Germaine, a member of the band, will be featured as a trombone solo.

By request of her thousands of admirers throughout the city, Gracebelle Day Spears will dance again this year. She has been a headliner in many past performances as well as having appeared on an extensive tour abroad.

The Hilltop's own Susie Johnson will sing for her home audience, taking time out from steady rehearsals for the forthcoming production of "Naughty Marietta," in which she has the leading role.

For the past two years director of the show, Lee Koontz will return to the footlights with a specialty that is sure to bring down the house.

A comedy arrangement of an old timer will be presented by a quartet of West High School teachers who bill themselves as the Young Singers. In the foursome are Arthur Miller, George Wing, Ted Mayer and Dave Randall.

A dancing chorus of girls from the Keith School of Dance will have a top flight position as will another dance made up of local business men.

Allyn Snoddy, a newcomer to the Hilltop, will be among those listed as soloists and Chorus Director Leo Phillips has consented to do a specialty.

Perhaps the best known of father and daughter acts in the entire country, George and Jackie Hardy, will give a

MEET THE HEAD MAN

Floyd Green

After an absence of three years the familiar "Gentlemen Be Seated" line in the 18th annual Hilltop Minstrel will come again from that old master of minstrelsy himself — Floyd Green.

Always at ease before an audience, Mistah Floyd, (to the end men) is never more at home than when he is out in front of his minstrel company. To the city of Columbus he is best known as a former mayor of the city but to Hilltop folks he is probably known by more persons because of his long career in Hilltop Minstrels.

When it comes to getting things to running smoothly on opening night, no one wields a greater influence than Floyd. He puts the entire cast at ease and things always seem to run a mite smoother after he flashes a cheery smile toward the wings to bring on the next entertainer.

The end men always delight in trying to mix him up by ad libbing or throwing in extra gags about the "wide part in his hair" but he is not easily annoyed.

Old man Brown made every moment pay on his big farm. One fine haying day he fell into the cistern and his wife, hearing the splash, came running. Poking her head over the rim, she yelled, "That you, Arthur?"

"Yup," came the answer.

"I just fell in."

"Just hold yer horses!" said his wife. "I'll ring the dinner bell and get the hired men from the field to pull you out."

"What time be it, Mary?" came the gruff voice of her husband.

"Just 11:30."

"No, Mary, don't ring the bell yet. Water's cool and not so bad. I'll just swim around till dinner time."

HE DIRECTS 18th SHOW

C. Carlton Hartley

The man who gets the boots and the cheers at the Hilltop Minstrel is the director.

Directing his 12th Hilltop Minstrel this year is C. Carlton Hartley who plans to go back to publishing The Hilltop Record as soon as the three-night performance is completed. He is just one of the many HBA members who desert their businesses for a couple of weeks to go "all out" for the show.

He stands to profit from the show this year however, since he raises poultry on the side. Dissatisfied customers will be cheerfully supplied with any quantity of eggs — fresh or otherwise.

COMEDY DANCE LINE SLATED

One of the little heralded numbers but sure to get its share of the laughs is the comedy dance line made up of Hilltop business men. All decked out in fitting costumes to reveal their shapely (?) limbs, they will go through their routine to the accompaniment of howls of laughter from the audience.

Eddie Walker, local dance instructor, has been putting the boys through their paces and promises to have all his proteges in shape by opening night.

Making up this bevy of heart throbs are Doc Fred Marsch, local optometrist; Louis B. Maish, sporting goods salesman; Curtis Roberts, florist; Chubby Distel-horst, groceryman; Dr. R. J. Miller, HBA prexy; Charles Reichelderfer, insurance man; Herb Koonzi; and Joe Agee, Hilltop Record manager.

A pampered woman, who in her earthly career was noted for her constant querulous complaining, finally died and went where all good women go. There on the golden streets she met an old friend, who said to her, "Well, Clara, at last you'll have nothing to complain about."

Clara immediately pointed to her halo and replied indignantly, "Do you call that a fit?"

Teachers Are Singers Too

Despite the fact that Irvin F. Young, West High School principal, does not sing with the Young Singers, the foursome is named after him and he's threatening to demand royalty for the successful turns at the stage they've experienced so far.

The Young Singers made their initial appearance in the fall of 1945 at a reception in honor of Young's arrival as West High's new principal. Since that time several of the original members have had to leave the ranks but have been replaced, and today this harmonizing quartette is practicing diligently for their number in the Hilltop Minstrel.

It will be a clever rendition of the old-timer "I've Been Working On The Railroad."

Members of the quartette are all teachers at West, Arthur Miller, industrial arts; George Wing and Ted Mayer, mathematics; and Dave Randall, history. Charles Bennett is their accompanist and director.

This enterprising foursome was well-received at the Band Variety Show earlier this year at West, and has developed some "lousy" good numbers and parodies that are highly entertaining.

Susan Johnson Worked In Her First Hilltop Minstrel At Age Of Five

Susan Johnson, Miss Susan Johnson, 49 N. Wayne-av, is one Hilltopper who has definitely established a place for herself before the footlights. Working in the musical line since she was a small girl of five years old, Susan first appeared in a Hilltop Minstrel show at that tender age.

While a student at West High School, Miss Johnson appeared in every musical production given by the school.

Depression And a Major War Could Not Stop The Minstrel

The place of the Hilltop Minstrel is unique in the field of community entertainments. It has withstood a depression and a major war without a break in its continuity. This, the 18th annual show, promises to be more widely in demand than any of the others. Back in the midst of the depression in the early '30's the show had just been put in shape when along came the bank holiday. It threatened to put the show "on the rocks" for that year, but planners of the affair decided to put it on for the price of a dime to all comers with no reservations. The house was packed for two performances.

The press of activities during the war also threatened to put an end to the show at least temporarily, but business men soon discovered that Hilltoppers wanted the relief afforded by this home talent show. It was cut down to two nights for a few years because everyone was so busy they could scarcely give another night.

So it seems to assume that come good times or bad, Hilltoppers want their annual minstrel show.

Marimba, Accordion Duo

One act in this year's Hilltop Minstrel will combine the talents of two previous performers when Nancy Reed and Bill Minster get together to play an accordion-marimba duet on a medley of old favorites.

Nancy appeared in a solo spot three years ago while Bill thrilled the fans with his marimba selections in 1944 and 1945. Nancy lives at 242 S. Southampton-av. She is a sophomore at West High School. Bill lives at 41 N. Westmoor-av.

Their selection will be a medley of "Ida," "Melancholy Baby," and "Tiger Rag." The musical arrangement is by Dick Heine of WBNS.

BANKER TURNS PRESS AGENT

Curtis G. Wilcox

Without a doubt the best job of publicizing a Hilltop show has been done this year by Curtis G. (Curt) Wilcox, manager of the Hilltop office of the Ohio National Bank. He's had the job on numerous occasions in the past but even he admits that he's "outdone himself" this year.

With the show in its 18th consecutive year, he said Gordon Kuster, editorial director of the Dispatch, on the idea of devoting the front cover of the magazine section to the show. A color photo of Harold Greene, one of the endmen, was used as the subject. It not only gave the show unprecedented publicity all over the state but won first prize in the use of color photography in the entire state.

A window at Seiler's, 2404 W. Broad-st., was also devoted to pictures of the show. These are only a few of the "angles" that have been worked. It's been reported that Curt has been approached by some of the cinema "greats" to handle their publicity but so far he prefers to stick to the banking business.

Miss Jo Ann Heischman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Heischman of 21 S. Harris-av. and Bill Grace, 46 N. Burgess-av., will blend voices in a harmonizing duet entitled "Sympathy" as part of this year's minstrel program.

Miss Heischman, who will graduate from West High School this June, has been singing publicly for over two years. She recently completed a 12-weeks' contract with the Hi-Jinx radio program sponsored by the F. & R. Lazarus & Co. and was a guest singer on Jip Houston's program "Listen, Ladies" on Christmas Day over Station WBNS. She is a pupil of Prof. Ellis Snyder of Capital University.

Grace, a graduate of West High, has been with the minstrel on three previous occasions and has appeared with the Independent Players of Columbus. He was an instructor in field artillery at Ft. Bragg, N. C., four years, receiving his discharge in 1945. He is now employed at Young's Distributing Co.

MEET THE FUNMAKERS OF THE EVENING -- THE BURNT CORK ARTISTS

Marvin Southworth

One of the six blackface comedians in this year's show is Marvin Southworth. Along with his line of "gags" he will give out with his own version of an old favorite, "Margarita."

He and his brother, Bill, also an end man, are in the poultry business at 1510 Sullivant-av.

Bill Southworth

No newcomer to minstrel shows is Bill Southworth, nephew and namesake of the famous "Billy" Southworth.

Doc Campbell

As secretary of the Hilltop Business Association, C. H. (Doc) Campbell has had a part in planning almost every one of the 17 preceding Hilltop Minstrels but this will be the first time he has had a blackface role.

Doc will sing "For Me And My Gal."

He has been a member of the Hilltop Male Chorus since its organization.

big league baseball player and manager.

Hilltop Billy has been doing songs and making jokes with the interlocutors of several previous shows. He's in the poultry business with his brother, Marvin, also an end-man, at 1510 Sullivant-av.

Harold Greene

When the full page picture of Harold Greene, 281 S. Southampton-av, appeared in the Columbus Dispatch on March 23, no one was more surprised than his two sons, Tom, 16, and Bill, 9.

Harold had purposely kept his participation in the Hilltop Minstrel a deep dark secret as far as the boys were concerned. It all came about as a friendly father and son challenge. He had been encouraging his two boys that they should take a greater interest in activities at school. The boys had come back with, "You never take a part in things yourself Dad."

So the elder Greene decided to take the job as an end man and was called upon to pose for the color cover of the magazine section of the Dis-

Al Bettinger

With a joke up each sleeve and a banjo under his arm, Al Bettinger will be on hand as combination end man and banjo specialist when the 18th Annual Hilltop Minstrel gets underway this year.

Bettinger has had experience with the burnt cork several times before, most recently having been an end man with the Grove City Minstrel. He has never taken banjo lessons but can "plink-plink" with the best of them. His banjo specialty for the Minstrel will be a new version of an old tune, "Way Down Upon the Swannee River."

A graduate of West High School with the class of '33, Al has had experience with several local orchestras, and now has his own five-piece band which plays weekly for both round and square dancing at Oak Grove Park.

Bettinger and his wife and two children reside at 748 Thomas-av. He is employed at the Denton Service Station, Mound and Sandusky-sts.

"Lips that touch wine shall never touch mine," declared the young miss. And after she was graduated she taught school for years, and years, and years.

Don't worry if your job is small, and your rewards are few; Remember that the mighty oak Was once a nut like you.

patch. The photo won the state-wide competition among Ohio newspapers in color photography at Kent State University a couple of weeks ago.

Harold will do a blackface "cakewalk" in addition to contributing his share of the laughs.

Bill Coon

Appearing for the first time in a blackface role is Bill Coon, local service station operator. Bill is a former acrobat. He once worked professionally in night clubs and summer resorts.

Blonde Lovely Is Blues Singer

Jinx Witherspoon

Blonde Jinx Witherspoon, songstress-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Witherspoon of 172 Lechner-av, will add "eye appeal" to the 18th Annual Hilltop Minstrel when she gives out with the well-known favorite "St. Louis Blues."

Miss Witherspoon, who was most recently seen in the West High Band Variety Show, has been appearing before Columbus audiences for several years. Currently she fills in for the regular vocalist of Howdy Gorman's orchestra.

She began her singing career at the early age of eight when given a weekly 15-minute program of her own over a Zanesville radio station. At that time she sang the songs popularized by Shirley Temple and similar child stars.

A senior at West this year, Jinx plans to enter Columbus Art School after graduation for courses in commercial art.

Father-daughter Minstrel Act Is Result Of Struggle To Overcome Sight Handicap

The biggest human interest story connected with the 18th Hilltop Minstrel has to do with a father-daughter act appearing this year for the seventh consecutive time.

It involves George Hardy and his 14-year old daughter, Jackie, who will do a dance number including modern steps, a bit of soft shoe work and the once popular waltz step. The audience will applaud when they have finished their act just as they have during the last six shows but many in the audience will not know the hard work and self sacrifice that has gone into this number.

Jackie Hardy, now a 10A honor student at West High School, was born with impaired eyesight. Some of the best eye specialists in the country assured the Hardys that their daughter would never have normal sight. That prediction has been borne out in the fact that today she can barely recognize friends four feet away from her.

The father and mother were determined that difficult as it might be they were going to make their daughter outstanding in spite of this physical handicap. They agreed that dancing would be a good way to develop alertness, coordination and above all overcome a natural tendency toward becoming an introvert because she would be unable to do some of the things other girls do.

Takes Lessons
So with that purpose in mind, George started taking dancing lessons so that he could appear with his daughter. In 1938 he started taking lessons from Jack Sherrick, also an alumnus of West High School. He appeared in the 1940 Hilltop Minstrel with an imitation of Bill Robinson "just to get the feel of it." He was then 35 years of age. The next year he and Jackie worked together for the first time, doing an easy rhythm tap. Since that first performance they have been a hit in each subsequent show.

In '42 they did a number entitled "Me and My Shadow." In '43 it was a chain dance. The following year was a song and dance routine with a sand dance novelty being featured in '45. Last year they did a bit of boogie woogie worked on a couple of drums.

Of course the local show is by no means the only entertaining they do. They are doing two or three shows a week most of the year and back during the war they were in demand constantly for camp shows, hospital appearances, bond rallies and service men's canteens. They were awarded certificates similar to the "E" awards for their work in bond drives.

After Jackie had gone through the Fairwood Sight Saving School, school officials insisted that she should continue at the Indiana Junior High Sight Saving School but her father had made up his mind that she should go to regular public school. So after considerable argument she was enrolled at West Junior High School, where, in spite of her handicap she has been an honor student, receiving only two "B's" during that time, all other grades having been "A's."

Popular With Students

Although she can not read examination questions written on the board she is permitted to walk up to the board after the rest of the class has written off the test. Her dancing has made her popular with the rest of the students.

George admits that with his 43 years he is hard pressed to keep pace with his daughter when it comes to a real rugged session of rug cutting. Occasionally he will sit out a number and let Jackie do a solo turn.

The two keep in constant condition. They take a dancing lesson every Monday evening. During the basketball season a typical Monday for George consists of a day's work as salesman for the Columbus Plate Glass Company. At 6 o'clock he and Jackie take their lesson down town. At 7 p. m. George is due back at Glenwood Shelter House where he officiates four games of basketball without a breather.

During other seasons he officiates football, baseball and softball. While a student at West High School he earned letters in basketball and football. At 110 pounds he quarterbacked the Cowboy eleven and at little more than that weight he played against heavyweight eleven through-out the city.

After high school, Jackie looks forward to Ohio State University and eventually the professional stage where she can continue her dancing.

Jackie's mother is the former Gladys Hoskinson of Basile. The Hardys live at 608 Racine-av.

In The Abstract

Saunders, though a bachelor, professed to be very fond of children. Nevertheless, when the youngster next door stepped on his new pavement before it was dry, he became very indignant.

His sister rebuked him. "I thought you loved children," she said.

"I do in the abstract," he replied, "but not in the concrete."

It was a very hot day and the Chief was having trouble with an awkward squad. "I'm darned if I know what to do with an awkward squad," he exclaimed, wiping his brow.

"There's some trees over there, Chief," said one of the recruits hopefully.

"Yes, I know, but I haven't any rope."

The reason that Cupid makes so many bad shots is because he is aiming at the heart and looking at the hosiery.

THE HILLTOP RECORD—April 3, 1947—Minstrel Section 2—1

"Men," the coed declared contemptuously, "are absolutely lacking in judgment and taste."

"Possibly, my dear," he responded, "but just think how many old maids there would be if they were not."

FRIENDS OF OUR COMMUNITY

Through the years that we have served you there have been many tests on the endurance of the people of the United States. The extreme test, of course, being the World War II.

Now, however, we can foresee wonderful possibilities of the future. A future, we pray in which people will again realize the fullness and joy of living.

The forces of war affected all business activity so that "service" became almost extinct. - Our service also fell off considerably during those pressing years, due to an "overfilled and speeded-up" schedule. We can only express our regrets regarding that poor service.

We are now ready once again to offer the most complete and friendly service obtainable. Our equipment is the finest and our men of the highest calibre.

The majority of our men are ex-service men. It is rumored that many ex-service men are "ne'er-do-wells." We find them the extreme opposite; hard-working, capable, and conscientious men.

Our service to you of our community has been a service of pleasure in that we are able to satisfy and to please our patrons. We shall, in the future, attempt to add to our pleasure, and to yours; by adding to our service.

With sincerity

"Madam, we shall hold you till your husband ransoms you."
 "Oh dear, I wish I'd treated John a little better."

The bachelor is a cagey guy,
 And has a lot of fun;
 He sizes all the cuties up
 And never Mrs. one.

Still Sober

The masquerade was in full swing. There was some confusion regarding the character one of the guests represented. He was attired in a Roman toga, with appropriate etceteras. "Pardon me," ventured an inquisitive dancer, "you're Titus Andronicus, aren't you?"
 "What!" roared the Roman indignantly, "Why, man alive, I haven't even discovered where the bar is yet!"

Popular Game

Harry—Do they have any ringers playing football at Siwash College now?
 Jerry—I don't think so. Although I can't figure how it happened that more men reported for football than are enrolled in school.

Parson Brown had concluded his sermon and was making the announcements for next week. "And Sunday I will speak to you upon the condition of the church and my topic will be 'The Status Quo'."

"Pardon me, Parson," interrupted Deacon Jones, "but what do dat 'Status Quo' mean?"

"Well, Deacon," rejoined the parson, "dat's Latin for we's in a heck of a fix."

Seaman in mess hall: "Must I eat this egg?"
 Mess cook: "Yer darn right!"

Seaman: "The beak and feathers too?"

"Frequent water drinking," said Miss Church, "prevents you from becoming stiff in the joints."
 "Yes," said Johnson, "but some of the joints don't serve water."

BAND LEADER IN 9th SHOW

Mac Tooill

A native of the North Side all his life, McKendree Tooill, better known as "Mac" will be playing for his ninth Hilltop Minstrel this year.

Mac has almost become as much a part of the minstrel as most "died in the wool" Hilltoppers. He makes countless trips to the Hilltop to sit in on conferences planning the show, working out accompaniments for the solo acts and taking care of dozens of musical details.

This year he will use an eight-piece band and will feature the trombone artistry of Herb Germaine. Herb is well known to central Ohio dance followers and for a number of years appeared with several "name" bands. His featured spot will include "Minstrelsy," "Star Dust," and "Gettin' Sentimental."

Other members of the band include Ruby Camaras, trumpet; George Allen, lead sax; Dominic Montes, third sax; Charles Clonch, tenor sax; Al Meyers, bass; George Clark, drums, and Mac (himself) at the piano.

Mac has had a dance band of his own for 14 years and has been playing with local bands for 26 years. He is associated with Ohio Farm Bureau Insurance Company. He and his band regularly play a number of the better known dance engagements in central Ohio including the Ohio State, Ohio Wesleyan and Denison University fraternities and sorority dances.

Short Memory

Flier, returned from the South Pacific: "There I was forced down on a desert island with a lovely blonde."

Interested GI: "What did you do for food, sir?"
Flier: "Darned if I remember."

Former Gloria Day Followed Stage Career In This Country And In Europe

By Rhoma Van De Mark

One of the outstanding contributions to the Hilltop Minstrel entertainment program April 9, 10 and 11, promises to be Mrs. Jerry Spears, Jr., the former Gloria Day of stage fame.

Mrs. Spears, who was a Gracebelle Day when she graduated from West High School in 1931, will do a number for this year's minstrel much like the many she did for royalty, prominent dance band leaders and countless audiences during her extended and exciting stage career.

Now the mother of going-on-five-years Jerry, Jr., Mrs. Spears began dancing for her health when she was 14 years old. She excelled in it and was later typed "the greatest dance sensation since Eleanor Powell" by Walter Winchell and his contemporaries.

Her story of success began as many have, an unsuccessful act for which there were too few bookings and an unexpected offer by a "big name," in Gracebelle's instance, Benny Davis, song writer of "Margie." Benny Davis sponsored a show entitled "Future Stars of Broadway" and besides Gracebelle, Jackie Green and Martha Raye had a part. Gracebelle was teamed with two other dancing girls and the three began an impressive career as "The Three California Redheads." They left Davis and ignored an opportunity to tour Europe in preference to playing a circuit in the U. S. and Canada. At the trip's conclusion, they decided about Europe and left for England.

Toured The Continent

London, the English provinces, and the Continent were homes for the team during the forthcoming months. The trio was entertainment for the Duke and Duchess of Windsor in Budapest, and danced at the 50th wedding anniversary of King George and Queen Mary in the great London Jubilee in 1935.

At the finish of the tour, which included France, Hungary and Italy, Gracebelle returned home and gained a spot in a show by Nils Granlund, then a well-known producer. During this time she was screen tested by Paramount and offered a film contract. She made one "short," then took advantage of a second European offer, and this time was an entertainer at the coronation show in London in 1937.

Here she was also given the lead in "Crazy Days," a sparkling musical in which Stanley Lupino, England's Eddie Cantor, starred. Lupino was father of Ida Lupino, talented American cinema star. When his partner died, the show closed, and Gracebelle again came home.

Her show days were not at an end however. Benny Goodman came along with a contract and Gracebelle, whose stage name Gloria Day, was famous by now, began a two-year jaunt with his orchestra as vocalist and dancer. One of their appearances was made at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City, and one especially memorable one was made at the Palace Theater in Columbus. All the Hilltop turned out that evening to see its sweetheart perform.

She and Jerry Spears, Jr., whom she had known all her life, then a guard on the Ohio State football team, were married while she was working with Goodman's show.

Give Me A Quart

Alice, who was five years old, was often asked to run errands for her mother. She went willingly if she could pronounce the name of the article wanted, but dreaded the laughter which greeted her attempts to pronounce certain words.

"Vinegar" was one of the hardest for her. She never would go for it if she could help it, but one morning her mother found it absolutely necessary to send her.

Entering the store, she handed the jug to the clerk and said, "Smell the jug and give me a quart."

"Miss Jones," said the proprietor of Ye College Hat Shoppe to one of his assistants, "I guess the girls are looking forward to the arrival of the new professor next week. Does anyone know what he looks like?"

"Yes," replied the girl, "I've seen his picture. He's tall and good-looking and about 28. And I understand he's not married."

"Splendid!" said the proprietor. "Then we'll put all the new hats in the front window right away."

On being informed that no absence from chapel would be excused, the student placed on his bedroom door, for the enlightenment of the janitor, a large sign reading: "Wake me up at 7:30; it is urgent. Don't let me ignore your summons, don't pay any attention to what I may say—wake me up at 7:30."

Then under this firm command, he added: "Try again at 9:30."

Sid — Mother, Tom and I are going to play elephant-at-the-zoo, and we want you to help us.

Mother—How can I help you?
Sid—You can give us peanuts and candy.

SHE DANCES

Shirley Huntsberry

Shirley Lee Huntsberry, age 12, is a newcomer to the Hilltop Minstrel this year but she is not a newcomer to the entertainment business. This talented young dancer has appeared at the Veterans' Hospital several times and was recently chosen as one of the "Stars of the Future" on a local radio program and was later on the stage of the Palace Theater.

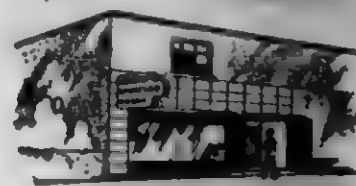

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Huntsberry, 736 Pierce-dr. She is a student of Jimmy Rawlins.

Producer Is Funny Man Too

LEE KOONTZ

Lee Koontz, who "slaves over a hot stove" in the stereotype room at The Hilltop Record all day, will be on hand with the Hilltop Minstrels again this year as chief "funny man."

Well-known for his comedy acts, many of which he writes himself, Lee is a real veteran in minstrels and has produced and directed the past three sponsored by the Hilltop Business Association.

Eighteen years ago, Lee was part of the first Hilltop Minstrel and soon after, left town to travel with several vaudeville shows. Thirteen years later he returned to his home in Columbus and began working at the Record.

A graduate of West High School in 1929, he spent his summer vacations while in school, traveling with road shows. He has been both dancer and vocalist as well as sole character in his comedy skits.

Lee has appeared with stage shows featuring Les Brown's orchestra, Horace Heidt's band and Roy Rogers, when, Lee jokingly claims, he played the part of "Trigger." His stage name is Jack Lee.

The wise-cracking M. C. of many convention banquets all over the state, he also plays in Kentucky and West Virginia. He produced the Southgate Craftsmen's Minstrels at South High School last year. More recently, he has become interested in song writing and has written several tunes which may someday be "hits."

While in Atlanta, Ga., with a vaudeville act, Lee met Martha Clark, whom he married.

HE WILL HIT HIGH NOTES

Allen Snoddy

A newcomer to the Hilltop Minstrel and a comparative newcomer to the Hilltop is Allen B. Snoddy, 671 Wiltshire-rd. He is appearing with the Hilltop Male Chorus and will have a solo spot in the show when he sings the long-time favorite, "Can't You Hear Me Calling Caroline."

Snoddy is a tenor and those who have heard him say he has what it takes to put over a number. He came to Columbus recently from St. Joseph, Mo., where he did solo numbers for the Kiwanis Minstrels.

During his college days he was soloist with the University of Oklahoma glee club. He also did solo work in church choirs in Chicago and in a number of Army shows. He is connected with the Columbus Packing Company.

The teacher had recited "The Landing of the Pilgrims." Then she requested each pupil to draw from his or her imagination a picture of Plymouth Rock.

Most of them went to work at once, but one little fellow hesitated and at length raised his hand.

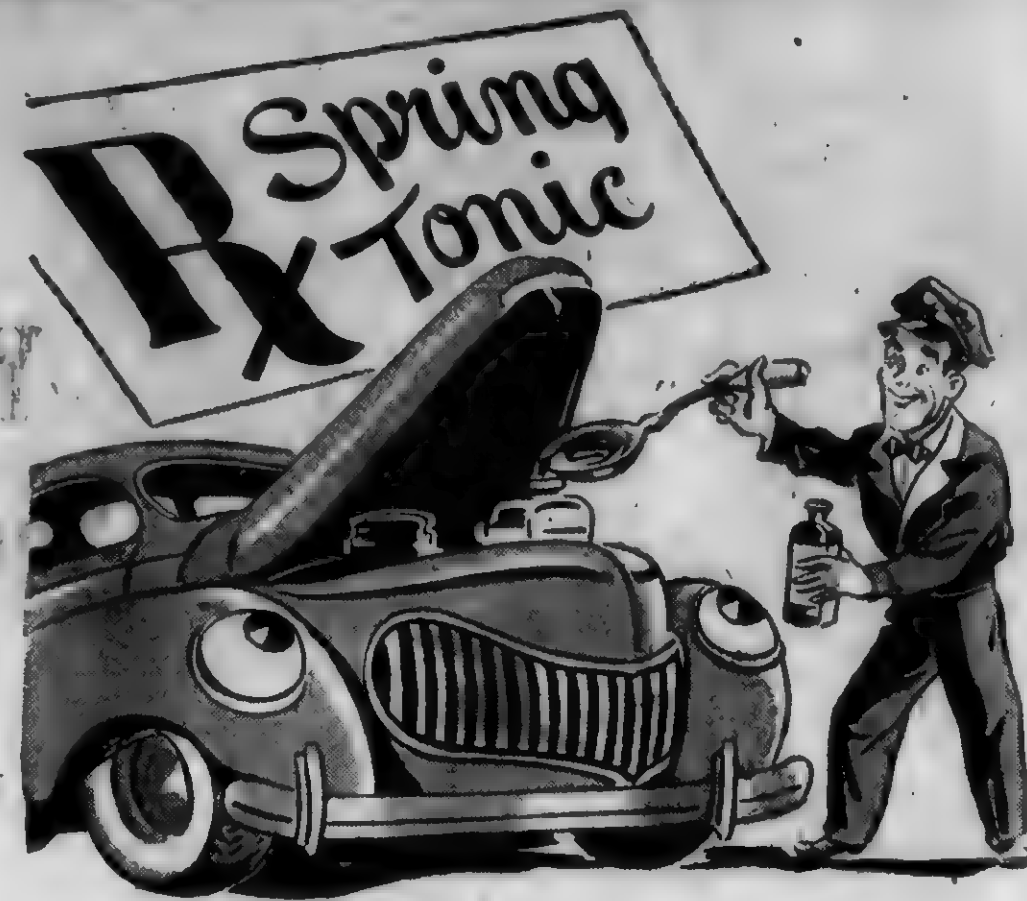

"Well, Willie, what is it?" asked the teacher.

"Please, ma'am, do you want us to draw a hen or a rooster?"

I'm a little Zebra, Sitting down to bawl, I have more stripes than anyone—

But I don't rate at all.

LEO PHILLIPS IS DIRECTOR

Leo Phillips

Long a highlight of the Hilltop Minstrels of other years has been the Hilltop Male Chorus, directed by Leo Phillips, a former interlocutor and an end man almost since the start of the local shows.

Leo will take a turn before the footlights, giving out with his own interpretation of "I'm All Alone in a Blue Bird Land." And if the show runs true to form with other years, the audience will insist on a couple of choruses of the ever-popular "Disah."

Originally billed as the "Singing Copper," Leo, who is a sergeant on the Columbus police force, has sung in every show he ever worked in with the Hilltop Minstrels.

This year the chorus of some 35 voices will favor the close harmony style of a capella singing for their two special numbers. The men will sing "When the Maple Leaves Were Falling," and "Sweet, Sweet Roses of Spring."

These numbers will be in addition to the opening and closing choruses and background support on some of the solo numbers.

Several of the men in the chorus have appeared in many of the previous shows and in spite of the long hours of rehearsal required each year they still get a thrill out of their brief whirl before the footlights.

Mother's Helper
Father — And have you three youngsters been good all day?
Betty — Oh, yes. I washed the dishes.
Bobby — And I wiped them.
Little Jimmy — And I picked up the broken pieces.

"Ah wins."
"What you got?"
"Three aces."
"No you don't. Ah wins."
"What you got?"
"Two eights and a razor."
"Yuh shore do. How come you so lucky?"

A farmer, noticing the hired man with a lantern asked where he was going.
"Courtin'."
"Courtin' With a lantern? I never took one when I was courtin'."
"Yeah—and look what you got."

Lovewell Dancers To Do Number

You might call them the Gingham Girls. We mean that dancing chorus of 13 young ladies all decked out in pert gingham costumes for the 18th annual Hilltop Minstrel.

The girls are all pupils of Keith Lovewell at her school of dance at 65 N. Westmoon av. Many of them were in a number last year.

Bill Coon Once Was Acrobat

A newcomer in a blackface role in this year's Hilltop Minstrel, Bill Coon is not a novice in show business. The former West High School cheerleader spent more than two years doing professional entertaining in night clubs and summer resorts.

Bill graduated from West in 1931 after getting three letters for his work as a cheerleader.

"We trained ourselves back in those days," he recalls, as he explained how he and his cohorts spent time almost every day in going through their routines keeping physically fit and working out new ideas to use at each game.

After working for a year as an auto mechanic Bill was working out in the back yard with his cousin, Willard Kimble, a gymnast. After seeing how agile he was and how easily he did acrobatic stunts, Kimble remarked, "You and I could go on the stage as an acrobatic team."

And that is just what they did. But after two years of this life Bill came back to the Hilltop to marry "that girl," now Mrs. Coon. He was married to the former Dorothy Martin in 1933 and took a job working in a filling station.

It wasn't long until he had a station of his own. His first location was at Richardson and Sullivan av. A year later he took over the Texaco station at Warren and Sullivan av.

In his end man role, Bill will work a few "gags" and sing one number, "Gotta See Mama Every Night Or You Can't See Mama At All." He admits that about the only singing he has done was when he used to vocalize on "The Man On the Flying Trapeze," and "Clemintine," when his knee would play out on him when he was in show business. He also sang in the chorus of "Riding Down The Sky," an operetta put on at West under the direction of Lee Leahy.

He thoroughly enjoys dancing but his favorite pastime is showing his Western horses. One is a nine-year-old mare, Gyp, while the other is a three-year-old colt, Flash. The colt will be for sale this summer together with a complete outfit.

On The Semi-Classical Side

Carolyn Hoar Robinson

A headliner in last year's Hilltop Minstrel, Carolyn Hoar Robinson will return this year to sing a number from the semi-classical field of music. She's added Robinson to her name since last year's show but the friendly smile and the always pleasant voice are the same.

A graduate of West High School, Carolyn has appeared in several of the Gateway Players' productions in recent years. This year she will sing "Zegeunel," from Noel Coward's "Bittersweet."

They Have Rhythm, Harmony

The Cline Sisters (they really are sisters, too) Jerry, Kitty and Shirley, from left to right, will give out with some sweet harmony as one of the highlights of the 18th Annual Hilltop Minstrel. The girls have appeared frequently in school entertainments. They live at 33 Powhatan av.

They All Want A Part In The 18th Annual Hilltop Minstrel

Popularity of the Hilltop Minstrel among amateur entertainers has reached heights that would rival the casting of a Broadway stage production.

Take this year's crop of volunteers for instance. Close to 30 written applications were received by C. Carlton Hartley, director of the 18th annual show to be presented at the West High School auditorium on April 9, 10 and 11. This does not include scores of telephone inquiries where names were not even recorded.

Approximately 85 acts were auditioned. There were acrobats, dancers, singers, magicians and enough dance routines to stage a full scale dance revue. Many of the applicants are young and inexperienced in entertaining but proud mothers feel that if they could just rate the "minstrel" their reputation would be established.

Many applicants have tried out one or more years previously. In fact there was the case of a girl who was selected for last year's show at the age of 16. She had first tried out for the show at the age of six and had repeated her efforts year after year.

Hartley pointed out that youngsters should not be discouraged because they did not make the grade this year. Continued work may make their number acceptable for a later show. There is always much competition in the juvenile dance acts. Planners of the show feel that the number of small children to be used in any one year should be limited to one or two numbers.

This of course makes it tough when a dozen or more similar acts of almost equal caliber show up for tryouts.

Tryout time is a headache for more people than the director alone. Every dance instructor who has pupils from the Hilltop or West Side is barraged with inquiries from doting parents.

"Don't you think my child is ready for the minstrel," and "Can't you use your influence with the director or some member of the minstrel committee to get my daughter in this year?" are typical requests.

Naturally each dance teacher is interested in getting his pupils into the show but it sometimes becomes a ticklish proposition when several are expecting to be the one recommended.

Then, too, members of the Hilltop Business Association, sponsors of the show, are not overlooked. Customers of long standing put on "pressure" to get the business man to use his "influence" to get some son, daughter or neighbor's child into the show.

The mails are not overlooked either. Many of the cards and letters (many of them unsigned) that are sent to the director point out the many qualifications of this or that applicant.

Yes, the director has a hundred and one assistants when it comes time to pick talent for the Hilltop Minstrel. No wonder committee members are often heard to remark, "I'm sure glad the Minstrel comes only once a year."

Safety Program Is Scheduled At Hillcrest Tuesday Night

A big evening of fun and entertainment will be combined at Hillcrest Baptist Church Tuesday night when the Junior Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the Hilltop Community Council, holds a "safety night."

Highlighting the entertainment side of the program will be Sally Flowers and Russell Cantor, well-known entertainers from WBNB, together with Announcer Bill Corley, 1937 W. Broad-st. also of WBNB, who will MC the show.

On the more serious side will be Bill Edwards, 98 N. Hague-av., chairman of the safety committee for the city. He will discuss the importance of safety, and the police safety bureau, and Patrolman Joe Foster, who will show a sound movie, "X Marks the Spot."

Edwards urges every thinking Hilltopper to turn out for this evening of fun and an insight to a more serious matter—the safety of every one.

The popular Sally Flowers and Russell Cantor will lead the group in some group singing.

Good Crowd Wanted

Edwards emphasized the importance of a good attendance. "It is the public duty of everyone to show good faith and a willingness to cooperate with this program. People should show sufficient interest to learn the facts that this program will bring out."

He urged greater public cooperation in observing safety regulations as the solution to this safety problem now facing the people of Columbus. There will be a display of photographs of many of the recent fatal traffic accidents.

The program will be widely publicized by radio and the press, and a safety car will become an invitation to Hilltoppers to turn out to hear the Tuesday night program. This will be the first of a series planned by the law enforcement in various sections of the city.

Tickets Much In Demand For Minstrel

Capacity houses for the three-night showings of the 18th Annual Hilltop Minstrel were virtually assured following the unusual demand for tickets during the past week. The show was set to open at the West High School auditorium last night and will continue tonight and tomorrow night.

Many persons stood in line from early morning until noon Saturday when the reserved seats went on sale at Shank & Saunders, 2455 W. Broad-st. By 2 o'clock in the afternoon every reserved seat for the three nights was taken.

Nell Smith, 30 Eldon-av., was the first person in line for the tickets. She took up her position in front of the office door at 6 a. m., seated herself on a camp stool and proceeded to read the book. Jack Shank insists it must have been "Gone With the Wind," because "no other book would find such a line."

By 7:30 a. m. the porch was almost filled with people and by the time they started selling tickets at noon, the line extended west on the sidewalk as far as the Hilltop Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Few persons seeking tickets Saturday were disappointed. The limit of 20 per customer spread out the distribution so that all were able to get the tickets. However, there were scores of persons unable to get in line who tried unsuccessfully over the week-end to get tickets from friends and business people. The demand increased Monday but the reserved seats were available for each of the three nights.

The curtain goes up at 8:15 o'clock each night. Doors open at 7:30 p. m.

Hauntz Market Closes Saturday, New Firm Starts

At 6 o'clock Saturday evening the name of Hauntz will be dropped from the list of Hilltop food dealers after 30 years of prominence in the community.

At that hour Hauntz Ultra Modern Market will be discontinued and Sparks-Kent Super Market will become a reality—ready to open for business in the new building just west of Haidy-av on Broad-st. Monday morning.

The Hauntz Food Market was started in 1917 by the late Ray G. Hauntz, well known Hilltopper and city official. The grocery did business at the corner of Broad-st. and Hague-av. until 1936, when the present store was opened at 2810 W. Broad-st. At the time the new store was opened it was the most modern store of its kind anywhere in this section of the city.

After the death of Mr. Hauntz the store was purchased by Franklin Sparks, who has continued to operate it during the past two years.

A short time ago Sparks and Charlie Kent, another well-known Hilltopper, entered into a partnership and built the new modern building farther west on Broad-st. Plans are to close the store Saturday and re-open under the new firm name in the new location without interruption of business.

A formal opening of the store is planned for May 1 and 2. Details of this opening will be carried in The Hilltop Record.

White Chef Shop Opens To Public

George M. Petropoulos, who is widely known in Columbus as the "White Chef," has opened the White Chef Sandwich Shop at 2326 W. Broad-st. between Wheatland and Oakley.

A World War II veteran, Petropoulos was associated with the American Restaurant opposite the Union Station for 15 years. He is a member of the Ohio State Restaurant Association and Camp Chase Post 58, American Legion.

Tastefully appointed in maroon and white, with latest type equipment and fixtures, the restaurant will be open from 7 a. m. to 1 a. m. daily, featuring fast orders and hot sandwiches of all types. Mr. Petropoulos is married and resides at 253 Letchworth-av.

How The Hilltop Juvenile Council Would Operate

A growing interest is being shown in the proposed Hilltop Juvenile Council suggested two weeks ago by Donald F. Smith, attorney at 2405 1/2 W. Broad-st., chairman of the underprivileged children's committee of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. Numerous persons have volunteered to do what they can to help such a council.

Several more volunteers are needed from which the personnel of the council will be drawn for operation of the plan. Letters or inquiries may be addressed to Mr. Smith or The Hilltop Record, 2455 W. Broad-st.

In insight into the workings of the Hilltop Juvenile Council is outlined in brief in the following plan of procedure:

(1) A council of 30 to 40 volunteer workers is required to investigate and make recommendations in any cases involving delinquency or so-called "pre-delinquent" children. (Those who are not as yet in trouble with the law but who have become a problem to their parents.)

(2) This council deals only with cases referred to it by law enforcement officials with consent of parents of the children involved. It does not duplicate or conflict with any agency, public or private, but seeks to coordinate and strengthen all social and correctional efforts. The council will be set up with the wholehearted support and endorsement of juvenile court authorities.

(3) The plan involves getting to the bottom of each problem studied with the view to correcting conditions that have tended to direct the child into the wrong pathway. It includes education of "delinquent" parents, those who have failed in their responsibility to their children. Persons of high standing in their community will act as sponsors or counselors for those who need and are willing to accept outside help in rehabilitating delinquents.

(4) Council can only make recommendations. Law enforcement officers determine the disposition of cases.

(5) A follow-up system keeps check on the progress that is being made in rehabilitating a youth who has come before the council.

(6) Details of each case will be reported in The Hilltop Record without revealing the names of the delinquent or his parents in an effort to acquaint the public with typical cases and how they can be corrected.

(7) Officers of the law enforcement bodies will attend the council sessions as members and as bailiffs of the council.

General Aims

In general the council involves the fair, practical and psychological use of the prestige of the law and presence of enforcement officers in an informal procedure, the experience and wisdom of judges of the courts and district attorneys, the specialized training of legal and medical professions, the influence of religion by the presence of ministers as representatives of their churches, the constructive social influences and the pressures of the community and school life, trained personnel in the fields of child psychology, probation and social services, the good will and humane attitude of capable, interested citizens, the executive experience and the ability of prominent business men and the active cooperation and the sponsorship of a public spirited service organization and its members.

Personnel of the council will consist of the following:

(1) A chairman (prominent business man with executive experience who is a member of the sponsoring organization).

(2) Vice chairman (same as

To Present Colorful Dance Number

One of the colorful numbers to be seen in the 18th annual Hilltop Minstrel is Keith's Novelists, a line of young dancing girls. The show is playing three nights at West High School auditorium. They are shown in the above photo all decked out in the costumes they are wearing in the show tonight and tomorrow night. In the front row (left to right) are Mary Ann Oberling, Nancy Robinson, Frances Muchmore, Mary Ann Newland, Marion Gibson, Betty Lamprecht, Mary Ann Robinson and Donna Mae Contino. In the back row are Joyce Roberts, Barbara Parrett, Marilyn Story, Rita Puscher, Carol Dum and Florence Ankrum. The girls are all pupils of Keith Lovewell.

Local Song Writer To Hear Latest Number On Radio Network Program

A Hilltop real estate man will hear his song played and sung over a coast-to-coast network next week as the first step in a program to publicize the new song. He is O. H. Craft, 2861 W. Broad-st., who has written several lyrics just for his own enjoyment.

The number "My Heart Belongs To You" will be played and sung over the Mutual Broadcasting System at 11:35 EST, April 17, and can be heard locally over WHKC. Bill Harrington, a promising young baritone, will handle the lyrics. The program is billed "Bill Harrington Sings."

The words to the number were written by Mr. Craft almost 18 months ago. The musical score was composed by Morris Thompson, a professional photographer in Indianapolis. Like Craft, he writes music purely as a hobby. The original poem was selected as a result of a nation-wide contest sponsored by United Music, Inc., publisher of the song. It first appeared in the United Music Club paper. Thompson liked the lyric and wrote a melody for it.

The words of the song are as follows:

My heart belongs to you
This is surrender
You made it live anew
You are its tender
The old refrain you taught it
To sing
I bring to you—
This ageless strain of robins and spring forever new—
My life, my love, my all
May or December
And if some rain must fall
Always remember—
Wherever you may go
Whatever you may do
My heart belongs to you.

Friends Help To Provide Clinical Treatment For Local "Blue Baby"

Friends and former neighbors of a Hilltop man have rallied to give financial aid to his five-year-old daughter, who is suffering from a heart ailment that she has inherited from her mother. Medical men have said that the only hope for an improvement in her condition, known generally as "blue baby," is treatment at Mayo Clinic.

The father is Frank Petrasio, 2824 W. Broad-st., former resident of the South Side and now an employee of Surface Combustion, 400 Dublin-av. The daughter, Mary, was scheduled to leave for the clinic Monday of this week but a setback recently made the trip inadvisable at this time. Dr. Dan Bunner is the family physician.

The move to lend financial assistance to make possible the three-months clinical treatment started among Petrasio's friends who bow together under sponsorship of the Swift Packing Co. Later neighbors in the community west of the city joined in the move to lend assistance. Mrs. Ed Lantz, 325 Derr-av., president of the Franklin Heights PTA, is heading the movement locally. Frank Basick, a Hilltopper, is manager of the Swift team that started the plan.

A sister of the afflicted child, Martha Lou, 8, is a pupil at Franklin Heights School. She is at present recovering from a six-weeks attack of bronchial pneumonia. She, too, was born a "blue baby" but has largely outgrown the effects of her handicap.

Petrasio is a veteran of 30 months with the Sea Bees. He served in practically every theater of operations, including Attu, Okinawa, Italy, France and Germany. He has two Silver Stars, three Bronze Stars and the Purple Heart to show for his part in the service.

Anyone interested in helping can contact Mrs. Lantz, RA. 2955.

Eight Dead Trees Are Being Removed From Old Cemetery

Eight dead elm trees were being removed from the Confederate Cemetery on Sullivant-av this week. Workmen said the trees had died in recent months and that they were becoming hazardous due to falling branches.

Plane Ride Is Set For HBA Members

Local observance of Aviation Day on April 30 will be highlighted by a free trip by plane around the greater Columbus area for members of the Hilltop Business Association.

The trip is being arranged by Gomer Jones, operator of Jones Flying Service at the Sullivant Avenue Airport. The trip, lasting about an hour and a half, will be made in five or six new Sikorski planes. It will include stops and brief inspection tours of all of the city's airports.

According to preliminary plans the first group of 18 would leave the Sullivant Airport about noon. Three or four later flights will be scheduled to accommodate as many of the HBA members as care to make the trip.

Other phases of the day are being worked out by members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. It is believed that a blimp will visit the Sullivant Avenue port at some time during the day for inspection by visitors.

Military Training Is Urged By Maj. Norman A. Imrie

Admitting that any form of universal military training is "an abrupt departure from our American way of life," Major Norman A. Imrie, nationally known speaker, outlined arguments substantiating such a program to members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club at last week's luncheon meeting.

Reviewing conditions that led to our entry into World Wars I and II, the speaker said, "We may be attacked again." He pointed out that in such an event there would be no time to start from "scratch" to draft and train a military force to meet the emergency.

The retired former Army officer in both major wars, explained that a year training for all 18-year-old boys would put them in Church Attendance Sets New Record Easter Sun.

Hilltop and West Side Churches Are Jammed With Worshippers

Church and Sunday School attendance broke all previous records on Easter Sunday in most of the 30 churches on the Hilltop and West Side. A total of 30,912 persons attended the various religious services in the churches according to the results of a survey conducted by The Hilltop Record.

Figures were unavailable in a few churches and in the case of others efforts to contact persons who had the information were unsuccessful.

Overflow crowds were the rule in Sunday School and morning worship services, while all reported record or near record turnouts. Sunny skies provided a near perfect morning to bring the worshippers out in large numbers. At least 11 of the churches contacted reported substantial increases over last year.

The Fidelity Class at Hope Memorial set a new record in attendance when 252 persons showed up to go to over a goal of 250 set for that morning. M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner, 335 Guernsey-av. is teacher of the class.

A total of 191 new members was taken by various churches reporting while 256 received the rites of baptism either on Palm Sunday or on Easter Sunday.

Special Easter cantatas and pageants were presented in several of the local houses of worship. Most churches held sunrise services or early morning masses.

The largest attendance reported by any one church was 4800 at the St. Mary Magdalene Church. Five masses in all were celebrated starting at 6 o'clock in the morning and continuing through the forenoon.

The following summary lists the total attendance for the day, including all services:

Carpet For Sale Brings 40 Calls

Eva Berman, manager of the Broadway Shoe Store, 2390 W. Broad-st., thought she had a magic carpet when she advertised it in The Hilltop Record and received 40 calls.

Why not try YOUR luck at disposing of some of those odd pieces of furniture, some of those clothes that you've grown tired of but which are still in good condition? This week is National Want Ad week and there couldn't be a better opportunity to get rid of those spare items.

Confidentially, we've learned that you can practically pay for your spring house-cleaning by selling some of the little used bits of furniture around the house. Or, if you're looking for someone to do your cleaning, why not consult the classified pages of The Hilltop Record?

OPENS OFFICE

Carl R. Turner, 3089 Crescent-dr., last week announced the opening of law offices in the LeVeque-Lincoln Tower as a member of the law firm of Krier and Turner. His partner is Robert N. Krier, a veteran of World War II.

He is a member of Phi Delta Phi, legal fraternity, Phi Kappa Psi, Scabbard and Blade, Reserve Officers Association, American Association of Farm Managers, Alton range and the Foreman's Club of Columbus, Inc.

During the war he was on the general staff of the Army Ground Forces and served overseas in the Pacific Theater.

Name Ogborn Fire Chief

Clarence W. Ogborn, 1040 W. Broad-st., is the new chief of the Fire Department. He was named by Mayor James Rhodes Monday within seconds after results of recent examinations for the post were announced. He succeeds the late Chief Ed Welch, who passed away in a Columbus hospital a few weeks ago.

The new chief, who is 66, has been a member of the fire department since 1912. He has held the provisional appointment of chief since the death of Welch.

Chief Ogborn became an assistant chief in 1926 and served as provisional chief during a leave of absence granted Chief Welch to serve with the army from 1942 to 1944.

Three Hilltoppers were runners up in the tests for assistant chief in order of their eligibility for appointment should there be a vacancy in the next two years. They are Ralph W. Cassell, 2655 1/2 W. Broad-st.; Elmer J. Brophy, 655 S. Ogden-av. and Joseph H. Cassell, 244 N. Ogden-av. Ralph's brother.

A new program of regular Saturday night dances at the Hilltop Canteen was announced this week. Mel Griggs, supervisor of the youth center, is looking for a small band to play for the weekly dances.

The Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Mary Ann Bitzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan D. Bitzer, 697 S. Harris-av., to Mr. Richard K. Cassidy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy T. Cassidy, 1087 Michigan-av., on March 15, at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. C. F. Lutz officiated at the ceremony, assisted by Dr. Floyd Faust. The bride wore a white satin gown with a Victorian neckline, and a veil of satin, with a fingertip Juliet cap. She carried a colonial bouquet of white gardenias, white carnations and sweet peas. Her only jewelry, a rhinestone necklace, was a gift of the groom.

The bride's attendants wore pastel chiffon gowns and carried matching colonial bouquets. Mrs. Bert Moore, the matron of honor, was dressed in blue. The bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Hedges, in an aqua gown, and Miss Louise Bitzer, sister of the bride, who wore pink.

Mr. Jack Hoover acted as best man for Mr. Cassidy. The ushers were Mr. Walter Davis and Mr. Bert Moore.

Miss Mary Countz sang "Ave Maria," and "Be-cause," and was accompanied by Mrs. Richard Grant.

A reception was held at the bride's home immediately following the ceremony for relatives and friends.

The bride graduated from West High School and attended Office Training School. She is now employed at the Farm Bureau.

The groom is a graduate of Central High School and Ohio State University. He is connected with the Juvenile Court of Columbus.

For their wedding trip through the South, the bride wore a winter white suit with cranberry accessories, accented with a gardenia corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Cassidy are now at home at 77 1/2 Chicago-av.

Canine Odoesters Boast Interesting Careers

The search for the oldest dog in America, conducted by a dog research center as part of the 1946 observance of National Dog Week, unearthed some exceedingly interesting stories.

The oldest one found was Laddie Boy (named after President Harding's dog), 25½ year old male of dubious ancestry owned by Mrs. E. C. Baynard of Rocky Mount, N. C. This age in a dog is equivalent to 138 years in a human. Although dogs half his age are considered old, Laddie is perfectly well and has required no veterinary attention in more than four years.

Jiggs, a large cross-bred owned by Mrs. Oscar Bengtson of Anaheim, Calif., is now 21 years old. When he was 10 years old, the Bengtson family moved to Anaheim from Truman, Minn., leaving Jiggs behind with a friend. After staying with this friend eight weeks, Jiggs vanished. Two and one-half years later he turned up at the Bengtson home in California, having traveled nearly 1,800 miles through strange territory to find his family.

Ritz Rachmaninov, a purebred Samoyede owned by Mrs. Daniel McKnight of Oceanside, Calif., now 15 years old, distinguished himself at the age of 12 (75 in human equivalent) by siring a litter of four healthy puppies.

Susie, 16, owned by Al Johnston, a government trapper of Logan, Mont., still goes hunting with her owner every day. She has pulled down more than 600 coyotes and once helped capture a wolf weighing 163 pounds.

Acclona, Wire behind (Acie"), purebred wire fox terrier owned by Mrs. B. J. Blackburn of Roseville, Mich., is still sporty-looking and swift of figure despite her 12 years. Acie has produced 16 litter of puppies and raised all of them. Besides nursing her offspring, she has acted as foster-mother on three different occasions for other dog mothers who had more puppies than they could take care of.

Buddy, a shepherd (collie type) belonging to Mrs. Stoddard Porter of Grahamsville, N. Y., is still working for a living at the age of 16. He brings the cows home from pasture every afternoon. In addition, he has completely eliminated woodchucks from the Porter farm.

In Somerset, Pa., Mrs. William E. Griffith has a girl black and tan terrier male, named Zippy, now 19 years old. She told the Gaines Dog Research Center folk, "Zippy has traveled extensively, stopping at the very best hotels in the country."

Mrs. Robert E. McKinley, of Federalburg, Md., boasts that her 17-year-old mixed terrier, Buster, "can actually talk." She claims he says such words as "I'm hungry" and "I want to go out." This claim places Buster well ahead of the much-publicized English dog Ben who is said to be able to say distinctly, "I want one."

A white female Spitz, "Midgie," owned by Fred Oertel, Keokuk, Iowa, had a litter of three healthy puppies in May, 1946, when she was 16 years old. On other occasions, when she had no puppies of her own, Midgie mothered a litter of white rats, some chickens, another dog's four puppies, and still another time simultaneously nursed a puppy and a kitten.

Hospital Patient Is Train Victim
The badly crushed body of Gerald Griffin, 38, a patient at the Columbus State Hospital, was discovered Sunday along the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks near the hospital grounds. He had suffered a skull fracture, broken back and a crushed chest, Dr. John B. Gravis, coroner, reported. It is believed that he had attempted to "hop" a train and was thrown to the bank beside the rails. He had been dead about four hours before his body was discovered.

THEATERS
Loew's Ohio
Loew's Ohio this week is showing as a single feature the spectacular outdoor drama, "The Sea of Grass," starring Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn. This is the large-scale film version of Conrad Richter's great story of the Southwest when homesteaders fought the great cattle barons. Robert Walker and Melvyn Douglas are featured.

Loew's Broad
Loew's Broad this week is showing "Easy Come, Easy Go," based on the John McNulty stories in the New Yorker. Barry Fitzgerald, Sonny Tufts and Diana Lynn are featured. McNulty was featured editor of the Columbus Citizen two decades ago. Co-feature at the Broad is "King of the Wild Horses," with Preston Foster, Gail Patrick and Royal, "the wonder horse."

Know Your Roof? There Are At Least Five Different Types

There are many different varieties of roofs and roofing materials available now, and although it is not necessary for you, as a home buyer, to know all of them, it is important for you to have some idea of the various types so you will understand what your builder is talking about when you are planning every phase of your home.

The most simple roof of all is the lean-to or shed roof. It is generally used for small sheds, porches, ells and other structures where overhead shelter is needed inexpensively. It consists of a plain surface with one side at a higher level than the other side. The roof is supported by walls or posts.

The ordinary pitch or gable roof has two sloping surfaces coming together at the ridge in the center of the building. It is usually the basis of most houses, although in many cases it is combined with other types of roofs.

The gambrel roof is used to give more space in the portion of the house directly below the surface of the roof. The roof surface is broken on both sides of the building with less slope to the portion above the break than below.

The mansard roof slopes very steeply from each wall toward the center instead of from just two sides. This roof gives more attic space than those previously mentioned, and is occasionally used in the 1½ story house to give more bedroom space. The hip roof slopes less steeply than the mansard roof, and has very little useful attic space. It is usually used when attic space or rooms below the roof are not considered necessary.

West Church Softball League To Open On Hilltop On May 5

An eight-team West church softball league will operate on the Hilltop again this year. Walter Gerber at the city recreation office, said this week. Organization of the league was accomplished at a meeting Monday night. It is understood that Hillcrest Baptist is interested in entering a team this year although there was no representative present at the meeting.

The softball league will start operating on Monday, May 5, starting at 8 p. m. Games will be played on the four Westgate Park diamonds.

Hilltop Church of God is the only new team entered in the league this year. It takes the place of one of the West Park Methodist teams.

The schedule of games for the first night of play is as follows: Burgess Avenue Evangelical vs. West Park; Westgate Evangelical vs. Hoge Memorial; Hilltop Church of God vs. Hilltop Evangelical; St. Aloysius vs. Glenwood Methodist.

Gerber stated that a Lutheran senior church league would use the Westgate diamonds on Friday night but organization of the league was not yet complete.

A Hand In Need

National Sunday School Week will be observed this year during April 14th to April 20th by American youth throughout the nation. Sponsored by the Laymen's National Committee, Vanderbilt Hotel, New York, the sole purpose of the Week is to encourage boys and girls to regularly attend the church of their choice.

The parents of these children must look to the future with misgiving until such time as the youth of our nation reflects the possession of a knowledge of God.

Today, the world is faced with mankind's worst enemy—BATE. It is running rampant throughout the country. It is being manifested everywhere we turn. It is being reflected by our young children in their utter disregard for established principles, law and order.

This situation will not right itself, nor will it be remedied by the waving of some magic wand. If we really want to be honest with ourselves, we will admit that it can largely, if not entirely, be attributed to our putting material gains over spiritual values.

The establishment of National Sunday School Week is not a cure-all for what is termed Juvenile Delinquency. It is only a step in that direction, but it is a right step and a practical step.

Donates Tree To West High

Last week a new addition was made to the group of trees surrounding the school, in the form of a fifteen-foot tuckeye tree, donated by Joe Briggs, insurance agent.

The tree had to be removed from the Briggs property and it was offered to the state and somehow found its way into the hands of Clarence Bateman, instructor here, who, with Irvin Young, principal, decided to bring it here.

Jack Steele, Jack Smith, Jack Carter, Tom Fisher, Gene Weinhart, Don Banker, and Mr. Bateman went with picks and shovels, removed the tree and transported it to the school, where it was replanted between the athletic field fence and the cafeteria drive, near the alley.

Students To Plant Trees On Arbor Day

Arbor Day—a day traditionally dedicated to public tree planting—will be widely observed for the first time in years in Columbus on April 25 with a wholesale distribution of trees to school pupils for planting.

Through the Columbus Co-operative Club, a service organization, approximately 18,500 small trees will be furnished public and parochial grade schools.

"This year will be a start," said Oliver Ullery, chairman of the Co-operative Club committee arranging the purchase of the trees. "We hope to continue and expand the program each year."

Supt. George E. Roubush of the Columbus Public Schools and the Rev. Robert W. Harwick, acting superintendent of Catholic schools, said special programs are planned for the day.

There are approximately 13,500 pupils in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades of the 72 public grade schools. Each will receive a tree, along with instructions on planting and care of the tree.

There are approximately 3000 pupils in the same grades of the 28 Catholic grade schools.

Supt. Roubush said that the tree distribution to his knowledge will be the first wholesale distribution to pupils in many years.

"The Co-operative Club's idea is very fine and very appropriate," said Mr. Roubush. "It has two advantages. It will help replace the trees which have died from blight and it also calls the attention of the younger generation to the importance of trees."

Fr. Harwick said special programs will be held at each of the Catholic schools with each class teacher going over the planting instructions with pupils.

The planting of trees by pupils in their own yards, Fr. Harwick said, is one way of helping restore the beauty of nature which has been marred by the death of trees.

The trees to be distributed will be young silver maples especially selected to withstand loss from planting, officials of the service club said.

The trees will be delivered to the schools and the distribution date is advantageous as it falls on Friday, the last day of the school week.

Co-operative Club members working on the project, in addition to Mr. Ullery, are Lou Vierbeck, Dr. W. D. Lavelly and H. R. Catterman.

World's Biggest 'Eye'

This is how the new observatory at Mount Palomar, Calif., will look when it's finished this year—enabling man to see more than a thousand million light years into space, twice as far as heretofore. It will open up an unexplored sphere eight times the volume of that already examined. The world's biggest "eye" has been under construction for 19 years, cost $6,250,000.

Contractor Can Ruin Good Record

By Capt. John E. Jordan, Chief Bureau of Fire Prevention

An excellent fire record in a place of business may be destroyed by carelessness on the part of employees of private contractors doing repair work.

A large downtown paint store was having new linoleum laid by an employee of the store selling the linoleum. When the job was completed, the employee began cleaning his hands and arms with gasoline brought into the store without the knowledge of the owner. The gasoline vapors were ignited by the gas flame under the hot water tank and another fire was started. Luckily, the store was well equipped with fire extinguishers and employees began fighting the fire while others called the fire department.

The blaze was extinguished with only small loss, but had the fire gained headway in the stocks of paint and varnishes, a serious blaze would have resulted.

Grease ducts were being cleaned in a local hotel by an outside contractor. Later gasoline fumes were detected in the hotel. The fire department was called and the firemen discovered that the duct had been cleaned with safe materials, but the workman was washing his body (including his hair) with gasoline, filling the hotel with explosive vapors. A serious fire and explosion could have occurred had the hazard not been discovered in time.

In contracting for work to be done by outside employees, it should be stipulated that no fire hazards will be produced by those doing the work.

Until further notice Moscow is allowing free sale of grain to Russian farmers. This means that a man can make a profit if he knows his oats.

School Safety Patrols Guard The Lives Of 6000 Children

Safeguarding approximately 6,000 Hilltop elementary pupils at street intersections every day is the job of the school patrols. That they have done their work well is evidenced by the fact that during the past seven years there has not been a single accident where school patrols are on duty in the city.

Columbus was the second city in the United States to have school patrols, Milwaukee being the first, according to A. W. Raymond, manager of the Columbus Automobile Club, sponsors of the patrols.

The first patrol in Columbus was organized in 1922 under the direction of Arthur Roadin. The number of boys and girls serving in this capacity increases each year and this year there are between 1200 and 1300 school patrolmen.

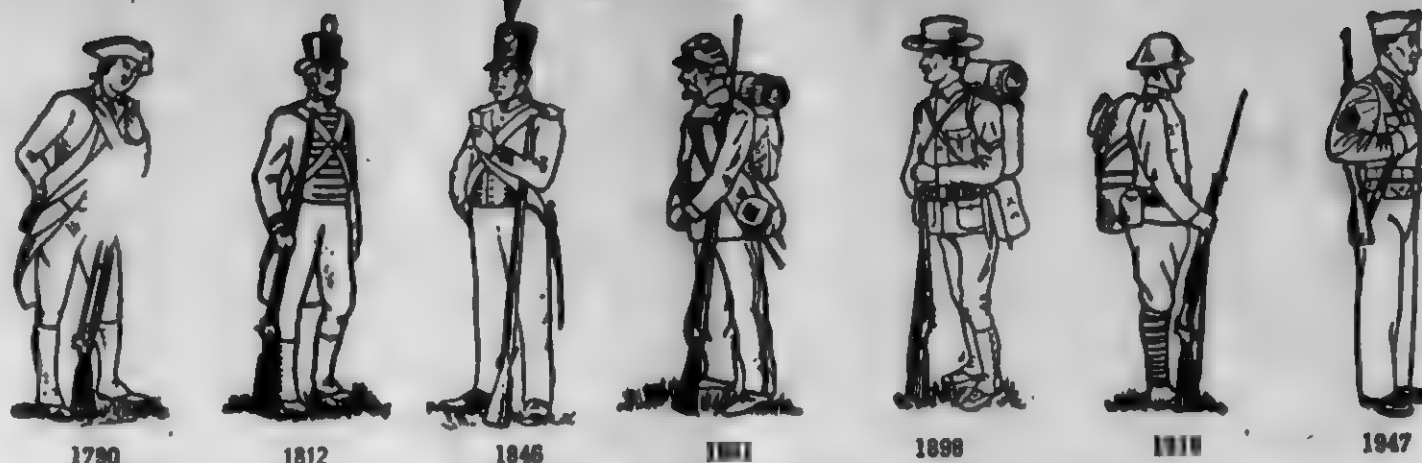

Principals of the schools choose the boys and girls on a merit basis and the city police department trains them for the job. Two officers are assigned to go to the schools and teach school patrolmen the laws.

Fifty-seven public schools and 21 parochial schools are represented by school patrols. Fifty-seven thousand children cross the streets four times each day, and the Auto Club manager said that his organization gives the school patrols credit for preserving the traffic record.

The Auto Club furnishes the flags, belts, badges and other incidentals for the school patrolmen. Until the war, the PTA's had furnished rubber raincoats also for the children. The groups hope that since supplies are coming through in increasing quantities, they may soon be able to furnish all of the patrols with raincoats.

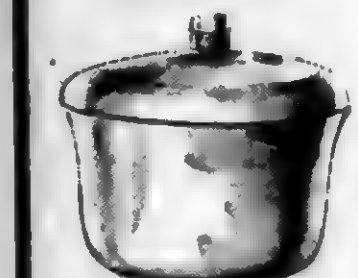

Mr. Raymond also said that the school children realize that they must obey the patrols and cross the streets only where patrolmen are stationed.

There is a city ordinance which gives the school patrols official police power while on duty.

EVOLUTION OF UNIFORM AND EQUIPMENT OF THE U. S. ARMY INFANTRYMAN—The progress of the United States in providing for its national defense is pictured graphically in the sketches above. The pitifully small but courageous force mustered by the new government in 1780 paraded in cocked hat and long-tailed coat and carried the ancient flintlock musket. In the War of 1812 the uniform was improved but the flintlock remained, except for Jackson's famous riflemen in New Orleans. The percussion musket, along with the rifle, came in 1846 late in the Mexican War, when a conspicuous uniform and a cocked cap made the soldier a perfect target. In the War Between the States the same long-barreled rifle remained. The uniform was blue, a color that was popular with the quartermasters as well as writers of war songs, until khaki was introduced in the Spanish-American War in 1898. The breechloader and repeating rifle came in during the Indian campaigns in the 1870s. World War I saw amazing improvements both in uniform and equipment. Infantry units embraced machine gun platoons and the new steel helmet was of practical service. The sketch labeled 1947 was made from a photograph of a soldier in the latest outfit, with battle jacket and overseas cap. The color is "O.D. 38", a shade of olive drab. The sketch shows a carbine, but the infantryman may also carry the M-1 rifle and hand grenades, and among his comrades are teams trained in the use of the machine gun, the bazooka, the tommygun, automatic rifle, etc.

Pearl Harbor Day Will Long Be Remembered

Pearl Harbor Day on Dec. 7 will ever be remembered by members of Westgate Methodist Church, not only for its world shaking event that plunged the United States into war with Japan, but as the day on which their church was born.

For it was on Dec. 7, 1941, that the first meeting of Westgate Methodist Church was held in the auditorium at West High School. To many people, the advent of another world war might have been reason enough to postpone plans for the formation of a new Methodist Church fellowship but to the group gathered there adversity was made to serve as a means for good.

Today the membership of the church has passed the 500 mark and is still growing.

Rev. James Lorenz, pastor of the church since its organization, used the appeal to buy war bonds to help build his church. Members were urged to buy bonds payable to the church building fund. More than $5000 was raised in this way.

Rev. Lorenz and his people determined that the new church would be built on a "pay as you go" basis so services were held in West High School for five years while the new building was being started.

First Services Dec. 1, 1946

On Dec. 7, 1946, open house was held in the basement of the new church building under construction at 345 S. Brinker-av. The first worship service had been held on Dec. 1, the Sunday nearest Pearl Harbor Day.

By now, work on the basement part of the building is nearing completion, and it is plan of the church to pay for that portion of the project before launching out on the building proper.

The first phase of the program had been the purchase of the site just north of Westgate Park where Brinker and Algonquin ave converge. While this was being paid for (it cost $7500.) the congregation was buying equipment for use at the school and later in the new building.

Cowboys Shine On Dispatch Cage Team

One of the hardest workers in the building project as well as the job of building a congregation has been the pastor, Rev. Lorenz. Almost any day after the groundbreaking ceremonies he could be seen on the church site, consulting with contractors and working right along with the other workmen.

He personally saw to it that the church realized something from every truck load of dirt that was hauled from the excavation. Every economy conceivable was put into effect to make the precious dollars go just as far as possible.

As an indication of the respect they had for the hard work of their fellow Methodists, the members of Glenwood Methodist Church presented a check for $1,000 shortly after the basement was dedicated.

Certainly faith was coupled with hard work and determination to bring about the Hilltop's newest church fellowship.

Moundbuilders Once Active In Hilltop Sector

Many years before the white man had come as far west as Columbus, the prehistoric Indians and the Moundbuilders had found the Hilltop a desirable place to live. Dr. H. C. Shetrone, 3638 Crescent-dr., director emeritus of the Ohio Archaeological and Historical Society, has pointed out the evidence of these early dwellers on and near the Hilltop.

The James E. Campbell State Park, over on McKinley-av., contains the Shrum Mound, one of the finest of the more than 130 mounds and fortifications discovered within Franklin County. The site was acquired by the Ohio State Museum in 1929 from Miss Minnie Shrum, a teacher in the Columbus public schools, and through funds supplied by Jessie Campbell Coons, a daughter of the late Governor James E. Campbell.

The 20-foot mound has an ash ree growing on its very summit. Paul's Lutheran Church once stood. Hundreds of people drive past it each day and doubtless few of them realize the historical significance of this small park.

With utmost skill and care;
To walk thereon till it was dry

Board Members Express Thanks

The last action of Selective Service Board No. 13 previous to adjournment was the authorization of the following statement of gratitude to the people of the community for their cooperation with the board during the days the board functioned. The statement follows:

"The many members of Camp Chase Post and Auxiliary, the election judges, the city officials and the business firms all showed real patriotism by the spirit they reflected."

"Dr. W. H. Edwards, until he entered the service, was invaluable to the cause and the late Dr. I. M. Sherwood also rendered excellent service until affliction halted his services, after which Dr. Robin T. Sharp did a most commendable job as examining physician."

"The boys who were sent into service are the continuation of real American manhood. Let us all hope that we may help them now that they are returned and be thankful to God for the kind of people we have in the community. We hope we may never be forced to serve in this relationship again."

Signed,

Track Team Is Winner Over L. McKinley

The West High thineads won the initial meet of the season with Linden McKinley by a score of 58 1/2 to 28 1/2 at Magly Field last Wednesday. Coach Rufe Glass and his defending city champs are scheduled for two meets this week.

Yesterday afternoon, weather permitting, the Cowboys were to have run against East on the Tiger cinder track. Springfield is due to invade the Hilltop for a dual meet Friday.

West had one double winner in Glen Schroeder, who took top honors in the 100-yard and the 220 dashes and was on the winning relay team. Bob Watson was practically a one-man team for McKinley, piling up 20 of his squad's 29 1/2 points by virtue of first in the shotput, broad jump, high and low hurdles.

The Cowboys accumulated nine firsts although Coach Glass used as many boys as possible on the different events. Firsts were scored in the high jump, half-mile and pole vault. Two places were won on many events.

It was the first track event for the Lindenites, who do their practice without benefit of a regular track.

"Henry V" Truly Shakespearean
 Twice daily, through April 19, at the Hartman Theatre, Columbus patrons will see the exclusive exhibition of Laurence Olivier in William Shakespeare's "Henry V." It is a technicolor picture that, in inspiration and treatment at least, is a departure from previous film experiments. The production is truly Shakespearean. It follows the original text more closely than any of the many stage productions.

Around West High

By Janet Baker and Judy Jones
 Easter is past and all the ducklings, chicks, and wattle wabblers have been left under the kitchen sink to starve. All a surprised mother finds them. Everyone was at their best in the Easter Parade this year. Pat Goodale was among those who looked as if they had just stepped from a fashion magazine.

We just couldn't help noticing the line on Broad at last Saturday, all for Hilltop Mini-rel tickets. Ruthie and Jean Halls waited (just a couple of hours) and got some real good seats but we saw Audrey Southern admit defeat after waiting ONLY 20 minutes.

West's track team are broke into big-time when the Sunday Dispatch featured pictures of Coach Glass, sprinters Glenn Schroeder, Bob Smith, Walter Hicks and Bruno Masera, distance men Fred Harner, Ken Mahan, Dick Ham and Jim Dennis—and then to top it off a king size picture of Bob Jones taking a hurdle. We wish these fellows all the luck in the world and from what we hear they won't even need it.

Bacteria? Sorry, we really haven't studied up on this subject—but say, Ginny Nebel could help you. SHE knows all about bacteria, how it HIBERNATES and everything.

We think some public spirited young person had better start buying Margie Fry's lunch for her—poor child, she was eating from the waste paper can last week.

 Third row: Manager, Fred Hulse, Bob Wolfe, Ed. Sorenson, Cliff Voss; managers, Ralph McKinney and Danny Estell.

Don Nafziger
 Now that West Junior has completed the season with a good average of seven wins and three losses, let's review them.

Do you remember when West Junior went to Mound for the first game December 6, and won? Boy! That was close—22 to 21. Then the team went to Starling the next Friday and won their second game, 19 to 18.

January 10 West Junior came home for the first home game of the season to be defeated by Crestview 29 to 17 for their first loss of the season. They came back the next Tuesday to defeat Everett 45 to 37, and then made us even prouder of them by upsetting Indiana 29 to 19, January 17, on our floor.

Berrett was one team which we wanted to beat but didn't. They turned us back 32 to 19 on their court, the next Friday. But again West Junior broke back into the winning column by trouncing Linden McKinley Junior, 44 to 14, on Linden's floor the very next Friday.

There was an awful upset. Franklin beat us. But we still think we could beat them. They beat us by a score of 36 to 31 on their floor February 14. But again West Junior entered the win column by upsetting Champion by a big score of 35 to 8, and finished the season by turning back Boone 36 to 21 on our floor.

West Junior finished the season tied for third place with Crestview.

West Junior scored a total of 277 points in their opponents' 232. They played five games at home and five away games. The team and Coach should all be congratulated on their fine season.

Two Pre-season Games Booked

Billy Herman and company, the 1947 edition of the Pittsburgh Pirates, will leave spring training quarters in Florida in a few days, along with the Columbus Red Birds, and prepare for their first northern exhibition appearances of the season.

The Pirates and the Birds will meet in two afternoon exhibition games at Red Bird Stadium Saturday and Sunday. The games are being sponsored by the Columbus Zoological Association and proceeds from both games will go to the Columbus Zoo.

Tickets are still available with Earl "Circus" Sorman, at 31 E. Gay-st. Box seats are selling for $1.50 and reserved seats are being sold for the regular $1.25. A sellout for both days is expected.

Church Activities In The News

Approximately 30,000 persons attended worship services in Hilltop and West Side churches on Easter Sunday. It was a record attendance for most of the two score houses of worship, large and small, but how many people will talk about that fact through the week?

No other activity that we can think of would attract half that many people to an event of one common purpose. Red Bird Stadium (seating capacity of around 13,000) will probably not be filled more than three or four times during the coming season. The combined enrollment of all the schools in the area would be less than a third of that number. Yet few people are impressed with the significance of church news as "front page" copy.

We expect to find the entire story of all church activities for a normal week-end confined to one inside page of our daily papers. Only a few special occasions throughout the year ever rate front page mention.

Why this seeming neglect of coverage of religious news?

The answer is quite obvious. Church people don't talk about the things they did or heard in church like they do about a sporting event or other type of amusement. Church news in itself is not spectacular. It does not lend itself to blaring headlines. It doesn't sell papers on the newsstand like many more sensational events affecting far fewer people.

For the most part the indictment is not against the news editor or his publisher. It is rather against the church goers who are willing to accept this "second rate" coverage of church affairs. When church people in sufficient numbers make known to the editors of their papers that they want more news of their activities and less space devoted to the shocking behavior of the "glamour girls and boys" of the entertainment world there will be a change in the editorial attitude of the press of the nation.

Our Readers Say

The Franklin County Chapter of the American Red Cross wishes to take this opportunity to thank you for your fine support during the 1947 Red Cross campaign.

We count heavily on our community and county papers not only at this time but during the entire year, as we know the important part you play in your communities.

We are looking forward to another year of the same cooperation you have offered in the past. If you have any suggestions how I can better Red Cross services to you, please let me know. Thank you again.

Cordially,
Heleen D. Evans,
Mrs. Arthur D. Evans,
Director, Public Information,
Franklin County Chapter,

Editor, The Hilltop Record:
I want to commend you for your expressions in your column, "The Spectator," under date of March 27. We in this country had come to the place, even before the war and before the days of defense spending, where we were paying one-third of our total income to support the government on a federal, state and local level. With this being true, we ought to be looking for ways to bring economy and efficiency into government.

One important way would be to eliminate the overlapping services and departments of county and city governments, and I appreciate both your foresight and your courage in publicly advocating it.

There are so many essential services and so much needs to be done that it is foolish in this day and age to waste as much as we do in duplicating many of these services in county and city government.

Keep up the good work.
Cordially yours,
Dale Stump

Elvina Parker received a telegram from her brother, who was accompanying her husband on a big game expedition in Africa. The telegram read: "Bob killed lion hunting—Fred."

Elvina, overcome with grief, wired back: "Send him home—Elvina."

Three weeks later a large packing case arrived from Africa. Inside was a lion. Elvina sent a telegram: "Lion received. Must be a mistake. Send Bob.—Elvina."

Back from Africa came the reply: "No mistake; Bob in lion.—Fred."

An absent-minded passenger was strap-hanging in a bus. His left arm clasped a half dozen bundles. He swayed to and fro. Slowly his face took on a look of apprehension. Noting this, a young man standing beside him said: "Can I help you, sir?"

"Yes," said the man with relief. "Hold onto this strap while I get my fare out."

After The Raid

Fuller

The aftermath of that devastating air raid lasted for days. We moved far back into the mountains. It was impossible to get there by truck. Mules were used in some instances to move in some of the things we needed. We lived in pup tents and they were scattered and camouflaged. Men and relate time and again their experiences during the night of the raid. Many episodes seemed laughable when told during these sessions, but, of course, weren't funny at the time.

The men who came in for the most ribbing were the three who took refuge in the Mussolini Canal, a plenty stagnant body of water a few hundred yards from the building. To get there they ran over rubble piles in their bare feet, down a street almost every square foot of which was mined, and then stood waist deep in the foul water for almost an hour. However, they had a good view of what was going on, which wasn't quite as bad as those of us who had only the terrifying sounds to go by.

One individual raced madly down a street followed by four other GIs. At that time a JU-88 dove down on him with its machine guns blazing. With bullets kicking up a seven foot cloud of dust, followed by the four others. It was a high jump record if there ever was one. Another fellow ran for cover carrying his shoes. When he reached his destination he found all he had in his hands were the tops. Machine gun bullets had clipped them off. He fainted. Our German shepherd dog mascot disappeared. I guess he figured things were too tough for him. During the hottest part of the raid one fellow greeted an oncoming bomb with a particularly loud oath. Then, before the missile hit, he thought better of it and sincerely apologized to the Almighty.

In my own case, I remember vividly diving to the cement corridor like a ton of bricks, but I think it is remarkable that I don't remember any impact. Usually when a person hits cement he feels it. But, in the stress of the moment, I apparently was immune to any feeling. Likewise, the fellows who ran over the rubble piles, barefoot, neither felt any pain nor cut their feet on the jagged rocks.

Spies Tip Off Position
The few days in that mountain area served us as a type of rest period. Our division had moved far ahead and was nearing Rome. Our neighbors were Italian civilians who had taken refuge here when their city was shelled. They were living in caves and faring rather miserably. AMG was doing a lot for them, however, and it wouldn't be long until they would have a place to go.

We also learned that Fascists within the little coastal city had radioed the Germans of our exact location and that is why they had known just where to bomb. However, they had mistaken our abundant equipment for another and more important installation a few miles down the road. The raid on us had been a mistake—a mistake for which we didn't thank the Germans. The Fascists and their radios were rounded up the next day and I had the pleasure of guarding them when we took them back to headquarters.

Our area, although in the mountains, was just a few miles from the Pontine marshes, which stretched for many miles in the vicinity south of the Anzio beachhead. The Germans had flooded the marshes and malaria mosquitoes were thick. Almost every precaution had to be taken to keep from being bitten. At this time the great news came that Rome had fallen. Almost simultaneously, orders came for us to move there.

The hills and vales are tinted
With the redbud's dainty flare.

Neath the trees, and violets

Scatter rugs of purple velvet
In profusion along the green rocking

Baby leaves and pinkish bloom

Droning bees and song birds team in the symphony of springtime Tuned to God's own perfect

SUNDAY LESSON

Kingdom of Israel Furnishes a Study In State Politics
 The International Sunday School Lesson for April 13
 Scripture: I Samuel, Chapters 9-19, 28, 31

THE kingdom was the kingdom of Israel, with its first king, Saul, standing head and shoulders above the people, chosen to be their leader and acclaimed as all the people shouted, "God save the King!"
 It seemed an auspicious moment in the life of Israel, but the accounts, probably composed into the book of I Samuel by a later hand, are somewhat conflicting. The king is represented as "anointed," and Samuel is represented as acting with divine authority in anointing Saul.
 But in I Samuel 18:19, Samuel charges that the demand of the people for a king is a rejection of God. He predicts a time of realistic sobriety, the oppression and extortions that the establishment of a king will bring. Light is thrown on the world of Samuel by what happened a little later, when the people rebelled against the oppression of Solomon, about to be reimposed by his son, Rehoboam, and civil war rent the kingdom in twain, never to be reunited.
 Why should there be so much interest in the political history and life of a numerically small people so long ago in a country no larger than one of the smaller American states?
 The answer is that the record is a part of the Bible, which has been truly called "God's Book for Man's Life." Nowhere in literature is there a record that is so comparatively small a compass as to set forth with such clearness and precision the incidents and causes in the rise and fall of nations and the conditions that make for welfare, stability, peace, strife, tragedy and decay.
 Moreover it is in the life of a comparatively primitive people emerging into statehood on a comparatively small scale that one can observe more clearly and accurately than in a complex modern society the forces and laws that are at work and that have their effect on welfare or disaster.

Missionary Will Address Banquet

Dr. Randall
 The Hillcrest Baptist Church will hold its annual mother and daughter banquet in the Fellowship Room of the church Friday April 18, at 6:30 p. m. One feature of the banquet will be an address by Alice L. Randall, M. D.
 Dr. Alice Randall was born in England but came to the United States at the age of 12 and completed her education in this country. She graduated from Denison University and took medical training at the Medical College of Virginia. She served her internship in St. Margaret's Hospital in Pittsburgh.
 As a little girl, Dr. Randall determined to become a missionary and she remained steadfast in this purpose throughout her medical training. In 1929 she was appointed by the Women's American Baptist Foreign Mission Society and sailed the same year for Assam, where she has rendered efficient and consecrated service in the Women's Hospital at Gauhati.
 Because this hospital was staffed entirely by women, native women sometimes traveled 300 miles to receive treatment. When war came Gauhati was in the path of the refugees fleeing from Burma, and the resources of the hospital were stretched to their limit. It was at this hospital that Dr. Segares and General Stillwell also found refuge. For starved, broken families this hospital became a bit of heaven.
 Dr. Randall has been honored three times by kings of England. She received the silver medal at the time of the coronation of King George VI in 1938; a second silver medal during the commemoration of the Silver Jubilee of King George V in 1937; and the Kaiser-i-Hind medal in 1943 for distinguished service in India.

Church Of Christ Has New Organ

The Hilltop Church of Christ, Burgess and Olive, has installed a two manual Wurlitzer pipe organ, the gift of Walter Miles, 2198 Waltham-rd., in memory of his mother, Mrs. Clara Miles. More than 300 people listened to special numbers on Easter Sunday by the organist, Maurice Bowsher of 380 Cherry-rd.
 A new carpet has been installed by the ladies of the church under the leadership of Mrs. G. B. Orr, Mrs. A. R. Poike and Mrs. J. E. Von Schiltz. A new baptistry is also a part of the extensive alterations made under the direction of G. B. Orr, chairman of the board of trustees. The church has an adult choir of 24 members under the direction of Van E. Reed; a junior choir of 18 members under the direction of Marilyn Bonnet. Rev. Enoch C. Smith is the pastor and Paul Murzliff is the superintendent of the Sunday School.
 The church is planning for a dedication of the organ on Sunday, April 27, at 2:30, to which the public is invited.
 The pastor announces the April sermons as follows:
 Mornings:
 April 13—"A Rich Provision."
 April 20—"Lest You Lose Your Stability."
 April 27—"Those Who Worship Him."
 Evenings:
 April 13—"Eight Exhortations."
 April 20—"Eight Exhortations."
 Special organ numbers for the first 15 minutes each evening. One hundred and thirty-six new members have been received in the last three years, during the ministry of Rev. Smith.

Fishers of Men

"And Jesus, walking by the sea of Galilee, saw two brethren, Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers. And He saith unto them, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men. And they straightway left their nets, and followed Him."

This picture of fishing boats in the harbor is one most persons would regard as distinctly commonplace and without sentiment. It was often in the humblest circumstances that Jesus found illustrative material which offered a background for His parables.

Ships and fishermen were important in the life of Jesus. In the Book of Luke, people pressed upon Him to hear the word of God as he stood by the lake of Gennesaret. He entered into one of the ships and taught the people from there.

His promise to make Simon and Andrew "fishers of men" recalls another promise, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you." In the churches and Sunday Schools we and our children are taught the way to become "fishers of men." In God's house we learn that faith in Him will make all things possible, remove mountains.

Regular attendance in our houses of worship is a duty that none can regard lightly. It is one step in the direction of right living. Our ministers can teach us all of the ways by which we may do our part in the building of the kingdom.

Shirley Kietzman Honored by Young Republican Club

A group of General Motors Corporation executives headed by C. E. Wilson, president, will be in Columbus April 22 for the formal opening of the Fisher Body-Ternstedt Division plant on Georgeville-rd., according to word received Saturday from Detroit.

Coming with Wilson will be Thomas P. Archer, GM vice-president and group executive in charge of Fisher Body, Fisher Body-Ternstedt, and Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac assembly division; L. C. Goad, GM vice-president and general manager of Fisher Body; and J. W. Jerken, general manager of the Fisher Body-Ternstedt Division. Also expected to be here are executives of various Ternstedt, Fisher and GM plants in Ohio and neighboring states, including those from Cleveland, Dayton, Cincinnati, Hamilton, Toledo, Detroit, Trenton, N. J., and others.

On Wednesday, April 23, a general open house for the public will be held, with visiting hours set for 9 to 11 in the morning, 1:30 to 3:30 in the afternoon, and 6 to 8 in the evening.

Luncheon Planned

Delmar G. Starkey, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, announced that plans are virtually complete for a civic luncheon and tour of the plant, to be held on the 22nd. Leading business, civic, political and professional representatives of Columbus have been invited by the Chamber of Commerce to meet with the corporation executives at the plant at noon. Luncheon will be served in the plant cafeteria at 12:30 o'clock, followed by a conducted tour of the plant which now is in large-scale production of body hardware and interior car fittings. After the tour the visitors will see a special exhibit displaying all products made by the local plant, other hardware and fittings made by Ternstedt units in Detroit and Trenton, N. J., including various ornaments, moldings, medallions, panels, etc. Also on display will be GM cars and products of some other divisions of the corporation.

After the meeting, ceremonies marking formal dedication and opening of the plant will be held. James L. Conlon, resident manager of the plant, will preside. Wilson will speak for the corporation and Herbert N. Lape, Sr., president of the Chamber of Commerce, will speak on behalf of the city.

Families of employees also are invited to visit the plant on the 22nd at specified hours. In order that employees of both shifts may bring their families to the plant, visiting hours have been set between 9 and 11 o'clock in the morning, and from 6 to 8 o'clock in the evening.

A dramatic science show portraying some of the most recent developments in laboratory research will be presented April 22 in connection with dedication and open house ceremonies.

The show is known as General Motors' "Previews of Progress." It is now on tour and had not originally been scheduled here at this time. A last minute change, however, makes it possible to bring it to Columbus for one day.

It will be seen by a group of leading civic, business, professional and political leaders who have been invited to a special plant tour on April 22 by the Chamber of Commerce. Although because of time limitations it will not be available the following day, when the public in general visits the plant, officials explained that the show will return to Columbus at a later date when everyone who wishes may see it.

The manufacture of butyl rubber, atomic energy, artificial illumination, heatless cooking and numerous other startling research discoveries also will be demonstrated, including the use of infrared rays by which American snipers were able to pick off Japanese troops sneaking toward U. S. lines in the darkness of jungle nights.

Shirley Kietzman

A Hilltop girl will soon be spending several days in Washington, D. C., as honored guest of the Young Republican Club. The result of her having been chosen to represent the entire state of Ohio in a contest held last week.

She is Shirley Kietzman, a senior at West High School. She was not known this week but it will be some time during the next two weeks.

Miss Kietzman was one of three girls selected from among 16 other contestants from central Ohio in judging at the Palace Theater last week. Final judging of "Miss Young Republican Club of Ohio" was done at the Dehler-Wallack Hotel Saturday night. Seven girls were considered in the finals. Miss Jean Evans was declared the second place winner and will also make the Washington trip that is expected to last five days or a week.

The winners will fly to the nation's capital and will be feted at a luncheon by Senators John W. Bricker and Robert Taft. They will be taken on a tour of the city.

Miss Kietzman is a member of the June graduating class at West. She is a member of the French Club, Y Teens, choir and Glee Club. She plans to enroll at Ohio University next fall, where she will study merchandising. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Kietzman, 190 N. Warren-av.

Thief Can't Resist Gold Encased Radio

A beautiful table model radio done up in a shiny gold case, on display at the Robinson Electric Store, 2409 W. Broad-st., was apparently too much of a temptation for some shoplifter.

Several weeks ago some one broke a window in the front of the store, apparently in an effort to remove the radio that was being displayed. The break in the glass was not large enough to remove the radio and the thief's efforts were unsuccessful.

Saturday morning the radio disappeared from the store, minus the usual exchange of cash for purchases made over the counter. It was apparently "lifted" while Juanita Cavalier was waiting on a customer.

The set was valued at $75.

Donna Murray Makes OSU Honor Roll

Donna Murray, 73 S. Warren-av., a sophomore in the college of pharmacy at Ohio State University, was one of the Columbus students who made the honor roll during the winter quarter. It was announced last week.

Juvenile Council Members Will Be Selected Soon

Selection of outstanding citizens to the Hilltop Juvenile Council will be the matter of concern of the board of directors of the Hilltop Kiwanis when they meet some time this week with the underprivileged children's committee of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

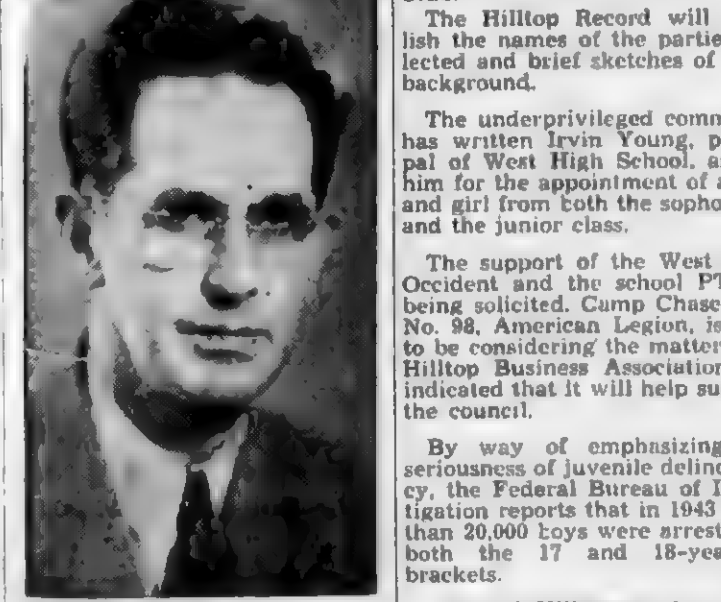

The Hilltop Record will publish the names of the parties selected and brief sketches of their background.

The underprivileged committee has written Irvin Young, principal of West High School, asking him for the appointment of a boy and girl from both the sophomore and the junior class.

The support of the West High Occident and the school PTA is being solicited. Camp Chase Post No. 98, American Legion, is said to be considering the matter. The Hilltop Business Association has indicated that it will help support the council.

By way of emphasizing the seriousness of juvenile delinquency, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reports that in 1943 more than 20,000 boys were arrested in both the 17 and 18-year-old brackets.

Several Hilltoppers have already volunteered their services in setting up the Hilltop Juvenile Council. Several others will be needed to complete the program.

Clyde Moore

Clyde Moore, 236 Binn-bldg., Ohio State Journal columnist, will speak at the West Broad Street School PTA meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the school.

The Sixth Grade Class, under the direction of Mrs. Wayner and Mr. Henry, will present a group of songs. Mr. Henry and Robert Johnson will also present a piano duet. Community singing by the audience will be a part of the meeting.

Chief Brophy is already familiar with fire inspection work. A part of the work consists of an educational campaign to acquaint the public with ways of eliminating fire hazards.

Glenn Barr, 734 S. Eureka-av., became the youngest fire chief in the history of the Columbus Fire Department when he received his battalion chief's rating last week. He was assigned to head up the department's training program.

Chief Barr joined the department 12 years ago and has served two years in the army since joining the fire fighters. He is married and has one son, 13-month-old Jack.

2 Local Youths To Enter BIS

Two Hilltop teen-age youths will be admitted to the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster today after having been found guilty of participating in 35 robberies of local homes.

A third youth, arrested with the other two, is being considered for admission to a correctional school in Michigan. Judge Clayton Rose told The Hilltop Record this week.

Ray was working with an oxygen torch when the accident occurred. The escaping oxygen immediately ignited, shooting flames over his face, eyes and right arm. The arm suffered the worst burns as he attempted to shield his face from the flame.

He was back at work this week, thankful that he still had the use of his eyes after the narrow escape from more serious injury.

The tour, which will be made by plane, is being conducted by Gomer Jones, operator of the Jones Flying Service out at Sullivan Avenue Airport. It is a part of the observance of Aviation Day.

HBA members received return postcards from Jones this week inviting them to make the flight around the city in five or six new Stinson planes. They are asked to note particularly the time designated on their card since the tour will be taken by possibly four or five relays at different hours. All cards should be returned promptly so that reservation can be made for each person desiring to make the trip. There is no charge or obligation on the part of those taking the trip.

The first two affairs were given in the spirit of old time community cooperation and featured folk dancing. This year, however, the group has decided to carry out a gay nineties motif. The hall will be decorated as a reception parlor of a late 1800 mansion and all guests must be in period dress.

Many of the notables of a past age are expected to attend. The guest list may include Diamond Jim Brady, Steve Brody, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Lillian Russell and many others.

Under the leadership of Fred Wollerman the committee, including Jeanne George, Jeanne Lane, Baillet Gary, Stan Charles, Bill Woolson, Don Cross and Ken Dickerson, promises an interesting and enjoyable evening for all. Tickets are 75c each and may be purchased from any member of the group or at the door that night.

TO HOLD ELECTION

The Student Council at West
High School was to have elected new officers in a meeting held yesterday at the school.

NEWS You've Been Waiting for!

THIS new addition to the industrial growth of Columbus is the first of General Motors' new postwar plants to go into production.

Here, the Fisher Body-Ternstedt Division of General Motors makes more than 400 items of hardware and fittings for all cars with Body by Fisher—Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac.

In choosing Columbus as the site for this new plant, chief consideration was given to its ideal geographic location in relation to the plant cities to which its products are shipped and to the fine facilities Columbus provides for the operation of such modern plants.

Approximately 1,800 persons are already at work here—of which more than 90% are local residents. So, naturally, we have a keen interest in the welfare of Columbus—and want as many Columbus people as possible to know our new plant and its activities.

So won't you be our guests on Wednesday, April 23? You are most cordially invited.

This new plant is one of three Ternstedt units in America. It incorporates the very latest thinking in factory design and architecture—including a roof of the newest monitor-type construction for maximum light and ventilation.

There are 89,000 window lights of a special glass which holds back the sun's heat-producing rays; 14 miles of fluorescent lighting tubes; electrically operated windows and air-changing apparatus to keep the plant relatively cool on hot summer days.

A truly ultra-modern cafeteria that will seat 1,700 persons at a time has been provided, as well as lockers, the most up-to-date washrooms, and the newest type Frigidaire drinking fountains.

Conveyors keep parts moving from one operation to another—eliminating to a great extent the necessity for manual handling; while the wood block floor also makes work less tiring for employees.

You may see all these marvels of modern manufacturing for yourself at our "Open House" next Wednesday. We think you'll be as proud of our new Fisher Body-Ternstedt Division plant, as we are to take part in the progress of Columbus.

There is no need for excitement over China's request to sell 100 million dollars worth of UNRRA goods on the black market. It's just that the black market where the American dollars are and the Chinese government doesn't have transport facilities for handling the take in Chinese dollars.

To The Point
President Truman broke precedent when he greeted Polish Ambassador Winiewicz with a 250-word statement that the Yalta pledge of free and unfettered elections had been broken. Hereafter it has been customary for presidents to greet ambassadors with 1000-and-up-word statements on the subject of how have you been.

Mother—More pudding, Junior? Your eyes are bigger than your stomach, child.
Junior—That doesn't seem reasonable, Mother. Let us experiment and either establish or disprove the assertion definitely.

SUNDAY LESSON

David Strengthens
And Enlarges the Kingdom of Israel

The International Sunday School Lesson for April 28
Scripture: II Samuel 2:1-10.

WHEN news reached England of the Battle of Saratoga in the American Revolutionary War with the defeat and surrender of General Burgoyne, someone remarked to the economist, Adam Smith, "The nation is doomed," and the eminent author of "The Wealth of Nations" replied, "There is a great deal of doom in a nation."

The remark is simply illustrated in the history of nations, but perhaps nowhere more pointedly than in the history of Israel. When one considers all that happened, the marvel is that there should have been survivors at all. Palestine seemed doomed almost in the very beginning when the armies of Israel went down to defeat with Saul, who had begun his rule so auspiciously, a suicide on the field of battle. But David, a man of the sword rather than the harp, soon made his prowess felt, consolidating, enlarging the kingdom.

Then came the reign of Solomon, a long period of peace and apparent prosperity—but with oppression.

Peter says in his Second Epistle that "holy men of God spoke as they were moved by the Holy Ghost." They were moved to write with the candor of realism and truth, for the sins of David, especially the sin of adultery and the murder of the man whom he had wronged, are set down beside his great qualities of heroism, tenderness.

The strength of David was in his magnanimity. David acknowledged his wrong-doing. When he expressed a longing for a drink from the well of Bethlehem, three warriors went through the enemy's lines risking their lives to bring it to him. But it was too sacred for him to drink.

It was, he said, the blood of men who had put their lives in jeopardy. So he poured it out on the ground as a sacred offering.

How many of us have that spirit toward the many men—and women—who have so recently risked and given their lives that we may have "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness?"

To Address
Hillcrest Class

Captain H. Mowrey

Every one of the 80 or more members of the Young Adult Class of Hillcrest Baptist Church is expected to attend the 10th anniversary banquet of the class, at the Henri Boyd Inn, Worthington, at 7 p. m., Saturday, April 19. Reservations are still coming to Mrs. Robert Milstead, 501 Clarendon-av., who is in charge of the seating arrangements. About a dozen non-members of the class will be guests.

Captain H. Mowrey, 2935 Crescent-dr., executive secretary, Ohio Hotel Association, will be the after-dinner speaker. His topic will be "The Customer Is NOT ALWAYS RIGHT." It will have to do with amusing experiences of hotel managers with customers. "Some of whom may be in the audience," the announcement says. Class members have been "cautioned" by Harry R. Howells, 533 S. Oakley-av., president of the class, "if you bring your own napkins, please make sure the name of a hotel isn't woven into them, because the speaker is making a search for such articles, which he tells us sometimes follow some customers as they leave a hotel and later are found on wash-lines in back-yards."

Election of class officers for the coming year will precede the dinner and a class picture will be taken. N. W. Kent, 87 Eldon-av., has been teacher of the Young Adult class since its organization a decade ago.

Young Musicians
Wanted By Navy

The navy has just announced that young men of high character and of proven musical ability are needed for enrollment in the musician branch of the naval service.

Applicants who pass the required mental and physical examination are sent to Washington, D. C., at government expense for the final entrance audition. Successful candidates are enrolled in the U. S. Navy School of Music for a comprehensive music course of approximately six months' duration. Upon the completion of this course the musicians are eligible for petty officer ratings. An advanced course is offered to students.

Art Gallery Features
Youngsters' Work

If you want to see what has been done by the many youngsters attending art classes at the Gallery of Fine Arts, visit the Gallery this month and see the showing of work by Columbus school children. All during the year the best of the art work done in the Saturday afternoon classes by 5th and 6th graders has been saved for this showing. It includes watercolors, crayon drawings, tempera, paper sculpture, cut paper work and dolls, and may be seen in the Children's Museum Room downstairs.

All the broken hearts are not on Broadway. We hear many of them in the silly soap operas over the radio networks.

Fishing Licenses Now On Sale

Ohio fishing licenses, for the 1947 season which runs to March 1, 1948, are available now to the state's several hundred thousand anglers, at hardware and sporting goods stores, the corner grocery or restaurant and many other agencies throughout the state.

Licenses generally are handled on a county-wide basis by local hunting and fishing or conservation organizations which distribute the pads of licenses and plastic holders to various agencies. The agencies in most cases turn back the funds collected from the 10 cent writing fee to the club which in turn is then used for conservation purposes within the county.

ROME NEWS

By Clara M. Kidd

Mrs. Robert Dean Hines and two children, Constance Jean and Clifford Boyd (Buster), have returned to their home in Piqua, after spending several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garretson, Maple-dr.

Mrs. Morgan Bates, 661 Rinnsh-d, entertained with dessert bridge Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. James Whalen and her mother, Mrs. Ella McKendree, of Buena Vista-dr, were among the guests.

The monthly family pot-luck was at the home of Mrs. E. C. Sheets, Jr., Buena Vista-dr, last Tuesday. During the luncheon, it was announced by Mrs. Dr. Carl Knisley of Kenbrook-dr, that that date was her wedding anniversary. Those present were Mrs. T. M. Patterson and daughter, Mary, Mrs. W. G. Lamb, and children, David Rex and Jon Thaddeus; Mrs. G. H. Noie and daughter, Cheryl Lynn; Mrs. Elton Kaderly and children, Robert, Rebecca and Caroline; Mrs. R. G. Barncut and Mrs. E. C. Sheets, Sr.

The Young Folks Class, whose teacher is Harold Hart, had a class party in the basement of the Columbia Heights Church. About 25 were present. The president is Jim Snyder, Maple-dr.

The Lutheran Ladies' Aid is quite busy these days, sewing up 50 yards of outing hannel for the infants overseas. They also have a new gas stove in the church kitchen, which was certainly initiated to the extent of serving more than a hundred at Easter breakfast. The breakfast was put on by the Rhodda Guild of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Geyer (Joan Heibel) are now located in their home on the Reibel farm, on Walcutt-dr.

Bob Stormont will be host Monday night to about 20 members of the 4-H Club, The Altan Advancers. The leader for this club is Harold Hart.

The Breckenridge family, Maple-dr, made a trip down to Waverly to spend Sunday with another daughter, Mrs. Marvene Rumlind. It was the tramp in the hills that was enjoyed by those who took it and made the day's outing complete.

The banquet committee, composed of Mrs. George Tery, president of the WSCS of Columbia Heights Church, Mrs. Warner, Mrs. Breckenridge, Mrs. Suver and Mrs. Baker, made final plans for the affair. This meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Stormont, although it was necessary to make a hasty trip to Hilliards to get the "lay" of the banquet room.

The regular meeting of the Rome PTA will be held Thursday (today). This is election of officers. Members are asked to be present.

Dick Lappe, formerly of Rome, now stationed in Porto Rico, enjoys fishing to the extent that he has become quite proficient in the art. He wears masks for underwater fishing and really enjoys being able to harpoon a "trunk" fish, which is much like a lobster in taste. He writes to his mother regarding an incident in which the devil fish took har-and Jim Miller of the Hilltop and Bob Wright for his best man. The groom's two sisters, Mrs. Robert Wright and Mrs. Herschel Wallace, had a shower for the bride April 15. Mrs. Carl Headly of Hilliards is having a shower April 23 and Mrs. Russell Brooks and Mrs. Roe Moore are entertaining at Mrs. Moore's home, 4949 W. Broad-st.

Talent-packed 18th Hilltop Minstrel Is Tops In Home-talent Entertainment

By P. W.
There's little wonder that several hundred customers were turned away during the three-night showing of the 18th Hilltop Minstrel. It contained enough talent to make up a professional troupe and yet retained the true minstrel flavor from start to finish. We've seen at least half of the 18 shows put on thus far and all of them have had some good talent but this one tops them all for the number of top-notch acts.

Such talent as the Cline Sisters, Carolyn Robinson, Jinx Witherspoon, Allyn Snoddy, George and Jackie Hardy, Lee Koonitz, Herb Germaine, Susie Johnson, Grace-belle Day Spears and Lyle Phillips would be the envy of many a professional booking agent and, all wrapped up in one evening's entertainment, it constituted the best program we've seen in many a day.

Allyn Snoddy, a newcomer to Columbus, brought down the house with her singing of "Caroline" as did Grace-belle Day Spears with her dance number. Despite the fact that she has been off the professional stage for half a dozen years she has lost little of her dancing ability that caused her to be rated among the top dancers of her day.

In our humble opinion the audience passed up one of the best opportunities for an encore number when they let Herb Germaine get off with only his featured trombone number. Herb is an artist with the "alto horn" if we ever heard one and deserved better applause than he got with his "Lasso Trombone" number. After seeing the finished stage poise and hearing the voice of Susie Johnson it isn't hard to understand why she was chosen as second place winner in the Cincinnati Opera Aria Auditions recently. Lee Koonitz kept the audience in stitches for the entire five minutes he was on stage with his "Ten Little Bottles" number and his now famous violin act.

The Hardys improve each year and this year's performance of dances old and new was definitely no letdown. This father-daughter team is unique in the history of Hilltop Minstrel numbers and worth seeing year after year.

Caroline Robinson was most satisfactory in her rendition of "Make Believe." Her pleasing personality and excellent voice were well received. On the blues side, done in a polished style, was the rendition of "St. Louis Blues" by Jinx Witherspoon. West High School blonde with plenty of personality ate the fact that she was on stage with a voice to match. The Cline Sisters, Kitty, Shirley and Jerry, added a bit of "south of the border" flavor with their tuneful singing of "Menage a la Caribbeenne."

Keith Lovewell's "Gals in Calico" chorus line of 12 young girls from the Hilltop, performed with greater precision than some "would be" dance lines we have seen on semi-professional stage for an amateur chorus line.

Under the direction of Leo Phillips, the Hilltop Male Chorus came up with some of the "barber shop" variety of harmony. It was unique and different for a choral group, especially on the Hilltop. The two numbers were pleasing to the ear if you like that type of music. The tenor sections were not as good as some but the audience voiced its approval. To our way of thinking their work in backing some of the solos added much to the entire show. The audience likes a show of this kind and they really gave out. Leo, himself, had lost none of his popularity as a soloist as he sang "I'm All Alone in a Bluebird Land." The inevitable "Dinner" came in as an encore number.

There was plenty of other good entertainment in the show, too. Shirley Huntley and JoAnn Heischman and Bill Grace did a useful duet version of "Symphony." Bill Coon, Marvin Southworth and C. R. (Doc) Campbell did creditable renditions on typically endmen numbers and the cakewalk done by Harold Greene added the true minstrel flavor. Nancy Reed and Bill Minister teamed up with accordion and marimba to give the fans a clever medley of tunes. Nona Kimes gave with an accordion tune and plenty of smiles while Al Bettenger, with his banjo, completed the instrumental offerings.

A quartet of West High School teachers, billed as the Young Singers, did a clever skit and a bit of harmonizing on an old favorite. Also on the comedy side were the antics of Eddie Walker's Bumpettes, a line of "would be" dancers very closely resembling a number of business men we know. Cur Wilcox and Phil Stout clowning their way around on and off stage during the show to keep the cash customers laughing at their crazy stunts such as snipping off men's neckties, with a pair of scissors.

Two other factors loomed large in keeping the show running smoothly throughout its two-hour performance. Floyd Green lacks nothing when it comes to emceeing a smooth-running show. His voice and mannerisms seem tailor-made for such a chore. The pace-setting tempo dished out by Mac Toill and his orchestra were a big item in giving the show a professional flavor from start to finish.

We missed seeing David Fisher and his rhythm tap done in an endman's costume. By Friday night he was at home with a case of mumps. But folks who saw it the first two nights gave it the okay. Likewise we missed the Four Men Of Note who filled in for the Young Singers Thursday night when one of the quartet could not appear. We understand they were tops on the harmony side.

C. Carlton Hartley, director of the show, should have little reason to question the approval of the audience that packed the auditorium all three nights.

It was another in a series of good community entertainments for which the Hilltop Business Association, sponsors of the show, are already famous.

Rome — The Eternal City

The capture of Rome, the eternal city, represented to those in Italy the culmination of a mighty effort. Here was the prize which had been fought for so dearly during the difficult campaigns since the landings at Salerno.

When the city was captured, the starving, horror-stricken people. Here was a sanctuary in the midst of carnage and as such was greatly appreciated by the men who were to enjoy rest periods in the city.

Rome has both old and new. Rome offered a great cultural opportunity which was evident even to those who knew little of ancient times and still discernible. The collection of a remarkable fine state of preservation. It gives the impression of a football stadium which somehow had been gutted. The high circular outer wall is completely intact. The forum and some of the places where slaves were sold can still be seen although they are not in so good a state as the coliseum. The stone columns are all that remain.

The great cathedral, San Pietro, (Saint Peter's) is by far the most interesting attraction. It is open to visitors through the week and for a slight fee a guide will explain the main features. The Sistine Chapel of the cathedral with the paintings by Michelangelo and the gold twisting supporting pillars are awe-inspiring. The Vatican, where the Pope resides, is adjacent to the cathedral and the entire state is included within a large wall. Swiss guards are employed to watch over the Vatican. Their uniform is blue.

Directly opposite San Pietro, across the muddy Tiber which bisects the city, is the Cathedral of St. Angelo, another beautiful church.

The most modern building in Rome is the Memorial to King Victor Emanuel, which stands in the main square of the city, not more than three blocks from the ancient coliseum, making a notable contrast between ancient civilization and modern day.

Many fountains and circular baths can be seen throughout the city. These add to the general appearance of cleanliness.

Rome is built on seven well-defined hills. Any sightseeing tour which was undertaken on foot usually resulted in some foot-sore travelers. A fine resting place was in the beautiful Borghese gardens where the Red Cross set up one of the most excellent clubs imaginable. There, while seated among tall green trees on a spacious lawn, a tired man could enjoy the cool summer breezes. Italian girls served lemonade and cookies. An Italian band played smooth American music. The average GI just sat there and relaxed.

Our Readers Say

Dear Editor:
Once more we feel privileged to have seen and heard the Hilltop Minstrel Show.

I have seen all 18 of them and they have grown bigger and better. My appreciation to the "few" who do the work that the "many" may be afforded the chance to be entertained with the "best" right here in our own community.

Let's get ready for the 19th right away!

Yours very sincerely,
Maggie Tomlinson

The Editor:
My compliments, sir, on the church editorial in your recent issue. You cannot miss from any angle in your recognition of the church news. The editorial ought to be read in every pulpit on the Hilltop—for your sake, if for no other.

The picture showing one of the results of a tornado reminds us again that "No man knoweth the day nor the hour" when his course in life shall have been run. It behooves all of us to seek God while He may be found.

When the storms of life break upon us, whatever their impact, our faith is the force which carries us through. That faith must be built up before the storm. It is best inspired and nurtured in our churches and Sunday Schools.

Man can accomplish much by his own effort when the weather is fair and favorable. But for the days of adversity and the obstacles he will encounter along the way, the power of God is needed. Equipped with it, the storms dissipate themselves into surprising calm and life goes on, the soul of man being purified by the challenge.

Nothing in life is permanent except it be blessed by the eternal power of God's love. Our aims and objectives, without that power, become a mockery when beaten by the winds of faithlessness. The church is the source of knowledge and the path to power through the ministry of its representatives.

One minister recently told his congregation that at times the church had been criticised because some of its members did not follow the teachings of holy writ in their every day lives. This tendency, he said, frequently put the church in an unfair light.

His advice was that "We should judge the church not by the people in it, but by the people who are OF the church."

Wally Watkins, Dick Kirk and Ed (Sunny) Sahr accounted for the Cowboy's seven hits with Watkins getting two for four, Kirk two for three, while Sahr slammed out a three-bagger. The home team committed one error.

Jerry China started behind the plate for West but was injured when a foul tip off his own bat cut a gash over an eye and forced him to leave the game. Starting Huff finished the game. For the visitors, Wyoll got two hits out of two times at bat while Plank accounted for two for four.

Arlington was scheduled to play at West Wednesday. Friday the Cowboys go to East and on Tuesday Linden McKinley comes here.

Thousands of Visitors Stream Through Fisher Body-Ternstedt Plant During Open House Here

Here are some of the sights that visitors to the Fisher Body-Ternstedt plant on Georgesville-rd saw on Tuesday and Wednesday. Thousands of persons took advantage of the opings in automobile windshield moldings. The screen above protects employees from pieces that might possibly fall from the monorail conveyor seen against the ceiling.

licated-looking machine at the Fisher Body-Ternstedt plant shapes the contour of the automobile windshield molding, then cuts it off at its proper length. Later, it will be bent to the final shape of the windshield. (At right) The plant doctor at Fisher Body-Ternstedt is shown here testing the blood pressure of an employee. All new employees are given an examination to see whether they can meet the physical requirements of the job to which they are assigned. The modern plant hospital is equipped so that surgical operations can be performed in emergencies. Formal dedication services were held at the plant Tuesday when Charles E. Wilson, GM president, visited the factory.

Democrats Looking For Council Candidate

The Franklin County Democratic organization is looking for good timber for the forthcoming race for city council. It was revealed this week as various Hilltoppers were approached to determine if they would be a candidate for the job.

Foremost among those talked of for the post was Charles Kent, well known Hilltop grocer. It is believed that Kent would be a good vote getter. However, he has declined the opportunity to run, but the organization has not given him up as a prospective candidate.

Also considered for the post is Ed Egan, manager of a local Kroger store. Another man prominently mentioned was Jerry Spears, Jr. While a student at Ohio State University, there is some belief that he might be induced to become a candidate. He could be prevailed upon to run on the Democratic ticket.

Larry Seales, prominent in American Legion circles, has also been mentioned as a possible candidate.

In any event the Democrats are out to find a good Hilltopper to put into the race. They might even welcome a suggestion from the public along this line.

Minstrel Committee Reports Recommendations

The interest shown by the public in the recent Hilltop Minstrel makes any report from that committee a newsworthy one.

Whereas some 1000 or more people were turned away from the show this year and possibly several hundred more didn't even try to get tickets, the committee has recommended that next year the show be held four nights, subject, of course, to the cast of the show being agreeable on such procedure.

Then, too, a new system of reserving the seats will be adopted next year. If this year's committee recommendation holds, in the first place they want all seats in the houses reserved and no general admission tickets sold in advance of the show. This will allow the association to stop sale of tickets after all seats are gone and will eliminate the necessity of refunding money to hundreds of people who come to the show only to be told they can't get a seat.

Tickets will also go on sale about two weeks in advance of the show next year.

All in all the show this year has been pronounced the best yet from all possible viewpoints. Members of the local ministry have been highly complimentary in their praise for the cleanliness of the show. The public has expressed its appreciation of the well rounded variety program with no one specialty predominating.

The show was also a financial success, the best of any yet held. But this money will not lie idle long in the coffers of the association. Numerous matters of public interest and requiring money will soon deplete this account.

Dr. J. Miller, president of the association, this week asked the Record to express his sincere thanks to all who participated or had any part in the production of the show.

West Mound PTA To Have Paper Sale

The West Mound PTA will conduct a paper sale on Friday of this week. Anyone desiring to have papers picked up for the sale is asked to call RA. 2949 or RA. 4585.

Arrangements will be made to have them collected. A jitney luncheon will be held at the West Mound School next Wednesday, April 30, starting at 12 noon, and running through 1:30 p. m. The public is invited.

A flash-back to the campaign in the Pacific was presented by Col. Ray Strassberger. At last week's meeting, he showed some of his movies taken in the South Pacific.

Speaking on "Business as I Find It," Col. Strassberger pointed out that "the normal we know before the war will never return, that our living standards, wages and prices will be slightly higher than before the war, but may be slightly lower than they are today."

Hilltop Student Is Poetry Winner

A Hilltop girl was declared winner of the annual Roy A. Burkhardt Poetry Contest for a poem she submitted.

She is Miss Dorothy Henderson, 661 S. Harris-av., a senior student in education at Otterbein College. Her poem was entitled "Out of My Green Years."

Local Housewife Hits Band-leading 'Jack-pot' On Palace Stage Monday

Mrs. William West, 150 N. Huron-av., who "never led a band before," left the stage of the Palace Theater with first prize Monday evening after impressively appearing with Sammy Kaye's band on his radio program, "So You Want To Lead A Band."

The happy housewife "never dreamed of appearing on the broadcast," and was as favorably surprised as her family when she successfully led the famed Kaye band in several numbers and won against both her opponents.

Mrs. West attended the program with her daughter, Marilyn, 21, and a friend, Paul Leavy, 25. Mr. Fourth-st., in hope that her daughter might meet Kaye again. The girl won second prize on his show when it appeared at the Broad six years ago.

Mrs. West explains her presence on the stage as a "near phenomenon." Marilyn said "hold up your hand" and before I had a chance to get it securely raised, the man said "the lady in the black hat."

Mrs. West and her husband, an engineer on the Pennsylvania Railroad, have two children, Marilyn, an employee in the promotion department at the Ohio Farm Bureau, and William, William's wife, the former Phyllis Bauer, was employed at the Record several months last year. They are now the parents of a daughter, born Feb. 1.

Mrs. West, a graduate of West High School in 1921, is "elated and thrilled" about her prowess at the band stand, but "must set her house to housecleaning now."

Weatherman Fails To Cooperate With Scheduled Air Tour Here On Sunday

When Gomer Jones completed his plans to entertain members of the Hilltop Business Association at the Sullivan Avenue Airport on Aviation Day last Sunday, all of his arrangements were perfect except an agreement with the weather man.

Although there was a low over-cast over the field and rain falling in greater or lesser degree all day, some 18 members of the association showed up for the planned air tour of Columbus fields.

One flight of two ships carrying three passengers each got away at 1:30 and made a trip across town to Clicking Airport and circled back to Sullivan.

When we arrived on the scene, Jones was making up a four-ship flight to take care of the remaining 12 thrill-seekers. When we were all loaded, rain started to fall by the bucketful and from there the story went something like this:

We took off on the northeast-southwest runway at 3:37, banked west over the Ternstedt plant and circled the field, gaining altitude. . . visibility very poor. . . circled field once more. . . ships were separated. . . visibility worse. . . three landed in quick succession and by 3:45 the third came in 15 minutes later after circling Beulah Park to stay

Virginia Cross Improves Here

Nine-year-old Virginia Cross was showing satisfactory improvement at her home this week following a narrow escape from death when she was struck by a car in front of the West Broad Street School Friday noon. According to police reports the girl was returning to school near the close of the lunch hour and was struck by the car traveling east on W. Broad-st. The driver of the car gave his name as Sully Jones of Springfield.

Three West High School students distinguished themselves and their school by equaling the highest scores made in the state in recent scholarship tests. It was not known here this week whether or not any of the marks constituted individual state honors since the list of state high scores did not indicate whether more than one person had made the same score.

Those rating top state honors were Richard Laymon, Bettina Beard and Bradley Richardson, all members of the June graduating class.

Laymon made a score of 95 out of a possible 100 in physics to equal the highest number of points scored and also rated 66 out of 100 in pre-flight. In the latter test his score was high for the school.

A member of the L Society, he plans to enter Ohio State University next fall to study nuclear physics. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Laymon, 345 S. Eureka-av.

Miss Beard, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Beard, 3050 Steele-av, scored 119 out of a possible 150 in POD (senior social studies) to equal the state high, and tallied a 134 out of a possible 150 in English 12.

She has been a member of student council three years, has served on various senior committees and takes part in choir and other musical activities. She will attend Denison University next fall.

Richardson was only one point under the state high score when he rated 136 out of a possible 145 in French 2. He also scored a 104 out of the possible 150 in POD.

In Many Activities
He is the son of Mrs. Marjory Richardson, West Jefferson. He has been active in a long list of extracurricular projects. He rates fifth in his class scholastically, has an outstanding attendance record and has participated in the following activities:

News of Rome

The many friends of Melvin Cox, Buena Vista, and Bill Kidwell, Beacon Golf Course, will be pleased to learn that they have escaped the recent Texas disaster.

Paul Lopez, former of Rome, now of the Hilltop and Japan, has written to his mother that he has entered the University of Tokyo, to further his education along the line of geometry and college chemistry.

It was record attendance and three guests for the Rome Study Club when it met at the home of Mrs. James Snyder, Maple-dr. Monday night.

A very unique evening was planned by the program leader, Mrs. Growden, who had several on her committee tell about famous gardens. After an exchange of bulbs, seeds and potted plants by the members, delicious refreshments as well as much sociability was enjoyed. At this meeting it was also decided to make the next and final meeting for the year, one of a tour of the Blind School and Federal Glass plant, and a dinner at the Marmora Restaurant. The hostesses were Mrs. Reibel, Mrs. Garret and Mrs. Nicely.

The 31st wedding anniversary was celebrated recently by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Breckenridge of Maple-dr. They received many special gifts as well as gifts of flowers, made their home very beautiful for the occasion.

For the first time in four months all the regular members of the Rome Card Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schroeder, Lawrence-dr. The evening seemed very short and delicious refreshments were enjoyed at a late hour.

Miss Mary Patterson, Maple-dr., was in Mansfield Monday night for the ceremony of the Shrine No. 10 of the Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, where she filled her station as worthy matron.

The Ladies WSCS of Columbia Heights Church met at the church for the regular pot-luck Monday meeting. The growing membership attendance was on hand as this was also the day to receive clothing, etc., for the Good Will Industries.

Rev. T. M. Patterson, Maple-dr., attended the Columbus Presbyterian church at Lancaster last week. The first card party held at the Canteen proved quite a success. There were 17 tables of euchre. As usual it was a community affair and many who did not enter visiting with their neighbors.

Ed Everhard, Maple-dr., Bob Thompson, Lawrence-dr., and Jim Lamb, Buena Vista, were among the Boy Scouts who went on a well planned excursion Saturday morning. They met at scout headquarters on S. High at 9 o'clock and joined a company of 200 other scouts. They left in five army buses for the general depot where they had the time of their lives. They rode a diesel train, all around, all around; they toured the large warehouses; then the bunch split. It inspected the army surplus storage rooms and half were interested in medical rooms; then a ride on duck amphibians, which as they termed it was "really something." The tour was ended with a movie which was very much enjoyed by the 200, who considered the Saturday morning very well spent. Another trip for the following Saturday is planned.

The many friends of Mildred (Woda) Switzer, formerly of Rome, will be pleased to learn that she is at home again and has both making improvement although the little boy still wears his cast.

The largest crowd ever for the Rome PTA was on hand last Friday evening for the election of its officers for next year. The younger grades were on the program and a two-feature movie was shown by George Terry of Maple-dr. There was a spelling match representing the three schools, Rome, Galloway and Alton. Robert Venrick, son of Levi Venrick, Bukay-dr., representing Galloway School, was the winner.

The election results: president, Mrs. Floyd Armstrong (second term); vice-president, Mrs. Malcolm Fennell; secretary, Mrs. Harry Eberhard; and treasurer, Mrs. Ray Dougherty.

Mrs. Edwin Young (Jean Bowman) of Smith-dr., whose husband is now in Japan, is in Mercy Hospital recovering from appendicitis. Jim Bowman and Edwin expect to be in the same regiment soon.

Mrs. Roscoe Rings is in White Cross Hospital, where she underwent an operation and is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Eddie Rings is home from the hospital and is able to be among us as usual.

The 100-year-old son of Viola Rings (Mrs. Nenson) met with quite an accident while in his father's car. He fell out, and after a trip to the hospital, found it was necessary to take several stitches in his face and that a broken hip would make it necessary for him to be in a cast. The little fellow is in Children's Hospital.

To Be Buried Friday
Word was received Wednesday morning of the death of J. C. Seifert, 68, father of Myron T. Seifert, journalism teacher at West High School. He lived in Bremen, Fairfield County.

Funeral services will be held in Bremen Friday.

The resolution charged that numerous complaints and objections had been voiced by Kiwanis members and other Hilltop citizens concerning the theme and plot of gangster movies.

Similar feeling was expressed by the Hilltop Community Council a number of weeks ago but to date no further action has been taken to follow up on the matter.

The HCC had a committee appointed to study the billings of date movie houses. Operators of the three local theaters have expressed a willingness to meet

CHINESE EXHIBITS SHOW
Something new but different in the way of Chinese exhibits may be seen at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts from now until the middle of May. The exhibition, "Chinese Shadow Plays," installed in the east corridor this week by Mrs. Harry Cope, dates back more than 2000 years. The shadow figures displayed are wonderfully cut from parchment and painted with transparent color. In a performance they are manipulated by wire rods, somewhat like puppets, and their shadows are thrown on a screen of cloth or oiled paper. Along with the figures are scenic pieces used as a setting for the plays.

Village Back In Fifth CenturyAccording to an old Swiss chronicle Arbor Day observance dates back to the fifth century when the people of a little Swiss village by the name of Brugg determined to secure for the common folk a forest of oak trees.
More than a dozen sacks of acorns were sown, but for some unexplained reason they did not sprout. The next year another effort was made, but again no sprouts. The people, determined to see their efforts produce for them an oak grove, set aside one day on which the entire community, men, women and children, marched to the woods, where each very carefully dug up a sapling and transplanted it to the oak grove site, where a competent gardener superintended the transplanting. A merry feast and frolic at the town hall was the immediate reward for the day's labor but the real reward came a few years later when careful watering and care of the saplings produced a fine grove, furnishing shade and a place of recreation and rest for the citizens of the community.For years afterward, the anniversary of this tree planting was observed by the people of the village of Brugg with appropriateleaves and branches. It is said that a similar festival still exists in this and other Swiss villages.The first to call attention in this country in an impressive way to the value and absolute need of forests, their influence upon climate and rainfall, and the necessity for their culture and growth, was the late G. P. Marsh of Vermont, for many years our representative at the courts of Italy and Turkey. In Europe, he found the forests regarded as the most valuable crop which the ground could produce and every effort was being made to stimulate their growth. In 1864, he called the attention of the American people to the ruthless destruction of their forests, the resultant effects on streams, climate, commerce and wildlife, and advocated systematic measures for curtailing their waste and consumption. Through a suggestion by the American Forestry
Congress to the Governor, Arbor Day was first celebrated in Cincinnati in 1882. The influence of the idea has spread until Arbor Day is celebrated in every state and territory in the Union. While the schools have been the strongest factors in this forward movement, due credit must be given to the G. A. R., the Grange, Civic Improvement Associations, Women's Clubs, Forestry Associations and conservation groups.Until a few years ago, Arbor Day was set by law by the governor. At present the naming of Arbor Day by the governor is a voluntary proclamation in connection with the naming of April as Conservation Month and one designated week as Conservation Week in the schools. Governor Herbert's recent proclamation has named
April as Conservation Month.
April 21 to 25 as Conservation
Week in Ohio schools, and Fri-

HI-Y Volunteers
Offer Services
In Benefit Plan

Do you have any work you want done; or know of anyone who wants some odd jobs done?
Saturday, May 3, you can get all the help you want, provided you get in touch with any HI-Y boy or with West High School by calling RA. 0267 Thursday any time during school hours.
The object of this day is to raise money for the World Restoration Fund, whose purpose is to rebuild the YMCA's throughout the world. Each boy will turn his day's earnings over to the West
HI-Y Club and then this will go directly to the YMCA for the general fund.
The city council has set as its goal $2,000, then each individual can set his own goal. West's is $300. With the co-operation of all the HI-Y boys and the people of the community this day can be a great success.

West Bows To Linden Here

West High School gave up its claim to first place in the 1947 City Baseball League by bowing to a strong Linden McKinley nine on the Magly Field diamond Tuesday afternoon. The score was 5 to 0.

Linden jumped off to an early start by getting two runs in the first inning and three in the second to complete the scoring. Earl Davis gave up only one hit during the seven innings that to Don Little, Cowboy left fielder, Jack Thrush went all the way for West giving up seven hits. Poor support in the early part of the game added to the West downfall.

The Little hit, a single through the pitcher's box, was quickly erased by a fast double play. Davis had the West batters eating out of his hand most of the afternoon and was never in trouble. Grandview was scheduled to visit the local diamond on Wednesday. The Cowboys go to Central on Friday.

Ferguson Joins Perry Fay Motors

Bill Ferguson

Perry Fay Motors, 525 N. Park-st., announces the appointment of William (Bill) Ferguson, 33 Highland-av., as an associate salesman. The company is engaged in the sale and service of White trucks and busses.

The firm also manufactures and distributes Power Cell batteries. Other services include battery rebuilding and tire recapping.

Bill has lived on the Hilltop for 29 years. He served 23 months overseas in the South Pacific. He was formerly with Dun and Bradstreet and was at the Veterans Administration. He conducts a radio program each Saturday over WHKC at 7 p. m. entitled "Veteran's Notebook." The program is a public service designed to answer questions and requests of veterans and to keep them posted on new developments in the field of veterans' affairs.

Conservation Week Set By Gov.

Governor Thomas J. Herbert's recent proclamation naming April as Conservation Month in Ohio, the week of April 21 to the 29th as Conservation Week in Ohio schools, and Friday, April 25, as Arbor and Bird Day, marks the eighth year that Ohio governors have asked the citizens of Ohio to observe such a proclamation which affords the opportunity of becoming better acquainted with the importance of conserving and restoring our natural heritage—the resources of soil, water, forests, minerals and wildlife.

Throughout the month, community organizations and civic groups will emphasize the necessity of giving serious thought to our natural resources and

Track Action At West

The coming of spring weather has seen an intensified program of track activity at West High School. The above Dispatch photos illustrate that point very well.

In the top photo is shown Bob Jones going over one of the hurdles. He competes in both the high and low hurdle events.

A new contest of interest to all amateur photographers on the Hilltop is being announced by the Hilltop Photo Studio, 3105 W. Broad-st. It is the "print of the week" contest.

Prizes are to be awarded each week to the photo finishing customers having the outstanding "snapshot print of the week." Each day the best snapshot in each photo finishing order will be printed in duplicate and the duplicate print entered in competition with prints of other orders. Each Saturday the store will display the winning prints in the show windows. Prizes will be awarded to the six best prints each week.

The photo studios were recently moved into the present location by Walter Richey and Harry C. Douglas, co-owners of the firm. Richey formerly operated his own studio at 2345 W. Broad-st. while Douglas recently came to the Hilltop from Cleveland. He was recently discharged from the Army.

An ultra speed flash unit with speed of one ten-thousandths of a second has been added to the new equipment installed at the studios. The firm offers 24-hour service on photo developing and printing as well as commercial photographic service, photo supplies and service to equipment.

Raise Given
All Workers
Of G M Plant

All hourly-rated employees of the Fisher Body-Turned plant here were notified last week that they will receive a wage increase of 11 1/2 cents per hour, effective as of April 14. Announcement of the increase was made by James L. Conlon, resident manager, at an assembly of first shift employees.

In addition Conlon announced, all hourly employees who qualify will be paid for six holidays during the year when the plant is shut down in observance of such holidays. These are: New Year's Day, Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day. Conlon also announced that adjustments become effective as of today in pay rates of all salaried employees.

Army Recruiter Gives
Pointers On G. I. Bill

Capt. Thomas J. Madigan, Jr., of the Columbus U. S. Army Recruiting Station urges young men graduating from high school to consider the benefits offered by the G. I. Bill of Rights in planning their future careers.

He pointed out that in order to be eligible for the benefits provided by the G. I. Bill, a man must serve in the army 90 days or more, one day of which is before the war is declared officially terminated by Congress. For this service he is eligible to receive 12 months of training at the college, trade or business school of his choice following his discharge.

In addition he may receive one month's training for each month of service before the official termination date. For example, suppose a young man enlists today and the war is declared terminated four months from now. After discharge he would be eligible to receive 12 months of schooling plus four months or a total of 16 months education at government expense. During this period the government pays up to $500 a school year for tuition, books and laboratory fees, plus $65 a month if single, $90 if he has dependents.

Recreation Department Needs $55,555

The City Recreation Department is just one of the divisions of city government that is suffering from a severe case of budgetitis. In plainer words, it needs more money to operate to provide the type of recreational facilities needed.

Basic salaries paid for supervisors for a 40-hour week average something like $102 per month. As a result jobs go begging and changes in personnel are frequent and the department is taxed to its utmost to hire enough supervisors to keep open the limited recreational facilities.

At present the Recreation Commission has a total of $775,000 to spend over a five-year period to expand and improve facilities throughout the city. A survey committee has been set up to study the city-wide recreation needs and there is every evidence that a conscientious job is being done to make the money go as far as possible toward providing needed playgrounds and facilities for some of the neglected areas. Responsible persons who have made a specialty of planning the most practical form of facilities for the population at large tell us that this is only one fifth of the amount needed to put Columbus on a par with other cities of like size. In other words the amount should have been more nearly $4,000,000.

But with the deplorable salaries levels that now exist little could be done to operate the expanded program for none of this money can be spent for salaries or operational expense. The money is made available by special bond issue voted in 1945. As such, not a cent can be used for paying salaries to operating personnel.

It parallels the situation of the Fire Department where money is available to build new fire houses, badly needed, but without funds to hire men to man the stations. What good is a fire house without trucks and equipment and men to operate them? What good are parks, playgrounds, etc., without supervisors to keep them open and direct a program of activities?

Certainly evidence of shortsighted planning somewhere. If Columbus is to keep pace with her rapidly growing need for services of all kinds, there must be more money available to provide these services.

The windows overlooking the gravel pit where every day, fifth period, there is held a very exciting basketball game, proved to be too much temptation to Norman Ealy and because of his curiosity to see who's up, Miss Glenn finally had to move his seat into a cozy corner. Rome — A Tonic For The Weary

Rome was a haven for the weary Fifth Army troops. All the entertainment facilities in the city were utilized for the benefit of men on leave. USO shows from the United States played to audiences from the stages of Rome's best theaters.

The war took away little from the traditionally fine Italian Opera. The beautiful opera house was filled for every performance and a large share of the audience was made up of service men. I was fortunate enough to hear the presentation of "Aida" and it was masterful.

There were innumerable things to do. Every soldier did that which pleased him most. It is sufficient to say that the Italian capital had what it took to divert a man's thoughts temporarily from the war.

The war indeed seemed far away as we bivouacked on a small estate in one of the northern suburbs in the shadow of St. Peter's Cathedral. The appealing quietness of the cool summer nights, broken only by the soft chiming of church bells, had a profound soothing effect on our small company of men. A circular concrete Italian bath of the distinctive Roman type, with water constantly running in and out, provided a place to swim. Italian women who came to the area washed our clothes and even brought them back neatly pressed.

Every evening, after chow, passes were issued to go downtown—a whole evening to yourself to spend in a clean, untroubled city. It was a great treat. This period of inactivity around Rome had a tonic-like effect on those of us fortunate enough to be allowed to rest. The Germans threatened several times to bomb the city but refrained. "Axis Sally" would warn us on her program to enjoy ourselves but for soon the bombers would come and destroy our city. But the Germans were too preoccupied in France and northern Italy to carry out her threat.

The first train was the leisurely walk home at night. Across the peaceful Tiber, passing the magnificent Basilica of St. Peter's, climbing the winding hill along which the wall of the Vatican stands, and walking the last few 100 yards through the unlit and unblack-out suburb to the gate of the estate where we had our pup tents pitched. There to go unchallenged to your little abode, stretch out on the luxuriant grass and fall asleep, under a peaceful sky, aided by the perpetual sounding of the bells. You think how nice it would be to be able to spend the rest of the war in that spot and in that atmosphere of peace. It's a mile from St. Peter's, the symbol of good will and anti-war, and that was happening in that part of the world which we hated so deeply. The bells tolled throughout the night at hourly intervals as if advertising to the world that here was refuge.

"Here, you will not be bombed here, you will not see men die. Here, they want people to live and enjoy life."

The delightful interlude which was Rome ended too soon. Well rested and in a better frame of mind, we received orders to move again, not northward as expected, but back from whence we came. The orders were to proceed to the Naples area and crate equipment. We were to get another boat ride. This time we all knew it would be the invasion of Southern France. The American Seventh Army was being formed for this purpose from veteran Fifth Army outfits which were taking amphibious training in the vicinity of Salerno the site of the landings many months before.

"Next week: 'Preparing for Invasion.'"

Modern Poetry

By Esther Westover

AFTER-SONG
(Attempted tribute to John Gillespie Magee, killed in action Dec. 11, 1941, author of the poem "High Flight")
We have watched you wheel and bust
Through sunlight shafts and soft cloud-hairs
Walking earth-way, we see you surge above the mountains;
Thread your way among the stars.

Earth-dreams are in our hearts, far one,
And earth-bound are the songs we sing.
But yours are dreams that are real, beyond the ages,
Yours are the songs winds fling Beyond the crags of time.

High-of-heart, there must be less of heaven,
For earth-bound men as we, But your bright wings that sweep above the clouds
Through rain, and moonlight-spell,
Should lift you to empyreal heights—
Where only gods may dwell.

God, from out His treasure, chose
The gold of love;
Rare gems of loyalty;
A priceless pearl, kindness;
Perfumes of graciousness
And thoughtfulness,
The fabrics of endurance and tolerance.

He added the handclasp of sympathy;
The smile of encouragement
And the flowers of faith and understanding.

Of these He formed a design of great beauty
And placed it in the path of life.
The burden of great possessions was placed upon it;
Flattery, jealousy and scandal
kindled their fires around it;
The flame served only to purify it.
To enhance its beauty,
Nor could the cruel winds of shame or want dull its lustre.

Enduring all things: It was even more beautiful than before.
God placed His hands upon it;
He blessed it;
He named it—Friendship.
Hope White Gibson,
Hilltop.

International Sunday School Lesson for April 27
Scripture: I Kings 1-11

THE national glory and decay of Israel were associated with the glory and decay of one man—King Solomon, man of wisdom, temple builder, consolidator of the kingdom. At the height of his glory decay began to set in. In almost every field in which strength and character count one will find innumerable instances where some man who died was really indispensable, and failure and decay ensued because no one arose to take his place.

The sort of strength and character that Solomon represented in his early career was indispensable to a strong and stable kingdom. The outward glory lasted while Solomon lived, but decay began when he departed from the principles of his early reign.

The way was already laid for the rebellion and division that quickly came in Israel following his death.

The story of the rise and fall of the Kingdom of Israel is instructive and full of guidance and warning for our own times.

The opening chapters of the First Book of Kings tell of bitter enmities and violent deaths perpetrated in feuds, rivalries, and hatreds. It would be a mistake to assume that feuds, rivalries, and hatreds are not found in the modern world.

In fact, we have been familiar with "purges" in some countries, but in democracies of the British and American type the reign of law and the freedom of the individual have become well established.

Rival leaders of groups and parties no longer resort to violence and the weapon of assassination. We have progressed even from the days when one American statesman killed another in a duel.

If we can learn from ancient Israel, ancient Israel might have learned some things from us in our progress toward tolerance and freedom.

West Takes 4th Place In Relays

Winners of the Huntington Relays last year, West High School's 1947 track team came away with fourth place at the annual event last Saturday. Coach Rufe Glass reported several new schools entered this year in the meet, which attracted 22 competing teams.
 Walter Hicks topped first place in the broad jump with 21.4 with George Lohr taking third with 20.4. The team's total score was 31.
 Marietta won the meet, followed by Huntington and Stone- wall Jackson of Charlestown.
 Mardea came in fifth in the 100-yard dash while the two-mile relay finished in third place. Other scoring was done through second place in the 440 relay and a fourth place in the shuttle hurdles.

The West varsity will run a meet with North on Wednesday of this week and enter the Ohio Wesleyan relays Saturday. On Friday afternoon the junior high team will be host to a four-way meet with Everett, Berrett and Arlington Junior High at Maple Field.

Plans are being completed for the first Hilltop Relays to be held at Magly Field May 23. Six city schools have been invited to enter the twilight event. Ribbons will be awarded all who place and some trophies may be lined up for presentation.

The Cowboy tracksters out- pointed Arlington by an over- whelming 71 1/2 to 46 1/2 score at Upper Arlington last Wednesday. It was the third dual triumph for West against one loss thus far.

Stephens Heads New Ball League

Mark Stephens has been elected president of a new Saturday Afternoon League to be made up of baseball players not on other Knokhote or American Legion ball teams. No age limit will be observed.

Eight teams have been entered so far and there is a possibility of it ending up as a 12-team loop, in which case two six-team divisions would be organized. Play will start on the second Saturday in May.

Teams already entered include Camp Chase, Columbus State School, Saver's Auto Sales, Clintonville Colts, St. Charles (the regular high school team), Columbus Indians and Dublin.

Ben Ratner is supplying a trophy to go to the winner of the new loop.

Tennis Stars Will Demonstrate Game

Children from every section of Franklin County will have a chance to brush up on their tennis playing techniques April 25-26 at Ohio State University, at a tennis clinic which is being planned by the Central Ohio Tennis Association.

On those two days, Friday and Saturday, the association will bring Charles E. Hare, captain of the English Davis Cup Tennis Team; his wife, Mary Hardwicke Hare, former Wightman Cup Team member, and a leading woman professional, and Captain Harry Leighton, a tennis instructor and director of the Forest Park Tennis Club, Chicago, to the university courts for a two-day tennis clinic.

The purpose of the clinic is to provide group instruction for both beginners and advanced players. Attention will be particularly directed to encourage the younger boys and girls, although all classes of players are invited.

The clinic will begin Friday afternoon, April 25, at 2:00, at the Ohio State University varsity courts. If the weather is bad the clinics will be held in the gymnasium. The first session will be for physical education teachers at the university.

Double Header Scheduled
 Hilltop Van and Storage soft- ballers will tangle with Briggs- dale in a double-header Sunday at Westgate Park. These two teams played one of the fastest games of last season when they went eight innings in 48 minutes at State Hospital in the district tournament, the Hilltop Van boys winning 1 to 0.

The new kindergarten at God- man Guild House, Red Feather agency at 270 W. Goodale-st, has an enrollment of 38 boys and girls. It was started two months ago.

Cowboys Win Over E. High

The West High Cowboys waited until the fifth inning before breaking into the scoring column as they downed East by a 4 to 2 count on the Harley Field diamond Friday. It was West's third league win of the season.

Bill Buckingham received credit for the win, giving up only four hits while striking out 10 bats- men. Jackson, working on the mound for the Bengals, was like- wise stingy on the hits yielded up, allowing four while striking out six.

Thrush, Sahr and Watkins each were credited with a stolen base while Thrush got two of the four hits.

Weather permitting, the Cow- boys were slated for a crucial game with Linden McKinley at Magly Field on Tuesday after- noon. Both teams are undefeated up until this meeting. Grandview is booked for the local diamond for Wednesday.

30 Years ... Looking Ahead

Here it is, folks, the Thirtieth Anniversary edition of The Hilltop Record. 64 pages of it.

Five years ago ... and on Sunday ... we presented our 25th anniversary edition of 68 pages, until that time the largest paper ever published by the Record.

We just couldn't resist the opportunity to break that previous record so we set about over two months ago to work on this edition with a goal of 64 pages.

That it has been no small job may well be evidenced by the great number of pictures, the columns of type and the hundreds of ads.

Truthfully every one of us feels like taking a week's vacation and just relaxing, but no such luck ... we'll be right back on the job again with a three-section paper for you next Thursday.

We have never been much for living in the past ... the future has always looked best to us ... but we must reflect at this point that the growth of the Record has corresponded to that of the Hilltop. A year before the Record was founded, The Hilltop News, operated by Eugene Hensel and Estella Burnside, served this community, then a couple of thousand homes, with a small four-page paper. The Record started as a similar sized sheet.

One change led to another and back before the war when it became necessary to change the paper from one of free distribution to paid circulation we were hitting along at a break rate of six to eight pages per week. The community had grown to about 4000 homes at that time.

Today we estimate that the area comprising the Hilltop contains about 9500 homes and simultaneous to this growth, the Record, during the past year, has been a two section paper of 12, 14, 16, 20 or 24 pages per week.

Looking ahead, we see a bright future for the Hilltop. The next five years should find an additional 10,000 or more people making their homes in this western section of the city.

Coming events cast a shadow before them and we of the Record staff are not unaware of our responsibility to the community in the publication of a newspaper that is deserving to be called the mouthpiece of the Hilltop.

Today we are comfortably situated in our new and larger building, are training new help and adding to our staff, adding new machinery and equipment and in general are alerted to our job of publishing an ever larger and better Hilltop Record.

On the occasion of publishing No. 1 of Volume 31, we express our sincere appreciation to all who have assisted us so ably in presenting this special edition and to all the many business people who continue to find the Record advertising columns their best advertising investment, year in and year out.

We have reached the place where we feel "grown up." The Hilltop has grown up. Likewise we feel even business person on the Hilltop should take stock of the situation and prepare to serve this community in the "grown up" manner in which it deserves to be served.

The I Don't Like It Corner

1. There are 47,000 paid propagandists and publicity men costing the federal government $85,000,000 a year to maintain. If one-half this amount of money could be spent for education we would be aiding ourselves far more than by publicizing things that aren't worth publicizing.

Trustees To Get Petition Thurs. Night

The fight to call a special election in Franklin Township to settle the proposal to incorporate an area west of the city limits to be known as the Village of Camp Hill will be renewed Thursday night when a petition is to be presented to the board of trustees.

The petition was first presented to the trustees more than a year ago. Township officials at that time refused to take action on the matter. The issue was taken to the courts, eventually resulting in a supreme court verdict against the sponsors of the proposed incorporation plan. The new petition again asks that the election be called.

It is understood that the petition Thursday will bear more than 40 signatures of persons desiring the incorporation. Ed Lantz, 325 Derr-rd., is one of the sponsors of the plan.

The area considered for incorporation would include land bounded on the south by Sullivan-rd. and the Sullivan-rd. extension; on the west by the Franklin Township line; north by the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks and east by Wilson-rd. and the western corporate line.

It would include the new Fisher Body-Ternstedt plant and a considerable portion of farm land.

One change led to another and back before the war when it became necessary to change the paper from one of free distribution to paid circulation we were hitting along at a break rate of six to eight pages per week. The community had grown to about 4000 homes at that time.

Today we estimate that the area comprising the Hilltop contains about 9500 homes and simultaneous to this growth, the Record, during the past year, has been a two section paper of 12, 14, 16, 20 or 24 pages per week.

Looking ahead, we see a bright future for the Hilltop. The next five years should find an additional 10,000 or more people making their homes in this western section of the city.

Coming events cast a shadow before them and we of the Record staff are not unaware of our responsibility to the community in the publication of a newspaper that is deserving to be called the mouthpiece of the Hilltop.

Today we are comfortably situated in our new and larger building, are training new help and adding to our staff, adding new machinery and equipment and in general are alerted to our job of publishing an ever larger and better Hilltop Record.

On the occasion of publishing No. 1 of Volume 31, we express our sincere appreciation to all who have assisted us so ably in presenting this special edition and to all the many business people who continue to find the Record advertising columns their best advertising investment, year in and year out.

We have reached the place where we feel "grown up." The Hilltop has grown up. Likewise we feel even business person on the Hilltop should take stock of the situation and prepare to serve this community in the "grown up" manner in which it deserves to be served.

An active movement on the part of the Democrats to line up a Hilltop man for the forthcoming race for city council continued this week.

Jerry Spears, Jr., most prominently mentioned, stated he had not been approached by party chieftains. He did not state whether he would decline the opportunity to run if he was approached. He expressed an interest in public life and stated he had no further statement to make at this time.

Fred Williams, one of the owners of G. & W. Motors, has also been mentioned as a possible candidate.

A native of Columbus, he operates the Wintle Delivery Service at 52 Brickley-av. and 341 N. Fifth-st. He offers as his campaign slogan: "A businessman to do the city's business."

A Challenge To The Hilltop
Columbus industrialists and the public at large showed a genuine interest in the Fisher Body-Ternstedt plant during its dedication and open house last week. Approximately 12,000 persons from all over the city visited the modern automobile hardware factory during the two-day public showing.

The Hilltop is indeed fortunate in having this fine manufacturing center as a neighbor. The public showing turned much attention on the Hilltop itself as well as the new factory. Thousands of families are still looking for a location on which to build that "dream house." The Hilltop offers many choice locations.

The coming of the GM factory should serve as a challenge to the entire community. It should also serve as a stimulus to every business concern to be on its toes to give the public the best service in the most attractive surroundings possible.

Hundreds of GM employees are already Hilltop residents. The percentage of those yet to be employed will depend largely on the impression the Hilltop makes on them. It's a great opportunity for the community to sell itself to the entire city.

Service Acquired

Staging Troops Eat Dust

The great gathering of men and materiel for the invasion of Southern France took place in the vicinity of Naples. Vehicles were water proofed and the assault troops went through practice maneuvers for several weeks. Troops were staged in huge dusty fields. It was late July and the sun burned down day after day, parching the scrubby orchards and the perspiring men as well. The only relief came from the slight breezes that drifted in from the Mediterranean Sea. The area was correctly nicknamed "The dust bowl" and will be properly cursed during "bull sessions" from now on. At nightfall, malarial mosquitoes came in swarms and anyone who had been fortunate enough not to have been bitten up to that time was in great peril of finally getting the lingering parasite in his blood stream. By the expedient of keeping my sleeves rolled down at all times and using all the nets I could get as well as the vile smelling repellent, I and a few other extremely fortunate individuals somehow managed to avoid the sickness, which at one time or another, hospitalized about 75 per cent of our outfit. Some had it as many as six and seven times. So much starbline was consumed that our complexions became as yellow as early autumn pumpkins.

Abundance of PX Supplies
Life was not one of leisure in the Dust Bowl. We had no Italians to wash clothes. Indeed, there were no Italians for miles around, a bad situation for the vino drinkers because they had no one from whom to buy the stuff. Daily scrubbing parties would carry their clothes to a stream about a quarter of a mile away and spend the afternoon doing the laundry. I scrubbed so hard on a pair of fatigues with a GI brush that they fell to pieces a few weeks later.

Since we were the fair haired boys who were to make the invasion, the PX loosened up and issued double and triple rations of candy, cigarettes and soap. One day a weapons carrier full of the precious commodities pulled into the area and when everyone had purchased his full allotment, it made a big armful. The candy had to be eaten immediately or it would melt under the hot sun.

Wonders of all wonders, every man received six bottles of beer, the most precious fluid on that side of the Atlantic. It was cooled in the same stream where we washed our clothes. The bank was dotted with pegs to which the bottles were anchored. After remaining under the flowing water for a full day the beer was cold enough to drink. Brother was it appreciated!

Little Things Mean a Lot
This brings up a very significant thing about overseas life. The existence is so bare and so unadorned that the most simple pleasures, those which are taken for granted here in the States, take on a new and more profound meaning. A man's sense of appreciation becomes infinitely more acute. He gets the utmost enjoyment out of basic things—things which are lost sight of in our complex manner of living, where people are constantly striving for pleasure, failing to realize some of the good things that they have at their fingertips. A man overseas appreciates a much more a hot meal because he doesn't always get a hot meal, or a hot shower because he often goes many weeks without a chance to wash, a bed to sleep in because much of the time he sleeps on the ground. He appreciates a cold bottle of beer on a warm day or a hot cup of coffee on a cold day. His sense of appreciation is classic because these things are rare treats, not something that can be had for the asking.

Cowboys Down Arlington 7 to 1

Paul Theisen, making his first appearance on the mound for West High School this season, held Arlington to four hits while the Cowboys were winning 7 to 1 at Magly Field Thursday afternoon.

An improved brand of ball handling, sparked by spectacular fielding by Don Borror and Dick Kirk, contributed much to the non-league win.

West mustered six hits and committed one error. Theisen fanned three men. Jerry Chinn worked behind the plate for the Cowboys. The battery for Arlington was Milhon, relieved by Hoag in the sixth and Robbins.

The score by innings was as follows:

West	0	1	1	0	0	5	2	7

The game scheduled with Central on the downtown diamond Friday afternoon was postponed because of wet grounds.

Capretta Grocery A Family Affair

Carl Capretta, 247 Midland-av., is speaking literally when he refers to his grocery business as a family store.

During the 13 years he has owned and operated Capretta's Super Market at 2006 Sullivant-av., eight of his nine children have worked at the store, learning the grocery business firsthand.

Carl, Jr., Dorothy, Robert, Harold, Raymond, who is now the manager, John, Agnes and Ruth have all worked under Papa Carl's direction. The youngest, Catherine, will no doubt make it 100 per cent when she is a few years older.

Four sons, Robert, Harold, Raymond and John, are veterans of World War II.
Mr. Capretta was instrumental in organizing the recently incorporated, Buckeye Foods.

Residential And Industrial Expansion Is Outstanding

For a long time Hilltoppers have prided themselves in the fact that they own their own homes. The high percentage of occupant-owned residences was evident before World War II and has certainly increased since that time.

Industrial life on the Hilltop is something that is yet comparatively new. The post-war era is witnessing an unprecedented trend in this direction. The extent to which it may develop is purely a matter of conjecture. This section of the 30th anniversary edition of The Hilltop Record is an attempt to review the progress in both the residential and industrial aspects of the development of the Hilltop and surrounding areas. We expect to see rapid advancement in both directions in the future.

Building Boom

By Paul Wichterman

The Hilltop will continue to grow "by leaps and bounds."

We hear that statement made many times in our round of the Hilltop and today we begin to believe it ourselves. There are many good arguments to substantiate the view that once building materials and labor are available in sufficient quantity, and at a price that the average home-owner can afford to pay, we will have several thousand new homes in and around the Hilltop.

In the first place it is a recognized fact that Columbus has been and will continue to be a growing metropolitan center. For population to increase there must be new building to accommodate it. The Hilltop and western area of the city limits is one section where there is little to hamper the continued building of homes in favorable surroundings.

Secondly, the coming of the Fisher Body-Trenstedt plant in itself will give rise to the need for several hundred conveniently located homes. More industry can be expected in the future now that utilities are available west of the city.

A third reason is to be found in the fact that we now have stores and business establishments of almost every kind in the community. Modern business centers in the outlying communities attract new residents to those areas. People like to live where there are the greatest numbers of conveniences already at hand.

Fourth, but by no means last in importance, is the fact that Hilltoppers for years have been a man's service as representatives of a non-existent chamber of commerce. Did you ever hear a "dye in the wool" Hilltopper "talk up" his neighborhood in some other section of the city? They've been doing it for years and with such a degree of sincerity that they have won converts literally by the hundreds. It's no idle prophecy that says, "once a Hilltopper, always a Hilltopper." Scores of former residents here are coming back some day to a home of their own on the Hilltop. Many of them found houses sold out from under them during the late days of the war when real estate prices were booming. They were forced to take up residence in some other section of the city because they couldn't find a place to live here, but they'll be back.

Of course the extent of the building boom on the Hilltop is contingent on several things—if and when prices begin to settle back to the place where the working man can afford to build his own home. The general condition of business during the next 10 years, too, will have an important bearing on how extensive this boom will be.

Already most of the vacant lots on the Hilltop have been purchased so that the number of homes that can be built in the city proper is limited by space. However, several housing projects of considerable proportions have been planned and will be carried out as soon as conditions warrant.

Rome has been expecting to see a large scale home building project started in that area. The extension of city water and sewerage mains into outlying areas will undoubtedly encourage building in the outlying sectors. The Brown Road community to the south offers many desirable building locations close to downtown and near transportation facilities.

Rodgers Is Mayor Of Valleyview

Mayor of the Incorporated Village of Valleyview, population 500, is Archibald Rodgers, 3678 Valleyview-dr.

The village was incorporated in 1939. Rodgers is the second mayor to hold the office.

Joseph Onneman is president pro tem of the village council. Other members are George Halliday, Charles Ringer, Frank Seip, Edward Keleman and Henry Whipple.

L. M. Blum is the village marshal and John Laner is his assistant. Thelma Turner is clerk and Mrs. Alma Turner is the village treasurer.

G M Plant Includes Late Factory Ideas

The new Fisher Body-Trenstedt plant on Georgesville-rd is one of the nation's most modern manufacturing centers.

The productive "know how" of a nation at war plus years of peacetime manufacturing were drawn upon in planning this, the first of General Motors' post-war plants.

To give a few statistics, there are 89,000 window lights of a special glass which holds back the sun's heat-producing rays; 10 miles of fluorescent lighting tubes; electrically operated windows and air-changing apparatus; and a plant relatively cool on hot summer days; every conceivable safety device has been included on the operating machinery to cut down on the accident rate; conveyors keep parts moving from one operation to another—eliminating to a great extent the necessity for manual handling; wood block floor makes work less tiring for employees.

Approximately 1800 persons are already at work in the plant engaged in the manufacture of hardware for General Motors cars. More than 400 separate items are produced here. It is estimated that 90 per cent of these workers are local residents.

The plant was officially dedicated April 22 when Charles Wilson, president of GM, was present for the special ceremonies. Thousands of members of the employees' families and the public at large took advantage of the opportunity of seeing this new factory during the open house Tuesday and Wednesday.

James L. Conlon is the resident manager of the plant.

4200 Hilltoppers Served Country During Last War

More than 4200 Hilltop men and women served or are still serving in the armed forces since the start of World War II. Selective Service Headquarters officials revealed several months ago.

The above figure includes persons inducted or enlisted at local boards 11, 12 and 13. (All boards were discontinued as of April 1.) Board 11 handled more than 2000 inductions and enlistments. Board 12 had almost 1000 while Board 13 accounted for more than 1200.

9500 Families Make Up Hilltop

There are approximately 9500 homes and apartments in the area bounded by Central-av on the east and including everything to the city limits south, west and north. This figure is given out by a city-wide distributing agency that works the community frequently.

It is estimated that 425 Hilltoppers live in each of these 9500 residences. (That was the average according to the 1940 census.) This would mean that approximately 40,000 persons live in the area generally described as the Hilltop. This would not include several hundred more persons living in Valleyview and other adjacent communities.

Home Ownership Is Outstanding

The Hilltop lays claim to having the highest percentage of occupant-owned homes of any section of the city.

Figures are not available to establish that fact conclusively since there has not been a census taken since 1940. However, there is little reason to feel that the trend toward home ownership has declined—more than likely it has increased as a result of the housing shortage. The Hilltop led all other sections of the city in home ownership in 1940.

As a result of the high percentage of occupant owned homes, vacancies are lower than in any other area. Rental properties enjoyed a high rate of occupancy even before World War II.

July 23, 1938—A free bean dinner with an extensive entertainment program was planned to be one of the biggest Hilltop events in years. It was sponsored by the Hilltop Business Men's Association.

350 Homes Built On Hilltop The Past Year; Many More Planned

An estimated 350 homes were built during the past year or are now in the final stages of construction, a survey of the Hilltop reveals. It is expected that this number will be substantially increased this year with the possibility that it may double should housing materials "ease up" in the early summer months.

The largest single builder in the community last year was Tontl Brothers, Inc., who completed 105 new homes valued at $1,006,000. These were all single units built to be financed on the GI loan plan.

Just a few days ago the firm announced plans for building 90 brick duplexes in the vicinity of West High School with an estimated value of $1,000,000. Two four-family apartments are under construction directly opposite the school building, with one having been completed and occupied recently. The duplexes are to be ultra modern in design with five rooms per unit, heated with automatic gas heat.

Tibbals Builds 73 Homes

Todd Tibbals completed 73 single homes in the Westgate Park section last year with three more just now nearing completion.

These homes are in the $10,400 class and were built for re-sale.

Tibbals recently announced the start of a $400,000 frame double building project to be started on 24 lots on S. Powell-av. The project will provide living quarters for 68 families.

The Westmoor Building Co., 692 Butler-av, completed 29 brick single homes on Butler-av during the past year. Fourteen others are now under construction with 16 more just getting under way. The houses are built to sell in the $8300 class and are fully plastered, with hardwood floors throughout.

A score or more other contractors have built from one to a half dozen houses each in scattered sections of the Hilltop. Many of these homes have gone up on single lots that have lain idle for years on streets that were built up a long time ago.

The price of desirable building lots has gone up considerably as the demand has increased for housing sites.

Prefabs Built Here

A new development in the housing field on the Hilltop during the past year has been the construction of prefabricated houses in the Phillip McDonald Lumber Co. plant on N. Eureka-av.

Twenty of the units have already been completed by the Roe Columbus Co., headed by Pete Stinchcomb, former all-American football player, and the Larcomb Brothers. The firm has leased the mill facilities of the lumber company and has been in operation for approximately six months.

Forty men are employed in the plant at present and it is expected that 200 houses will be manufactured during the coming year. One house has been constructed at 108 N. Westgate-av, and 10 others are to go up on S. Roys-av and Wiltshire-rd.

The houses are built to sell for $8500 to $8600 (including lot), completely erected. They are available in five different elevations in story and a half design. The inside walls are plywood with plywood sheathing. Conventional siding is used.

It is expected that most of the firm's production of prefabricated houses will be erected on the Hilltop.

HILLTOP BUSINESS EXPANSION RAPID

Industry, Business, New Homes Seen On The Hilltop

Several New Stores Open Here Recently

Business expansion and residential construction have reached a new high on the Hilltop since the war. The construction of the Fisher Body-Trenstedt plant at Georgesville-rd, itself a multi-million dollar project, has set off a series of industrial moves toward the Hilltop with more expected to follow as soon as building materials are available.

The upturn in the building of residential properties can be attributed partly to the coming of the auto hardware factory but much of it would probably have developed even without this added stimulus.

Without going into detail on any single project, here are a few of the new businesses, industrial and retail, that have located in the community during the last year.

On Mound-st the Columbus Plastic Co. and the Nippert Electric Co. recently completed new factory buildings and are now relocated here, while the Savage Construction Co. located there about a year ago. Another plastics firm, the John R. Haines Co., took over the old Voss Building, 2506 W. Broad-st.

Since the first of the year the Columbus Stationery Co. and the Westgate Hardware have moved to new quarters in the new K and D Building, 3109 W. Broad-st. Two weeks ago the new Sparks-Kent Super Market moved into a newly-constructed building just west of Haldy-av on W. Broad-st. The Westgate Superette and the L and K Sandwich Shop were opened to the public early in the winter on two corners at Sylvan-av and Broad-st.

The new Hilltop Record Building at 2465 W. Broad-st was opened to the public last summer a short while after the Hilltop Sporting Goods Co. opened a store in the east half of the building. Early last summer Tontl Brothers completed a large building just east of the Hilltop Bank housing the Key's 5 and 10c Store, West Hill Furniture, and offices for the Tontl Builders, Inc., Sayer Realty, Guy Celli, attorney, and Superior Roofing.

The Esquire Men's Clothing Store and the Hilltopper Sandwich Shop opened to the public last fall. The Westgate Restaurant and the Hilltop Photo Supply recently opened for business in the Westgate sector of Broad-st.

On Sullivan-av Gus Johnson built a building near Central on Sullivan-av that now houses the A. H. Butler Furniture Co. and an Icahy Dairy Store. The Hilltop Hardware opened for business just west of Hague-av almost one year ago.

In the block between Wheatland and Highland-avs on W. Broad-st, Nelson Appliances, Ohio Advertising Distributing Co., and the S. E. Weaver Co. have located in recent months. A little farther west are the White Chef Sandwich Shop and Kirk's, an up-to-the-minute home appliance shop.

Other new business firms include Time Motors, Hilltop Jewelers, Hughes Four Restaurant, Bob Meade Jeweler and the Hilltop Garage and Service Station.

Reports of other business expansion programs and new business ventures are numerous. Most of the persons financially concerned prefer to wait for a more favorable time to reveal their plans. However, the following projects seem more or less definite at this time:

A new ultra modern motion picture theater; a large modern restaurant with sufficient

This group of pictures is representative of the recent development of the Hilltop from the standpoint of industrial and residential expansion.

At the top left view of the recently completed Fisher Body-Trenstedt plant erected on Georgesville-rd, just west of the city. Two shifts of workers are already turning out large quantities of hardware used in the General Motors automobiles.

The left center section shows a number of new homes built on Whitesboro-av during the past year; the new Nippert Electric plant on W. Mound-st and the recently occupied plant of the Columbus Plastics Company, also on W. Mound-st.

At right center are some new homes on Blinn-bvd, south of Sullivan-av, and two of the new brick apartments being completed directly across the street from West High School on Powell-av.

The lower panel of houses is representative of many similar homes going up in the Westgate sector.

All these pictures bear out the fact that the Hilltop is developing rapidly. In all probability there will be other factories and hundreds of additional homes to be built during the next few years.

Central-av Project To House 36 Vets

The Central Avenue Veterans Housing Project, Central and McKinley-avs, will provide homes for 36 veterans and their families when completed.

Ten living units were completed shortly after April 1 with others to follow in the next few days.

The project is a part of the 451 temporary housing units being built for veterans in an effort to cope with the desperate need for homes in Columbus. At the beginning of April more than 7000 applications for living quarters were on file with housing authorities.

Motorized Mail Delivery Is Idea Of Hilltop Mailman

The inventive genius of a Hilltopper may revolutionize the United States mail system.

Mark Bowen, 2855 W. Broad-st., hit upon the idea of motorized mail delivery 18 years ago and has worked on it to such an extent that his plan and the flock of ideas he's accumulated with it are being considered by the Committee of Improvements of the U. S. Post Office. Bowen's idea is accepted and put into practical use, mail men will cease wearing out their shoes and can avoid "aching backs" after a rush mail season such as Christmas or Valentine's Day. Instead they will travel block to block in a "closed delivery truck, stopping once each block to deliver mail and packages.

Mr. Bowen, who has been carrying mail with the Columbus Post Office for 26 years, first thought of motorized mail when he saw a grocery on wheels. Several others have conceived a similar idea but neither Mr. Bowen nor his contemporaries wished to displace men at their jobs, and consequently hesitated in broaching the subject. During the war a scarcity of materials made the project impossible.

Under the new system, each truck would carry two men and could possibly cover the same territory that three men on foot are capable of covering. The truck would be equipped with a heater to keep warm during cold weather, would carry all types of parcel post packages, and would deliver the mail in an improved condition from what it is oftentimes under the present system.

The new system would eliminate what is known as load "swinging" terminology used when a carrier's spine gets out of line from a load. Bowen pointed out that it would also conserve energy of the carriers.

Bowen is a philosopher who reads a book a week as he rides the bus to and from downtown, and he spends many spare hours at the Hilltop Branch Library and the main library, studying the theoretical ideas of famous authors.

He and his wife, Zetta, have five sons, all Hilltop residents, Homer, Marcus, Wayne, Leland and Ralph.

His most recent venture is a new lock for mail boxes which would eliminate the padlock type of closing, replacing it with an automatic lock closely resembling a night latch.

capacity to handle large household groups and parties; a new hardware store; at least three or four sugar service stations; a farm implement repair and distribution center; headquarters for an oil distributing center, and a large 5c and 10c store.

Reports have been current for months on no less than three separate bowling and recreation centers with one to include a drive-in theater and several other innovations.

Columbus Plastic Largest Firm Of Its Type In City

Columbus Plastic Products, Inc., which was organized in October, 1938, is the largest and oldest firm of its kind in the city. The company moved to the Hilltop recently, when its new factory building at 1625 W. Mound-st. was completed.

The firm, which employs almost 200 persons, was formerly located at 595 Dublin-av. The company is engaged in the molding, fabricating and assembling of plastics. They do both custom molding and the molding and assembling of their own products.

Tool handles, display boxes, knobs, insulator parts, refrigerator parts and cosmetic containers are a few of the more than 300 articles which the company has produced.

They also make a complete variety of houseware items and a complete line of bathroom fixtures for sale through their own national sales organization.

The officers of the company are G. W. Keny 2070 Wilson-rd., president; G. W. Kelly 3292 Wicklow-rd., superintendent; W. J. Braley, 2371 Selsey Park-dr., secretary and treasurer; and D. S. Poulton, 1665 Northwest-blvd., sales manager.

23 Carriers Are Needed on Hilltop

It takes 23 carriers to deliver mail to the Hilltop and surrounding areas. These 23 carriers are the Hilltop Branch of the Post Office. Peak loads of mail require the added service of substitute carriers during the year.

The Hilltop Branch of the Post Office through this station has been of the gradual increase for a number of years. In 1935, 13 carriers were able to handle all of the mail. Carriers average about 400 stops each in making a single delivery.

John Raymond has served as superintendent of the local office since it was opened in 1930. Poor health has kept him from his work for several weeks. He will retire about July 1, according to plans announced several months ago.

Typical Hilltop Scene

This building scene photographed a few days ago on W. Mound-st. near the Mound Street School is typical of dozens of other building projects now under way on the Hilltop. These two-story homes will be completed and ready for house-hungry occupants by early summer.

Nippert Electric Large Producer Of Commutators

The Nippert Electric Products Co., 1759 W. Mound-st., is now perhaps the second largest commercial producer of commutators in the country. The firm was begun in 1934, with Paul Nippert as president, and has since that time grown to a company with 23 employees.

In the beginning the company specialized in automotive electrical repair. Now its only product is the commutator, which is used in generators, light automotive and aircraft, starters, electric drills, hand grinders and vacuum cleaners.

The company just moved into its new quarters the first of last July, from 327 E. Broad-st. At that time the firm became a corporation, with Paul Nippert, 263 S. Roys-av., president; John E. Nippert, 632 S. Roys-av., vice-president and L. A. Brickner, 405 Glenmont-av., secretary.

During the war Nippert manufactured more than a quarter of a million precision-built commutators for aircraft motors and generators. These were used chiefly in army and navy planes.

Haines Plastics Firm Moved Here One Year Ago

Celebrating its first year as a Hilltop manufacturing concern is John R. Haines and Associates, located since April, 1946, in the old Voss Building, 2506 W. Broad-st.

Mr. Haines, who was a pioneer in the development and application of plastics, is now owner of his own plastic corporation, which is currently producing coil materials for use over telephone cords and in the manufacture of ladies' handbags.

Haines realizes that plastic has assumed its place in the buyer's eye as a most versatile material, and estimates that as soon as more materials are available, the market for plastic goods will increase.

First locating his factory at 2527 N. High-st., Haines' organization made numerous items for the armed services and for large firms doing war contract work, including aircraft manufacturers. The company later outgrew the space there, necessitating the move to the W-st. location.

Jan. 11, 1946—Richard Francis, 770 S. Richardson-av., was elected president of the West High Boosters.

Camp Chase Prison Was First Hilltop Activity; Once Housed 3400 Prisoners

The first institution of any type on the Hilltop was Camp Chase, the notorious prison camp of the Civil War days.

At the time of the camp's construction (April, 1861) the surrounding territory was barren except for an occasional farm house which nestled among a group of trees here and there.

The camp received its first Confederate prisoner on June 29, 1861, and at the time of Lee's surrender at Appomattox there were more than 3400 interned there. It was named for Salmon P. Chase, then secretary of the treasury of the United States and a former governor of Ohio.

The only traces of the prison, which one newspaper described as "horrible", are the officers' headquarters at what is now 57 S. Hague-av. and the cemetery on Sullivan-av. where 2260 Confederate soldiers lay buried.

The health of the prisoners thrown into the prison's dungeon was usually permanently impaired. Those who attempted to escape were suspended for hours at a time by their thumbs or shot in the legs. One prisoner described conditions at the camp as follows: "I have no words at my command with which to describe the horrors of the Yankee prison at Camp Chase. One would have to follow Dante in his descent to hell, to find an approach to it."

After attacks by local newspapers on conditions at the camp, larger prison quarters were constructed and the camp was given a thorough cleaning.

Hundreds of persons from all parts of the South visit the Confederate cemetery each year, in which are interred the remains of the prisoners.

A hundred prisoners went on strike at Auburn Prison because Governor Dewey vetoed three parole bills. For a man who obviously is trying to be President, the Governor doesn't seem very concerned about the possibilities of an extra hundred voters at the polls in 1948.

English film studio hairdressers went on strike because Paulette Goddard's hair was done by an imported Hollywood expert. Sounds almost dis-tressing.

Red army soldiers in Germany are related every three or four months, it is theorized, to keep them from getting too used to the pleasures of life outside the Soviet. Evidently one of Stalin's anti-capital ideas.

Review of Hilltop Poets--Something About Their Lives--Things They Write About

MABEL MADER JONES.
Mrs. Jones, 75 N. Ogden-av., is not a prolific writer but her poetry is excellent and is written in a style that is original and altogether delightful. The wife of John F. Jones, she is the mother of three daughters. Judy, the youngest, is co-editor of that fine "Around West High" column in THE RECORD.

Mrs. Jones' poetry has appeared in THE RECORD and other local papers. She is active in church work and is Guardian of The Hilltop Harmon Club, a group of older Camp Fire Girls. She has written poetry about 30 years; her hobbies are her daughters and poetry. Here is a poem by this gracious Hilltop lady:

A MOMENT.
A moment is an airy thing,
A fairy's magic pocketbook,
Contentment will release the spring—
So anyone can take a look.
For it may hold a precious thing—
A flower, a friend, or just a thought

To help you find a magic ring
With which more happiness is bought.
But if with wishing and with worry
You burden each bright moment,
It will burst, and in a hurry
Lose beauty and spill discontent.

MAYBELLE MILLIKIN

Mrs. Millikin, whose home is at 83 S. Warren-av., is another Hilltop poet who has had a book of her poems published, although she has been writing only a few years. Her interests are many and varied. Besides writing, she has found time to take an active part in church and club affairs. She spent many years in YMCA and YWCA work; she inaugurated the first cookie sale held in Columbus for the benefit of the Girl Scouts; has helped organize the Columbus Alumni of Wittenburg College and the Logan County Association. Mrs. Millikin's nature poems are especially good. Following is a poem from her book, "DREAMS THAT SING": HANDS

Beautiful hands so full of grace,
Dainty to tapering finger tips,
Soft and white as duchess lace
Callantly raised to adoring lips...

Withered hands that speak of toil,
Hardened and worn with care,
Rough and reddened by work and soil
Yet to her children, fair.

OLA S. RUNYAN

Mrs. Ola S. Rudyan, 125 S. Wayne-av., is a quiet, unassuming lady who usually signs her fine poems with her initials only. She has written poetry since she was a child, and has a 24-page book of poems to her credit. The book, published last year by THE HILLTOP RECORD, is entitled "STARLIGHT AND OTHER POEMS," and contains 41 of her best poems. Her chief hobby is reading. Here is a poem from her

SHE BRINGS CHEER TO MANY

Esther Weakley

Friend of dozens of shut-ins and known to thousands of central Ohio readers is Esther Weakley, 3 Balvidere-av., poetry editor of The Hilltop Record and the Columbus Citizen. Mrs. Weakley is responsible for compiling the short biography that accompanies the poetry of the local writers found on this page.

book which I consider outstanding:

CLAUDIA
She makes herself a smart new hat,
And then she bakes a pie;
Types a while, and then just sits,
Watching the world go by.

She talks of learned things, and folks,
Psychology and such,
Of Schubert, Shakespeare, Schopenhauer,
And then with magic touch

She makes some lines and cliffs and bars,
And strings some notes along,
And then she writes some lovely words—
And there's a brand new song.

She sweeps the porch and steps and walk,
And scrubs the basement stair;
She cooks and irons and sews and dusts,
And then with courage rare

She climbs up on the roof that leaks.

Stops every leaking hole;
And then she writes a poem that
Has power to thrill the soul.

O Life, and Time, and Fate,
Shield her
From all fierce winds that blow,
And grant her heart's desires, I beg,
Because I love her so.

REV. ENOCH C. SMITH

The Reverend Mr. Smith is too well-known on the Hilltop to need this introduction, and anyway the day I attempted to interview him for this sketch he just wasn't talking—about himself, that is. Hilltoppers who have read his book, "A POEM OF THE CHRIST," know that he is indeed a poet, although he modestly says the book is not an effort to compete with the poets of the world; that he does not claim to be a poet. Rev. Smith is pastor of the Hilltop Church of Christ, and lives with his wife and daughter at 130 S. Burgess-av.

Here is a recent poem, written for THE RECORD:

THE HITCH-RACK BAR

Beyond the front yard gate, ajar,
The double-posted Hitch-Rack Bar
With weathered ends and whitened rail,
Bore many a scar of knife or gale.

And over it a hedge tree made
A canopy of sheltering shade;
While sticky apples, large and round,
Were oozing cream upon the ground.

Once stood this relic of the past,
To which men hitched their horses fast.
The cross-tie, carved with letters rude
By members of the family brood

Sagged low beneath the youthful weight
Of trapeze-artists' human freight;
For boyhood stunts, throughout the years
Brought hitch-rack joys and sometimes tears.

The strong end posts of worn oak wood
For years on end have stood and stood;
And by each one a pebbly mound
Was fashioned from the gravelly ground

Which champing, stamping horses made
While waiting on some man or maid
To dress for town, or eat a meal,
Or finish flirting and close the deal.

There stood the ploughman's steady team,
Before the day of gasoline;
There champed the pacer on his bit,
With arched neck and muscle fit;

There petted ponies bared their backs
To carry children—precious packs—
There lovers' sleek and fleeting steeds
Supplied the speed for social needs.

And now it's gone—and shall we mean?

No pacing Bay or trotting Roan
To keep it company? No Stud
With stately step, or fiery blood
To give it prominence? Unused,
Unowned, and by all hands abused,
It has been taken and effaced,
But not from memory erased!

The modern motors' hum and whirl;
The atom bombs' and rockets' swirl;
This new-born era, gorged with greed
And satiated sore with speed

All rush on by and seem to say,
"The horse and rack have had their day."

But still one has a heart-felt jar,
To hear "Farewell, old Hitch-Rack Bar."

VIRGINIA EATON

Mrs. Eaton is one of the Hilltop's best-known poets, since her exquisite poetry has been published in many national fiction magazines, including GOOD HOUSEKEEPING and LADIES' HOME JOURNAL. She is also in demand as a speaker and reader of verse. Her work has appeared in several text-books, and in the volume of historical poetry which was compiled by William Boylin of Chicago, which is an outstanding honor. Former president of the Versa Writers' Guild, she is a member of many organizations, including the Central Ohio Branch of Pen-Women.

The wife of Harry M. Eaton, her home is at 418 S. Ross-av. A few years ago, a volume of her poems was published by Loring

E. Williams of Cleveland, in appreciation of the high quality of poetry she contributed to various magazines. The poem which follows is reprinted from this book, the title of which is "LAUGHTER THROUGH TEARS."

BEYOND WINTER

I swept up leaves and burned them yesterday,
Such small green leaves spring hung upon my tree!
Smoke blew like slender pennants swiftly gray
Across the sky, and flames ran laughingly
Among them, scarlet-shod, until not one Small golden leaf remained when day was done.

Time burns our dreams to ash, but as each ember
Flares brightly for a moment and goes out—
Their loveliness is ours to remember.
And we can see beyond all searing doubt,
Beyond the winter where our dead dreams lie
A blur of green against an April sky.

More About Hilltop Poets And Their Works

WELLIE GRAY AMSBARY

Mrs. Ambsary, who lives at 202 N. Harris-av., is a poet who writes under great difficulty, since she must do her typing with one hand. A semi-invalid for the past few years, she is uncomplicated and cheerful and does not allow her health to interfere with her writing. She has written many plays and songs which have been used on church programs; a scenario which was accepted by a movie studio, and is now planning a novel. A former art teacher, she paints with words and crayon the interesting things she saw when she was able to travel. She was occupational therapist at Columbus State Hospital for 17 years. Mrs. Ambsary has won prizes for her short stories and has heard her poem read many times on the radio. The other hobby is music; she has done some composing. Most of her poems are of religious nature.

The following poem, reprinted from "SPIRIT OF THE FREE," a verse anthology, is a typical example of this versatile lady:

EASTER PRAYER

Dear Father, may we keep each day
The forgiving spirit of Him
Whose glory outshone the cross,
And illumined the way that opens Eternity's door.
May the radiance of His resurrection linger on Through our lives,
And a tempered world,
Serve as a divine protection
And symbol of righteousness.
Dear Father, may creed, not greed,
Raise our souls to share the glory
Of immortality, which, after death,
Is our only need

And hope that resurrection brings.

MARY RUTAN BYERLY

Mrs. Byerly lives at 235 S. Harris-av.; is the wife of A. J. Byerly and mother of five children. Her poetry has been printed in a number of newspapers, verse magazines and verse anthologies. A collection of her poems has been published and warmly acclaimed by the many admirers of her work. Her hobbies are quilting and making scrapbooks. Two of her poems have been set to music. The following poem by Mrs. Byerly is reprinted from her book, entitled "POEM PETALS." It is typical of her nature poems:

THE STAR-STEMMED NIGHT
The starry-lighted dome was made
For more than flurry when day is through;

More than jarring inharmonies—
The night brings treasured dreams of you . . .

Whispering zephyrs among the pines,
A window lamp and its soft glow
That sheds its light out on a path
Where tulips and the iris grow.

The juniper's posing shadow on the grass
Capped with lustrous dew—
After, "the sweat upon my face"
The star-gemmed night brings rest and you.

ANNABEL CRAWFORD

Annabel Crawford, aged 17, is a senior at West High School. After graduation in June she will enter Ohio State's Arts and Sciences College. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Crawford, she lives with them at 2959 Palmetto-st. Annabel is a feature writer on West High's "OCCIDENT." She recently won first prize in the city for her criticism on a performance given by the Columbus Philharmonic Orchestra in a contest sponsored by that organization. She also won second prize last year in a high school poetry contest. Her hobbies are writing and music; she plays the Spanish guitar. I predict this young lady will go far. She has great talent and it is a joy to know her. One of her recent poems follows, written expressly for THE RECORD:

YOUTH TO AGE

The snow of ages sweeps your hair
Yet you were young like me.
Your eye is dulled by time gone by.
Yet there is much you see
Of things that were and are to be.

With lined face placid and serene,
You wait the end, while I Am but beginning on the road
And yet before you lie Vast thresholds greater than the sky.

William D. Campbell

William D. Campbell is perhaps more widely known than most of the poets of the Hilltop, though not for his poetry, since he is not a prolific writer of verse. He has been art instructor at West Senior High since the school was built. Prior to that, he was art director in the Columbus public schools for 14 years. He also traveled with Redpath and other chautauquas for five years, lecturing on the subject "Better Homes." For the past nine summers he has conducted camping trips for boys; this summer he will take six boys to an island in Lake George, N. Y., for two months. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell are the parents of two daughters. One is assistant art professor at Ohio State; the other is married to Dr. J. C. Brown, orthopedic surgeon. There are two granddaughters. Mr. Campbell's hobbies are camping, the radio and writing of verse. He also plays piano. He organized the first symphony orchestra in Columbus, in 1911. This orchestra was comprised of pupils from Columbus schools, and for four years gave concerts in the Southern Theatre. Proceeds from the concerts were donated to "the penny lunch fund" for the benefit of school children. The orchestra members were selected by auditioning; at one time there were 33 violins in this group, which was praised highly by H. E. Cherrington, then music and dramatic editor of The Columbus Dispatch.

The highest tribute I can pay this fine man is in quote what my grocery boy, a pupil at West, said about him. When asked if he knew Mr. Campbell, he said, "God, yes—he's TOPSI!" Mr. Campbell is one of two honorary members of Sigma Pi. Here is a Mother's Day poem written by him:

MY MOTHER

Just a memory of you, Mother
dear,
Grand, positive soul, without a fear
Of taunts or supercilious beings.
Ever present; near.
Thanks for the memory, woman without a peer.

Just a memory, O my Mother
dear,
As I gaze on your picture, in my eyes a tear.
Of sorrow . . . No—in a glorious reflection clear
That, transcendent before me . . .
your voice I hear.

ETHEL TITUS WORTHEN

Mrs. Ethel Titus Worthen has been writing poetry about 22 years. It has been widely published; two of her poems have been set to music. She published a collection of her poems in 1936. She is active in church work; her hobbies are poetry and music. This gallant lady has reared nine children, alone, her husband having died when the children were small. Four of her sons were in service during the war. Following is a poem by Mrs. Worthen, who lives at 2567 W. Broad-st. It depicts her sincerity and her faith:

LOOK UP

Look up to the starlit heavens—
Man cannot stand alone;
O world, keep faith, with courage new:
God still is on His throne.

Our strength and wisdom are futile—
Reach out and take His hand.
Look up to the starlit heavens;
Let God guide and command.

HOPE WHITE GIBSON

The home of Mrs. Gibson and her sister, Miss Lella White, at 142 N. Ogden-av., could well be called one of the Hilltop's "culture spots." Here, Mrs. Gibson paints and writes her lovely poetry and Miss White teaches voice and also paints. Mrs. Gibson is an artist of note, having exhibited her work twice at Mill-cent Easter's art gallery at the Southern Hotel. Twelve of her paintings are on exhibit in the Associates' Hobby Show at the F. & R. Lazarus & Co., where she has been employed the past 22 years.

Mrs. Gibson's poetry has appeared often in THE HILLTOP RECORD and THE COLUMBUS CITIZEN and in magazines. It has been read frequently on the radio. She is at present preparing an illustrated book manuscript. Both her poems and her paintings are original and have been given high praise by critics. Here is a short poem, reprinted from THE COLUMBUS CITIZEN:

PRELUDE TO NIGHT

When twilight's purple draperies
Wrap the earth in mystic sheen
The stars are lighted candles
Heid aloft by hands unseen.

Then the moon's swift magic fingers
Pick up threads of silver light
And weave a glittering pattern
On the somber wings of night.

CLAUDIA M. ADAMS

Miss Adams is one of the younger and better-known Hilltop poets. A graduate of West High, she lives with her mother at 438 S. Warren-av., having recently returned from Nevada and California, where she taught school for two or three years. She has won many awards for her excellent poetry, which has appeared in local newspapers and many verse magazines. Her hobbies are music, reading and dogs. Here is a poem by this charming and accomplished young writer, reprinted from THE COLUMBUS DISPATCH:

EGO UNSATISFIED

If grief should corrode the will,
and care the heart
That never more on lips would be a gleam of mirth, a touch of song.

Still would come the rippling laughter of the river, the music of the wind.
It would not matter that all gaiety, all happiness was gone.

If all dream-kindled lights should be extinguished
For all of time, from every eye . . .
It would not matter . . . still would there be lights upon the firmament . . .
And not a moon to care, not a star to wonder why.
It would not matter . . . If love should never walk this way again . . .

Child Conservation League Has Four Hilltop And West Side Associates

The Capital League of the Child Conservation League of Columbus is one of four associated with the Hilltop and West Side. This league is the only one whose members do not live in the same immediate vicinity, but are scattered over the city. The other three local groups are the Randolph, Westmont and Westwood Leagues.

On Sept. 18, 1945, a group of eight mothers met at the home of Mrs. John Louis Seman, 580 S. Wayne-av., and resolved to call themselves the "Child Guidance Club." On Feb. 19, 1946, they became affiliated with the city and state Child Conservation League and took the name of Capital League.

The group meets on the third Tuesday of each month, September through May, at the homes of the members.

One of the main requirements of the leagues is that to become a member, one must first be a mother.

The purpose of the groups is "to make more worthy and effective the relationship of parents with their children, in their home and in the community." Better and happier children and parents is the ultimate end. The regular CCL study course is followed and supplemented by speakers on related subjects. The Capital group is at present primarily concerned with the pre-school child.

The present membership of the Capital League totals 15 and includes the following officers: Mrs. Robert Borel, 38 Powhatan-av., president; Mrs. Don Birch-av., Jr., 1384 W. Sixth-av., first vice-president; Mrs. Richard Chambers, 121 E. Whittier-st., second vice-president; Mrs. John Mohn, 2351 Maryland-av., secretary; Mrs. John Louis Seman, 580 S. Wayne-av., treasurer; and Mrs. A. W. Horning, formerly of the Hilltop, now of the Normandie Hotel, corresponding secretary.

Randolph League

The Randolph Child Conservation League was the first of the four leagues established on the Hilltop. It came into being in September, 1938, at the home of Mrs. Eldon Markel, 382 Belvidere-av. The charter members included Mrs. Markel, Mrs. Carey Allen, Mrs. Wendell Griffith, Mrs. Gordon Mott, Mrs. George Michaels, Mrs. Leroy Seba and Mrs. David Caton. Mrs. George Michaelis, Unconcerned, "Spring" "cult" return; yet would there be daffodils.

And yet would spread, head-high, the glory of the lilacs . . . Still would come anow, and sun; the shift of tides.

The all-envelopment of grass . . . Though hunger, "war," should sweep the lands
And every trace of man should
. . . It would not matter.

Mr. Millikin was in the hard-

590 Clark-av., was chosen as first president.

The Randolph League has a membership of 25 mothers. This group attends lectures and has speakers on the subject of bettering the relationship between parents and their children. They have maintained a representation in the Hilltop Community Council, participated in civic, church and school activities and are keenly interested in the juvenile delinquency problem and how to combat it. The meetings are held monthly in the various members' homes.

Last fall the league had the piano at the Teen Age Canteen tuned, and each year at Christmas they remember the girls at the State School with gifts of jewelry and cosmetics. The incumbent officers are Mrs. Leroy Seba, president; Mrs. Wendell Griffith, vice-president; Mrs. Carey Allen, secretary; and Mrs. Walter Lee, treasurer.

The motto in the league's hand-book reads: "Thou shalt help thy child to see beauty, to practice kindness, to love truth, and to live in friendship."

Millikin Served Community In City Council

"When I first came to the Hilltop 46 years ago," said the late Wyatt Millikin, a city councilman for many years, "there was nothing across Broad-st from my place except cow pasture. I could see everything that was going on over on Sullivan-av."

Mr. Millikin was in the hardware business on the Hilltop more than 37 years. His store was located at 2420 W. Broad-st.

In 1895, the year Mr. Millikin moved here, W. Broad-st was paved and the streetcar tracks were extended to Hague-av.

Millikin was first elected to city council in 1920. In 1932 he again became a council member. He brought many services to Columbus and the Hilltop and his resolutions resulted in bringing more territory into the City of Columbus than those of any other councilman.

First Federal Assn. Started On Hilltop Back In 1925

W. C. Eidson

H. G. Deems

The Aug. 31, 1922, issue of The Hilltop Record carried a story concerning the plans for the formal opening of the Hilltop Building & Loan Association, now the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, with offices at 2369 W. Broad-st and 53 E. State-st.

The original incorporation papers were drawn up May 31, 1922, and the firm opened its doors for business Sept. 9. The incorporators were W. H. Orebough, Fred W. Postle, J. W. Dinsmore, Harry G. Butler, J. W. Worrell, Ezra Hill, W. J. Jones and D. H. Elliott.

In addition to the above men, the first board of directors was composed of H. A. Alder, Dr. H. W. Whitehead, W. L. Millikin, J. H. Lucas, Charles Spring, Dr. T. R. Fletcher and E. H. Stauch. Dr. Whitehead, Dr. Fletcher and Stauch are still members of the board.

The office was located at 12 S. Park-av, now known as Wayne-av, in the back of what is now the Isaly store. Dinsmore was the first president and Postle was the secretary and attorney. Mr. Hill became president in January, 1927, and was succeeded by W. C. Eidson, who has held that position ever since.

The Hilltop Building and Loan closed its first loan some time in late September or early October of 1922. John W. Orebough was the first loan customer.

Minutes of that October board meeting include a suggestion to use quarter-page ads in the Record, slides in the local theater and a bill board to launch its initial advertising campaign. The firm has been a regular advertiser in the Record ever since that time.

Holy Name Group Fosters Spirit Of Christianity

The Holy Name Society of St. Mary Magdalene's Parish was organized on April 4, 1941. It has as its aim, the promotion of Christian spirit among the men and young men of the parish, to assist the pastor in the financial needs of the parish, such as co-operation in assisting and serving on any means that the pastor may suggest to attain such an end. It also has as an aim, the assistance of its members in case of illness, death, or in distress as far as possible.

With the growth of the Hilltop its membership now comprises more than 450 members in the parish. Through the leadership of its past and present officers it has become one of the more prominent and active Catholic men's society in the Columbus Dioceses.

Its first officers were: Earl Patton, president; Rowland Schwarz, vice-president; C. J. Gintz, treasurer; and Earl J. Resau, secretary. Immediately following Pearl Harbor, the society took an active part in the organization of the civilian defense program in the parish. In April, 1946, a parish Boy Scout troop was organized under the sponsorship of the society. In one year's time this troop has grown rapidly and has built up an outstanding record of achievement.

The society meets monthly, on the second Thursday of the month in the parish hall. The members receive Holy Communion in a body on the third Sunday of each month at the 8:00 o'clock mass. Rev. Raymond Bauschard, the pastor of the parish, has served as the spiritual director of the society from the start. Rev. Edgar Hoffman, assistant pastor of St. Mary Magdalene parish, is assistant director of the Columbus Diocesan Holy Name Union.

The officers for the current year are: Lawrence E. Hoffman, president; Joseph Reis, vice-president; Lawrence H. Halter, secretary; Arnold Eifert, treasurer; and Richard DeShetler, entertainment chairman.

Deems, secretary; Paul J. Solomon, cashier; Robert C. Davis, assistant cashier; Miss Glick, assistant secretary; Helen Tannehill, assistant secretary; Morris Lopper, general counsel; Keith Martin, assistant attorney.

The board of directors includes: Mr. Eidson, Dr. Fletcher, Dr. T. S. Fox, Mr. Lopper, Dr. G. B. Nessley, Judge Cecil J. Randall, Mr. Stauch, C. W. Walton and Dr. Whitehead.

Robert Werner Is Engineer Over Central Ohio

Robert F. Werner

Robert F. Werner, 187 N. Harris-av, engineer in charge of Division Six, state highway department, admits that he hasn't had "very many different jobs" since he graduated from Ohio State University.

In fact when he accepted the appointment, effective on Jan. 13, 1947, it was the second position he had held. Shortly after graduating from the college of engineering at OSU he went to work for Curt Latimer who was at that time county engineer. He stayed on after Allan Slade took office, serving in almost every different position the office offered.

He and Mrs. Werner have lived on the Hilltop for 16 years. Mrs. Werner, whose maiden name was Schoonover, has lived within a block of their present address all her life.

Mr. Werner maintains his office at Delaware and has charge of all state highway work in several central Ohio counties. The improvement of U. S. Route 40 west of the city, is one of several projects under way or to be started within the year.

He is a member of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers, the Columbus Engineer's Club and the American Road Builders Association. He belongs to Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity and is a 32nd degree Mason. Motoring and bridge are his hobbies.

Aug. 29, 1946—The Hilltop Record held open house in celebration of the completion of its new building at 2465 W. Broad-st.

Jack Merriman Started As Seiller's Delivery Boy In '18

The story of the 30-year history of The Hilltop Record has an interesting counterpart in the story of the development of Seiller's, 2404 W. Broad-st. and one of its co-owners. The store, now in its 30th year, has been a consistent advertiser from the time the Record began publication.

Jack Merriman, co-owner of the department store with Paul Leighninger, first worked for the firm as a delivery boy 29 years ago while he was still a student at West Broad Elementary School. His rise to the top with the organization is the result of a love for the business and a willingness to put in untold hours with it.

Merriman was just 11 years old when he started delivering packages along with his newspaper route after school. The houses were few and far between at that time. From his home on S. Eureka-av, he recalls that he could watch the old Camp Chase car come out Sullivan-av and up Hague-av to where it turned at Hague-av and Broad-st to make its return trip.

He attended junior high school at Highland Avenue and graduated from West High School in 1925 when it was still located in what is now Sterling Junior High School. Following his graduation from high school he started to work full time for M. W. Seiller, then owner of the store. Some time later Mr. Seiller sent him to St. Louis to take a short course in window trimming, advertising and display work.

Jack can't really point to the time that he took over management of the store for Mr. Seiller. The process of working his way from a sales position in the men's wear department to a managerial position over the entire store was so gradual that he doesn't know today just when it occurred. He estimates that he has been in charge for at least 10 years, however. He points out that the fine cooperation of Mr. Seiller added much to his own interest in the business.

As a result of a reorganization of the firm in 1940, he purchased one-half interest in the business. Leighninger, who joined the store at that time, became the co-owner, and although Mr. Seiller has been active in the store much of the time since that date, he has gradually turned over full responsibility to the two owners.

Growth Of Store Rapid

The growth of the store has been marked over the period of years. In 1939 a basement was added which almost doubled the floor space. Later 35 feet of additional Broad-st frontage was added, providing more than double the original selling space available prior to the basement addition. Each year new lines of merchandise have been added to make it a complete department store.

At present there are 45 on the payroll in contrast to the four when Jack first worked for the firm. All employees are covered by hospitalization insurance provided by the store. A full delivery service is maintained and four persons are required to handle alterations of clothing sold. Recently a separate gift wrapping department was set up.

The present owners attribute a large measure of the success of the store to the loyalty and cooperation of the employees.

City Clerk Had Interesting Career - - -

Knew Workings of Diplomatic Washington

By Rhona Van De Mark

Overlooking the Scioto River from a second-story window in the City Hall is a small, cheery office, where an energetic and extremely cheerful lady sits behind a large desk and competently carries on the duties of Columbus City Clerk.

The lady is Mrs. Agnes Cain, 2147 W. Broad-st. She is the second woman city clerk in the history of Columbus.

The exacting duties of a city clerk are not well-known by Columbus citizens. A city clerk must keep an accurate, up-to-date record of all action on the part of the city council and have this record literally at the fingertips of the seven city councilmen.

This is only a brief resume of Mrs. Cain's daily duties. She has many more. Besides the weekly Monday evening sessions of the council when resolutions and ordinances are properly taken up and discussed with, she and her four assistants must also call and attend "in-between" meetings, answer numerous requests to their office concerning heirs and heirs-to-be, and perform such other duties as may be required by the council.

Mrs. Cain is not a newcomer to this type of position. Prior to her appointment in 1944 as city clerk she was politically active in attending the 1940 National Republican Convention when Wendell Willkie was nominated as a candidate for the presidency.

Born on the residence here all her life, though much of it has been spent in traveling and working away from Columbus. She attended Holy Family School and the Edmiston Business College, later becoming bookkeeper for a local printing and publishing concern.

She Goes To Washington

With the advent of World War I, a change came in the life of Mrs. Cain. She accepted a position in Washington, D. C., with the war department and there remained for four years. At the end of this period, a new department had been formed in the U. S. government, that of the war transaction section, devoted to investigation of war contracts and supervised by the department of justice. Mrs. Cain was transferred to this office and given full charge of the stenographers and file clerks. The WTS was made up of attorneys and accountants from all over the United States, Columbus being represented by Judge Matthew Bigger, Roscoe C. McCullough and James N. Linton.

At this time, also, she accepted the honorary position of president of one of the 12 boarding hotels assigned by congress as quarters for the government clerks. Approximately 144 women lived in each of these homes and "XV" house was managed by Mrs. Cain, Mrs. Jesta M. Richards of Athens, Ohio, and Honorable I. M. Foster, who was at that time representing the 10th district of Ohio.

During off hours, teas and parties were often given for congressmen and friends of the girls, and Mrs. Cain, as house president, was in charge of arranging for these social affairs as well as solving problems and disputes between the girls, trying to make them feel as much at home as possible, and seeing that living conditions of the highest calibre were maintained.

In Washington she was present at the inaugurations of Presidents Harding and Coolidge, and considers one of the most thrilling incidents of her life the occasion on which she was a guest at the White House as executive clerk in the department of justice under the Coolidge regime. At that time the unknown soldier was brought to America for burial and Mrs. Cain recalls well the throngs who gathered to see the tier of this unknown hero.

After nine years in the Capitol, she thought it time to return to her home city, and it was with elation that she accepted a transfer from the department of justice to the Columbus Post Office as secretary to assistant postmaster, James A. Gergen. Later Postmaster Tibbets died and Mr. Gergen was elevated to the position.

Wright Has Had Shop For 37 Years

Henry W. Wright, 36 S. Terrace-av, has been in the shoe repair business 37 years on the Hilltop.

When starting the business, he worked for the Beaver Shoe Repair Co. The shop was located on W. Broad-st where the Clark Bakery is now located (next door to Gray's Drug Store).

The Beaver store then moved across Broad-st into the building which now houses the Pack Shoe Shop. At Mr. Beaver's death, his son, James, took over the business. In the meantime, Wright operated his own shop at Harris-av and W. Broad-st. A short time later he bought the Beaver shop and operated both businesses until the work became too heavy, when he sold the shop at Broad-st and Harris-av. Wright operated the store near Seiller's for many years until he was forced to sell because of illness.

After an absence of more than a year, Wright bought new machinery and opened a shop last June at 2223 W. Broad-st between Highland and Clarendon-av. Wright admitted that the real reason for reopening his business was because so many of his former customers liked his work and hoped he would be able to serve them again. He does all his work himself, despite the fact that he is more than 65 years old.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wright are members of the Glenwood Methodist Church. He was a member of the Hilltop Business Men's Association for some time. The Wrights have two fox-terriers, their only pets, of which they are very fond. Mr. Wright is quite proud of the fact that his mother, Mrs. Emma Wright, celebrated her 91st birthday on Nov. 11.

Stage Coaches Used W. Broad

Busy W. Broad-st, today one of the heaviest arteries of vehicular traffic in the city, once echoed to the rumbling sound of the stage coach. Back during the days of Camp Chase, the Confederate prison camp, the National Pike (as U. S. Route 40 was earlier known) was the only paved road in the community.

Howe's Historical Collections of Ohio described the road as a "magnificent piece of engineering and construction, a graded surface with a stone bed, reaching from Wheeling, W. Va., to Indianapolis, Ind., passed in its construction through Columbus in 1838."

Early pioneers on their way to the Great West found it the only road through the Buckeye state that could be traveled the year round. Stage coaches carried travelers and their baggage in what was considered at that time as "luxury" accommodations.

The early journeys were punctuated with stops at such taverns as the old Four Mile House on the Hilltop. Toll gates, also, were stopping places. Travelers would buy tickets at the beginning of their journey. When a toll gate was reached, every 10 miles, the gate keeper checked the number of passengers and kept account of the number. The stage companies settled up later.

There was a toll gate located on the Hilltop at what is now W. Broad-st and Wheatland-av. It was moved several times, standing once at Midland-av and at another time at Centrav.

Strictly Fresh

THE coffee industry is conducting a campaign to educate restaurants to give the public a uniformly made, better cup of coffee. The industry has only to check its statistics, of course, to find out that too few people are asking for a second cup.

A contributing factor is, according to the safety director of a large eastern dairy enterprise, is absent-mindedness resulting from breakfast table squabbles. So the tolling husband has the little woman on his mind more than she thinks.

West Boosters Hold Record Paper Drive

A new organization but much heard of during the past couple of years is the West High Boosters' Club organized little more than a year ago. The avowed purpose of this group is "to promote and advance interest in athletics at West High School."

Headed by Richard Francis, an alumnus of West and an outstanding athlete in his own right, the group recently put itself "on the map" when it collected $1825 worth of scrap paper in March of this year. M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner, headed the drive that resulted in the biggest collection of paper ever gotten in Columbus by any group.

Two months ago the club authorized West High School officials to proceed with the purchase and installation of an all-electric scoreboard for football to go with the new lighting system being installed at Magly Field this spring. The board is expected to cost in excess of $1000 but is said to be the most complete and modern board in use on any high school field in the state.

During the past two years the club has held a basketball banquet honoring the players and coaches at the completion of the playing season. Each year a gold basketball is given to the player who in the opinion of the team was the most valuable player on the squad.

My dear Mr. Hartley:

The fact that The Hilltop Record has been published continuously for 30 years is proof that it has fulfilled and is fulfilling its obligation to the people it serves. Development of The Hilltop into a flourishing residential and business part of the City of Columbus is a genuine compliment to you and your associates who have, through the news and editorial columns of The Record, sought steadfastly during three decades to make it a better community in which to work and live.

My heartiest congratulations and best wishes for many more years of journalistic leadership such as you have shown in the past!

$5 Job Leads

as dark in Hartley's newspaper career.

Hartley then ordered the paper delivered free to the other half of town, and cut off deliveries to the first half entirely. The second half began talking about things "seen in the Times" and the first half became curious. As a result, within three years the paid circulation of the Times mounted to the unprecedented figure of 98.5% of the mail stops in town. This meant that wherever the mailman went, to a filling station, doctor's office or apartment, the Times went along to 98.5% of the mail boxes.

Paper Was 5c Per Week
The Greenfield Daily was delivered at the "exorbitant" sum of 5c a week. This has since been increased to 14c weekly, but the high percentage of circulation has been maintained. It now includes in addition, most of the rural mail stops surrounding the town. It is one of the best records for newspaper circulation in the United States.

Across the street from the Greenfield Times was an old building. Hartley purchased it and the lot on which it was situated, and erected a new building and installed new equipment in 1946. The Times still carries on business in that location.

In the meantime, E. F. Hartley, father of the Times' publisher, found himself out of a job at the time of the bank holiday and was requested to set up a bookkeeping system at Greenfield for his son. During his association with the paper he became familiar with different phases of the publishing business and became thoroughly interested in it as a business.

One amusing incident is still remembered with chuckles. The elder Mr. Hartley worked a great deal on rural subscription solicitations and more often than not was reimbursed with such products as cucumbers, potatoes, eggs, chickens and tomatoes. The Hartleys in turn sold the goods to employees, and any other buyers, and were thus financially reimbursed the long way round for the farmers' subscriptions they sold.

Came Back To Record

The Greenfield Daily Times had remarkable success in securing national advertising and on this basis R. D. Hastings, then publisher of The Hilltop Record, and Mr. Hartley felt that they could accomplish the same results with the Record. Hartley came to Columbus and the two men worked to convert The Hilltop Record from a weekly to a daily, with paid circulation in preference to the free circulation Hilltoppers had previously enjoyed. John N. Wolfe was editor. In January, 1936, Hartley bought the Record, making it the sister publication of the Times.

As a daily, the Record was short-lived. Shortly after its conversion, due to mechanical and other difficulties, the Record once again became a weekly paper.

The elder Mr. Hartley was ready to step in as manager of the Times when his son returned to the Record in 1936, and still occupies that position.

It is interesting to note that the competing publication in Greenfield, the Republican, attempted to convert to a daily soon after the Times' adventure, and unfortunately failed. It is now a job printing plant, no longer maintaining a newspaper.

Hartley acquired two other newspapers later: the Payette Times in Washington, Court House, purchased in June, 1938, and the Fairfield Times at Lancaster, bought six months later. With adverse war conditions and the critical labor situation, he sold these during the war when he left Columbus to serve in the navy two years.

Record Founder Nears 80 Mark, Still On Job

S. J. Westlake, founder of The Hilltop Record, began his busy career in the printing business 68 years ago.

In the year 1881, long before typesetting machines were heard of, Westlake began his trade as a printer. This August he will celebrate his 80th birthday, and will probably spend the day working at the Columbus Pharmacal Co., where he is employed.

His work at the local firm consists of hand-setting, in six point type (considerably smaller than this type). He retired from the business in 1941 after 60 years' work, deciding it was time to take a rest. Less than a year later, he returned to work, stating that "working is not for me." He hopes to have 70 years' experience to his credit before he retires "for good."

Westlake began the Record on a capital of $10 with a press that printed one page at a time, 9x12 inches in size, in the year 1917. He was active in the Record's development until 1936 when he sold his interest in the newspaper to his partner, R. D. Hastings, 28 S. Ogden-av. He continued to operate his own print shop in the rear of 2354 1/2 W. Broad-st until his attempt at retiring in 1940. He now resides at 1111 Kellon-av.

Plans for establishing a Hilltop Kiwanis Club became complete on June 29, 1945, when a group of 35 charter members met that day.

William H. Long, 672 S. Hague-av, won a $500 grand prize in the annual Columbus Citizen Head-pin contest, April 6, 1945.

Classifieds Have "Pulling Power"

The "pulling power" of any newspaper is measured in advertising circles by the amount of classified advertising and the number of grocery ads it carries. The Hilltop Record rates high in both.

For many years The Record has maintained an average of two full pages of classified advertising, and in every issue nearly three pages of grocery ads are carried.

It is not unusual to get a call from a pleased classified customer stating that he or she has received 40 or 50 calls on an ad. Many people have found that The Record want-ads are an effective way of getting rid of furniture, an automobile or clothing at a minimum cost.

The deadline for want-ad copy is 9 a. m. Wednesdays. Special contract rates are available to advertisers who use the classified pages consistently. Information about this may be obtained from anyone at the Record office, R.A. 1125.

May we congratulate you on this, the thirtieth anniversary of the publication of the Hilltop Record.

ened with a pledge of allegiance to the U. S. flag, prayer and the song "God Bless America."

The purpose of the club is to get an annuity for people past 60 years of age after the plan of Dr. Francis E. Townsend, 79-year-old gentleman of San Francisco, Calif., who began this movement 13 years ago under the name "Townsend Recovery Plan." The group is financed by donations and profits from their monthly suppers.

37th Division Vets Have Own Organization

When the boys from the 37th Division returned from World War I, they decided to keep alive their army contacts by organizing into a group under the name, 37th Division Veterans' Association.

Today, at the end of another world war, the group is still active, with some 5000 new members who fought in this war under the same red and white insignia which the Yanks of 1918 carried as a banner across France and Belgium.

The 37th Division's history began when the United States was first drawn into World War I. The Ohio National Guard was mobilized and became the 37th. The division is truly a product of Ohio, though later men from other states were assigned to it to fill its ranks.

In 1929, the association sponsored a pilgrimage to France and Belgium for members interested in returning abroad. Approximately 300 men, some with their wives, returned to Europe at that time to see familiar battlegrounds and landmarks. During this trip, they dedicated two memorials, one in each of the two countries, in honor of those of their buddies who died overseas.

The association has a paid membership of 7,489 at this time and plans to hold its annual reunion in Columbus Aug. 30, 31 and Sept. 1. E. M. Wolfe, 76 N. Ogden-av., past president of the organization, is in charge of entertainment and decorations for the event.

The Ladies of the 37th is a separate group supplementing the original organization, and headed by Mrs. E. M. Wolfe, 76 N. Ogden-av., president. Two other Hilltop women are among the officers of the club, Mrs. Wilbur Minnemyer, 56 N. Warren-av., vice-president; and Mrs. Charles Weidner, 55 S. Harris-av., treasurer.

James Stearns, 50 W. Fourth-av., has been secretary of the division since 1933, maintaining offices in the Wyandotte Building. He now is president as well. E. V. Bennett, 2752 Dibblee-av., is secretary-treasurer. The division publishes its own official publication, "37th Division Veterans News."

With the arrival home of 37th Division veterans from this war, after extensive fighting in the first days of the battle for the South Pacific, the by-laws of the group were reorganized to incorporate all veterans of World War II as members.

There are chapters in all of the larger cities in the state and several outside of Ohio where a sufficient number of veterans have moved to a particular sector to warrant chartering a new chapter.

This year's reunion will be held at the Desher-Wallick Hotel, with approximately 10,000 expected to attend. An election will be held for next year's officers and memorial services will be held in honor of the dead of the 37th. A dance and many individual get-togethers for the separate outfits of the division will be held.

An invitation is extended to veterans of the 37th to attend the local chapter's monthly meeting on the third Thursday of each month in Memorial Hall.

The council sponsors a home for the aged members of its group, at Tiffin, and also maintains a fund for any orphaned children of their members. They believe in the flag, the school and the Bible.

Three charter members of the auxiliary are still active. The total membership is in the vicinity of 112.

Meetings are held each first and third Wednesday of the month, at 261 1/2 S. High-st. The American Legion hall at W. Broad-st and Burgess-av was the meeting place for a time.

The council is now wondering how long it will be before headquarters can be returned to the Hilltop again.

Susie Woods, the district deputy, is also now the national secretary. The charter members are Mrs. Mildred Ruiney, 38 N. Wayne-av, who has been the recording secretary for 17 years; Mrs. Mary Lloyd, 37 N. Ogden-av, and Mabel Morgan, former Hilltopper, now of 607 Kelton-av.

Mrs. Kathleen Queltie, 427 1/2 S. Hague-av, has been the Hilltop deputy for the past three years. Other officers are Mrs. Ralph Rainey, recording secretary; Mrs. Dorothy Myers, assistant; Mrs. Maude Thomas, financial secretary; Oscar Smith, assistant; Mrs. Anna Nelson, treasurer; Mrs. Marie Hughes, counselor; Miss Grace Dudd, associate; Mrs. Mary Mason, vice-counselor; Ralph Rainey, associate; Mrs. Florence Smith, conductor; Mrs. Opal McDermitt, warden; Mrs. Zella Spanabel, outside sentinel; and Mrs. Eva Seely, inside sentinel.

Stationery Firm Started 10 Years Ago

The Columbus Stationery Company, 3107 W. Broad-st, which is now in its tenth year, has grown from a company operated by the three partners, to a firm employing 12 office and plant employees not to mention the sales people.

The firm is operated by Fred Deubner, 173 S. Brinker-av; William Deubner, 203 Eldon-av; and Karl Kruckeberg, 2736 Elliott-av. The Deubners head the sales organization and Kruckeberg is the production manager. These three men came to Columbus from Greenville, Ohio, and started the business at 11 N. Westmoor-av, in 1937.

It was but a short time before added space was needed, and the company moved to new locations on W. Broad-st several times. The present quarters located in the basement of the new K and D Building were taken over on Dec. 1, 1946. The complete 40 by 90 foot unit is used for the shop and offices.

The plant deals solely with custom-made personalized stationery. During the war years a large part of their production was sold at army PXs and navy ship stores. The trade name of the product is "Mayflower." The product is sold from coast to coast.

Spears Funeral Home Pioneered In Using Late Developments In Business

The Jerry Spears Funeral Home, now one of the pioneer institutions of the Hilltop, was established in its present location in 1928. It was the first funeral establishment to offer a display room for funeral furnishings in the community. It was also the first organization to use the neon sign in the community and the first funeral home in the State of Ohio to use the neon sign for identification. It was the first home of its type to use the air-conditioning, and it offered to the Hilltop the first straight ambulance service.

This has been and still is a family organization, offering a personalized service and appropriating a high degree of general education and technical training. Jerry Spears, the owner and founder of the organization, is an alumnus of Otterbein College and what is now known as the Cleveland College of Embalming. He also took graduate work in a number of other schools. Jerry Spears, Jr., was graduated from Ohio State University in 1939, where he played on the champion football for his work there. He also was graduated from the Cleveland College of Embalming, having returned for a refresher course since serving in the Army Air Corps during World War II.

Both Jerry Spears and Jerry Spears, Jr., are licensed funeral directors and licensed embalmers, and they supervise personally all of the details of the business and service.

Martha Spears Knepper (Mrs. Ben) was graduated from Oberlin College and from Katharine Gibbs Business School for college women in New York, where she was trained in business and office management.

The property at 2693 W. Broad-st was purchased at the beginning and parlors completed for that day, but numerous and varied changes have been made from time to time. The home is completely air conditioned. The floor has just been newly decorated. There is a private parking plaza and that means plenty of room without the struggle that goes with trying to find a place to park. There is an inter-communication system which lends itself beautifully to ease and privacy of operation. A pipe organ has been installed and a musician is on the regular staff. Two ambulances are in service day and night. The equipment is modern throughout and mapped for service 24 hours per day. Four veterans live at the funeral home in men's quarters, three of whom are being technically trained and the other attending Ohio State University.

Veterans Employed
It has been the custom of the Spears Funeral Home to assist one or more young men each year in attaining higher education. Veterans make up a good part of the staff. In addition to the students living at the funeral home, they have the part-time help of students who can work a few hours each day, which shows a two-way benefit, financial to the student, and assistance to the funeral home.

Jerry Spears, Sr., had quite a number of busy years during the war when Jerry, Jr., and the majority of his staff were called to serve the country. He served as chairman of Draft Board No. 13 until the board was discontinued March 31, and at the same time managing the growing business. His daughter, Martha Spears Knepper, shared those responsibilities. She took over residence in the funeral home, took all of the night calls, and generally assisted her father. Now that Jerry, Jr., has returned, each one is gratefully taking over his full share in management and responsibility.

The third regular embalmer and funeral director is a member of the staff. Also eight young men make up the ambulance and general assistants' staff with schedules throughout the day and night, providing for emergencies at all times. Two other ladies are employed as full-time office assistants, each trained in her own particular field. The suite of offices and the display room occupy the second floor of the building with the whole of the first floor given to funeral arrangement and visitation. The third floor offers the men's quarters known to the group as the Sanhedrin.

The Jerry Spears Funeral Service is a member of the Ohio Funeral Directors Association and also the Nationwide Associated Funeral Directors Association; it has contacts with members in every city of every state in the nation, making it capable of service from and to every part of the United States, just as if the family lived in the local community.

Dec. 16, 1935—C. J. Rice, president of the Hilltop Business Men's Association, names the new HBMA committee heads.

Jan. 8, 1937—Dr. J. F. Bateman became the new State Hospital superintendent.

Jan. 1, 1942—Mrs. Floyd Green heads the Red Cross drive on the Hilltop.

HE WORKED TO GET CANTEEN

Charles P. Maus

Largely responsible for opening of the Hilltop Teen Canteen was Charles P. Maus, 75 N. Westgate-av. As president of the Hilltop Community Council at the time, Maus worked untiringly on the project. His efforts were recognized by his being selected "Hilltop Man of the Year" last year.

He is the author of the guest column on the front page of Section D.

Garden Club Has Had Long History

The Highland Garden Club was organized April 8, 1938, at the home of Mrs. Will Hamilton, who then lived on N. Hague-av. There were 14 charter members, who named the club the Highland Garden Club, because they lived on high land.

Their purpose in organizing was to study the growth of plants and shrubs, to beautify their homes and gardens by attractive plantings and to encourage others in the community to do likewise. The Garden Club is an affiliate of Garden Center, The Ohio Association of Garden Clubs and the Franklin County Council of Garden Clubs.

Membership in the club is limited to 35 members. All meetings are closed and since its beginning, the club has almost constantly had a waiting list.

Since its founding, the club has participated in a number of flower shows in Columbus, having won several ribbons for arrangements submitted.

Physically Handicapped Bring Cheer To Many Here

By Esther Weakley

A group of flowering-crab trees has been planted in Glenwood Park by members of the group. They have purchased war bonds, contributed annually to the Red Cross, and during the war they furnished flowers for the men's lounges at the USO centers in Union Station and the bus terminal.

Each Christmas the club has given jam and jelly to the West Side Day Nursery for the children's lunches. There is an annual plant exchange at Christmas for the pleasure of the members. The club has enjoyed numerous garden tours and has plans for the coming season for other tours.

The president of the club is Mrs. Ray G. Hauptz.

The past presidents are Mrs. C. E. Sharp, Mrs. E. D. Myers, the late Mrs. C. A. Coburn and Mrs. J. Earle Taylor.

The flower of the club is the rose.

The club motto is: "Plant lilies and lilies will bloom. Plant roses and roses will grow. Plant hate and hate to life will bring."

Plant love and love to you will bring. The fruit of the seed you sow."

The courage and gallantry of the physically handicapped have always amazed and humbled me. When I hear of some of the truly remarkable things they accomplish I'm ashamed of each gripe I've griped. I have often wondered if Hilltoppers realize how many un-sung heroes live in our midst. I have known about a few of them, and Mrs. Mavorette Sanford and Worrall Sonastine have told me of others. While Mrs. Sanford is not a shut-in, she reads and talks to many of them; she and Mrs. Louise Spangler, 266 S. Ogden-av, spend many hours daily, working in their behalf. Mr. Sonastine is an inspiration to all who are fortunate enough to know him. He has been sightless for years; is completely paralyzed. He writes and sells articles and poems; wins contests; speaks before large groups by means of a public address system installed in his home; makes records of sermons; is now writing a book and doing other remarkable things. Many Columbus ministers visit him regularly for moral support.

Three Hilltop shut-ins with whom I have recently become acquainted—via phone—through Mrs. Sanford and Mr. Sonastine, you good.

are Miss Mary Ellen Young of 280 Derrard and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Atkins of 300 S. Harris-av, rear. Miss Young, who has been an invalid all her life and unable to attend school, is self-educated. She taught herself to read and now reads to blind shut-ins over the phone. She also sings their favorite hymns and cheers them in other ways. This young lady is never idle. When she is not giving other invalids their daily lift, she is taking orders for greeting cards, collecting and counting tax stamps, and babysitting. She walks only a little and that with the aid of crutches.

Mr. Atkins also walks only with crutches. He is kept busy sharpening lawn-mowers and filing saws. He does leather-tooling, raises tropical fish, sketches, does wood-carving; is also a taxidermist. He owns a Crosley convertible in which he takes other shut-ins for short rides about the city. That is the way he and Mrs. Atkins became acquainted. They were married last December.

Mrs. Atkins cannot leave her wheelchair, but does all her own housework. This is made easier by gadgets invented and constructed by Mr. Atkins.

These are but a few of the shut-ins of the Hilltop who are leading happy, useful lives that could so easily be dreary and dulled by discouragement. I am proud to know these people. Get acquainted with them—they'll do you good.

Mrs. Myron T. Seifert Is Record Contest Winner; Tells Why She Likes Hilltop

Mrs. Myron T. Seifert, 46 S. Westgate-av., was selected first prize winner in The Hilltop Record contest for her letter on "Why I Like To Live On The Hilltop." She will receive $10 as her award.

The contest was sponsored in connection with the Record's 80th anniversary.

Mrs. Arlee Embleton, 603 S. Lague-av., won second prize of $5, and third prize of $3 will go to Mrs. William W. Thompson, 80 Midland-av.

Seven $1 awards will be given to Mrs. Genevieve Burr, 41 N. Wayne-av.; Mrs. George Mason, 12 S. Harrison-av.; Mrs. Russell Anderson, 3014 Olive-st.; Mrs. Arthur Tomlinson, 436 S. Ogden-av.; Mrs. Paul Murrane, 640 Butler-av.; Sarah F. Davis, 45 S. Wheatland-av.; and Ruth N. Conrad, 429 S. Highland-av.

Several of the prize-winning letters follow:

Why I Like To Live on the Hilltop

Fortunate indeed, am I, to live on the Hilltop, where geographically, nature has provided a locale akin to the proverbial "Garden of Eden." Migrating from the hills of a southern Ohio county seat (Lancaster, O.), it was "home" in 1931, when as a new bride and housewife, I placed my feet in Hilltop "terra firma." My new "home" was in a community comparable in many ways to my native Lancaster—its terrain resembled the picturesque, rolling hills of southern Ohio; in population each locality listed about "25,000 souls"; its people on the "Hill" were not strangers, but friendly and neighborly from the very start. The transition and removal from the town of the "Ewing and Sherman" was therefore easy to make, since the Hilltop inhabitants had much in common with the friends made in Tarhe Town, Lancaster.

Steeped in historical legend and lore, each community contributed much to the development of its local, state and national government. The Hilltop furnished another outlet and challenge for the study of citizenship, past and present, of a community inherently rich in historical growth and progress.

Little wonder that the Sullivans, progenitors of the West Side, 150 years ago, saw possibilities in a "city on the Hill" which since then has become popularly known as "Sullivan's Hill"—now the Hilltop.

Perhaps, we conjecture, the Biblical admonition of Matthew, "A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid," may have influenced the pioneers in settling on the Hilltop.

Then, too, I like to live on the Hilltop where many Christian principles and acts are practiced—where churches abound—where confidence and faith in God and man are evidenced—where vicariously the Golden Rule is carried out. Sure, we have our shortcomings and problems; however, in the by and large, Hilltoppers are "the salt of the earth," real benefactors of mankind. I like to live in a community where spiritual growth offers many challenges. This the Hilltop provides.

Other character-building agencies which attract me, in addition to the church, may be found in great abundance on the Hilltop, including its splendid schools, libraries, theatres, its newspaper, The Hilltop Record, its supervised city park activities, its civic, service and fraternal groups, its social clubs, its organized athletic contests, its Teen Canteen—and a legion of other factors that contribute to a healthy community.

I like to live in a community of home-owners and responsible tenants, who take great pride in improving their properties. Hilltoppers hold top honors in home ownership. Home ownership and civic pride are inseparable. I like to be a part of a community that progressively plans and talks a "Better Hilltop."

A concerted effort and united front in every worthwhile

civic or patriotic project is noteworthy of Hilltoppers.

Again, I like the Hilltop because it is a clean, healthful community, comparatively free from dirt, soot, etc. Its elevation and spacious plateau, (originally called "Sullivan's Prairie") lends rustic charm and "wide open space" atmosphere to the community. It is a suburban retreat from the noise and din of the city.

In close proximity to fine churches, schools and business houses the Hilltop affords every advantage of a great metropolis, yet locally maintains an "esprit de corps" in all matters affecting its people.

When necessary to commute down town, via bus, two main arteries of transportation are available, the Broad St. and Sullivan Ave. trolleys. Rarely more than 15 minutes' riding time is required. Inter-city bus service, particularly along the National Road, is easily accessible to Hilltoppers.

Progressive merchants and business men who operate along these two streets, and others, are largely residents of the Hill, and, as such, have the confidence and interest of the buying public. First quality merchandise at reasonable prices can be secured from Hilltop business men. The conveniences and services afforded by these capable friendly merchants make shopping a pleasure for me.

Expansion of business and construction, particularly along W. Broad St. and Sullivan Ave. in the Westgate section, will help maintain real estate values. Since I am a home-owner in this section, it is therefore economically desirable that I live on the Hilltop.

An influx of executives and employees of the General Motors Fisher Body plant, a mile distant from the West corporation line, will further protect the real estate value of my home, by creating a demand for property in this section. Building restrictions in Westgate, for those who propose to build homes, will bring to the Hilltop thrifty, interesting and friendly neighbors from other parts of the country, contributing to a bigger and better community, in which I have a small part.

Why I Like To Live on the Hilltop

The Hilltop has been my home for the past 18 years and it goes without saying, I like to live here.

I believe we have every facility for "good American living" that is found elsewhere in the city and perhaps a few more advantages in some respects.

The Hilltop is made up principally of small town folks who are friendly, congenial, and helpful where their services are needed. What more could one ask of their friends and neighbors?

Our people are especially civic minded and they are constantly concerned in making "Our Town" more beautiful and progressive. All charitable organizations are backed 100% which gives us great pride in our townspeople.

The Hilltop has its quota of physicians and dentists who faithfully give their services and certainly merit our good will and consideration.

We have first class modern stores and the merchants anticipate our every need and do their utmost to give us courteous and satisfactory service.

We are blessed with modern churches, schools and recreational facilities that are accessible to all. Where can one find a better place than Westgate Park for the children to enjoy themselves or the tennis courts and baseball park for the adolescents and the shady picnic grounds furnish an ideal spot for the entire family.

The Hilltop is not sparsely settled, yet we do not have the crowded conditions that exist elsewhere in the city. If at any time, we should feel too confined on a hot, sultry day, we can jump into our car and in a short time drive out through the wide open spaces for relaxation, or we can take a spin at the Sullivan Airport, less than a

Because the word "Hilltop" spells "Home" to me, and where is the person who is immune to its magic spell? It is also a common characteristic with most of us to see beauty in what we love; to enshrine and crown the object of our affections with volleys of praise. It is perhaps because of this universal habit, that I ascribe beauties and grandeur, unseen by other eyes, to this part of Columbus I am proud to call "MY HILLTOP."

I have spent most of my life here, having moved from another part of the city when I was just a small child. My husband and I both attended the same school from which my son has now graduated. The Hilltop has given me childhood friends who will always be my friends; and educated me in her schools and churches.

I have seen this part of the city grow, buildings and houses where once were fields; and streets where there were roads and lanes.

The Hilltop is CULTURAL, having a fine library, a paper of its own, lodges, various trade organizations, societies, schools and churches; is INDUSTRIAL, having many well established stores, factories, business places, post office and telephone exchange. FINANCE is represented in the banks, and building and loan companies; TRANSPORTATION in the fine bus lines; and AMUSEMENT and SPORTS in the fine shows, bowling alley, swimming pool, recreation centers, playgrounds and Teen Canteen.

The Hilltop is a friendly, hospitable place, proud of her PAST, confident and enthusiastic in her PRESENT, and looking forward hopefully to her FUTURE, so... I like its fine and friendly folks

It's just SMALL TOWN at heart. "Why's"—a thousand words, I can but make 2 START.

Westgate Tennis Club Promotes Interest Here

The Westgate Tennis Club was officially started last April, when the group held a meeting at Goodwin's Pharmacy, 3778 Sullivan-av., and elected officers for the first time. "Off the record," however, the club has been in existence for six years. When the local tennis fans met one another at the court and became acquainted they decided to form a tennis club, and now they have hopes of becoming affiliated with the Central Ohio Tennis Association.

The only requirements for membership are that a person must either want to learn or know how to play tennis, and desire to foster good relationship between the members.

Officers elected last year were D. K. Finley, president; John Hipple, secretary; and Joe Goodwin, treasurer.

The Westgate group practiced with the West High team last year, and hopes to play against some of the other teams of the Central Ohio Association this summer.

The tennis group is not for men alone, nor is it restricted to adults. Anyone wishing to join the club or to obtain information about it is asked to call Joe Goodwin, RA. 5944.

Three State Institutions Spend Two Million Yearly On Salaries, Maintenance

Salaries Account For Half That Sum

Operation of three state-supported institutions on the Hilltop involves an annual expenditure of almost $2,000,000, a check into the records revealed. Of this amount almost $1,000,000 is paid out in the form of wages and salaries, most of it to persons living in or near the Hilltop area.

The payroll affects approximately 600 different individuals. There would be more if persons of suitable qualifications could be found to fill more than 30 vacancies now existing. The low wage level paid in many cases makes it difficult for superintendents to keep vacancies filled.

The payroll breakdown reveals that Columbus State School pays out $325,556.87 in wages and salaries annually; Bureau of Juvenile Research, $171,553.73; while the Columbus State Hospital payroll for 1946 totaled $501,496.95.

Maintenance, based on 1946 figures, totals $873,062.49 for the three institutions. This heading covers such items as heat, light, food, medical supplies, etc. In the case of the Columbus State Hospital and the Columbus State School a substantial amount of the foodstuff is raised on state-owned gardens and fields adjacent to the institutions. However, the farms do not provide meats, canned goods, etc., needed to feed the nearly 5,000 patients housed here.

The Columbus State School spent $348,727.48 for maintenance in 1946. The Bureau of Juvenile Research bill was $33,335 while the Columbus State Hospital spent $481,000.

On the employment side, Columbus State Hospital has 420 employees to care for the 2400 patients. At the Columbus State School 276 persons are employed to care for 2146 resident patients and at the Bureau of Juvenile Research 96 persons are employed.

The total value of state-owned property here is not readily available since only the original purchase price of the land shows on the books today. Since no tax is paid on public property, there are no appraisals to show the current worth of the real estate. The 197 acres comprising the Columbus State School was originally sold for $157,769.80 but would of course be worth much more today. The Columbus State Hospital grounds were valued at $501,345 while the ground used by the Bureau of Juvenile Research was valued at $2,205.

Buildings, too, are carried on the books at only their original costs. The total cost of the buildings on the three grounds would approximate $4,500,000. Equipment, exclusive of real estate, amounts to more than $1,000,000.

Bureau Of Juvenile Research Performs Valuable Service In Young People's Work

The average Hilltopper knows very little about what is done at the Bureau of Juvenile Research, 2280 W. Broad-st.

Passing the front of the grounds, a group of boys or girls might be seen engaged in a game of football or croquet. These are "problem children." They are at the bureau for the purpose of being examined physically, psychologically and psychiatrically.

These boys and girls have in some way or another brought the attention of either their parents, a juvenile agency or perhaps a juvenile court upon their unusual behavior, and it has been found necessary to send them to the bureau for determining what is wrong with them and what can be done for them.

Dr. C. H. Calhoun located with the bureau in 1920 and became superintendent the following year. He held this position until March 31 of this year when he resigned to assume duties at a similar post with the Hillcrest-Glenview School in Cincinnati. Dr. Persis Simmons, a member of the staff for the past eight years, will act in his capacity until a permanent director is appointed for the job as director, by the State Board of Public Welfare.

In An Advisory Institution

The bureau is operated as an advisory institution and functions to make a thorough study of a problem child's behavior in an attempt to determine the causes of the difficulty. Through a staff of physicians, psychologists, psychiatrists, social workers, dentist and teachers, studies are made of the child, his parents and environment. As a result of these investigations the bureau advises those who originally sent the child for examination, as to what might be done to help in the future.

Children enter the institution every day and similarly, some leave each day at the completion of their particular case study. The average length of time for a child's visit is eight weeks, during which time he or she works, plays and is examined completely. Approximately 120 girls and boys are under observation at all times, with an average of 700 being examined yearly.

At the institution, the youngsters are housed in one of three cottages, where they eat well-balanced meals, sleep regular hours, engage in small tasks around the grounds, in the kitchen, laundry or dining rooms. They also attend classes, spend time out of doors playing with others and enjoy games and contests.

To understand thoroughly what happens when Ruth or Johnny is thought to be acting extremely out of the ordinary, when one or the other attempts to burglarize the corner grocery or insists upon breaking windows or stealing cars, one should follow the youngster's case from the moment it is brought to the attention of authorities. Perhaps the parents, the family physician, or a teacher decides the child is not acting as a normal child should. Because the institution is a part of the State Board of Public Welfare, any child may be referred for examination by any one person or organization.

Once an application is received at the Columbus office for the child to enter for observation, a request is made by the board for a written record of the child's past difficulties, his family and community life, description of the different homes he might have lived in as well as pertinent information concerning his behavior in school and the state of his health.

When a child is admitted his own clothes are cleaned and stored away until the day when he leaves. In the meantime he wears clothes furnished by the institution. Stamps and stationery are furnished and he is permitted to write home once every two weeks. There is no limit on the amount of mail he can receive, however.

Assigned To Group

Upon entering the institution the child is placed in isolation while being examined thoroughly for both physical and mental defects. This may last as long as a week. At being released he is assigned to a group as nearly his own age as possible.

An extensive program of evening activities is planned for the child between supper and bed. Movies are shown supplemented with amateur dance and song acts by the children, and group singing. During the summer, picnics are held once a week and the children are permitted to play until bedtime on the lawns. In the winter months, a game night replaces the picnic.

Art and handicraft classes are sponsored by university students an evening a week to instruct the children in free expression. It has been proven that when a child is expressing himself in art or handicraft, he can be most easily observed.

After necessary examinations and observations, a detailed report of the bureau's findings is written to the referring agency and a definite recommendation is made as to what might help the child overcome his difficulties.

It is the duty of the referring agency to determine what should be done for the child in his home surroundings, parentage and past experiences. Other times it is suggested that the child be placed in a foster home.

The bureau only examines and recommends. It does not attempt to completely solve the thousands of cases which it handles. If the child needs treatment that can be given at the bureau, it is given. Approximately 300 are received each year for examination only and do not remain overnight for any further observation. In addition, "field clinics" do the same type of work at Bowling Green and Ohio Universities and Muskingum College.

Classes for the child while he visits at the bureau are purposely kept small so that individual attention can be given each student. Most of them have been having problems in school, a great many of which are due to unsatisfactory ability to read.

Accepted Up To 21 Years

Any child under 21 years of age is eligible for examination at the bureau. Boys are generally in the majority, approximately eight of them being admitted for each three girls.

The institution covers 11 acres and has six buildings, a 14-bed hospital and laundry included.

Glenwood Players Guild Has Regular Schedule Of Plays

One of the newer organizations on the Hilltop is the Glenwood Players Guild, composed of members of the Glenwood Methodist Church. Organized in November, 1944, for the purpose of developing an interest in dramatics and contributing to the social activities of the church, the charter officers were as follows: Emerson Harlow, president; Eugene Gildersleeve, vice-president; Merie Earle, secretary; and Ethel Galloway, treasurer. Membership is limited to 25 persons.

Evidence of the serious spirit prevailing among its members is shown by the type and number of plays which have been successfully produced during the short period of the organization's existence—such plays as "The Mad March Heirs," "Sunbonnet Sue of Sycamore Lane," "Tempest and Sunshine," "Tell It to the Marines," "Gabriel, Blow Your Horn," "Grandma Goes Hollywood" and "Adam's Evening."

Performances are originally held in Motter Hall, the social annex of the church, but numerous performances have been given on by request before Masonic Lodges and other groups, particularly at the Veterans Hospital at Chillicothe, where their appearance is looked forward to with much pleasure.

Present officers of the Glenwood Players Guild are: Eugene Gildersleeve, president; Tom Boykman, vice-president; Betty Moon, secretary; Ethel Galloway, treasurer. In addition to the above, the membership is composed of the following: Merie Earle, Lawrence Earle, Lee Harlow, Emerson Harlow, Dorothy Finley, Knight Finley, Jack Galloway, Howard Moon, Ann Remington, and Harold Remington. The director for all productions is Miss Annis Turner.

Nov. 9, 1945—Plans for the Hilltop Record to have a new building were being completed.

Oct. 10, 1946—Charles P. Maus, 70 N. Westgate-av., proclaimed the "Man of the Year" on the Hilltop.

Columbus State School Is Home For 2148 Feeble Minded Patients -- Young And Old

By Paul Wichterman

Home to 2148 persons (as this is written) is the Columbus State School—the large tract of land and impressive building between W. Broad-st. and Sullivant-av., at the crest of the "hill." Serving as superintendent of this 80-year-old institution for the feeble-minded is Dr. F. L. Keiser, who has served in that capacity since 1924. He came to work at the school following his graduation from the Ohio Medical University (now Ohio State) in 1907 and has never known any other work but the care of the state's mentally deficient.

As this is being written he is operating the school with only one physician. Four are allowed but two died in recent months and it is difficult to interest young doctors in these positions at salary levels allowed. He has also been without the services of an assistant superintendent, the last one having died several months ago. This position, too, has been hard to fill with a competent man at state salaries.

Broadly speaking a feeble minded person is one having an IQ of 70 or less. Of course the state is not concerned with all of the citizens who fall in this category. It is variously estimated that upwards of 70,000 such persons live in the state but something less than 8000 are being cared for in the three institutions of this kind.

The Columbus State School has had four changes in name since its origin in 1857. At first it was the Ohio Asylum for Idiots and Imbecile Youth. Some time later it was changed to the Institution for Feeble Minded Youth. This in turn gave way to the Institution for Feeble Minded by which name it was known until late in 1946 the present name was adopted.

Dr. F. L. Keiser, Superintendent of the Columbus State School is Dr. F. L. Keiser who has devoted 40 years to the care of the feeble-minded at the Hilltop state institution. He has been superintendent since 1924.

He came to the school three months before graduating from the Ohio Medical University. (Keiser combined with Starling Medical College and finally the School of Medicine, Ohio State University.)

Since his work is confining, Dr. Keiser enjoys the change in associations he finds in civil and fraternal work. He is a member of the Hilltop Business Association and the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. He also belongs to the Neuro Psychiatric Association, the Columbus Academy of Medicine, the State Association and the American Medical Association.

He is fraternally affiliated with the Masonic orders, including Shrine, Scottish Rite and Knights Templar. He has played a clarinet in the Shrine band 28 years.

In 1940 the outstanding work he was doing with the feeble-minded resulted in his being named a fellow by the American Association for Mental Deficiency.

The ages of the patients at this institution range from three to 85. Some of them have been there most of their lives. Many of them will never leave until they die yet many of them do go back into society to live more or less normal lives.

Some Return To Society

While basically little can be done to raise the intelligence quotient of a feeble-minded person, many of them can be taught to do certain kinds of work and to readjust their lives to the place that they are no longer a burden on society. When this time comes they are permitted to go providing of course that they have homes where they will be cared for properly.

A recent count showed a total enrollment of 409 children 16 years of age or younger. Of this number there were 227 boys and 182 girls. All persons admitted must have been judged feeble-minded by action of a probate court. Here they are placed in graded schools with work running up to the sixth grade level.

In addition to their school work they are taught to sing and play musical instruments, take part in recreation and work with their hands. Many of the older girls are permitted to work out in homes as domestics. One woman has accumulated more than $2000 in this way despite the fact that her wages have always been low.

The music department includes a band and several choruses that provide music at Christmas and other special occasions. They are permitted to see picture shows at regular intervals and are given the benefits of both Catholic and Protestant religious services every Sunday.

Includes 46 Buildings

The Columbus State School is made up of approximately 40 buildings of various types, located on a 197-acre tract of land purchased by the state for $157,789.80. As of Dec. 1, 1946, 278 persons were employed to care for the patients. This was 40 less than the number permitted by the state under the recent eight-hour work day set up to relieve employees of the long 12-hour day worked up until that time. Employees are being added as fast as competent ones can be found. Experience has shown that many persons are not temperamentally fitted for handling patients of this type, consequently their placement is a slow process.

A total of $325,846.97 was paid out in wages last year. An additional $348,727.49 was spent for maintenance (coal, oil, food and other necessary supplies). Many of these dollars find their way into Hilltop stores and other business places.

The State of Ohio became the second state in the union to recognize the need for care for its feeble-minded when in 1857 a bill was passed providing for the establishment of the first "asylum." This was situated on Friend-st. (now Main-st.) opposite the Asylum for the Blind.

In 1864 the present site was selected. The first buildings erected were of Kirkbride construction. By 1881 more than 600 children were accommodated. That year a fire destroyed the main buildings but there was no loss of life.

In 1884 fireproof buildings with outside stairways were erected. Since that time many more buildings were added to accommodate the present enrollment. The institution was originally planned and erected for the education and training of feeble-minded children. The school age limit was 16 years. When they attained that age, they were sent home wherever homes were available.

Home Is Established

By 1900 a custodial department was created, the object being to furnish a pleasant, permanent home for the adult feeble-minded; thereby lessening the burden to themselves and society and also prevent the increase of their kind. A tract of land was purchased near Orient, just 14 miles from Columbus. Facilities were developed there for 2400 and for years the institution was a part of and under the management of the Hilltop institution. In recent years this has been placed under separate management as has the third school at Apple Creek.

While visiting hours are maintained whereby tours of inspection may be taken through the Columbus State School, few Hilltoppers who pass it every day on

Let's Look Into The Future

It is a well known fact that real estate prices are high but this is only in keeping with the price advances of everything you purchase and likewise true of your earning power today.

It is our belief that real estate prices are not going higher, nor are they settling back. Good property will hold its own for considerable time yet. From the standpoint of speculative investment this is not a time to put money into real estate and expect to get rich over night.

Personally we are not looking for clients interested in making money in a quick turn over in real estate. We want to sell you a home. And there is always a lot more value in property that is going to be occupied for years to come as a home. So in looking into the future be sure to take into consideration the value of the property you buy as a home.

We are proud of the fact that in the many years we have been in business on the Hilltop we have sold hundreds of homes to Hilltop residents . . . people who are satisfied with the value of their transaction.

General Real Estate

Do you want to sell or exchange your property for something that will fit your needs?

What are your requirements? We would appreciate a call regarding the type of property in which you are interested.

We have a number of properties in all sections of the city that could be exchanged for Hilltop property.

General Insurance

Today, more than in any recent year, it is important that you investigate your insurance program and determine to your own satisfaction that you are properly insured. Should fire or any other disaster strike your home today your loss would have to be based on the replacement value, which is far in excess of the amount of the insurance you have been carrying on your home.

We will appreciate an opportunity to go over your insurance program and offer any suggestions as to any revision that might be necessary . . . and at no obligation.

We are prepared to give you full coverage in two Columbus home office companies . . . The Buckeye Union and The Mayflower Insurance Co. . . providing you both quick agency and home office services.

Scores Of Organizations Active In The Community

To the scores of organizations that have contributed so much to the community life of the Hilltop, this section of the 30th anniversary edition of The Hilltop Record is dedicated. It is hoped that, as a result of it, the Hilltoppers will have a better understanding and thus a greater appreciation for the work that is done by each group.

If some group or organization has been overlooked, it has not been done intentionally but is rather the result of the large number of such associations that have come into being in recent years which have not sought publicity through the columns of the Record. This paper stands ready at all times to serve the needs of any responsible group that seeks to have its activities publicized.

The cooperation of all who have assisted in the preparation of this section is greatly appreciated.

Organized Groups Active Here

By Charles P. Maus

HBA Brings Improvements For Hilltop

Constantly looking out for the interests of the Hilltop for more than a score of years has been the Hilltop Business Association (formerly the Hilltop Business Men's Association) and its predecessor, the Hilltop Chamber of Commerce.

Made up for the most part of independent business men and women and professional people doing business on the Hilltop, the group has been responsible for many of the major improvements to the community.

The HBA was organized in 1927, replacing the old Hilltop Chamber of Commerce. "Community Cooperation" has been its trademark from the beginning—a label that has been impressed on the minds of all central Ohio.

Perhaps its best known activity year after year is the annual Hilltop Minstrel, which has become an institution on the Hilltop. No other "home talent" show in the State of Ohio is as widely publicized or as well attended as this typically Hilltop entertainment.

On the more serious side the organization has carried on a positive program along civic, safety and community betterment lines. Perhaps its most effective work has been done through constant working with and through city officials to see that the needs of the Hilltop are not forgotten in the over-all city planning and administration of services.

The increasing number of women in business in the community who became members of the organization led to the dropping of the word "men" from the name early this year and thus the present name, Hilltop Business Association, came into being.

The following men have served as president of the HBA since its formation: R. O. Harrison, George Painter, H. G. Deems, Gene Todd, C. H. Campbell, Floyd Green, C. J. Rice, Dr. John Czatt, Dr. M. W. Bates, C. Carl, P. L. Subberger, Lou Saunders, John Riepenhoff, Dr. E. E. Mr. Namee, Joseph Briggs, Curtis R. Roberts, Edgar Planck and the incumbent, Dr. R. J. Miller.

Other officers now serving are Clarence Story, first vice-president; Ed Witherspoon, second vice-president; C. H. (Doc) Campbell, secretary; and Jack Merriman, treasurer.

Westway Post Started 1936

The Westway Post, No. 3441, VFW, now striding ahead with 257 members, was founded in 1936 with 13 members at the start. Charles Geddes, 2079 W. Broad-st., is commander of the post, which has its headquarters at 2393½ W. Broad-st.

The group just recently organized a 30-piece band. Winfield Scott is chairman of the band, with Clifford Thompson as co-chairman.

Among the projects backed by Westway post each year are the poppy fund, which receives the most attention and is the biggest event of the year, the poultry raffle and the carnival which is sponsored by this group.

Business meetings are held each month at post headquarters, with a social meet once every four weeks also.

The state convention of the VFW will be held the first week of July this year. Officers of the local post are Geddes, commander; John Kackley, 810½ W. Broad-st., senior vice commander; Richard L. Tom, 757 N. Hague-av., junior vice commander; Herbert Kunz, 3133 Ellis-pl., chairman; Ray L. Boord, 604 Salisbury-rd., judge advocate; Dr. L. W. Rohr, 291 S. Brinker-av., post surgeon; Robert Zylauf, 136 S. Boys-av., quartermaster; Joe Enright, 101 Haldy-av.; trustee; Eugene Wolfe, 78 N. Ogden-av., and Winfield Scott, 332 Nashoba-av., delegates to the council.

With our ever-increasing population and our ever-increasing needs, the Hilltop finds itself confronted with a post-war problem of furnishing itself with many things—and probably the first

Hilltop Kiwanis Club Will Celebrate Second Anniversary On June 1

Though its history is brief, the Hilltop Kiwanis Club has been one of the latest growing, best attended and most successful organizations on the Hilltop.

The club, which is the only service organization west of the Scioto River, will celebrate its second birthday June 1.

Seven Hilltop men were present at its first meeting in April, 1945. Dr. Jim Miles, Fred Warden, Noble Allen, Herb Deems, Leo McComb and Ed Melvin. It had been suggested by the Northwest Kiwanis Club of Grandview and Arlington that a Kiwanis club be organized on the West Side. These seven men saw the need for something of this nature, and heartily agreed.

The Northwest Club sponsored the Hilltop organization, saw that it received the proper instruction for functioning properly and helped it to make a good beginning. When the time came, Northwest Club recommended the Hilltop group so that it received its charter from International Kiwanis.

First president was Dr. Jim

Miles; vice-president, H. G. Deems; secretary, Noble Allen; and treasurer, Curt Wilcox. In its first year it won the International President's silver award for its year's attendance, having an average percentage of 94.6% present at the year's meetings.

Recently the club received the gold award for having 95.2% average attendance this past year. Two months in its existence have been ones in which not a single member failed to come to meetings.

The Hilltop club has the distinction of being the fastest growing club in the Fifth Division, which covers central and southern Ohio. It has more than doubled its original membership of 40 with today's 98 members. Its officers are Ed Planck, president; Dr. R. J. Miller, vice-president; M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner, second vice-president; Noble Allen, secretary; and Curt Wilcox, treasurer.

The club makes its primary interest "boys and girls, their work and their problems," and along that line it has sponsored many child community projects. A few are listed here: Transportation for Girl Scouts to and from camp last summer; Halloween art project to stimulate art interest among school children; two boys at Boys' State; two girls at Girl Scout camp; and a countless number of other projects, including permanent maintenance of a Sea Scout Ship No. 3 and Air Scout Squadron No. 3.

The club is especially interested in four vital issues: (1) a juvenile council sponsored by the Hilltop Kiwanis for work in combatting juvenile delinquency.

(2) Vocational guidance for high school seniors so that those interested in a vocation may see its disadvantages and advantages from some business person who is in that line of work.

(3) Raising business standards within the community.

(4) Furthering friendly relations between the farmer and city man.

Weekly meetings of the groups keep the program of Kiwanis constantly before its members at all times.

This Is The Hilltop -- A Good Place To Live

THE HILLTOP AND WEST SIDE

Community Is Known For Its Local Spirit

By Paul Wichterman

"Community Cooperation," a by-word on the Hilltop for many years, has become an accepted trademark for this area of the city not only throughout the rest of metropolitan Columbus but a large section of the state as well.

Such a reputation does not come about through the concerted efforts of many people over a long period of time. Partially separated from the rest of the city geographically, the close-knit spirit of community cooperation has grown as a result of organizations that have fostered that attitude.

The Hilltop is today and always has been a community of many organizations. It would be difficult to enumerate the many groups, large and small, that have flourished here, many of them for more years than most of us can remember. They affect our religious life, our school activities, fraternal associations, athletic and recreation programs, charitable interests, business activities, youth work and our hobbies, to mention only a few.

HBA Leads Way Outstanding in this program of developing a community consciousness has been the work of the Hilltop Business Association (formerly the Hilltop Business Men's Association) and its predecessor, the Hilltop Chamber of Commerce. The work of these two business groups has been far-reaching, not only in the program of community betterment but in the favorable publicity that has resulted from its program of activities.

Such things as the Hilltop Minstrel, which just recently concluded its 18th annual successful presentation, the Hilltop Bean Dinner (A summer festival that attracted thousands of visitors to the Hilltop. It is to be resumed this summer), active standing committees that look out for improvements in safety, health, convenience, etc., of the entire community, and the promotion and support of numerous other community projects, have contributed much to making the Hilltop a desirable section of the city in which to live.

Without a doubt this organization, because of its long continuous program, has contributed more to the welfare of the community than any other single group.

Two New Groups Two new organizations of community-wide scope have come into being on the Hilltop in the past two years. Each has made worthwhile contributions to the welfare of the community and each promises to become a strong influence for good on the social and civic levels.

The Hilltop Kiwanis Club has made an enviable record for itself in the short time since its organization. In attendance of its members at the weekly meetings, it has won recognition on the state and national level and its program of local civic work has been far reaching. What may develop into its most important community contribution is the recently announced program for coping with the juvenile delinquency problem. It involves a long-time program that works through a juvenile council.

The Hilltop Community Council came into being as a result of a recognized need for an over-all agency to coordinate the work of all groups. It is yet in its infancy and has not reached the full potential possibilities but has already brought various groups together to develop strong programs along several lines. Several other communities have followed the Hilltop's lead.

Amvets Have New Post Here

Veterans of World War II recently received a charter for the formation of Hilltop Post No. 55, Amvets, and elected Dana Deshler, 632 Thurman-av., as the first commander. Deshler is a graduate of West High School and was one of the outstanding athletes turned out by the school.

At present the post is without a permanent meeting house. A complete program of activities is being worked out under the direction of the newly elected officers. Considerable stress will be placed on athletics in the program for the coming year.

Other officers named are Warren (Pappy) Howell, 31 S. Wheeland-av., first vice commander; Robert Nichols, 171 S. Richardson-av., adjutant; Joe DeVennish, Briggsdale, legislative chairman; Jack Alexander, 463 N. Greiner-rd., provost marshal.

Bill Ferguson, 39 S. Highland-av., public relations officer; Franklin Sparks, 108 N. Roy-av., chaplain; Leo Oddi, 645 S. Oakley-av., finance officer; Gunnar Marsh, 185 Wheeland-av., athletic director.

Marsh has also named the following committee to assist him with the athletic program: Ray Stinson, Earl Konkler, Bob Nichols and Bob Logan.

Women's Chorus Is New Organization

The Hilltop Women's Chorus, an outgrowth of the John Burroughs Mother Singers, came into being last summer. The group, which has 36 active members, held its first meetings in the Hillcrest Baptist Church. Practices are now held each Monday evening at the Westgate Methodist Church.

The chorus is open for new members and anyone belonging to the John Burroughs Mother Singers will be considered as a charter member.

The members of this group represent almost every church on the Hilltop.

Officers are Winifred Camp, 188 S. Terrace-av., president; Mildred Bell, 294 S. Eureka-av., secretary; Bertha Woodin, 2711 W. Broad-st., accompanist; Bertha Masters, 438 S. Powell-av., director; Katherine Hamilton, 2804 S. Sullivan-av., chairman of the music committee; and Cornelia Boyer, 244 N. Wayne-av., chairman of the programs.

Camp Chase Post No. 98 Has Filled An Important Place In Community Life

One of the outstanding community service organizations of the Hilltop is Camp Chase Post No. 98 of the American Legion. Since this post was organized approximately 18 years ago, Camp Chase Post has been a force for good in the Hilltop community.

It had its modest beginning in 1929 when a small group of veterans of World War I, recognizing the opportunity to be of service to their community, banded together under the leadership of Claude V. Haddon, now deceased, and organized a post of the American Legion.

Camp Chase Post No. 98, under which name the post has been known since its inception, is unique, memorializing as it does four major conflicts in which our nation has engaged. The name Camp Chase is familiar to Hilltoppers being taken from the Civil War camp which embodied a considerable area of the Hilltop.

The Confederate Cemetery on Sullivan Avenue in which some 2000 Confederate soldiers are buried, marks the location of the Civil War camp. The No. 98 was assigned to this post by the Ohio Department of the American Legion upon request of the sponsors of the post to commemorate the days of Admiral Dewey and Col. Teddy Roosevelt and the gallant sailors and soldiers of the Spanish American War.

The American Legion itself was born from World War I and grew to be the largest and the most representative organization of men and women of that war.

Since the close of World War II, it has opened its membership rolls to the veterans of that war and now many sons and daughters of the original Legionnaires are active members of the organization and in which they are eligible to membership by right of their own service to the nation in time of conflict.

There is scarcely a home on the Hilltop that has not felt the influence of this patriotic organization. Any history of the progress of the Hilltop will carry many pages devoted to the community activities of Camp Chase Post.

To mention just a few at this time it will be remembered that the Hilltop swimming pool can be directly attributed to Camp Chase Post. The establishment of school safety zones is a result of another activity of this post. We all remember the dark days of

It is a well known fact that real estate prices are high but this is only in keeping with the price advances of everything you purchase and likewise true of your earning power today.

It is our belief that real estate prices are not going higher, nor are they settling back. Good property will hold its own for considerable time yet. From the standpoint of speculative investment this is not a time to put money into real estate and expect to get rich over night.

Personally we are not looking for clients interested in making money in a quick turn over in real estate. We want to sell you a home. And there is always a lot more value in property that is going to be occupied for years to come as a home. So in looking into the future be sure to take into consideration the value of the property you buy as a home.

We are proud of the fact that in the many years we have been in business on the Hilltop we have sold hundreds of homes to Hilltop residents . . . people who are satisfied with the value of their transaction.

General Insurance

Today, more than in any recent year, it is important that you investigate your insurance program and determine to your own satisfaction that you are properly insured. Should fire or any other disaster strike your home today your loss would have to be based on the replacement value, which is far in excess of the amount of the insurance you have been carrying on your home.

We will appreciate an opportunity to go over your insurance program and offer any suggestions as to any revision that might be necessary . . . and at no obligation.

We are prepared to give you full coverage in two Columbus home office companies . . . The Buckeye Union and The Mayflower Insurance Co. . . . providing you both quick agency and home office services.

Scores Of Organizations Active In The Community

To the scores of organizations that have contributed so much to the community life of the Hilltop, this section of the 30th anniversary edition of The Hilltop Record is dedicated. It is hoped that, as a result of it the Hilltoppers will have a better understanding and thus a greater appreciation for the work that is done by each group.

If some group or organization has been overlooked, it has not been done intentionally but is rather the result of the large number of such organizations that have come into being in recent years which have not sought publicity through the columns of the Record. This paper stands ready at all times to serve the needs of any responsible group that seeks to have its activities publicized.

The cooperation of all who have assisted in the preparation of this section is greatly appreciated.

Organized Groups Active Here

By Charles P. Maus

Our community is fortunate to be blessed with an abundance of civic, patriotic and fraternal organizations — groups of Hilltop men and women interested in the welfare of humanity in general and the Hilltop in particular.

They strive, in their own particular ways, to do a specific job of bettering social conditions — to make this world a better place in which to live.

It is a task that our fathers and forefathers would be proud to accomplish the same ends — to hand down to us a heritage better than that which was given to them.

It is a never-ending, never-achieving, cycle of events, and a challenge to every generation.

The women's organizations on the Hilltop have been spotlighted for years for their enthusiastic and capable handling of programs. Among the more important: the Parent-Teachers Associations, the many Missionary groups, the various church units, Unit to Camp Chase, Randolph Child Study Group, Sunset Literary Club, Kamekathiana Club, Police-men's Auxiliary, Garden Club, Blue Star Mothers, Gold Star Mothers, Navy and Marine Unit, WCTU, Eastern Star and the Child Conservation League.

The men's organizations, too, are well known for their activities along this line. Well known are the Ministerial Association, Kiwanis, Hilltop Business Association, American Legion, Amvets, VFW, K of C, K of D, Eagles, the brotherhood and men's organizations of the various churches, West High Bowlers, Golden Triangle Club, Hilltop Conservation Club, and Masons.

The Hilltop is proud of its many churches and schools, their programs having much to do with the advancement and accomplishments of the ideas and ideals for better living. Many of the churches are building — and are planning to build — larger auditoriums and rooms to further their programs.

In their individual ways, these organizations and groups are doing an excellent work, and according to their announced plans, will continue.

But what of a community organization — an organization to act as a "clearing house" for overlapping activities, an organization to consolidate, to plan, to execute a more energetic and more complete program? An organization that could, through the support of all these groups, undertake community-wide plans for improvement.

The Hilltop has, to some extent, such an organization. Starting out with a small group of men and women representing a few organizations, it has grown into the Hilltop Community Council, Inc., with representation from 30 odd Hilltop groups. This organization is striving to have EVERY Hilltop group represented at its monthly meetings, in order to carry on this Greater Hilltop program dreamed of by everyone.

The council has its yearly program of events, including the Easter egg hunt, Memorial Day services and parade, opening day exercises at all of the playgrounds, a Halloween party at West High and the window painting contest, and does take an active interest in all of the many phases of work relating to the welfare and well being of the Hilltop in general.

The council is responsible, through the cooperation of the Socony Vacuum Oil Corporation, for the establishment of the only FULL TIME TEEN CANTEN in this section of the country. This project alone deserves the support of every Hilltop organization, for it offers the opportunity for a teen-ager to let off that "extra-steam" under supervised attention.

With our ever-increasing population and our ever-increasing needs, the Hilltop finds itself confronted with a post-war problem of furnishing itself with many things — and probably the first (Continued on Page 2D)

HBA Brings Improvements For Hilltop

Constantly looking out for the interests of the Hilltop for more than a score of years has been the Hilltop Business Association (formerly the Hilltop Business Men's Association) and its predecessor, the Hilltop Chamber of Commerce.

Made up for the most part of independent business men and women and professional people doing business on the Hilltop, the group has been responsible for many of the major improvements to the community.

The HBA was organized in 1927, replacing the old Hilltop Chamber of Commerce. "Community Cooperation" has been its trademark from the beginning — a label that has been impressed on the minds of all central Ohio.

Perhaps its best known activity year after year is the annual Hilltop Minstrel, which has become an institution on the Hilltop. No other "home talent" show in the State of Ohio is as widely publicized or as well attended as this typically Hilltop entertainment.

On the more serious side the organization has carried on an active program along civic, safety and community betterment lines. Perhaps its most effective work has been done through constant working with and through city officials to see that the needs of the Hilltop are not forgotten in the over-all city planning and administration of services.

The increasing number of women in business in the community who became members of the organization led to the dropping of the word "men" from the name early this year and thus the present name, Hilltop Business Association, came into being.

The following men have served as president of the HBA since its formation: R. O. Harrison, George Painter, H. G. Deems, Gene Todd, C. H. Campbell, Floyd Green, C. J. Rice, Dr. John C. Hartley, Charlie Kent, Dr. F. L. Sulzberger, Lou Saunders, John Riepenhoff, Dr. E. E. McNamee, Joseph Briggs, Curtis R. Roberts, Edgar Planck and the incumbent, Dr. R. J. Miller.

Other officers now serving are Clarence Story, first vice-president; Ed Witherspoon, second vice-president; C. H. (Doc) Campbell, secretary; and Jack Merriman, treasurer.

Westway Post Started 1936

The Westway Post, No. 3441, VFW, now striding ahead with 257 members, was founded in 1936 with 13 members at the start. Charles Geddes, 2079 W. Broad-st., is commander of the post, which has its headquarters at 2393 1/2 W. Broad-st.

The group just recently organized a 30-piece band. Winfield Scott is chairman of the band, with Clifford Thompson as co-chairman.

Among the projects backed by Westway post each year are the poppy fund, which receives the most attention and is the biggest event of the year, the poultry raffle and the carnival which is sponsored by this group.

Business meetings are held each month at post headquarters, with a social meet once every four weeks also.

The state convention of the VFW will be held the first week of July this year. Officers of the local post are Geddes, commander; John Kackley, 810 1/2 W. Broad-st., senior vice commander; Richard L. Tom, 797 N. Hague-av., junior vice commander; Herbert Kunzi, 3133 Ellis-pl., chaplain; Ray L. Board, 604 Salisbury-rd., judge advocate; Dr. L. W. Rohr, 291 S. Brinker-av., post surgeon; Robert Zylauf, 136 S. Ryns-av., quartermaster; Joe Enright, 101 Haldy-av., trustee; Eugene Wolfe, 78 N. Ogden-av., and Winfield Scott, 532 Nashoba-av., delegates to the council.

POPULATION INCREASED 24%. The entire city of Columbus showed an increase in population of approximately 5 per cent during the years from 1930 to 1940, while the Hilltop showed an increase of more than 24 per cent for the same period.

Hilltop Kiwanis Club Will Celebrate Second Anniversary On June 1

Though its history is brief, the Hilltop Kiwanis Club has been one of the fastest growing, best attended and most successful organizations on the Hilltop.

The club, which is the only service organization west of the Scioto River, will celebrate its second birthday June 1.

Seven Hilltop men were present at its first meeting in April, 1943. Dr. Jim Miles, Fred Warden, Noble Allen, Herb Deems, Leo McComb and Ed Melvin. It had been suggested by the Northwest Kiwanis Club of Grandview and Arlington that a Kiwanis club be organized on the West Side. These seven men saw the need for something of this nature, and heartily agreed.

The Northwest Club sponsored the Hilltop organization, saw that it received the proper instruction for functioning properly and helped it to make a good beginning. When the time came, Northwest Club recommended the Hilltop group so that it received its charter from International Kiwanis.

First president was Dr. Jim

Miles; vice-president, H. G. Deems; secretary, Noble Allen; and treasurer, Curt Wilcox. In its first year it won the International President's silver award for its year's attendance, having an average percentage of 94.6 per cent at the year's meetings. Recently the club received the gold award for having 95.2 per cent attendance this past year. Two months in its existence have been ones in which not a single member failed to come to meetings.

The Hilltop club has the distinction of being the fastest growing club in the Fifth Division, which covers central and southern Ohio. It has more than doubled its original membership of 40 with today's 98 members. Its officers are Ed Planck, president; Dr. R. J. Miller, vice-president; M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner, second vice-president; Noble Allen, secretary; and Curt Wilcox, treasurer.

The club makes its primary interest "boys and girls, their work and their problems," and along that line it has sponsored many child community projects. A few are listed here: Transportation for Girl Scouts to and from camp last summer; Halloween art project to stimulate art interest among school children; two boys at Boys' State; two girls at Girl Scout camp; and a countless number of other projects, including permanent maintenance of a Sea Scout Ship No. 3 and Air Scout Squadron No. 3.

The club is especially interested in four vital issues: (1) a juvenile council sponsored by the Hilltop Kiwanis for work in combating juvenile delinquency. (2) Vocational guidance for high school seniors so that those interested in a vocation may see its disadvantages and advantages from some business person who is in that line of work. (3) Raising business standards within the community. (4) Furthering friendly relations between the farmer and city man.

Weekly meetings of the groups keep the program of Kiwanis constantly before its members at all times.

"COOPERATION" TYPIFIES THE HILLTOP

This Is The Hilltop -- A Good Place To Live

THE HILLTOP AND WEST SIDE

Community Is Known For Its Local Spirit

By Paul Wichterman
"Community Cooperation," a by-word on the Hilltop for many years, has become an accepted trademark for this area of the city not only throughout the rest of metropolitan Columbus but a large section of the state as well.

Such a reputation does not become a reality by mere happenstance — it has come about through the concerted efforts of many people over a long period of time. Partially separated from the rest of the city geographically, the close-knit spirit of community cooperation has grown as a result of organizations that have fostered that attitude.

The Hilltop is today and always has been a community of many organizations. It would be difficult to enumerate the many groups, large and small, that have flourished here, many of them for more years than most of us can remember. They affect our religious life, our school activities, fraternal associations, athletic and recreation programs, charitable interests, business activities, youth work and our hobbies, to mention only a few.

HBA Leads Way
Outstanding in this program of developing a community consciousness has been the work of the Hilltop Business Association (formerly the Hilltop Chamber of Commerce, the Hilltop Business Men's Association) and its predecessor, the Hilltop Chamber of Commerce. The work of these two business groups has been far-reaching, not only in the program of community betterment but in the favorable publicity that has resulted from its program of activities.

Such things as the Hilltop Minstrel, which just recently concluded its 15th annual successful presentation, the Hilltop Bean Dinner (A summer festival that attracted thousands of visitors to the Hilltop. It is to be resumed this summer), active standing committees that look out for improvements in safety, health, convenience, etc., of the entire community, and the promotion and support of numerous other community projects, have contributed much to making the Hilltop a desirable section of the city in which to live.

Without a doubt this organization, because of its long continuous program, has contributed more to the welfare of the community than any other single group.

Two New Groups
Two new organizations of community-wide scope have come into being on the Hilltop in the past two years. Each has made worthwhile contributions to the welfare of the community and each promises to become a strong influence for good on the social and civic levels.

The Hilltop Kiwanis Club has made an enviable record for itself in the short time since its organization. In attendance of its members at the weekly meetings, it has won recognition on the state and national level and its program of local civic work has been far reaching. What may develop into its most important community contribution is the recently announced program for coping with the juvenile delinquency problem. It involves a long-time program that works through a juvenile council.

The Hilltop Community Council came into being as a result of a recognized need for an overall agency to coordinate the work of all groups. It is yet in its infancy and has not reached the full potential possibilities but has already brought various groups together to develop strong programs along several lines. Several other communities have (Continued on Page 2D)

Amvets Have New Post Here

Veterans of World War II recently received a charter for the formation of Hilltop Post No. 55, Amvets, and elected Dana Deshler, 532 Thurman-av., as the first commander. Deshler is a graduate of West High School and was one of the outstanding athletes turned out by the school.

At present the post is without a permanent meeting house. A complete program of activities is being worked out under the direction of the newly elected officers. Considerable stress will be placed on athletic in the program for the coming year.

Other officers named are Warren (Pappy) Howell, 81 S. Wheeland-av., first vice commander; Robert Nichols, 171 S. Richardson-av., adjutant; Joe DeVenish, 819 S. Wheeland-av., secretary; Jack Alexander, 463 N. Greiner-rd., provost marshal.

Bill Ferguson, 39 S. Highland-av., public relations officer.

Women's Chorus Is New Organization

The Hilltop Women's Chorus, an outgrowth of the John Burroughs Mother Singers, came into being last summer. The group, which has 36 active members, held its first meetings in the Hillcrest Baptist Church. Practices are now held each Monday evening at the Westgate Methodist Church.

The chorus is open for new members and anyone belonging to the John Burroughs Mother Singers will be considered as a charter member.

The members of this group represent almost every church on the Hilltop. Officers are Winifred Camp, 166 S. Terrace-av., president; Miles,

Camp Chase Post No. 98 Has Filled An Important Place In Community Life

One of the outstanding community service organizations of the Hilltop is Camp Chase Post No. 98 of the American Legion. Since this post was organized approximately 18 years ago, Camp Chase Post has been a force for good in the Hilltop community.

It had its modest beginning in 1929 when a small group of veterans of World War I, recognizing the opportunity to be of service to their community, banded together under the leadership of Claude V. Hanson, now deceased, and organized a post of the American Legion.

Camp Chase Post No. 98, under the name of the post has been known since its inception, is unique, memorializing as it does four major conflicts in which our nation has engaged. The name Camp Chase is familiar to Hilltoppers being taken from the Civil War camp which embodied a considerable area of the Hilltop. The Confederate Cemetery on Sullivan Avenue in which some 2000 Confederate soldiers are buried, marks the location of the Civil War camp. The No. 98 was assigned to this post by the Ohio Department of the American Legion upon request of the sponsors of the post to commemorate the days of Admiral Dewey and Col. Teddy Roosevelt and the gallant sailors and soldiers of the Spanish American War.

The American Legion itself was born from World War I and grew to be the largest and most representative organization of men and women of that war.

Since the close of World War II, it has opened its membership rolls to the veterans of that war and now many sons and daughters of the original Legionnaires are active members of the organization their fathers founded and in which they are eligible to membership by right of their own service to the nation in time of conflict.

There is scarcely a home on the Hilltop that has not felt the influence of this patriotic organization. Any history of the progress of the Hilltop will carry many pages devoted to the community activities of Camp Chase Post.

To mention just a few at this time it will be remembered that the Hilltop swimming pool can be directly attributed to Camp Chase Post. The establishment of school safety zones is a result of another activity of this post. We all remember the dark days of (Continued on Page 6D)

Conservation Club Has 55 Members

One of the most recently organized groups on the West Side is the new Hilltop Conservation Club, a group of business men banded together to further soil, water and wild game conservation.

The group held its first meeting in February and has been holding monthly sessions since in the basement club rooms of the Hilltop Sporting Goods Co., at 2461 W. Broad-st. It has 55 charter members.

The organization has hopes of accomplishing three things in the near future: (1) educate club members first as to the necessity of conserving natural resources (2) get the farmers interested in the project and (3) cooperate with the state conservation department in gathering information for study and observation purposes.

Officers include Robert M. Draper, 74 N. Ross-av. president; Clarence B. Story, 208 N. Terrace-av. vice-president; E. J. Colebeck, Sr., 361 S. Richardson-av. secretary; and L. E. Davis, 148 S. Morris-av. treasurer.

Besides the officers, six men serve on a board of trustees, C. W. Rockefeller, 2626 W. Broad-st.; C. F. Reichelderfer, 504 S. Eureka-av.; L. B. McCracken, 148 S. Columbian-av.; Earl Tingley, 210 S. Brinker-av.; L. B. Marsh, 333 S. Ogden-av.; and J. Hugh McCraith, 38 N. Terrace-av.

Girl Scout Program Offers Interesting Field For Development Of Leadership And Character Building

12 Girls' Groups Active Here

Scouting on the Hilltop The present Girl Scout program was introduced to the Hilltop in 1944 by Mrs. Delbert Pugh and Mrs. Harry Geyer. It was through their efforts that Troops Nos. 102, 103, 104, 105 and 107 were organized.

These troops met at the John Burroughs School and the leaders, who formed the John Burroughs Leaders' Association under Mrs. Martin Meiser and Mrs. Edward Bradfute. The aim of this organization was to further the scout program in this neighborhood and, by the exchange of ideas, to help each leader in the planning of her own troop program.

The great need is for leaders—women who like to be with girls from seven to 17 are needed to bring scouting to the girls of the community.

A Girl Scout is thrifty and the budgets of these troops always include donations to the Community Chest, Red Cross, March of Dimes, Scouts Juliette Low Friendship Fund, camperships and service projects.

The Day Camp depends upon community support for its success. Girls of the 18 mothers, leaders and interested adults make up the volunteer staff of outdoor workers.

Camping trips, hikes, bike rides and cook-outs could be enjoyed by more girls if adult supervisors with similar interests could be found.

Troop 105; Mrs. Clarence Deitchle, 2945 Eakin-rd. 103; Mrs. Delbert L. Pugh, 620 Wilshire-rd. 119; and Mrs. Richard Bradfute, 333 S. Ogden-av. 107. Second row, Mrs. H. C. Booth, 646 S. Richardson-av.; Mrs. David Caton, 829 S. Terrace-av. 117; Leona Wills, 3007 Sullivan-av. 117; Florence Conover, 147 E. Terrace-av.; and Mrs. Richard Lloyd, 155 S. Terrace-av. Third row, Mrs. R. L. Word, 337 S. Ogden-av. 152; Mrs. Paul Stillwell, 644 Wilshire-rd. 104; Mrs. Frank Miller, 415 E. Ogden-av. 104; Mrs. Emily Courtney, 674 Binnis-blvd. 102; Mrs. J. Wendle Bowser, 323 S. Ogden-av. 107; Mrs. Harrison Jones, 485 Townsend-av.; Mrs. Ralph Strechler, 594 S. Ogden-av.; and Mrs. B. W. Campbell, 330 S. Warren-av.

Hilltop include the work of the following troops:

Troop 102 This troop of 20 Intermediate Girl Scouts between the ages of 10 and 11 years, under the leadership of Mrs. Emily Courtney, Mrs. Walter Lee and Mrs. Wallace Abbey, have completed the six weeks cooking course offered by the Ohio Fuel Gas Company. This group worked faithfully on the making of Indian bead rings which they sold at the John Burroughs School. Luncheon cloths for their mothers was the Christmas project of these girls.

Troop 103 This intermediate group of 19 girls from 10 to 14 years of age, under the leadership of Mrs. Clarence F. Deitchle and Mrs. M. Griffith, has been busy making pin cushions, pen wipers, hat pins and aprons.

This troop broadcasted from Radio Station WHKC on the Housewives' Q. program March 24.

Plans are being made so this troop will be able to enjoy summer meetings.

Troop 104 Under the leadership of Mrs. Paul Stillwell and Mrs. Frank Miller, this troop advanced from Brownie Scouts to intermediate program in early October. Since that time this group of 30 10- and 11-year-old scouts has spent some time learning scout procedure, songs and games. They too, have taken the Gas Company cooking course, and plan a chili supper for their dads, thus completing the requirements for the cook badge.

In the near future they plan to start work on the sewing badge.

Troop 105 This troop, under the leadership of Mrs. Martin Meiser, meets at her home, 592 Salisbury-rd., each Saturday afternoon from 1:30 to 3:30. It has a membership of 17 girls, age 12 and 13. Most of these girls were Brownie Scouts; all have completed second class rank activities and are now working on proficiency badges.

During last year at regular meetings, day camp, summer meetings and troop camping trips, girls earned the following badges: campercraft, cyclist, outdoor cook, first aid, hostess and cook badge.

Troop 107 This troop meets at the home of their leader at 333 S. Ogden-av. and at times at West High School, where the girls are students. There are 15 active girls in this group, soon to start their fourth year in scouting, having earned their second class rank, and are now working on proficiency badges.

They are now working on dancer badge, and plan to take part in the day camp activities this summer.

Troop 113 During the recent illness of Mrs. Stanley Russell, assistant leader, Mrs. Howard Reber and Mrs. Russell Ryerson have been assisting Mrs. Delbert Pugh, leader, with the activities of this troop.

There are 20 girls in this active Brownie troop who are now practicing homemaking in the form of entertaining. This includes making invitations, place cards, splatter painting napkins, making cookies, planning center pieces, setting the table and writing or telephoning a polite thank you. The girls plan and conduct the games for their parties. All of this training is leading up to the troop birthday party at which they will entertain their mothers.

Troop 117 Under the leadership of Mrs. C. H. Wills and Mrs. E. Caton, this group of 13 nine-year-old Brownies puts service to others first on their program list. The scrap books and other gifts were joyously received at Nightingale Cottage. Bean bags are to be made next as a service to the cottage.

The girls made and sold plaques to add funds to their treasury. They are learning folk dances in working on international friendship of the scout program.

Troop No. 149 This troop of 14 girls was organized in April of 1946. Their first activity was a cooking course at the Gas Company. They participated in the folk dance festival and attended day camp.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Carl Driscoll, Mrs. C. Myers and Mrs. Glenn Miesse, they have had 19 meetings at the home of the leader at 581 Salisbury-rd. with an excellent attendance record.

This group of 11- and 12-year-olds enjoys the troop meetings and responds eagerly to the Girl Scout program.

Troop 152 Under the leadership of Mrs. R. L. Ward and Mrs. H. C. Booth this group of Brownies is starting its second year in scouting. Last year this troop of 31 active girls took part in all the neighborhood scout activities and included many services to others in its program.

Music and folk dancing are at the top of this year's program plan, with service and handicraft playing a major part. The girls are looking forward to participation in this year's folk dance festival and day camp.

Troop No. 58 This is the oldest troop on the Hilltop. Some of these girls are in their sixth year of intermediate scout program; many were Brownies.

This group of 10-, 14- and 15-year-old girls formerly met at the Burgess Avenue United Brethren Church, under the leadership of Mrs. William James and Miss Margaret Wilson, but now meet at the home of Mrs. James, 728 Chestershire-rd., each Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 5:30.

This troop has been working on the music appreciation badge, and knitting. Some girls have started such articles as scarfs, gloves and hats.

Six girls in this troop have earned 10 proficiency badges and are now first class scouts. These girls are looking forward to the Senior Scout program. Some would like to be Wing Scouts, others Hospital Aides. All like camping and need help to get more outdoor activities into their program.

and foremost as a suitable place to father a community center, the lack of which is one of the darker spots in our community.

Many of our business men and social leaders realize that if the Hilltop is to be the representative section of Columbus, the leader in community life, a community center is a necessity.

A well planned center would accomplish many things sought after for years—not only for the young people but for everyone living on the Hilltop.

One suggestion that is receiving considerable mention and thought is the possibility of raising sufficient funds to purchase the present site of the Hope Memorial Church for such a center. Centrally located on the Hilltop, the building would be ideal for just such a purpose.

Our city park, city and board of education playgrounds, should come in for considerable attention, with resultant recommendations for improvements and additions.

Private capital should be shown the advantages of investing its money in such very badly needed centers that other sections of Columbus have—a roller skating rink, bowling alleys.

There are but a few of the more important items that should be concerning EVERY HILLTOPPER and every Hilltop organization, and, with the concerted effort of all, these day-dreams could become a reality.

Troop 106 This is a new Brownie troop being formed under the leadership of Mrs. Richard Lloyd and Mrs. Florence Conover. These little girls, between the ages of seven and eight, became scouts at their investiture service which was a part of the March PTA meeting at John Burroughs School.

Troop No. 185 This is a new troop made up of girls from troops 117 and 152. There are nine girls of 10 years of age, who are working on their tenderfoot rank. They will be under the watchful eye of Mrs. Walter Zipt, 225 S. Brinker-av. and interested mothers of the girls.

30 years' service is a record of which to be proud. May it be our privilege to serve this community as well and as long.

Four Men Largely Responsible For Start Of Masonic Work In Hilltop Community

On a hot day in the summer of 1913, just after the flood waters had receded, three gentlemen, all Masons, built a new Masonic temple for the West Side. The lodge was a dream then, but the chrysalis became a butterfly, and a reality. Evidence is the West Gate Temple which stands at 2925 W. Broad-st.

The building, which now houses the West Gate Lodge F. & A. M., No. 623, is the result of what those three men, Dr. L. B. Turner, Mac Grove and Al Hoar, dreamed of as they talked on Hoar's porch that sunny day 34 years ago.

A fourth gentleman was also active in the first stages of development of this project. He was Web Davis, now deceased, who with Grove and Dr. Turner secured consent from various other lodges in the district to form a new lodge for the Hilltop. Previously a similar attempt had failed for lack of a place to meet. Davis solved the problem this time by erecting a building at the corner of Broad-st and Burgess-av, where he could have his grocery on the first floor and provide a meeting place for the new lodge in the upper story rooms.

Web's automobile, one of the first, and the only one owned by a member of the group, was of inestimable value. It was the only means of transportation for the committee charged with visiting nearby lodges to gain consent for the new chapter.

Humboldt Lodge No. 478 acted as sponsor for the Westgate chapter and on June 3, 1913, formal application was made to the Grand Lodge of Ohio for a dispensation. On Oct. 23, 1913, the group of founders, which had grown from 25 to 37, received its charter.

Dr. L. B. Turner, who is still a practicing physician with offices at 1530 W. Broad-st, was elected first master and Web Davis was named senior warden. The group continued to meet in Davis' building until the completion of the new temple more than 10 years later.

Money was finally raised and borrowed in sufficient amounts to purchase the land for the new lodge, acreage that was once the site of the Camp Chase of Civil War days. After years of planning and saving, the new building began to take shape and on July 19, 1924, a proud group of Masons assembled to watch Governor Jim Campbell lay a few words at the laying of the cornerstone. The building was completed and dedicated the following March 30, 1925. The dream had materialized.

The temple has 11 large rooms, including a ballroom, reception hall and meeting rooms, exclusive of a dining hall and kitchen in the basement.

Incorporated in the lodge are four organizations. West Gate Lodge No. 623, headed by Carroll Vance, master; Robert Morris Chapter, No. 372, OES, headed by Worthy Patron Noble Allen; West Gate Chapter No. 216, under High Priest Ralph Jacobs; and West Gate Council, No. 129, with Al Torr as master.

The local lodge boasts one of the most active degree teams in the district and is one of the fastest growing chapters, now having more than 3,000 members. It is the "third largest lodge in the 14th Masonic District."

Dr. Turner, one of the founders, is now 85 years old, and is still active in West Gate Lodge. He has held an office in each of the Masonic orders and on several occasions has been feted for his participation in its founding.

He "hung out his shingle" as physician 55 years ago in Bidwell, O., but came to the West Side of Columbus in 1906 and has

Horizon Club New Program On Hilltop

By Alice M. Morrow
Field Director, Camp Fire Girls

The Horizon Club program is comparatively new to the Camp Fire Girls organization. It was organized in 1941. The program is one especially planned for teen-age high school girls. The girls do most of their own group planning and many are junior counselors at Camp Wyandot during the summer months and assist with the local day camp program.

There is one active Horizon Club at West High School. These girls are known as the Hilltop Horizon Clubbers and Mrs. John P. Jones, 75 N. Ogden-av, is their leader. The group is sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Herbert. This group recently held a most successful square dance at the YWCA.

been a practicing physician since. He is well-known for his keen memory and love of reading.

Several Hilltop girls are active in the city-wide Horizon Club that meets monthly in the local Camp Fire office.

A new club is being formed by Mrs. James Coffey, 490 S. Ogden-av. Any girls interested in joining this new group may call Mrs. Coffey at RA. 4933.

The name Horizon Club signifies the desire to strive towards distant but challenging goals. The three mountain peaks on the club's insignia symbolize goals we hope to achieve, particularly friendship, fine personality and service to others. The colors are blue and silver — blue for far horizons, and the unlimited possibilities of what we may accomplish for ourselves and others; silver for the stars, imagination, laughter and happiness.

In our journey towards far horizons let us keep as our guide the desire to have a firm faith in ourselves, to be a friend to every one about us, to give service to others, to strive for purity in mind and deed, to have the power to dream and the strength and perseverance to make those dreams materialize, to build courage for living today and to have faith in the future.

Camp Fire Girls Celebrate 35th Anniversary Here

The Camp Fire Girls, Incorporated, were represented by 11 Hilltop groups in the national observance of their 35th birthday last month.

Mrs. Grace Wyman was responsible for starting the first Camp Fire group here on the Hilltop. Her group was organized in 1927 and held its meetings in Glenwood Methodist Church.

When the city-wide leaders' association became too large to hold one inter-club meeting, the

When the girls join, each takes this pledge and each strives to live up to it:

"As horizons are ever changing and always distant I shall not stand still and look into their purple shadows. Instead, I shall seek the higher purposes and the new adventures that lie beyond. I shall reach ever outward to the horizon that is always just beyond my grasp."

organization formed six city districts. Chairman of the Hilltop district is Mrs. Harry E. Myers, 479 Hilltopia-av.

The Hilltop girls sold 1625 dozen doughnuts in this year's sale, on the Hilltop alone. Part of the proceeds will be used to send the girls to camp. The camp is in Hocking County in Clear Creek Valley. Each Camp Fire group derived its name from an Indian name and "Camp Wyandot" was also named for the group of Indians that supposedly camped on the same site.

Mrs. Mary Demarest, 3181 W. Broad-st, is acting executive of the Columbus office, which is located at 209 S. High-st.

There are Blue Bird groups for girls between the ages of seven and 10, and Horizon Clubs for girls who have graduated from high school.

The Camp Fire watch word is "Wohelo." The word is taken from the first two letters in the words, work, health and love.

The laws are worship God, seek beauty, give service, pursue knowledge, be trustworthy, glorify work, hold on to health, and be happy.

Thirteen Club Organized For "Fellowship"

The Thirteen Club, a local group which was organized about 15 years ago, is dedicated to providing "good fellowship" for its members. The group, which has a strictly male membership, derived its name from the fact that 13 local men formed the club.

Ray Burgoon, 261 Eldon-av. is president of the organization, which holds its meetings the second Tuesday of each month at 122 S. Terrace-av. The club has donated approximately $2500 to the Charity Newsies and recently purchased a large refrigerator for the Children's Hospital.

The charter of the Thirteen Club limits the membership to 50 men and at the present time there is a complete membership besides a waiting list of about 50.

The charter members are William Gloeckner, Ralph Warren, Carl Sherburn, Louis Neeshan, Charles Neeshan, William Lash, Ed Hertenstein, Ivor Hayes, Jack Shank, Sam Roberts, George Warren, Fred Martin and Cleve Dum.

The present officers of the club are Burgoon, president; William Krouse, 321 S. Richardson-av. vice-president; Charles Neeshan, 287 N. Burgess-av. secretary; and Lee Weigand, 3181 W. Broad-st. treasurer.

Camp Chase Post Has Large Auxiliary

One of the most active women's organizations on the Hilltop is the Camp Chase Post 98, Auxiliary to the American Legion. Shown above are the present officers of the group.

team, composed mostly of past presidents. It has not only conducted initiatives for its own unit, but has conducted initiatives for various units in the city as well as the Dayton and Circleville units. Just recently the degree team conducted a model initiation at the mid-winter conference at the Neil House, where the national president was guest of honor. Five hundred ladies from all parts of the state witnessed this initiation.

Each year the unit presents an American flag to some worthy organization. In every community affair the unit cooperates when called upon. Treats are taken to the veterans in various hospitals, including Dayton, Chillicothe and local hospitals. The unit has an adopted nurse from World War I who is confined to Dayton Hospital for the remainder of her life. She is remembered on special days with gifts.

During the depression years, the unit adopted a ward at Dayton Hospital and special treats were sent to the men in the ward.

Also during the depression years, the members cooked hot lunches for the post members when they made their annual house-to-house canvass for food and clothing on their Thanksgiving Day drive. Eighteen presidents have served this unit in the order named: Helen Hoar, Mildred Williams, Lillian Richardson, Delia Wagner, Mabel Rogers, Mildred Myers, Edna Bellar, Bertha Planck, Ruth Wilson, Martha Finneran, Helen Kirkpatrick, Harriet Brown, Frances Myers, Alga Kinmen, Bernice Davies, Edna Johnson, Mary Thompson and Esther Weidner, who is serving at the present time. The past presidents have a party which meets twice a year. There are three gold star mothers among the past presidents from World War II. They are Edna Johnson, Mildred Williams and Mary Thompson.

The unit has the honor of being the largest in membership in the state for three consecutive years and won several state awards. Present membership is 225 members, which includes 25 gold star members from World War I and II.

This year the unit is participating in the Girls' State and have selected Ruth Platt to be the representative at Capital University in June.

The officers this year are as follows: Esther Weidner, president; Esther Scales, 1st vice-president; Mary Ficus, 2nd vice-president; Virginia Minnemaeyer, corresponding secretary; Mary Ann Scales, recording secretary; Louise Boothe, treasurer; Alga Kinmen, chaplain; Edna Bellar, publicity and historian; Lillian McVay, sergeant-at-arms; Edna Johnson, relief and rehabilitation; Mary Thompson, junior past president; Bernice Davies, junior activities; Bertha Planck, Evelyn Swain, Harriet Brown, members of the executive committee.

"There are too many good-looking women around,"—F. M. Martin, Detroit, asking divorce judge to forbid his re-marriage for his own protection.

"I'm as thrilled as a country girl on a picnic!"—Grandmother Ann Sneed, Denver, after making her first parachute jump.

Golden Triangle Club Outgrowth Of Aux. Police

With the outbreak of hostilities in the past war, various groups of men were organized as auxiliary police to aid the regular police force in times of emergency. One such group was the Third Platoon, Company C, of the Hilltop. As the war progressed several men in this organization became very closely associated with each other and decided to try and make this association a lasting one.

On Oct. 20, 1943, nine of these men met to form the Golden Triangle Club. The first regular meeting was held Nov. 2, 1943, and the first new member was accepted. At this meeting an announcement was made that club rooms had been obtained at 2871 Sullivant-av.

In June, 1944, the club became incorporated as a non-profit social organization. By the close of that year the membership had reached 18. Present membership totals 30.

November, 1944, saw the club move into larger quarters at 2381 Sullivant-av., the present location. This same month the first anniversary dinner was held in the new club rooms.

Some of the club's activities have been: annual family picnics at Valley Ranch; donation of $100 to the Charity Newsies; endorsement of the W. Broad-st. site for the new memorial hall; public showing of the movie, "This Is Columbus," in the club rooms; dinner and guest speaker, Robert W. Newlon, U. S. Commissioner; sponsoring of two Boy Scouts of Troop 212 at Scout camp; sponsoring of three boys at the West High football banquet; "guest night" party, with 60 guests in attendance, and a great many others.

The present officers are Henry Geshwilt, 421 S. Terrace-av. president; Howard Bettes, 567 S. Oakley-av. vice-president; Glen Rudnell, secretary; George McKinley, treasurer; Charles Moore, William McCormick, Whitney Reed and Francis Holt, board of directors.

Santa Maria Council 2898 Was Organized Here In '44

The Santa Maria Council 2898, of the Knights of Columbus, was founded in the summer of 1944 and the first class was initiated Oct. 1 of that year. Since that time the council, which now has a membership of 365, has become eight times as large as that first group of 46 members.

The group, which meets every Tuesday evening, first had quarters at 2800 Sullivant-av. Later they moved to 3060 W. Broad-st., where they were located for several years until fire destroyed a part of the building. While waiting for their meeting rooms to be redecorated, they took temporary residence in the old Weber Mansion. Recently they have moved into their new quarters at 2884½ W. Broad-st., above the Big Bear Store.

The first officers of the group were Frank J. Christ, grand knight; Don R. Howard, deputy grand knight; Joseph J. Reis, chancellor; Morgan C. Murphy, financial secretary; Al J. Demers, treasurer; Thomas J. Schwan, lecturer; Robert J. Finneran, advocate; Joseph G. Gregory, warden; John A. Collins, inside guard; Joseph F. Lytle, outside guard; Rev. Raymond Bau-schard, chaplain; Dr. Thomas M.

Hughes, J. W. Echenrode, and R. J. DeShetter, trustees. Present officers include Robert J. Finneran, grand knight; David E. Brown, deputy grand knight; Charles L. Cooke, Sr., chancellor; Robert E. Maxwell, financial secretary; John Lawler, recording secretary; M. F. O'Meara treasurer; Francis Sifferlin, lecturer; Joseph Reis, advocate; John Hickey, warden; Fred Pagura, inside guard; Theodore Masdes, outside guard; Joe Fenner, outside guard; Rev. Edgar Hoffman, chaplain, and Thomas Hughes, M. D., Richard DeShetter, Earl Patton, trustees.

VFW Post, Auxiliary Have Active Groups

The Sunset Literary Club is now 37 years old, having been founded April 22, 1910. Mrs. Layette Woodruff is the only charter member who is still active in the social club.

The club, which offers its members literary work and reviews of popular books, derived its name from the fact that being on the Hilltop, the sunset can be clearly seen each evening.

The meetings are held in a rotating fashion, each month at a home of one of the members.

The club contributes to the Pan American Scholarship, the Ohioana Library, the Cancer Clinic, the Needlework Guild, the Penney Art Fund and the Memorial Forest. Each year a sale is held, the proceeds of which are used for the blind institute.

The motto is "Infinite is the help woman can yield to woman."

The club colors are sunset and the flower is the white carnation.

The present officers are: Mrs. W. H. Mann, 67 S. Harris-av., president; Mrs. R. V. Benedict, 188 Bolvidere-av., vice-president; Mrs. M. W. Legg, 175 Guernsey-av., second vice-president; Mrs. W. E. Ferguson, 34 N. Brinker, recording secretary; Mrs. R. E. Cramer, 499 N. Harris-av., corresponding secretary; Mrs. M. W. Pfeiffer, 20 Eldon-av., treasurer.

VFW Auxiliary Celebrates 11th Anniversary Here

The Westway Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, No. 3441, will celebrate its 11th anniversary tomorrow (April 28). The Hilltop branch, which was organized in 1936, had Glenwood Shelter House as its first club rooms. Two meetings, one business and one social, are held each month at the post headquarters, 2383 1/2 W. Broad-st.

The 1947 officers were installed April 2. Of the 103 members 68 are active charter members. The group, which works with and for veterans exclusively, helps with hospital work, promotes Americanism and co-operates with the American Legion Auxiliary during the poppy sale. The annual poppy sale is one of the most important drives of the year to the VFW post and auxiliary.

For the first time since the founding of the Hilltop VFW, both the commander of the post, Charles Geddes, and the president of the auxiliary, Madge Weiner, are representatives of World War II.

treas; Jessie Egnor, trustee; and Emma Russell and Susan Kennedy, council delegates.

Those appointed by the president are Bertha Kackley, secretary; Rose Thompson, patriotic instructor and Americanism; Mary Merriman, Jessie Egnor, Nan Hartman, Mable Franklin, color bearers; Sylvia Eli, musician; Mary Cannon, Vergie Ballenger, color and banner bearers; Lorine Wilson, historian; Cleo Boord, natural home chairman; Stella Garrison, Ohio Cottage; Margaret Phelps, legislature; Emma Russell, hospital and rehabilitation; Vergie Ballenger, entertainment; Carme Geddes, membership; Martha Lee, ways and means.

Camp Chase

(Continued from Page 1D) the depression when many Hilltop families through no fault of their own were in need of food, clothing, fuel, and other necessities of life. In addition to supplying many of these needs to needy veterans and their families through their own resources, Legionnaires of Camp Chase Post annually on Thanksgiving Day canvassed every home on the Hilltop and received donations of food, clothing, and money which was distributed to Hilltop families regardless of whether they were or were not families of ex-service men.

The first air show ever held in the City of Columbus and commemorating the fifth anniversary of the Columbus Airport was sponsored and conducted by Camp Chase Post. It was on this occasion that many Columbus citizens gained their first conception of air power and its possibilities. The American Legion child welfare program has likewise been a definite contribution to community life. Troop 161 of the Boy Scouts sponsored by Camp Chase Post has been an outstanding troop throughout the years, and in addition, effective leadership has been extended the Boy Scout movement from among the Legionnaires of this post not only for their own troop but on a neighborhood, district and Central Ohio area level as well. The chairman of the present troop committee is Jim Ward, a former member of the troop and now a member of Camp Chase Post. Ward served over two years in the European theater and was a captain assigned to American Military Headquarters in Frankfurt, Germany, when discharged. Through its junior baseball program the post has provided the opportunity and means for many Hilltop youngsters to participate in organized league baseball which otherwise might not have been afforded them. Another worthwhile community activity sponsored by Camp Chase is the annual "Man of the Year Award" which was instituted in 1937 to recognize the outstanding contribution to the Hilltop community life by individuals. The committee making this annual selection is made up each year from leaders in the several community service organizations on the Hilltop.

Those selected for this high honor have been Rev. Talmadge Magann, Ray G. Hauntz (deceased), C. Carlton Hartley, Dr. J. F. Bateman, Jim Cooper, Robert M. Draper and Charles Maus. The Hilltop Honor Roll erected in Glenwood Park bearing the names of Hilltop citizens serving in World War II was sponsored by Camp Chase Post and made possible by the cooperation of Hilltop residents who contributed to the fund for this purpose. Another community project being sponsored at this time by Camp Chase Post is the erection of Community Veterans Memorial Building. This building, when erected will not only provide housing for veterans organizations of the Hilltop but will also fill a long felt need for an appropriate and sufficient meeting place for various community meetings and activities.

With the exception of its finance officer, Robert Jones, every officer of the post is a World War II veteran. Vernon C. Flacus, 616 S. Terrace-av., post commander, served in the Navy in World War I and in World War II, was a captain in the Army and served for more than two years in the European Theater assigned to the Third Army under General Patton. Other officers are John Martindale, first vice commander; Jack Alkire, second vice commander; Harry Burns, sergeant-at-arms; and Ray McVay, Jr., adjutant.

Camp Chase Post recently took over the lodge rooms at the corner of Burgess and Broad where they hold regular meetings, the first and third Friday of each month. Hilltop Veterans, both men and women, who have been honorably discharged from service in either World War I or World War II, are invited to membership.

Mentorwood Lodge Has 175 Members

Recently chartered as Mentorwood Lodge, Westwood Lodge of The Knights of Pythias will celebrate its 31st birthday July 6.

The lodge, formerly named the Westwood Lodge, before its merger last year with Mentor Lodge from downtown Columbus, meets in rooms above Herbert's Food Market at the corner of Broad-st and Burgess-av. It has approximately 175 members.

Westwood Lodge, organized in 1916 over what is now the Hilltop Furniture Co. at 2385 W. Broad-st., was instituted primarily for the benefit of its members in sickness and death. There were 60 charter members under first chancellor commander, D. B. Ulery, well-known at that time as a West Side lawyer, residing on N. Warren-av.

In recent years membership of both the Westwood and Mentor Lodges declined and the two decided to consolidate. This was done in the summer of 1946.

The Knights of Pythias originated in the year 1865 at the close of the Civil War, in an endeavor to promote a friendly attitude between people of the North and South. Abraham Lincoln signed the organization's first charter. It has now grown until there are chapters of this charitable institution all over the United States and Canada.

Present officers of Mentorwood Lodge are John Schmauch, chancellor commander; Wilbur Herdman, vice chancellor; John Ruh, master at arms; John Schaller, prelate; Pearl Oliver, inner guard; Ed Gleason, outer guard; Ormand E. Spencer, keeper of records and seals; Edward Dunavent, master of finance; Ralph Bieber, master of exchequer; Harry Hess, trustee; and George Rings, master of work.

One of the charter members is still living on the Hilltop. He is L. E. Baird, 164 N. Burgess-av., who has twice been chancellor commander and has filled all the offices of the lodge at one time or another in his long career.

Seiller's Store Was Started Here In 1911

Seiller's Department Store, which was founded by L. M. Seiller 37 years ago, first occupied the site where the Economy Variety Store now stands. In 1911 Mr. Seiller bought the adjoining lot and built the present store building.

M. W. Seiller, who operated his own store in Crestline, came to the Hilltop a few years later and went into a partnership with his brother. The store became known as the Seiller Bros. Store.

M. W. Seiller bought the entire concern in 1921 and then, seven years ago, the store was incorporated under the name of Seiller's by M. W. Seiller, Jack Merriam and Paul Leightner.

Ever find a four-leaf clover at midnight?

Your chances of stumbling over a four leaf clover in the dark are . . . well, you set the odds.

Which explains why so very few four leaf clover hunts are scheduled after dark. Your chances of knowing how much you'll earn in twenty years from now are just about as slim . . .

But it's a fact that you can more accurately predict that you will want to continue to live on the Hilltop for many years to come.

And it's a very good chance that your earnings will do a lot more for you today and in years to come if you continue to patronize your local independent Hilltop merchant, service man, or professional man or woman.

We of the Hilltop Business Association are proud of the part we have played collectively in seeking and getting many of the improvements that make the Hilltop the fine place it is in which to buy your home, raise a family and enjoy life in what we term the most typical of sturdy American communities.

In the years to come this organization shall at all times work for all the things that are good for the Hilltop.

Weber Mansion Donated For Youth Center; Maus Put Much Work In It

Center of activity for scores of teenagers on the Hilltop is the Teen Canteen, established in the old Weber Mansion, corner of Broad-st. and Burgess-av. Officially opened to the public June 8, 1946, it has carried on a varied program of activities, including frequent Saturday night dances.

Last fall the center became an agency of the Community Fund and Mel Griggs was appointed supervisor of the work. Responsibility for the direction of the canteen rests with a committee named by the Hilltop Community Council. The center was opened as a result of the efforts of the HCC, headed at that time by Charles P. Maus, a man who has personally devoted untold hours to the project without compensation of any kind.

The building was made available by the Secoy-Vacuum Oil Company, which purchased the Weber property more than a year ago. It has been turned over to the HCC to operate until such time as removal of the building may be made necessary for development of the property. The oil company will erect a modern super service station on the corner at some future date and plans have been drawn for a modern theater on the present site of the mansion.

The canteen was started on a "no work—no play" basis. A required number of hours of work were needed before a teen-ager could share in the privileges of the center. At present dues are paid each month for the use of facilities but frequent "house cleanings" are held when all members pitch in to help tidy things up.

Of especial interest to the young people are a record player with a newly installed amplifying system that provides music for dancing; a pool table, game room and library; a coke bar; ping pong tables, etc.

Furnishing of several of the rooms was made possible through the cooperation of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, Camp Chase Post 98, American Legion, and the Hilltop Business Association.

A Junior Hilltop Community Council, made up of young people elected from their own group, has a large share in forming the policies and rules under which the center is operated. This junior group meets with the HCC

Why Scouting?

By Gil Bolin
Field Scout Executive

Did you ever day-dream? Think back. Well, most boys do. They live in a world of make-believe with the Indians, explorers and cowboys of by-gone days when there were new horizons to conquer which offered adventure. But the complexities of modern living with its speed and drive to secure more things for a greater life of ease, affords our present day youth little opportunity to know and explore the wonders of Mother Nature first hand. All such knowledge is learned principally from the movies or books.

What has all this to do with "Why Scouting?" The lads of today still dream of adventure. Since that first day he saw a "gang" of boys in uniform with packs on their backs, all set for a hike, or observed an intense group poring over a Scout Handbook, he too has wanted to be a Boy Scout. Why? Scouting is a game with a wide choice of activities and a chance for recognition. It is a game where he is with his "gang" or patrol seeking the little known or forgotten facts about Nature.

Camping out overnight and cooking his food over a fire which he has made himself. What benefit does the lad derive from this? He is learning self-reliance. And while such activities keep him busy, the fundamental purpose behind the Scout program is at work—the Scout Oath and Scout Law. These ideals from which the spirit of Scouting has evolved, serve to build a boy's character and train him in democracy.

On an average, three out of every four boys want to join the Scouting program. The results of a Boy-Fact Survey taken at West Broad Street School disclosed that 85 boys out of 95 between the ages of nine and 12 wanted to become Cub Scouts. Yet few of these boys actually ever become Cubs. Their dreams were shattered! While in this community we give generously of our money, blessings and spirit, to build and better our homes and to discuss needs and program of the canteen.

Several communities have studied the setup of the local center and have patterned other youth centers after this one.

community, we somehow can't find the time to devote to our youth and their guidance. Odd, isn't it? Parents need to play a vital part in this program. It is their interest and willingness to participate in this activity which will enable their sons to go on to achieve new horizons. This doesn't apply only to the Scouting program, but should hold true in every phase of daily life—in the home, the school and the church.

Boys are not too expressive emotionally but they are proud of their achievements. At a recent Tenderfoot Investiture service, one boy, overcome by the excitement, went into a dead faint. When he regained consciousness, there were his patrol leader and Scoutmaster with their ready, helping hands. Had his parents been there to bolster his spirits, he would not have needed to experience the embarrassment he felt after this scene. But he was alone! Why Scouting? To bring back the American Home as a unit with its personal life and interest in each other—parental interest in their own children. Isn't that worthwhile?

It is possible for every boy who desires to enter the Scouting family, to be a member. If there are enough interested citizens, clubs, schools and churches which desire an interesting program. The Boy Scouts of America through the Central Ohio Council offers to institutions its program of Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Senior Scouting for boys from eight years of age to the young men of 18 years. The sponsoring institution employs and directs the program in accordance with its institutional policies. The Boy Scouts of America train the institutional leaders and provide the necessary phases of the program. Why Scouting? To build and work in a closer relationship with the sponsoring institution so that it can do a better job of training our youth. Directly this affects the home, the community and our nation, for as these boys carry out useful civic service projects as minors, so will they as adults recognize their civic responsibilities and carry on. The youth of today is the leader of tomorrow and the ability with which he does his job as an adult depends on how well we do ours today—Why Scouting?

While some men work with inanimate material and develop it into objects of beauty and value, Scout leaders work with animate youth and mold the valuable things of life, such as character and spirit into a living monument which is much more beautiful and priceless—the Boyhood of America. So tribute and all honor to the leaders of the following units.

It's Spring

And We Are Glad

Spring has come to our store . . . just as it has come each year for the past thirty-seven years . . . seven years before the establishment of the Hilltop Record.

This year we opened the doors and there it was with all its vivid, dashing colors . . . it's gay, lighthearted air. It has invaded every dark cranny of the store . . . it has blossomed on the counters . . . it sings in the windows and even brings a whistle to the lips of our most dignified clerk. In fact we've everything here to make your Spring a fashion-right holiday.

Today we present a Metropolitan store . . . the largest suburban department store in Columbus . . . to meet the needs of an ever growing Hilltop and community. Take for example our men's department . . . complete in every detail . . . fashion at its best and ready to serve you in a manner that makes you want to come back to Seiller's.

Rack when Seiller's was founded and we were serving the needs of the homes set about in the corn fields of the Hilltop and West Side we were furnishing the fashions as early as any store in Columbus. Today the fashions you read about in the magazines are here while you read about them.

Along with that goes the fact that we have always held to the best practices and principles of modern trade . . . to be dependable . . . to sell only the best and sell it at a fair price. That is our creed and we will follow it closely in the years to come.

Outfitters of every member of the family . . . that's Seiller's. The Spring togs you need for sister, brother, dad and mother are here.

Yes sir, Spring is here and we are glad. It's a time to be happy . . . a time to be gay . . . a time to be comfortably dressed . . . so . . . remember "You'll Do Better 'At Seiller's After All."

We at Seiller's have always felt there is a lot in a name . . . that's why we have tried at all times to keep the name of Seiller's out front and a household word used daily by Hilltoppers.

Then too, we think there is a lot in the Brand names of the merchandise we handle. Nationally known brands guarantee you products of quality and value. When a manufacturer puts his label on his product that's its pedigree, its medal of merit.

Quality merchandise is more and more plentiful at Seiller's. And we try to give you goods bearing familiar names and recognized trade marks that you may buy with confidence. That's just another of the many reasons why you should come to Seiller's and see for yourself that Spring is really here.

School Program Affects Life Of The Community

Education, the number one business on the Hilltop, directly or indirectly affects more people than anything else that happens in the community. While most of the schools are open only nine to 10 months of the year, the pattern of home life shapes itself around the time schedule dictated by school hours.

Few communities take a keener interest in the work of their school than does the Hilltop. This fact is evidenced by the part the PTA, Band Parents Club, West High Boosters Club, and other groups play in providing so many things needed in the school program that is not provided by the Board of Education. School officials have been impressed many times by the fine spirit of cooperation and loyalty shown on the part of parents and friends of the pupils.

This situation not only makes for more pleasant working conditions in the school but helps to make the school and community outstanding.

The Role of The School

By IRVIN F. YOUNG
Principal of West High School

To develop a sound educational program the school must recognize various facts. The school is the fundamental institution in which our society is attempting to develop in its youth. The attitudes, ideals, understandings, appreciations and skills which are basic to our democratic way of life. Seventy to 80 per cent of its graduates complete their formal education when they leave school. It would appear sensible and logical, therefore, that the high school be considered primarily with the needs of the youth who come to it and the value of its courses for these youth rather than with the conventional pattern for college entrance only. Provision should be made for the proportion of our youth going to college, but the interests of this group should not be allowed to supersede the interests and needs of the great number of our youth for whom the high school is the final source of preparation for adult life.

The general public has indicated and the teaching profession has accepted the fact that its educational system render complete and adequate service to all youth. The general public should realize, too, that to give this service requires more finances than would be needed for a less expensive program which they, themselves, have discarded for a better general education of their own boys and girls. The difference between teaching the three R's and the much more expensive teaching program we have today is not measured in the added cost but in the greater number of individuals who can take care of themselves after leaving high school in this complex world in which we live.

Not many years ago, high schools were primarily functioning for pupils who intended to go on to college. Today, practically all vocations require a high school education. The recent war has made indelible impressions on those who were in the armed services on the importance of education. The veterans have conveyed this message in a very determined, helpful and worthwhile way to their friends and relatives. As a result, the high schools will have more pupils remaining in school and fewer dropping out before completing their work for a diploma.

We should not pass the veterans without giving credit where credit is due. They were brought up in a country and an age where the last thing the parents or teachers thought of was military discipline, hardships and suffering of modern warfare. The last thing most of them thought of was America would be forced to play a mighty role in national affairs and free men would have to defend their liberty. Yet they volunteered in great numbers and were selected under conscription. They had developed something in their schooling—the greatest quality necessary in these modern times, ability to change the aim as the target moves. We often hear people say, what have the schools accomplished in the last 50 years. One need only to refer in answer to the American Army, Navy and Marines of World War II, and their triumphant victory.

10,000 In High School

After the first World War, Columbus had 2,000 high school pupils. Today, we have 10,000. In 1922 the three elementary schools in the West High School territory had an enrollment totaling 1850. Today they have 2149. In 1922, West High had 127 pupils, including grades 8 through 12. Today we have 2106 pupils in grades 7 through 12. Today, all colleges are greatly overcrowded, while following the first World War only the select few attended.

Even allowing for enrollment increase in population, one can readily see that the increase in enrollment in the high school shows pupils are remaining in the high school to get more education. This means expanded facilities, more instructors and additional money if the schools are

$330,000 To Be Spent On Local Schools

Building improvements exceeding $330,000 will be made on four Hilltop schools as a part of a general building program to be carried out by the Columbus Board of Education in the near future. It was announced by George E. Roudabush, superintendent of schools, recently.

West Broad Street, Highland Avenue and Starling Junior High will get by far the largest portion of this money as each is scheduled for approximately $100,000 in modernization work. West High School will receive $30,000 worth of work.

While most of the improvements have been outlined and approved by school officials, Roudabush said it was impossible to tell when the work would get under way. Costs of material and labor and the difficulty of getting bids of any kind make the carrying out of this program extremely uncertain he pointed out. There seemed little likelihood that any major part of the work would be done before school opens again next fall.

Modernization of the first three schools mentioned above will include such things as fireproofing, central heating plants, modern toilets, assembly auditoriums, modern lighting, cleaning equipment, etc. In the case of West Broad and Starling, where they already have assembly auditoriums, the modernization will include greater emphasis on other phases of the work.

Highland Avenue School is the oldest of the elementary schools and is badly in need of almost all of the improvements listed above. John Burroughs, being one of the most modern schools in the city, will not share in this program.

The $30,000 improvement at West High School will be devoted largely to the expansion of the vocational department. Plans for this work are not yet drawn up but it is expected that rearrangement of space will provide for an expanded program in this line of instruction.

2 Catholic Schools Have 650 Pupils

More than 650 Hilltop elementary pupils are being educated in the two Catholic schools operated by St. Aloysius and St. Mary Magdalene Churches.

The enrollment at St. Aloysius School is 282, while St. Mary Magdalene has 371 children in the eight grades.

Sister Superior Ann Lucille is principal of the work at St. Aloysius School. She also teaches the eighth grade. Other teachers are: Sister Henry Louise, first grade; Sister Rita Margaret, second grade; Sister Agnes Gertrude, third grade; Sister Frances Paula, fourth grade; Sister Mary Austin, fifth grade; Sister Matilda Joseph, sixth grade; and Sister Sheila Marie, seventh grade.

Principal of the St. Mary Magdalene School is Sister M. Olivia. The other teachers are: Sister Thelma, eighth grade; Sister Elmer, seventh grade; Sister Carita, sixth grade; Sister Annarita, fifth grade; Sister Sylvia, fourth grade; Sister Canisia, third grade; Sister Frieolin, second grade; and Sister Dorita, first grade.

Beautification Is West Program

Students and faculty members at West High School have done much to improve the appearance of the grounds in the past two years. With money made from paper drives in the community, they have planted 29 shade trees and have made several hundred flower plantings at various times.

More than 300 plantings of chrysanthemums were made in the fall of 1945 as the first phase of the beautification program. The following spring 300 more were planted and replacements were set out. Many of the plants were given to the school by the Rosebud Floral Co., 351 N. Burroughs.

During the past year 35 berry bushes were set out on the grounds. The shade tree planting thus far included 29 trees, as follows: eight pin oaks, six red oaks, three Norway maples, two honey locusts, two English oaks, two flowering crabs and six magnolias.

Franklin Township Public Schools Face Increased Housing Problems

Franklin Township schools, already crowded to the rafters, face increased housing problems as more and more families move to the rural areas immediately surrounding the corporate limits of Columbus.

There is some relief in the situation in the form of a $278,000 bond levy voted by the taxpayers in the 1945 election. Much of this amount, however, will be needed to make up for housing shortages already existing so that by the time a new school building is erected, as called for in the plans, the school board may find itself short of space again. Although plans have already been drawn by an architect and bonds have been sold, it may be a considerable time before material shortages and greatly increased building costs make possible the type of building planned for the amount of money available.

Enrollment Is High
A look at present enrollment figures for the current year as furnished by George C. Beery, Franklin County superintendent of schools, in late January, 1947, show the following conditions:

BRIGGSDALE: 264 enrolled, with eight teachers employed. Mrs. Martha Hall is the principal.

BURNSIDE HEIGHTS: 31 Negro children enrolled. Mrs. Norma E. Harrison is the principal.

FRANKLIN HEIGHTS: 45 enrolled, with two teachers. Bronson Farmer is in charge.

PLEASANT HILL: 42 pupils with two teachers. D. H. Blake is in charge.

SCHLEE: 78 pupils are crowded into two rooms. Mrs. Clara Trabue is the principal. Pupils from the new Greenlawn Avenue veterans' housing project are going in to city schools because they cannot be accommodated at Schlee.

SKIDMORE: 276 pupils, with nine teachers, are crowded into a building designed for six classrooms. Two classes are being held in the auditorium and another in a portable building. Mrs. Helen Dawson is the principal.

WALTON: 69 pupils in a two-room building. Mrs. Hettie Potts is in charge.

WILSON: 234 pupils, with six teachers. Here again a portable is used to provide space for classes. R. L. Kortkamp is the principal.

In each of these schools III grade is taught. Because of the geographical position of the Franklin Township school district it requires eight miles per day to transport pupils to and from school. A new bus was added since the start of the year. A total of 814 pupils are transported daily to grade, junior high and high schools. The latter two groups go in to Columbus schools.

Although there are only 18.4 square miles in the school district, there is no possibility of centralization. At one place just west of the city the township school district is almost cut in two. This results from the fact that the Columbus city limits do not match the boundaries of the Columbus school district. To cite one example, the incorporated village of Valleyview is in the

EDUCATION, BIG BUSINESS ON HILLTOP

Brains - Beauty - Leadership Are Found At West High School Costs On Increase

The cost of education, like the cost of living, is going up. It has risen approximately 40 per cent since 1938 and there is every indication that it must continue the upward trend for some time to come.

Education is big business on the Hilltop. While school properties are not appraised like taxable private property, it is safe to assume that the value of school lands, buildings, improvements and equipment on hand would be valued at considerably more than $2,000,000. It costs approximately three-quarters of a million dollars per year to operate the local school system. (These estimates are based on 1946 figures.)

The amount of increase shown in the cost of operating Columbus public schools can be seen in these comparative figures given out recently by George Roudabush, superintendent of schools.

In 1938 cost per capita for senior high school students for a year was $105.77. In 1946 this per capita cost had gone up to $184. In junior high school work the cost is now $159 as against $105.92. Elementary students today cost $109 per capita as against $77.98 in 1938.

The per capita cost per student for all schools in the city at present averages $137.

The public schools of the Hilltop section, including West High School, Starling Junior High, John Burroughs, West Broad, Highland and West Mound Street (actually a part of John Burroughs School) occupy 30 acres of land that cost the school board $119,341 several years ago. Based on today's real estate market they would be worth many times that amount.

Buildings on these properties cost an estimated $1,451,814.00. Additions to these buildings have cost another $283,892.00. As soon as it is practicable the board plans to spend approximately $330,000 on four of these buildings.

The total valuation of public school properties would thus look something like this:

For building sites	$ 119,341
For buildings	1,451,814
For building additions	283,892
Proposed improvements	330,000
Total	$2,193,047

Based on attendance figures for these schools last September, the cost of teachers and salaries, janitorial service, heat and light, and all other supplies would approximate an expenditure of nearly three-quarters of a million dollars. Most of this money is spent right in the community and constitutes an important part of the business of the Hilltop.

Using the per capita costs given by Superintendent Roudabush, the operating costs add up like this:

Senior high—1132 students at $184 per student	$208,288
Junior high—2025 students at $159	$322,275
Elementary—2204 students at $109	$240,236
This totals $770,799. Mid-year enrollment was down just slightly from the above figures.)

Yes, education is big business on the Hilltop. But the scope of this work cannot be estimated in dollars and cents. To the more than 5000 boys and girls who use the public schools, it represents an investment in character that goes far beyond the yardstick of economics.

Magly Was Principal At West 27 Years

Principal of West High School for 27 years was Otto H. Magly, who retired in 1937. Magly Field was named in his honor.

He returned to the school last fall to attend the homecoming football game and was one of the speakers at the basketball banquet held last month.

Hilltop To Have New Branch Library

Included in a long list of improvements being planned for the Hilltop in the near future is a new Hilltop Branch Library building. It will be built on two lots immediately west of the West Gate Temple.

It will be the first permanent home for a branch library in the city. A building 40 by 60 feet will be built to house the thousands of books that are handed out to Hilltoppers.

Plans for the new building were first revealed by officials of the Columbus Library almost a year ago and it is not known at this time just when the project will be gotten under way.

The Hilltop Branch Library is now located at 21 N. Hague-av. It issues as many as 10,000 books in a single month. Miss Mildred Phalar, 125 N. Powell-av., is the librarian. Mrs. Frances Enrick, 2340 Steele-av., and Mrs. Dorothy Wilson, 185 15th-av., are the assistants.

Miss Stuart Heads W. Broad School

Miss Matilda Stuart, principal of West Broad Street School, has devoted practically all of her teaching experience to Hilltop Schools. She was a member of the first eighth grade class to graduate from Highland Avenue School.

Later she taught at that school for 18 years, serving as principal for a number of years. For two years she was in charge of both Highland and Bellows Avenue Schools and spent two years at Lincoln Park School.

Miss Stuart has been in charge of West Broad Street School since 1939. She received training at the Columbus Normal School, had a year at Nanking University, in Nanking, China, and also took work at Ohio State University.

With the exception of time spent abroad, she has always lived in Columbus. She makes her home at 40 E. Terrace-av.

Victory Gardeners Contributed Their Bit

Students at West High School did their part in the Victory Garden project during the war. Starting in 1941 under the supervision of J. W. Branson, instruction in gardening has been given to several hundred students.

In 1943, 5000 tomato plants were grown in the school building and 200 pupils were each given 25 plants free of charge to set out in their own gardens. During the past five years more than 20,000 plants have been grown at the school and distributed to those interested in gardening.

Garden exhibits have been made at the school during recent years with prizes given for the best exhibits.

He Is Principal At West High School

Irvin F. Young

Now serving his second year as principal of West Junior and West Senior High Schools is Irvin F. Young. He came to the local school shortly after the death of Dr. H. H. Reighley.

He is a firm believer in co-operation with students and faculty alike. The fact that he not only believes in it but practices it as well can be seen in the attitude of students who have learned to know him.

Mr. Young immediately set out on a beautification program for the building and grounds of the school. The results of the efforts of the students and teachers can be seen in the shade trees that have been added to the grounds, the plantings of chrysanthemums and other hardy flowers around the athletic field and numerous other improvements.

Wants Bicycle Rack
 At present he is working on a project to provide bicycle racks for students who ride to school.

Mr. Young first entered the Columbus school system in 1930 when he taught at Starling. He went to Central High School the following year and has served principalships at Milo Elementary, Roosevelt Junior High and East High School. Mr. Young graduated from Capital University and later received his Master's degree from

Provide Many Things For School

An important phase of the school program on the Hilltop is the activity of the Parent Teacher Association. A coordinating link between the classroom and the home, the organization also functions in the capacity of benefactor to the school, supplying many needed facilities not regularly supplied by the board of education.

West Broad Jr.-Sr.
 West Junior-Senior High School PTA was organized in February, 1929, with Judge Cecil J. Randall as its first president and followed by Messrs. Jerry Spence, M. P. Haines, Dr. Raymond Miller, L. B. Keyser, C. H. Campbell, G. N. Harper, Noble Allen, Mrs. B. F. Cline, Mrs. Harold Kay, Mrs. Ray Cave and Mrs. C. C. Saylor, the current president.

The organization has sponsored bake sales at open house which is held each year, and sold light refreshments at the meeting held last October. With these proceeds, money from PTA magazine sales and the quota from the membership dues, the organization has put aside $100.00 in the past year toward bicycle racks for the school.

This year two representatives from the Student Council have been invited to sit in the executive board meetings. In this way the pupils have an opportunity to make helpful suggestions through their representatives on how the PTA can be of more aid to the school.

The PTA has also made donations to the Red Cross as well as other minor donations for the past several years.

Starling PTA
 The PTA of Starling Junior High School now has 333 members after a little more than 15 years' existence. Headed by Mrs. Mark Jones, president, the year's main project is the purchase of musical instruments for the school. Last year's major accomplishment was furnishing bicycle racks.

A unique way of raising funds is employed by the Starling PTA. In that three dances for Starling students are sponsored a year, in October, January and March. At the January affair 700 paid admissions were counted. Students at the school enjoy these affairs and look forward to them.

An additional attempt by the association has been made to cut down absenteeism. A small sum is paid to visiting teachers who call at the sick child's home.

Other officers in addition to Mrs. Jones include Mrs. Harvey Farrand, first vice-president; L. W. Huber, second vice-president; Mrs. Eva Eby, treasurer, and Mrs. Chester Conrad, secretary.

Highland PTA
 Members of the PTA at Highland Avenue School have aided in its progress to a great extent in the past years and have purchased many worthwhile items for the building.

A few of these are three art pictures from the Columbus Art Gallery, victrola records and cabinet, a basketball bank board and rack, sound movie projector and three sets of song books.

From the group's initial meeting in 1920, its first membership of 61 has increased to 491 and is now headed by President Mrs. Edward Thompson.

Past presidents of the PTA are honored each February in a special founders' day celebration, and jitney lunches are held twice yearly, an event to which the children especially look forward. During the past school year it was voted to hold an annual father and son night.

The organization is always well represented at conventions and district PTA conventions, and received a Study Group Certificate last year.

Ohio State University in 1931. He and Mrs. Young live at 155 Stanwood-rd.

This Is West High School

West Junior-Senior High School, with an enrollment of more than 2,000 students, is the center of activity for hundreds of Hilltop families during most of 10 months of the year. It is located at the corner of Olive-st and Powell-av.

Roudebush Sends Congratulations To Hilltop Record

G. E. Roudebush

George E. Roudebush, superintendent of the Columbus school system, extended his personal congratulations to The Hilltop Record on the occasion of the 30th anniversary in the following words:

"I am happy to have this opportunity to extend greetings and congratulate you on this the occasion of your 30th anniversary. You can well be proud of this long service to the community and to the development of community consciousness.

"A community is not just people. It is houses, businesses, churches and schools. In these relationships the press and schools have had a common purpose, one of giving information and education. In this purpose and to this end the Record has cooperated in a splendid manner. For this we are truly grateful. May you continue for many years to come. May you prosper and your efforts be worthwhile in every respect."

Other officers assisting Mrs. Thompson are Mrs. Richard Decker, vice-president; Frank Mason, second vice-president; Mrs. Harvey Wilson, recording secretary; Mrs. George Skipper, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. D. Fledderjchn, treasurer.

John Burroughs PTA
 The John Burroughs PTA has materially progressed from a membership of 92 parents on its first meeting Jan. 13, 1922, to 645 at this time, and has been influential in the progress of the school to a great extent through its financial aid and support of school activities.

Now headed by Mrs. Edward Bradute, president, other officers include Mrs. E. R. Keller, vice-president; E. B. Graham, second vice-president; Mrs. Howard Thompson, recording secretary; Mrs. J. W. Reed, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Harvey Fostermauer, treasurer.

During the first decade of its existence, outstanding activities were the purchasing of a used piano for the school auditorium, the appointment of a committee to study the types of motion pictures being shown to children and the donation of money to purchase school music instruments. In 1925 the first mother and daughter night was held and the first PTA benefit movie was sponsored at the Rivoli Theater, an affair which is still prominent in Burroughs PTA activities. The first PTA bazaar was held in 1933, followed by the beginning of the milk project, which has grown into the use of 30,000 half pints a year for needy pupils. In 1935 the noon lunch program was begun, and the organization purchased many books for the library and a great deal of equipment for the cafeteria. A substantial amount of improvement to the school grounds courses of study to meet the change in child problems.

In recent years the club has given aid to the Cancer Clinic and done a great amount of relief work.

Charter members who are still active in the organization include Mrs. Earle, Mrs. D. L. McCready, Mrs. Ray Haunz, Mrs. Harry Mider, Mrs. R. E. Hecker, Mrs. R. J. Miller, Mrs. M. H. Harrison, Mrs. S. C. Stewart and Mrs. Hubbard Jones.

Mound Street
 Although Mound Street School is closely connected with John Burroughs School in activities, it maintains its own PTA and after 15 years' existence now has 15 members.

Led by President Mrs. Eldon H. Markel, the group has been highly successful in money-making projects during the past two years and has netted well over $400, with which it purchased many useful articles for the school.

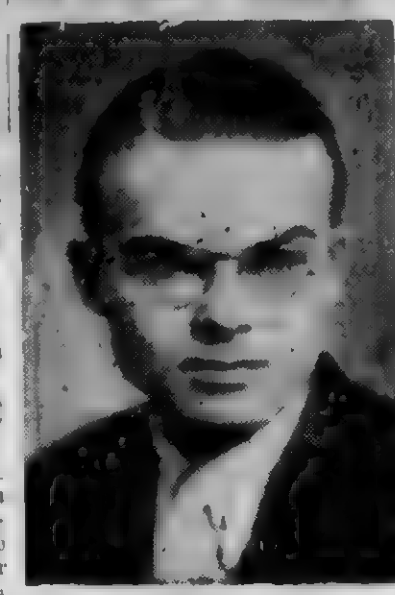

Other officers include Mrs. Earl Fulton, vice-president; Mrs. Louise Hoover, secretary; and Mrs. M. B. Crispin, treasurer.

Dr. Reighley Was Second Principal

The late Dr. H. H. Reighley served as principal of West High School from 1937 until his untimely death in 1945. He had been active in the Columbus school system for many years.

When the wartime teacher shortage became felt, he volunteered to head up both the junior and senior high schools. This he was continuing to do at the time of his death.

Draper Is Pres. Of School Board

Robert M. Draper

Serving the Hilltop as a member of the Columbus Board of Education for the past six and one-half years is Robert M. Draper, 74 N. Reys-av. This year for the second time he was chosen to serve as president of the board.

He is married to the former Ruth Pearce, formerly a faculty member of the Capital University Conservatory of Music. The Drapers have two daughters, Nancy, 6, and Deborah, 3.

He is active in Masonic work and a member of the Shrine Band.

Last Year 245 Children Were Hurt Between Home And School

It was nine o'clock in the morning. The teacher called the roll and everybody answered by holding up his hand. Everybody, that is, except little Frank Wallace. He wasn't there. Frank was in the hospital with his little body mangled. His head hung at an unnatural angle. Both legs were broken and he was coughing blood. The doctor shook his head. Mrs. Wallace stood there, sobbing quietly and Mr. Wallace clenched and opened his fists—

YOU KILLED FRANK WALLACE! You drivers who relied on your horn, rather than on your brakes, on good luck rather than on good sense. You took that little boy out of a classroom where he belonged, and put him into a cold, damp grave.

Drivers, be careful! Little children don't always stop to think before running into the street. We who are older must think for them. We must have our cars in good condition so that we can stop when we have to. We must go slowly in school zones, obey the traffic warnings and the schoolboy safety patrol.

Because—your own children are in school. Are they safe?

Are Responsible For Him

IF you haven't seen to it that your car is in good condition, with the brakes, lights, and steering all functioning perfectly.

IF you don't drive slowly enough to bring your car to a complete stop within 2 feet in a school zone, or if you disobey any warning or traffic signs or signals or the directions of the schoolboy safety patrol.

IF you do not at all times do your duty as a citizen by respecting the rights of others, whether they are fellow drivers or unsuspecting children, and by safeguarding those rights as you would safeguard your own.

The Role Of The School

going to serve the public effectively.

Education is supposed to be the production of useful human beings and some one has said that whatever happens when an adult and child walk and talk together, we have education. West High School tries and strives for these ideals in every way.

Varied Courses

Today, we have courses in home making and management for girls; industrial shop work, including wood work, sheet metal work, drafting and drawing for boys; and it might be interesting to know that hundreds of young men were trained in our own industrial arts shops for special service in the last war. Today of the parents are able to see the fine products made by our boys and girls in courses such as are offered in industrial arts, home arts and fine arts. Cooking for boys and girls is included in our curriculum. Commercial work has been highly expanded. Office managers are eager to get our highly trained graduates. The music program has been enlarged and enriched, including classes in band, orchestra, glee club, harmony, theory, music appreciation and individual instrumental as well as vocal instruction.

Art for pupils who can express their ideas in pictures, paintings and drawings is offered. Physical education and health program has been enlarged and improved to include not only contests and games, but body building exercises and the study of good health and even no habits as well. Weaving, photography, handicraft, radio and store work are only a few of the other fields in which pupils can get added instruction.

All of these so-called extras that were not found in the curriculum 25 years ago, do not in any way detract from the importance of the academic courses which are offered and needed for a general education as well as college preparation. In fact, the academic work has expanded, due in no small part to new methods, skills and techniques in instruction used by specially trained instructors for specific fields.

Pupil Has Better Chance

Today, however, the pupils of the average high school has a better chance to find himself in the various courses offered because they are more flexible and lend themselves to adaptability of the needs and abilities of the individual pupil. In addition, before they are graduated, even though they have been trained in the various academic subjects, all seniors are required to take additional review courses in math and English to fit them better for their work, especially if they are not college prospects.

Two Local Grade Schools

This is the present home of the Hilltop Branch Library at 21 N. Hague-av. It will eventually be replaced by a new building on W. Broad-st.

Prairie Township Plans Centralized Schools; Will Build New Building

A single centralized school for the whole of the Prairie Township is the goal of residents of that area.

As the first step in that direction

All of this requires higher type instructors, more variation in courses and improved facilities. To this end West High School was approved as a member of the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges on May 10, 1939, and has met the rigid requirements of this association each year. In addition, West High School is unusually fortunate in having a community spirit and community backing of the school in all phases of its work. This adds much to making our school what it is.

Upon a $231,000 bond levy was passed in the 1946 election. Bonds have already been sold in preparation for erection of the building as soon as it seems practicable.

Preliminary plans for a 16-room modern building are being drawn by John Quincy Adams, architect, of Columbus. The site for the building has not been selected as this is being written.

The building would include a combination auditorium and gymnasium, a library and a cafeteria.

This centralized school center would replace the three schools now in use at Alton, Galloway and Rome. A total of 501 pupils city school district although it is not a part of the city.

Four Projects Included
The Franklin Township school improvement program will include four major projects.

The Skidmore School is to have a four-room addition built on to the present building. This will relieve the two classes now using the auditorium and eliminate the portable building now in use and provide one additional room. If the enrollment continues to grow, as there is every reason to expect that it will, the enlarged building may be taxed to capacity by the time the addition is built.

The old school buildings at Wilson and Briggsdale are to be completely modernized and made into four class rooms instead of the badly crowded buildings they now are. Pupils from these two schools will be taken to the new school building to be erected with is now enrolled in these three schools.

The Rome school has the largest number of pupils, 228. Six teachers are employed there with James A. Groves serving as principal. Virgil Davis is principal of the Alton school where 153 pupils attend. There are five teachers.

The Galloway school employs four teachers to handle the 118 pupils enrolled there. Guy H. Garwood is the principal. Frank Wilcox is president of

20-Room Building Planned

West High School Triangle Club Formed In 1926 For Mechanical Drawing Pupils

Long an outstanding organization at West High School is the Triangle Club for students who take mechanical drawing.

The club was formed on Nov. 29, 1926, when West was in the Starling Junior High building.

A modern fireproof 20-room building to be erected on the north side of Frank-rd., just east of Briggsdale. The school board already owns a 10-acre tract of land that was paid for before the bond levy was voted.

The building will have a combination gymnasium and auditorium, a library and cafeteria. It is the plan of school officials to have a branch public library in the building that will be open to the general public 12 months of the year.

Walker, Norwick and Templin, of Dayton, are architects for the building.

In all probability the smaller children will be retained at the Wilson and Briggsdale schools while the older pupils are sent to the new school when built. At present there is no way of telling when the project will be undertaken.

Members of the Franklin Township School Board are Elbert Becker, president, Joy Winters, vice-president, Mrs. Sara Ely, clerk, Robert John, Edward Clime and Lawrence Wells.

Largely responsible for its formation and serving as faculty advisor since that time is C. S. Kennedy, instructor in mechanical drawing. He started at West in 1925.

Paul Crosier was the first president of the club. Other officers were Helen Daniels, first vice president; Grace Cassidy, secretary; and Lorraine Gilliard, treasurer. Martha Shoenberger, an officer during the early days of the club, is now dean of women of an eastern college.

The local club is credited with having sponsored competition in mechanical drawing work that later led to its incorporation in the program of the Ohio State Fair. The West Triangle group held contests in the early '30s that attracted as many as 500 entries from schools in this area.

By 1935 the affair had grown so large that Kennedy went to the Ohio State Fair Board with the suggestion that it become a part of the exhibit of the fair each year. This was done and with the help of local pupils and school officers, entries were invited from schools all over the state. The success of the venture can be readily seen in the fact that more than 17,000 entries in mechanical drawing work have been received in a single year.

The local club sponsors a trophy on which the names of outstanding mechanical drawing students are inscribed from year to year. Since its beginning in 1934 names have been added almost every year. However, if the group feels that there is no student who merits the honor in any given year, it is passed up. On three occasions the group has seen fit to go back and pick up the name of a member of an earlier class where that individual has distinguished himself in the work after leaving school.

At present the following names are inscribed or are to be engraved on the trophy: Bob Marsh, '34; Warren Keefe, '38; Bob Tong, '39; John Redman, '39; Paul Hughton, '35; James Roberts, '37; Alva Adams, '40; Bill Brookey, '41; and Renick Farkey, '45.

Membership in Triangle Club is limited to 30 pupils. A grade of B or above must be earned before an applicant is considered for membership. To be eligible, a student must be in his senior year and have had at least one half year in mechanical drawing work.

Membership is voted by the "black ball" method which means that two votes against any applicant prevents his being admitted as a member.

West High School Had Its Beginning In 1907; Became 4th City Secondary School

Otto H. Magly Was First Principal

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story of the history of West High School was written by George Hardy, an alumnus of the school and at present serving as president of the West High Alumni Association.

In the first years of this century high school pupils from the West Side attended Central High School, then located at E. Broad and Sixth-sts. In 1907 it was decided that the West Side should have a school of its own, so early that summer construction was started on the present Starling Junior High building at Central and W. Street.

The building was completed late in the summer of 1908 and on Sept. 8, 1908, West High School opened its doors. It was the fourth secondary school to be built in Columbus. Otto H. Magly, a teacher at East High School, was named principal of the 20-class room school which was erected at a cost of $87,000.

Seventh and eighth grade work as well as high school subjects were taught. The first day 128 pupils registered for high school classes and 194 for elementary work. By September, 1910, registration was 430, with a faculty of 20.

The first football team played under the name of West's Independents. Lee Leahy, coach and teacher, introduced the first school yell, the familiar WE-WE-T-ST, etc. The first issue of the Occident, official school paper, made its appearance Dec. 13, 1910, with Frank Randall as the editor.

West was placed on an accredited list of high schools at Ohio State University the same year and on June 14, 1911, the first Class Day was held with 21 pupils graduating. The Alumni Association was organized following graduation, with the former class officers continuing as officers in the Alumni Association.

Graham Heads Largest School

E. B. Graham

Principal of John Burroughs School, the largest elementary school in the city, is E. B. Graham, 325 Crestview-dr. He has held that position since 1935 and has taken an active part in Hilltop community affairs.

Graham did his first teaching at the Canal Winchester High School in 1917. He served for almost a year in World War I and was commissioned at Camp Sherman.

Later he took a teaching position on the Bowling Green High School. In 1919 he was made superintendent of the combined high and elementary school at Fairview in Wood County. In 1921 he took a substitute teaching position in the Columbus system and was assigned to Highland Junior High. In 1929 the junior high school was moved to West and he continued on there until 1932. At that time he was assigned as a science teacher at North High School, coming to John Burroughs as principal in 1935.

Graham served as a member of Draft Board 13, has been active in the Hilltop Community Council and is at present the president of the Hilltop Male Chorus.

ion.

The first alumni reunion and get-together reception were held in the spring of 1912. The classes of '11 and '12 donated the alumni constitution Nov. 22, 1912, and elected Glen Duffin president.

Cole Joins Faculty
In January, 1913, A. B. Cole joined the faculty, relieving Mr. Magly of the baseball coaching duties. This position he held until 1921. (Mr. Cole is still on the faculty at West.)

The "W" Association was organized March 19, 1913, but on the 25th of that month the great 1913 flood hit the West Side. Students were dismissed to go home and help move household goods upstairs. The school building housed about 150 persons driven from their homes. By the next day the building began to cool off. The gas was off and there were no electric lights and no water service. The following day boys began taking the people to higher ground. And so West High weathered the flood.

In 1915-16 West began to make good in an athletic way. The football team won the city championship as well as the basketball title. In 1916 George F. Neeb joined the faculty and organized the first debating club. (Mr. Neeb is still on the West faculty.)

Presented Operetta
On Nov. 15, 1917, the Alumni Association presented the operetta, "Professor Pepp."

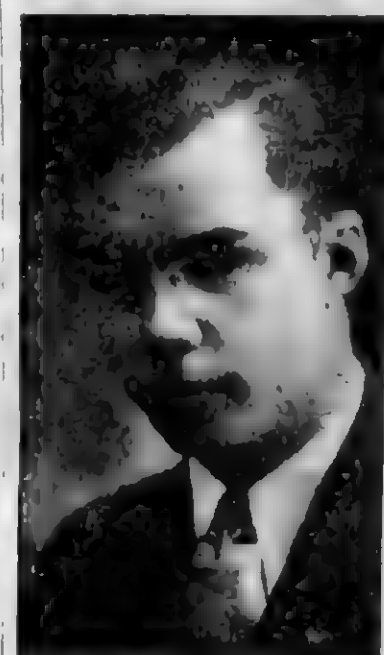

World War I came along in 1917 and on Jan. 4, 1918, Evelyn Evans died of pneumonia while in service and thus became the first alumni member to give his life in the service of his country.

Both the basketball and baseball teams won city championships in 1918. The school closed from Oct. 14, 1918, to Nov. 18 because of the flu epidemic.

The first Occident annuals were issued in May, 1919. The first issue was dedicated to Brush Fleming (class of '15) who died of flu at Vital, France, while in the army.

The last basketball team coached by Mr. Leahy in 1920 won the

He took his undergraduate work at Capital University, receiving his B.A. degree, and then took his Master's degree from Ohio State University.

Before coming to Starling two years ago, Mr. Huber had taught at Central High School and had been principal at Chicago Avenue, Shepard and East Columbus Elementary Schools. He is married and the father of three children: Donald, six, Carol Sue, five, and James, two. He lives at 1776 Stelzer-dr.

Enrollment at Starling has been above 1000 during the past year.

city championship. During that year the Math Club was formed. Registration at the school in 1921, 10 years after the school was opened, was 725. Bill Garrett, a former student, took over coaching duties that year.

In the spring of 1923, the basketball team won the Central Ohio District Tournament at Delaware. In September of that year Miles V. (Cap) Hoover was elected president of the Alumni Association. (Mr. Hoover is now a member of the Columbus Board of Education.)

"Keep West High"
"Keep West High" was the battle cry in a campaign to prevent the removal of West to the Central High Building then under construction. The alumni organization and Judge C. J. Randall (then a member of the school board) were successful in their efforts to retain West High School as a separate institution.

In September, 1925, William D. Campbell, an art teacher, joined the faculty. That year Frances Fuller was also named athletic coach. In April, 1926, the Occident won first place in its class of high school publications. In May of that year the seniors presented "Seven Keys to Budapest." This was the last play ever presented in the old auditorium by a West class.

In October, 1926, work was begun on a new building on the Hilltop to house West High School. The senior class play of 1927 was presented in the Central High auditorium. In May, 1928, the last class was graduated from the old building. Buche Lamme was named coach in the fall of 1928. Enrollment at that time totaled 1000.

On Jan. 23, 1929, the last full day of classes was held in the old building and on Jan. 28 classes were resumed in the present West High building.

The late Dr. H. H. Reighley was named principal of West Junior in January, 1929, and in May of that year the first class play was presented in the new building. "The Band to Yeast-day" was the title of the play. Formal dedication of the building was held May 28 that year.

Wise Comes To West
That same year Mr. Lamme resigned as coach and Harold E. Wise was named athletic director and teacher. (Mr. Wise is now head football coach at Ohio University.)

Jack Miles, now a prominent Hilltop physician, was drum major for the first uniformed marching band to represent the school in the fall of 1930. Miles was also president of the Class of '31.

A Silver Jubilee was observed in June, 1935, as graduation exercises were held for 300 seniors as contrasted with the 21 who received diplomas in 1911. In the graduating class that spring was the son of a West alumnus, Howard Gibson, son of Glenn Evans Gibson, Class of '15, and Howard Gibson, Class of '16, was the first second generation to graduate. The second member of the second generation was William Ferguson, son of Rose Briggs Ferguson and W. E. Ferguson, both Class of '12, who graduated in the next class.

The Alumni Association was reorganized in the fall of 1933 and H. M. Denton, Class of '17, was elected president. The constitution was revamped at that time. The list of purposes set up in 1934 follows:

(1) To perpetuate the friendships formed while undergraduates at West.

(2) To cement firmer ties between the several classes.

(3) To promote the welfare of West High School.

The alumni group appropriated $25 to buy an amusement of the name "If It The Cowboys," written by James McCullough, Class of '32. The original idea was furnished by Florence Hall, Class of '30, who turned it over to Coach Wise. Mr. Wise added 12 measures of his own and gave the result to McCullough, who wrote a piano accompaniment. The words were contributed by Russell Dean, an orchestra leader at Ohio University, where McCullough was a student.

Those who have served as president of the association throughout the years include William E. Ferguson, Don Craig, Jack Sherrick, Paul Fulton, Paul Casey, Miles Hoover and George K. Hardy. Membership now totals about 400 members.

St. Aloysius Makes Plans For New School

Plans for a new modern fire-proof school building are being discussed by St. Aloysius Church officials. It would replace the building now in use.

According to preliminary plans the new building would be a two-story structure providing eight class rooms and a combination gymnasium and auditorium in which plays could be presented and assemblies and other public gatherings held.

It would also house a modern cafeteria for serving meals to the school children and in which food could be prepared for suppers and other social gatherings.

The new building unit would also provide space for a new rectory for the pastor and his assistant.

At present approximately 250 students are enrolled in the eight grades at St. Aloysius School.

The time when the project is to get under way will depend on the availability of building materials and selection of the site.

Academy Of Science Work At West High Wins 4 Top Honors

West High School was "signally" honored in 1941 when the West Junior Academy of Science received four first place awards out of five entries in the competition sponsored by the Ohio Junior Academy of Science held at the Case School of Applied Science. The fifth entry submitted received third place honors.

In the physics exhibit a telescope and lens made by Harley Waits and Charles Hill were awarded first prize. Louis Gross presented his "pigeons for defense" in the biology demonstra-

Frank Mason

Recently appointed to the principalship of Highland Avenue School was Frank Mason, 1308 W. Third-av. He took over the duties Jan. 6 when Mylin Ross resigned to take a position at Ohio State University.

Mason had teaching experience at Elida, Ohio, Adams Township near Toledo, West Junior High, Starling Junior High and West Senior High before taking up his present assignment.

He holds BS and MA degrees from Ohio State University and served 33 months in the U. S. Navy during World War II.

tion and received the first award in that division. Tom Calhoun won a first in the general science division with his explanation of his recent invention, the automatic parachute drop for airplanes.

Ned Marsh, who later lost his life in a tank in Germany, was urged to have presented the best biology exhibit in his "plant leader" project. Paul McClain's meteorological chart won a third place rating in the miscellaneous classification.

West High School Band Is Outstanding

The pride of every West High School student is the 70-piece marching band that appears at all home and city football games and at other functions throughout the year. It is directed by Charles Bennett.

A Band Costs Lots Of Money

By Paul Wichterman

Equipping and maintaining an 80-piece band costs money—more money than the average person would ever realize. So the next time you see West High School's crack marching band in action, give a silent vote of thanks to the work of the West High Band Parents Club, the group that has made it possible.

To give you an idea of the cost of equipment and music needed, here are some figures as given to me by the band parents' group. During the period from 1940 to 1946 expenditures amounted to $4762. All this money was raised through the efforts of this group in cooperation with the band and orchestra and school officials. The school board has no place in its budget for such things as snappy band uniforms. It has enough trouble paying teachers a subsistence wage.

The uniforms now in use, together with spats and other trimmings, cost a little less than $3000. Seventy of the uniforms were purchased three years ago. Ten of them and a new uniform for Charles Bennett, the director, were bought during the past year.

Buy Some Instruments
The band parents must also buy most of the large or odd instruments that students would not ordinarily purchase for themselves. Such things as drums, bass horns, euphoniums, etc., are furnished and maintained by this organization.

Here are some of the typical expenditures during the current year:

He Directs Band

Charles Bennett

Director of West High School's famed marching band of 80 pieces is Charles Bennett, who came to the school in 1941. In February, 1943, he laid aside his baton to start a 34-month period of service with the army, serving first with an infantry battalion and later being assigned to the chaplain section.

Bennett served overseas in the African and Italian theaters for a total of 27 months, working up to the rating of technical sergeant. He was awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious service. At various times he was chief clerk of the headquarters office over 700 chaplains and later worked with choruses of service men at Casablanca and other cities.

He returned to his work at West in 1945. Bennett was widely known in Ohio for his own dance band which he kept together for 12 years. He spent more than six years at Ohio State University, majoring in music and specializing in choral and band work. He taught in Urbana three years before coming to West. He and Mrs. Bennett live at 239 Belvidere-av.

New bass horn, $236.00.
Baritone horn, $114.30.
Repairs to instruments and new music, $270.34.
Band pins and letters (to be given those who have served two or more years in the band), $79.24.

Transportation to and from any engagements away from the school must be provided for by the club or interested citizens in the community. A party is given once each year for the boys and girls in the band to show them that their work is appreciated. This, too, must be financed by the parents.

Journalism Head

Myron T. Seifert

Teacher of journalism at West High School for the past 10 years is Myron T. Seifert, 46 S. Westgate-av. Known to scores of his pupils as "Jake," this genial teacher has directed the editorial pattern of the Occident, school paper and year book, in a way that allows for plenty of practical experience for any of his apt pupils.

Seifert is a believer in the theory that you "learn to do by doing," so he gives the pupils a major part of the responsibility in writing and planning their paper and annual. The students like that method and enter into their work with enthusiasm.

Before he began teaching in the Columbus schools he had done work on the editorial staff of the Columbus Citizen and from time to time has contributed to the Journal and the Dispatch. For several years he spent his summer months and spare time indexing newspaper articles for the Dispatch, chronologically and by subject matter. His files contained a complete reference to articles published as far back as 1871.

Seifert has been at West 10 years, before which time he taught at Starling eight years. He was born in Bremen, Ohio, attended the Bremen schools and graduated from Ohio State University in 1924. He received his MA degree from that institution in 1928.

For two nights in the school auditorium. (This year it ran three nights.)

Organized in 1932 with a membership of 40, the club has grown to a present membership of 201. Mrs. W. E. Ferguson was the first president of the organization. Mr. Ferguson served as vice-president while C. F. Shell and W. K. Davis filled the offices of secretary and treasurer, respectively. The current officers are Mrs. C. M. Williams, president; E. B. McCrady, vice-president; Mrs. Walter Lee, secretary, and Clarence J. Smith, treasurer. Committee chairmen are Mrs. McCrady, ways and means; Mrs. Dennis Leach, telephone; Mrs. Ralph Brooks, flower fund secretary; and Mrs. E. C. Henderson, publicity.

Drafting Students Win Many Prizes In Fair Judging

West High School's mechanical drawing students regularly claim a number of prize ribbons for work exhibited at the Ohio State Fair.

Last fall the senior high group earned a total of 68 out of a possible 188 points while the junior high division topped 45 of a possible 68 points and the junior sweepstakes.

The senior high group won more points than any other school entered and would have won the sweepstakes had one been offered in the competition.

C. S. Kennedy, instructor in mechanical drawing has had many winners in previous years. His senior high students had won six or seven sweepstakes and the junior division had previously pilled up nine sweepstakes.

In the junior high state sweepstakes last fall Jerry Fowler was the state sweepstakes winner with six firsts, three seconds and one third place exhibits in eight classifications.

Other junior high winners were Glenn Thompson, Howard Eacketts, Robert Johnson, Roger Michels and Colman Fields.

Heads Concordia Lutheran School

Arthur L. Witt

Last fall the Concordia Lutheran Church opened a parish school with Arthur L. Witt as the principal. Work was offered in six grades and classes were held at the church building, 45 S. Brinker-av.

At mid-year kindergarten work was added to the curriculum. Fourteen children enrolled in the six grades last fall.

Mr. Witt had formerly taught 10 years in the Kendallville, Ind., school. He and his wife and two children, John and Lu Ann, came to Columbus with him.

Highland Avenue School

This is Highland Avenue Elementary School, one of two Hill-top schools to be modernized in the near future.

Business Manager Of School Affairs

Harry L. Zulauf

One of the men who carries on a lot of the "behind the scenes" work at West High School is Harry L. Zulauf, mathematics and physics teacher and business manager of the school.

Being business manager of a school as large as West involves a bookkeeping job that dwarfs the average small business enterprise. In his capacity as business manager he supervises all expenditures of all departments of the school. He is in charge of the business classes that draw up and sell advertising for the Occident, the school paper, and the annual of the same name. He supervises the sale of tickets for all functions including athletics events, plays, operettas, variety shows, etc.

Zulauf has lived on the Hilltop for more than 10 years. He has been teaching at West senior nine years. Previously he taught in the junior high schools at West and Highland.

Born in Morrow County, he graduated from Mt. Gilead High School in 1916, from Ohio State University in 1923. He took his master's degree in 1934.

A veteran of World War I, he saw service in France with the 308th ammunition train. He served in the Argonne campaign and was a member of the army of occupation in the Rhineland. He is a past commander of Westway Post No. 5441, VFW.

Mr. and Mrs. Zulauf live at 138 S. Roys-av. They have a son, Robert, and a daughter, Mary Jane.

This has been a common expression on the Hilltop for 29 years and it still holds good. If it is a spool of thread, a package of gum, a can of paint, a gift for the kiddies, a piece of household hardware, a package of garden seed, a birthday card, or one of a thousand things to be found in a variety store, you will find it at Food & Weather's Economy Variety Store. 2 Student Reporters Give Impressions Of A Day In The Life Of West High School

By Judy Jones and Janet Baker

We have written this for those of you who went to West High School and want to have your memories refreshed; and also for those of you who didn't, and would like to know what your community high school is like, and what it offers to its students. We've tried to present to you a complete picture and hope you get the general atmosphere of friendship and fun which accompanies this mental picture of our school.

The laboratory classes (physics, chemistry, botany, etc.) are all interesting to the visitor. Many odd odors and terrifying experiences are encountered in chemistry. The day on which you feel you've accomplished the most is the day your professor tells you to make sodium chloride, NaCl.

(we're showing off now) and taste it—whatayano, tastes like salt!!

Now physics, that's a course of a different color. The smarties who take this difficult subject (they are either mighty smart or slightly stupid—and we have not made up our minds which) learn all about energy, work, sound, light, and last but not least, electricity. Tim Wice is the one to ask about sound. Tim is a stage-hand, and is well acquainted with the art of getting a speaker's voice from where it is to where it ought to be.

History is a class relished by many, and especially so by Barbara Clarkin. Ah! Those Greeks, those Romans, those early Americans, they send a tingle through offered for the boys' enjoyment, knowledge and satisfaction.

We owe much to the physical education department for the good health of the student body. West High students show all round good sportsmanship in basketball, volleyball, football, baseball, swimming and tennis.

RINGG! (the bell) What's this, a band of wild horses? No, only students rushing to get in line in the cafeteria! Approximately 1100 people eat lunch five days a week here. There are 18 cooks and 76 students to keep the food coming to the ravenous mob. Roast beef and dressing, mashed potatoes, and chocolate pie seem to top the list with everyone. Imagine making 3000 sandwiches a day!

Room 235 is an interesting place to spend your time in or around. Business advertising and journalism students look very industrious as they pound their typewriters, scribble in their ledgers and on pretty yellow paper. These kids really work hard taking care of the school finances and getting out the school paper. We must take time out to laud Myron "Jake" Seifert and Harry J. Zulauf.

Walking down the hall we hear "furriners" in our midst; no, only Tom Carlyle and Miss Glenn, modern language instructor, conversing in French. West offers three foreign languages—French, Spanish, and Latin, and English. To us, those who can say "veni, vidi, vici" about any language are to be commended. One of the most colorful incidents of the Latin classes is Miss Campbell's devious ways of collecting money from gump show-ers.

As we continue our tour of inspection we come to the art room, where the smell of pigments fills the air. All of the posters and pictures which grace the stage and bulletin boards originate here.

Equations (algebra), propositions (geometry), and sine, cosine and tangent (trigonometry) are the by-words to the mathematics department. They may take aerodynamics and use all three—such is life!

"Oklahoma, where the wind comes whistling down the plains." You can hear that song practically every day if you just stand near room 303 the fourth period. The mixed chorus lets loose with that "Ook! la-home" and you think the walls will come crumbling down. There are many other musical groups; the band, whose fine work you have probably heard much about, harmony and theory classes, music appreciation, acrobatics, and dance band.

Perhaps you who have been students here will understand our sentimental remembrance of school, the library clock that is always ten minutes slow; trying to sneak through the library after class when your shoes squeak; screaming your lungs out at North vs. West football games; the irrepressible humming of Christmas carols in study halls and classes as the Christmas holiday draws near; watching the best jitterbugs in the world; the endless struggle of trying to reach you, locker after the 3:25 bell has rung; the May breccas billowing the curtains on the stage; a beautiful Easter assembly; the tons of snow covered houses from a third floor window; the majestic murals on the ceiling in the auditorium that seem to lead a greater attraction than books we are supposed to be studying; the court when spring has come.

BUILDING THE HILLTOP

It Has Been a Pleasure To Serve This Community for the Past 25 Years

We are proud of our long record of service to this community. In March, 1922, we started in business as the Hilltop Building & Loan Ass'n. During this period we have made loans on hundreds of Hilltop homes and are very grateful for the part we have played in the building of this fine community.

On this, the 30th anniversary of The Hilltop Record, we join in extending our sincere congratulations to an institution that has likewise served the community well and been instrumental in its growth and development.

Finance Your Home

Under the Economical, Modernized First Federal Direct Reduction Loan Plan

Quick Service. Loans may be closed within 72 hours.

Low Cost. Your total expense of securing a loan will not exceed $20.

Monthly Payments. A convenient, rent-like way of paying for your home while living in it.

Interest Minimized. Interest is figured monthly on the gradually reducing principal, effecting a saving.

Protection. Your interest rate cannot be raised. You never can be required to pay more per month than the amount originally agreed upon.

No Foreclosures. The First Federal has not filed a single foreclosure in more than 11 years.

A Local Institution. You deal directly with local people who intimately know local conditions and who co-operate with you fully.

Friendly Service at all times.

Better living comes through Home Ownership. This is our contribution to the growth of the Hilltop.

Downtown skylines reflect the city's growth . . . but out where there's grass and flowers, and children playing . . . out where the air is finer, out where the homes are . . . that is where the real growth of the city has been. And the Hilltop has been a leader in this city's growth.

No "audit" of the years past could begin to appraise the record of this institution since it was founded as the Hilltop Building and Loan Assn. But those hundreds of men and women whose homes have been made possible through our financing, know how well we have served.

Scarcely less constructive have been the investment facilities afforded the people of this community. Through savings accumulated here and good dividends regularly received, investors in all walks of life have been aided in achieving financial independence, and investment accounts with us have facilitated business progress in the community.

We look with confidence upon the future growth of the Hilltop and embrace the opportunities for still greater service.

Church Is Potent Factor In Community Life Here

Long recognized as a potent factor in helping to mold the type of community life found on the Hilltop are the 30 churches representing 15 different denominations.

Down through the years church expansion has kept pace with the continued growth in population. Today eight churches are planning to spend approximately three quarters of a million dollars on new buildings and additions to present buildings in answer to already present and anticipated future needs of the community.

There is a place of worship within easy walking distance of every Hilltop home. It is a recognized fact that the church life of a community has given much to the moral stability that has characterized life on the Hilltop down through these past 30 years. The churches of the community are prepared to meet the needs of tomorrow.

The Role of The Church

By REV. HAROLD DUTT
President of Hilltop
Ministerial Association

30 Churches Serve Needs Of Hilltop

Thirty churches, representing 15 denominations, are located on or adjacent to the Hilltop in what is considered by many as the best "churched" section of the city.

While it is impossible to arrive at an actual figure, it is believed that more than 50 per cent of the residents here have some local church affiliation. Hundreds of other Hilltopers have membership in churches in other parts of the city in addition to the local church programs.

There are five Lutheran churches here, including the St. John Lutheran, St. Phillips Lutheran (a Negro mission) and Bethlehem Lutheran, affiliated with the American Lutheran Church; Concordia, under the Missouri Synod, and the Hilltop Evangelical Lutheran, a part of the United Lutheran Church.

The Methodist Church now has three local congregations. They are Glenwood, Westgate and Wheatland Avenue. The Westgate Church was formed in 1941 and moved into the basement part of a new building at 345 S. Brinker-av last December.

The Catholics have St. Mary Magdalene and St. Aloysius Church on the Hilltop. The Church of Christ has two parishes. The Hilltop Church of Christ (Disciples) and the Burgess Avenue Church, that meets at Burgess and Broad.

The newly formed Evangelical United Brethren Church now has Westgate, Burgess Avenue and Hilltopia. The three Friends churches are Highland Avenue, Sullivan Avenue and Franklin Heights.

Three Baptist congregations have churches here. They are Hillcrest, Oakley Avenue and Immanuel.

The Churches of Christ in Christian Union have the Valleyview and Whitethorne churches. Other denominations with single churches here are Hoge Memorial Presbyterian, Warren Avenue Church of the Nazarene, Hilltop Community, Cocherl Memorial, United Brethren (Old Constitution), Hilltop Church of God and St. Paul's Congregation.

Survey Conducted
A religious survey conducted through the public schools last year indicated that 80 per cent of the families living west of Hague-av. attend some church or Sunday School more or less regularly. East of Hague-av. dropped down to approximately 40 per cent.

The percentage of church goers. These figures are not considered accurate for the community as a whole, however, since they affected only families having some one in public school.

Highland Church First On Hilltop

The Highland Avenue Friends Church lays claim to being the oldest church fellowship on the Hilltop. The original church building, still in use at the corner of Highland-av and Floral-av, was erected in 1893.

The first meeting of the congregation was held in 1889 at a Sunday School started by William P. Ong at the corner of Whitethorne-av and W. Broad-st. Mr. Ong, who served as the first pastor, supervised the construction of the church, which was first known as the Maple Grove Friends Meeting.

The second pastor of the church was Mrs. Triphena Morris of Mt. Glen, who was called in 1894. She was followed by Rev. David Lewis and in November, 1899, Mrs. Lydia Romick became pastor. She was followed by Joseph and Adelaide Hadley.

Rev. DeWitt Foster succeeded the Hadleys and when he and his family went to Orange, N. J., Rev. Frederick J. Cope was extended the call, serving for three years. Then came Rev. Robert Pelt for three years.

Following Rev. Pelt was Rev. Elizabeth W. Ward, who was aided by Elizabeth Mott. She in turn was followed by Rev. William Kirby in 1913, who was succeeded

Hilltop Ministerial Group Coordinates Activities of Local Churches

Serving as an agency aimed at a more effective ministry on the Hilltop is the Hilltop Ministerial Association. Its history goes back to 1920 when the first records of such an organization are to be found.

The association began to function while planning for co-operative services during Thanksgiving and Lenten seasons. The need for a permanent organization of this type was felt so the ministerial group was formed. For many years meetings were held only occasionally as matters of importance to the religious life of the community came up. In recent years the group has held meetings at the Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church on the second Tuesday of each month, starting at 10 o'clock.

The association constantly keeps under advisement matters of community welfare from various angles. It maintains active contact with the local schools and has backed various moves to improve educational standards both in the public schools and in the religious education work carried on in the churches themselves. Its interest in moral and spiritual welfare has helped safeguard and promote better moral and social conditions in the community.

Sponsored Attendance Plan
The most recent community-wide program carried out under the joint direction of the ministerial group and three civic organizations was the "go to church campaign" through the Lenten season. In this project churches of all faiths joined together to encourage more widespread church attendance. The project was backed by the Hilltop Business Association, the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and the Hilltop Community Council.

Conducted Census
In 1945 a religious census was conducted through the public schools to determine the percentage of families affected in some way by the church life in the community. From the beginning of its formation, it has regularly planned and carried out the union Thanksgiving and Good Friday services. From year to year the service has been rotated among the various participating churches.

During the past two summers, union vesper services have been conducted on Sunday evenings at Westgate Park and at Magly Field.

Sponsors Hymn Sing
The Hilltop Hymn Sing, a unique form of Christian fellowship, is sponsored by the association. This service is held every other Sunday night following the regular worship hour. It has completed more than two years and promises to continue indefinitely. These are only a few typical activities as carried out by the Hilltop Ministerial Association. Approximately 75 per cent of the local ministers take part in the work of the group.

$750,000 CHURCH PROGRAM UNDER WAY

Here Are Four New Churches To Be Built On Hilltop

Shown in the upper photo is the front of the new Westgate Methodist Church as it appears today at 345 S. Brinker-av. The main superstructure is yet to be built on the foundation that appears above. Services have been held in the basement portion of the building since December of 1946.

The center left drawing is an architect's conception of how the new Hilltop Community Church will look when it is completed. This building, too, is in the process of being built. The basement part has been used for services since 1941. The church is located at 178 N. Huron-av.

The center right architect's drawing represents the new Warren Avenue Church of the Nazarene to be built in the near future on the site of the present church building at 842 S. Warren-av. The new church will contain a worship auditorium with seating facilities for 1000 persons.

The bottom photo is made from an artist's sketch of the new Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church to be built on W. Broad-st. directly across from the West Gate Temple. A building campaign was launched by church members last fall and it is not known just when the building will be started.

Eight New Buildings To Be Erected

A program of new church construction totaling more than $750,000 in value has already been started on the Hilltop to provide for increasing needs in worship facilities. At least eight new worship auditoriums are in the planning stages or are already under construction in the biggest church expansion program ever seen in the community.

At least two other churches will spend in excess of $50,000 on major building additions while two or three others are working toward additions or new worship auditoriums at some future date.

Scheduled to complete new church edifices within the next two or three years are the following:

St. Mary Magdalene
Hilltop Evangelical Lutheran
Hoge Memorial Presbyterian
Warren Avenue Nazarene
Westgate Methodist
Hilltopia Evangelical U. B.
Hilltop Community
Burgess Avenue Church of Christ

Hilltop Lutheran
A building program involving approximately $100,000 will be launched by the Hilltop Evangelical Lutheran Church as soon as building restrictions permit. The first phase of the program will be the erection of a basement that will take in the entire lot back of the church. A temporary roof will cover the basement until the new church building will be built, possibly three years later.

When completed the new church will cover the entire lot. The new building will be a Gothic style architecture with a worship auditorium with seating capacity for 550. Entrance to the basement unit, designed largely for Sunday School space, will be from Terrace-av side. The walls will be

West Park Church Formed In 1895

In 1893 some workers from the Gift Street Methodist Church organized a Sunday School which met at 1944 W. Broad-st. From this beginning the West Park Methodist Church was formed two years later. Rev. H. R. Pfaltz was the first pastor.

Today, under the ministry of Rev. L. A. Griffith, the church shows a membership of 634. Last year the Sunday school attendance averaged 375 with Robert Miller serving as superintendent. The church is located at the corner of State-st and W. Park-av.

This summer an estimated $8500 will be spent in completely repainting the building both inside and out. Installation of some new lights and some new furnaces.

Rev. Griffith has been with the church since 1944. He has held pastorates in several churches in Ohio. He attended Taylor University, Bluffton, College and Winans Seminary at Bluffton. The Griffiths live at 177 W. Park-av. They have three daughters, Mrs. Carl Allen, Jeffersonville, Ruth Griffith, a student at Taylor University, and Marjory, a student at Central High School.

Whitethorne Church Started Last June

The Whitethorne Church of Christ in Christian Union was started last June in a building located at the corner of Whitethorne-av and Hilltop-av in the Red-Bow community.

Serving as pastor of the church is Rev. G. W. Mason, 3106 Whitethorne-av. This school is held every Sunday morning at 9:30 with worship services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Sullivan Ave. WCTU Formed 39 Years Ago

The members of the Sullivan WCTU don't have a regular meeting place, so they have a plan whereby each meeting is held in one of the members' homes. This organization, which was formed 39 years ago, now has 46 members. The husbands are invited to each meeting, and at times there have been three and four generations of one family represented.

When the group was being organized, most of the members belonged to the Sullivan Avenue Friends Church and the club's name was derived from that church. The group now has members from all parts of the city and other outlying districts. Anyone is eligible for membership who will agree to sign "the pledge." There are all denominations represented in the organization.

The ladies provide food and clothing for the needy, help care for the sick, send gifts to the veterans' hospitals as well as letters and cards to men still in the service, and fix baskets at Christmas time.

Election of officers is held once each year. The present officers are Mrs. Corrie Schwartz, 1393 Stringtown-pk, president; Mrs. Hyder, 1505 Indiana-av, vice-president; Mrs. Kathryn Shaver, 277 E. Eighth-av, secretary; Mrs. Margaret Boyer, Ashley, Ohio, treasurer.

The first issue of The Hilltop Record was published on April 27, 1917.

Cocherl Memorial Honors Rev. Cocherl

The Cocherl Memorial Church on McKinley-av was known as the Stone Quarry Chapel until less than six months ago. The name change was in memory of Rev. B. D. Cocherl, largely responsible for starting the work there approximately 20 years ago.

Up until 1942 the church was affiliated with the Friends Church. At that time it became affiliated with the Christian Missionary Alliance. Rev. C. C. Dutt, the present pastor, came to the church three years ago. He had previously held pastorates in Dallas, Tex., and Centerville, La.

Rev. and Mrs. Dutt and daughter, Patricia, 2, live at 2143 McKinley-av.

Perpetual Novena Attracts Thousands From All Over Central Ohio Section

One of the most unusual religious services in central Ohio is the perpetual Novena of Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal held at the St. Mary Magdalene Church. Literally thousands of persons flock to the local church every Monday when the services are being held.

Persons from miles around flock to the church for healing or for personal blessings of many kinds. Many testify today to the help they have received through these Catholic services.

As many as 5,000 persons are said to have attended the 10 separate exercises held throughout the day and evening. Monday afternoon and evening find hundreds of cars parked in a radius of several blocks from the church. Extra busses from uptown carry hundreds of persons to and from the services.

The heavy bus traffic occasioned by the Monday Novena is said to have been an important factor in the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. extending bus service to Binn-av a few years ago.

These all-day services is Rev. Raymond Bauschard, pastor of the church since 1929. The original parish was created in the first Novena was conducted there in 1933 after special permission was granted by Bishop Hartley

Lutheran Mission Started 2 Years Ago

One of the youngest church fellowships on the Hilltop is the St. Phillips Lutheran Church at 230 Highland-av. The work was started there a little more than two years ago under the auspices of the Lutheran conference here.

Rev. Edward Dixon, 416 N. Garfield-av, is the pastor of the mission group. Since the start of the work, classes of instruction for adults and children have been held at various times.

A Sunday school is conducted in connection with the work. Rev. Dixon attended Capital University and the Capital Theological Seminary. He was ordained in April of 1945.

Rev. Bauschard has received hundreds of letters and other personal testimonies of persons who have received help as a result of the services.

The first service is held at 8:30 a. m. A total of 10 services is scheduled throughout the day, with the last one starting at 9 p. m. The service consists of songs, prayers and a short sermon by the priest who is conducting the Novena.

Last summer Dr. Paul Glen, head of the St. Charles Seminary, was in charge of one of the Novena. He is only one of many outstanding Catholic clergy who have been called upon to conduct the services.

The Bethlehem Lutheran Church celebrated its 10th anniversary in February of this year. Rev. Elmer J. Klamfoth, present pastor of the church, was responsible for organizing the original congregation.

YOUR DENTIST

Your dentist is a vital force in your Hilltop community, in assuring the best in mouth hygiene and general good health. Only on such special occasions as those commemorating the progress of a community is the public prone to realize the full importance of the dentist in the general welfare.

"See your dentist twice a year," is a slogan designed to bring the fullest measure of good health to everyone. By allowing one's dental needs to go unattended over too long a period, much can happen that will tend not only to produce the pain of tooth ache, but will affect the entire health of the individual as well as members of his family and friends

The dentist of today knows how to care for teeth with the utmost simplicity of effort and without pain to the patient. The old days of dreading to go to the dentist are past. The dental profession has indeed kept pace with the modern scientific inventions making for greater human comfort and welfare.

The dentists of the Hilltop are among the very best in the city of Columbus, and stand ready to serve the residents of our community with the best knowledge of the dental profession, and with the personal interest that comes from attending a friend and neighbor.

JOSEF BIRNBRINCH, Prop.

511 S. Hague Ave. RA. 1344

"I was glad when they said unto me . . . Let us go into the house of the Lord." Psalms 122:1

LET us resolve that we shall go to church regularly. Let us learn to get the most out of going to church. Let us remember that if we go to church to worship, to meet with God, we can always find what we seek.

Furthermore, we can do ourselves a favor by adopting an intelligent attitude toward material of worship. We have somehow come to feel that the sermon is the most important part of the worship service, and that the hymns, the prayers and the Scripture reading are only preliminaries, something to be gone through with. But the real purpose in going to church is to listen to God and seek help in His nearness. Therefore, no element in worship is to be belittled by being looked upon as a preliminary. Every hymn, every song, every prayer has its part to play in making God real, and the man who comes late robs himself of that much of his opportunity.

The churches of the Hilltop and West Side greet every citizen, from every walk of life. To the people of this community the churches extend their friendly welcome and cordial invitation to visit with them during their hours of fellowship and worship.

$750,000 To Be Spent On 8 New Worship Centers In Church Building Program

Other Churches To Build Additions

constructed of glazed brick with mastic tile floor. Radiation-type heating will be used throughout the building. The first phase of the program is expected to cost $30,000.

Hoge Memorial Presbyterian
A campaign to raise funds for a new church to be erected on W. Broad-st. directly across the street from the West Gate Temple, was gotten under way by Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church last November.

A sum of $120,000 is the ultimate goal of the new church program, Rev. A. J. Wohl, pastor of the church, said.

The exterior of the building, designed by Ralph Orr, is to be of Columbus limestone. It will be of Gothic design.

The sanctuary is designed in the form of a simple cross, with the nave separated from the chancel by a large stone arch. Total seating capacity is expected to accommodate about 800 worshippers.

A small chapel with permanent pews for 110 will be to the east of the main building. The education building and parish house will provide facilities for 800 to 1000. Work will start when the needed funds are available and building conditions are favorable, Rev. Wohl said.

Warren Avenue Nazarene
A new $100,000 church building will be erected on the present site of the Warren Avenue Church of the Nazarene as soon as building conditions are favorable, Rev. Harry B. Anthony, pastor of the church, stated.

The new building will seat at least 1000, with additional facilities for Sunday School work. Ralph Orr is the architect. It will cover the site of the present church and parsonage.

A substantial part of the money needed is already in the bank, Rev. Anthony pointed out, a building program having been started some time ago.

Hilltop Evangelical
The Hilltop Evangelical United Brethren Church of which Rev. Glendon Herbert is pastor, has plans for a new church building to be erected on the two lots adjacent to the present church at 522 Columbian-av.

Definite plans for the building have not been drawn as yet but the project has been under consideration for two or three years and $8500 is already on hand to start the building program. Arrangements for additional financing from the conference and the home missions board of the church would bring this sum to approximately $25,000.

The cost of the building has not been estimated, pending more information and specific plans for the structure. The present church building would be used for educational work until the new building is erected.

Westgate Methodist Church
Already well under way on a long-time building program that will eventually total approximately $200,000 is Westgate Methodist Church, the Hilltop's newest fellowship.

Last December the congregation moved into the basement portion of the new church building at 345 S. Burdick-av. after having met in West High School for five years.

When all work on the basement part is completed, it will have cost in the neighborhood of $60,000, including the cost of the site, $7500. It is the plan of the church to pay for each phase of the work as it is completed before going ahead, Rev. James Lorenz, the pastor, stated.

The Westgate church will also be of Gothic design. It is heated by radiation from the floor and will include the latest features in church design. The arches are already erected for the two front entrance ways. Services will be held in the basement portion of the building until such a time as money is available to continue constructing the rest of the building.

St. Mary Magdalene
A new church and rectory for the worshippers in the St. Mary Magdalene parish will be built in the near future, Rev. Raymond Bauschard has announced. The church building will be erected at a cost estimated to run in excess of $200,000.

Rev. Bauschard said that the building would be erected on grounds adjacent to the present church and school building already owned by the church.

The new worship auditorium will accommodate between 700 and 900 persons, it is estimated. The new rectory will be built large enough to house four priests and two visitors.

Hilltop Community
The Hilltop Community Church is in the midst of a building program that will involve a $30,000 expenditure by the time it is completed.

War-time building limitations caught the church with only the basement part of the building completed. Permission was granted in February to resume construction of the main worship auditorium at an estimated $22,000.

The present building has been used since late in 1941. When it was evident that construction could not continue due to war-time shortages, no definite drive was carried on toward a building fund but the first Sunday of each month is set aside as building Sunday. In that way almost $12,000 has been raised to continue the work.

In addition to the building fund, the congregation purchased a parsonage at 194 N. Roys-av in 1943.

Church of Christ
For more than a year the congregation of the Church of Christ (meeting at Broad-st and Burgess-av) has been looking forward to the time when they could have a worship auditorium of their own.

A site has been purchased at the corner of Demorest-av just to the south of W. Broad-st and it is hoped that a building project will be gotten under way before the end of the year. Members of the church were planning to consult an architect this spring to arrive at estimated costs on the proposed church.

Immanuel Baptist Church
A 10-room two-story annex will be added to the Immanuel Baptist Church as soon as building conditions are favorable, Rev. W. Howard Schoof, pastor of the church, announced recently. A reserve fund has already been started to pay for the expansion program estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $10,000. The addition will be used for educational work.

Home For Girls Started By Evangeline Reams On Hilltop

On May 23 one of the Hilltop's oldest and perhaps least known about institutions will celebrate its 42nd anniversary. It is the Friends Rescue Home, located at 245 N. Powell-av.

Founded in 1905 by the late Evangeline Reams, who devoted her life to helping unfortunate girls, the home is maintained for unwed mothers who are brought here from various parts of the country. It is a participating agency of the Community Fund but is financed largely by the Friends Ohio Yearly Meeting of which the local Friends churches are a part.

Older members of the Highland Avenue Friends Church like to recall the story of how Evangeline Reams came to Columbus in 1905 from her home in Newark. Arriving at Union Station she found a 50-cent piece as she was alighting from the train. That coin was the beginning of the Friends Rescue Home, today valued at more than $10,000.

Mrs. Reams was distressed at the plight of unfortunate girls she had learned about and soon set about to establish a home for them, with little more than the 50-cent piece and faith to believe that it could be done. Rev. Fred Cope, pastor of the Highland Avenue Church, became interested in her work and together they set about interesting members of his church in the merits of the work.

The home was opened originally on N. Harris-av, was later moved to 13th-av and in 1918 was brought back to the Hilltop when a group of local business men, headed by Louis C. Haldy, succeeded in purchasing the Captain Roys estate on N. Powell-av.

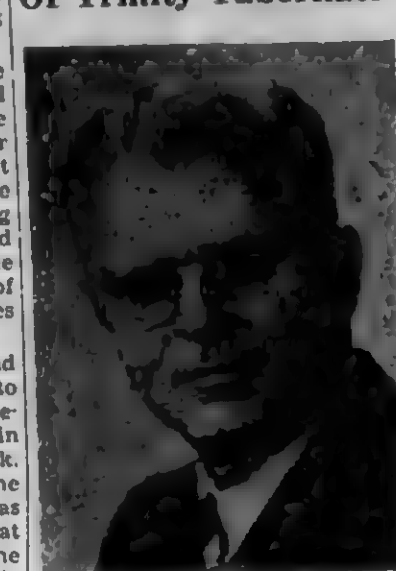

The estate included 10 acres of land and the three-story mansion in addition to other small buildings. Furniture for the house was contributed through the free will offerings of persons all over the country. A wealthy Indiana furniture manufacturer contributed several items of furniture.

Mrs. Reams died in an auto accident in Indiana in 1933 while on a trip in behalf of the home. Her name was known far and wide as a result of her project in home missionary work.

Rev. Scott Is Pastor Of Trinity Tabernacle

Rev. Scott

Trinity Tabernacle, 50 Hayden-av, was formed in the summer of 1940 with about five members. At that time they purchased their place of worship from another denomination.

Today the enrollment is over 100. The church is affiliated with General Council of the Assemblies of God, Springfield, Mo., an organization with membership of approximately 400,000. The Tabernacle is affiliated with the National Association Evangelicals through the general council. The church is fundamental in doctrine, interdenominational in spirit, and is intended to help meet the needs of today, the pastor, Rev. D. G. Scott, explained.

Rev. Scott is a graduate of the Rochester Bible Training College. He has traveled through England, Belgium, Holland, Germany and Poland. He held a pastorate in Toledo before coming to Columbus.

Rev. and Mrs. Scott, who live at 56 Hayden-av, have three sons. Gordon and Harold are both married now. They served in the U. S. Navy during the war. Milton, the youngest, is a student at Central High School.

Two brothers, formerly residents of the Hilltop, Durwood and Eldon Cooperider, received degrees from Ohio State University in 1939.

Herbert Haldy, son of Louis Haldy, one of the founders, Harry Clark is director of the home.

Church Of Christ Is New Fellowship

One of the most recently organized church groups on the Hilltop is the Church of Christ that has been holding services in the K of P Hall, corner of Broad-st and Burgess-av. First services were held there a little more than a year ago.

The nucleus of the congregation was formed by Hilltop members of the Seventh Avenue Church of Christ and while it is a separate fellowship it has been in close cooperation with the mother church at all times. Being without the services of a regular pastor, the Seventh Avenue church has provided many of the speakers for the services here.

Plans are developing for the construction of a church building at the corner of Broad-st and Demorest-av. It is hoped that the project may get started yet this year.

Dr. Harris Newcomer To St. Paul's Church

Dr. Harris

Dr. Harold A. Harris became pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Congregational Church, 24 S. Warren-av, late in 1946. He is a graduate of Wesleyan College and took theological work at Lane Seminary. He received his Doctor's Degree from the University of Pittsburgh.

Before coming to St. Paul's, Dr. Harris had served pastorates at Tusculosa, Ala., Cincinnati, Timmonsville, S. C., and Pittsburgh.

He is active in youth work, having served as president of the Mid-South Youth Conference, and is widely known as an instructor in youth camps. He has contributed to several weekly church publications and serves as secretary of the General Conference Board of Education, is chairman of the hymnal commission, and is active in YMCA work.

Peanuts Are a Big Crop
The world's 1946 peanut crop will total about 9,500,000 tons, and variations in the size of annual crops show on economic barometers around the world. Those who think the U. S. is the world's peanut center are wrong. Only a little over 10 per cent of the world crop is grown here.

A four year scholarship at St. Joseph Academy was won by Ruth Marie Kienle, a student at St. Aloysius School, in 1939.

Mrs. Pemberton, who was 94 at the time of her death, had lived in the community 37 years. She and her husband came to Columbus from Newport, Ky., and five years later he died.
From the time of his death she lived alone except for her pets, a dog and several cats, of which she was very proud.
Mrs. Pemberton spent much time in her yard and garden and played the piano with the touch of an artist.

30 years of continued growth and service to the community is an achievement of which you can justly be proud.

We of the Insurance fraternity are proud, too, of the part we play in the growth and welfare of the Hilltop and its people.

Insurance offers security to the family of the bread winner in case of death. It protects the home owner against the loss of home from fire and other hazards of nature. It assures the owners of business that a business interruption will not bring ruin and bankruptcy.

By making these and other services available it can be truthfully said insurance does contribute to the growth and progress and welfare of the community.

Anthony In 10th Year Of Pastorate

Rev. Anthony

The pastor of the Warren Avenue Church of the Nazarenes will have completed 10 years with the local church in September of this year. Just a few months ago he was extended a call for an additional three years.

Born in Kennebunk, Nova Scotia, Rev. Anthony taught in the public schools prior to entering the ministry. He obtained a BA degree from the Northwest Nazarene College at Nampa, Idaho. Prior to coming to the local church, he held pastorates at New Haven and Manchester, Conn.

The Warren Avenue Church is planning to build a new church as soon as building conditions are favorable.

Rev. Maloney Came To Hilltop In 1940

Rev. Maloney

Rev. William F. Maloney, pastor of the St. Aloysius Church, came to the Hilltop in 1940, after serving the Holy Name Church in Steubenville, the St. James Church in McClellenville and the St. Anthony's Church at Bridgeport.

Rev. Maloney is a graduate of Niagara University, where he took an M. A. degree in 1935.

The flasher lights at the N. Hague-av and N. Eureka-av railroad crossings were installed as a result of the personal efforts of the late C. J. Kohn, a mortician on the Hilltop for many years. He worked untiringly on the project for many months before railroad officials could be made to see the necessity for the lights.

tics reveal that church attendance is a real solution to our juvenile problem. A judge, who was on the bench for 20 years in a juvenile court said, "Out of the four thousand boys who have come before me only three of them attended Sunday School or church." The instruction coming from the ministry of the church is as "a lamp unto our feet and a light unto our pathway," to every one who will come within reach of this prebathed service in the community.

Creates Christian Community
The fourth role of the church is to create a Christian community. Today there is a desperate cry for a new order and a new world. Christianity is the answer. A Christian world is the objective of the church. The order of the Kingdom of God on earth is that of equality for all people, classes, colors, and nations. Jesus taught us to pray, "Thy kingdom come." Let us work and pray until His kingdom shall come into our midst and make every home and community Christian in practice.

The secret is to let the Kingdom of God come into the hearts of men and then out of that new creation will come a better world community in which to live. God has given us a pattern of a Christian community in the book of Acts which pictures to us the church of Jerusalem. The power of the church in the first century of the Christian era transformed a usual community into an unusual Christian community. Let us look at several characteristics of this early community and then work for that end in our day.

The first is the fact that the Christians were filled with the Spirit of God. Second, they were constantly helping to make Christians out of sinners. Third, they shared what they had in terms of material things with those in need. Fourth, they had equality among themselves. Equality solves racial issues, class distinctions and breeds the spirit of Christ. Fifth, they were Christlike. Oh, for a community in our day in which every person is Christlike!

Rev. Nelson With Local Church 5 Years

Rev. Nelson

Rev. M. E. Nelson has completed five years as pastor of the Wheatland Avenue Methodist Church, 481 S. Wheatland-av. Just recently the congregation of 160 members liquidated a building debt of more than $23 years' standing.

Rev. Nelson comes from Marquette and has held pastorates at Delaware and Marion before coming to the Hilltop. He studied at Ohio State University, Ohio Wesleyan University and Woodrow Wilson Junior College in Chicago.

Frequently the local pastor is called upon to fill the pulpit of white churches in this area and recently was called upon to administer communion in one of them.

The Nelsons have two children. They are Bernadine, 17, and Allen, 14. They live at 328 S. Wheatland-av.

Membership Shows Increase Under Smith

Rev. Smith

The pastor of the Hilltop Church of Christ for the past three years has been Rev. Enoch Smith. Before coming to Columbus he held a 15-year pastorate at Olney, Ill.

Since his coming to the church there have been 225 new members added, bringing the total membership to 330. Forty-nine of this number were received in 1946.

This spring the church is having a two-manual Wurlitzer pipe organ installed. It is a gift of Walter Miles in memory of his mother. The auditorium is being carpeted and a new furnace is to be installed.

Rev. and Mrs. Smith and their daughter, Barbara, live at 130 S. Burgess-av.

Started Apostolic Work Here In 1917

Rev. Witherspoon

In November of this year the West Broad Street Apostolic Gospel Church will be completing its 30th year. Founder and still its pastor is Rev. Witherspoon, 300 S. Brinker-av.

The church just recently added a 30 by 70 foot two-story brick addition on to the front of the building at 1074 W. Broad-st. at a cost of $20,000. It will provide office space for the pastor, the associate pastor, the assistant pastor and the church secretary. There will be space also for the mailing room and Sunday school classes.

Branch churches are maintained at West Jefferson, London, Springfield, Dayton and Ironton. For more than eight years the church had a daily radio broadcast over station WHKC. At present there is a one-half hour program on that station from 7:30 to 8 a. m. on Sunday.

Rev. Witherspoon served as chairman of the board on foreign missions for a number of years. During that time he made three trips to Jamaica, was in Honolulu and made one trip to the Holy Land in 1938 and 1939.

Hilltop WCTU Founded In 1909

The Women's Temperance Crusade, which was held in Hillsboro in 1873, really prompted the founding of the WCTU groups, of which the Hilltop WCTU is a branch.

Many people ask, "Just what is the WCTU?" The answer as given in the Women's Christian Temperance Union handbook is: "It is an organization of Christian women banded together for the protection of the home, the abolition of the liquor traffic and the triumph of Christ's Golden Rule in custom and in law."

The Hilltop WCTU was entered in the Ohio WCTU annual report in the year 1909. At that time the president was Mrs. Carrie Bright. Ever since the founding of this organization, the meetings have been held at the homes of the members. Each month the ladies meet to have discussions and to plan their work for the future, which includes much child welfare work. The group members report that they need more younger people in their group to help them carry out their ideas.

3 Different Branches

There are three different branches of the WCTU, the Loy- al Temperance Legion, for children; the Youth Temperance Council, for teen-agers; and the Iota Sigma for the young married women. Men may become honorary members of the group.

Mrs. Frank Wolford, present chairman of the club, said that several prominent business men belong to their organization.

Frances E. Willard is the founder of the WCTU and organized branches throughout the nation.

All active members receive the Ohio Messenger, the state newspaper of the WCTU.

A white ribbon is the symbol of the WCTU. A ceremony is held for babies called "The White Ribbon Initiation," in which a white ribbon is tied around each child's wrist.

Officers of the Hilltop group are Mrs. Frank Wolford, 361 S. Hague-av, president; Mrs. Ethel Worthen, 2507 W. Broad-st, vice-president; Mrs. Annabelle Davis, 129 N. Wheatland-av, secretary; Mrs. J. B. Lowry, 363 Midland-av, treasurer; and Mrs. H. C. Weller, 253 Midland-av, recording secretary.

Prior to coming to Columbus he had held pastorates at Beloit, Ohio, for eight years, and at Zanesville for four years.
The church lists 81 members with a Sunday school of 150. Herbert Harkworth is superintendent of the Sunday school.
Rev. and Mrs. Crumrine live at 486 S. Central-av.
Sullivan Avenue Friends Church was started about 1900. The present building was erected in 1902 but prior to that services had been held across the street and a little to the west, where the Producers' Milk Co. is now located.

Rev. Ferguson Is HMA Secretary

Rev. R. P. Ferguson is the pastor of the Valleyview Church of Christ in Christian Union. He has served the church since 1945. Previously he held pastorates at Sedalia and Long's Chapel (near Delaware).

In addition to serving as secretary and treasurer of the Hilltop Ministerial Association, he is also national secretary and treasurer of the Young People's Organization, Churches of Christ in Christian Union, and assistant secretary of the Council of the church.

New stained glass windows are being installed in the local church this spring. A new vestibule is to be added to the building in the near future.

Annual memorial day rites are held for the southern Civil War dead each year at the Confederate Cemetery on Sullivan-av. The United Daughters of the Confederacy usually plan the services.

When the Civil War started Mike and Paul Deiner had rented the area which came to be Camp Chase and had it planted in corn. At the time it was taken over by the government for camp purposes, corn was knee high.

The two chief factors leading to the establishment of the Hilltop community in its present location were Camp Chase and the 1913 flood. With the flood came a migration of many to the Hilltop where no flood waters could threaten.

Rev. Russell J. Olson, pastor of the Hilltop Evangelical Lutheran Church, came to the Hilltop in September of 1945 from Toledo, where he was the minister at the Bethany Evangelical Lutheran Church. Hilltoppers Enjoy Sports; Willing To Support Teams Hilltoppers take their sports seriously. Perhaps in no other section of the city is there so much interest in what its athletic teams are doing. Last fall, for instance, more than 1000 Hilltoppers followed the West High Cowboys to Springfield to see the season opener.

Furthermore, the fans are willing to back the team with the dollars required to finance the kind of a sports program that is becoming for a school of this type. The West High Boosters, for instance, have in the past year or will within the next few months, have spent in the neighborhood of $3,000 on improvements for Magly Field and the phases of the athletic program.

When the lights are installed on the local field next fall, it will be second to none as a high school athletic plant.

Hilltop Sports

By Joe Agee

One of the most important phases of any community's life is its sports picture. The Hilltop, along with many other communities throughout the country, is enjoying one of the greatest sports booms in history.

One reason for this increase in sporting activity is the importance attached to athletics in the armed services, where they were met with a high degree of enthusiasm by the youngsters who made up "Uncle Sam's" fighting forces, whether stationed in camps within the country's boundaries or on far-flung battle posts.

Upon return from service these veterans were back again with a civilian population that had turned more to all types of athletics as a relief from war-tense nerves.

Also, schools placed more emphasis upon sports during the war and are continuing to build up their facilities as well as the caliber of their competing teams.

Our own West High School has taken a jump into the after-dark competitive field by starting to get under way on a project which will see lights installed at Magly Field when the fall football season gets started in a few months.

Night football, and possibly other athletic events at the local school, will mean much more interest being added to the already well-backed Cowboy games. And along with the increased attendance will come a necessity for more seating arrangements to take care of what is believed will be a near-capacity crowd at every game.

In addition to the school program of athletics the community has seen a jump in city-wide competition in baseball, football, basketball and tennis, brought about partly by the city administration in a concentrated drive to make Columbus a sports-minded city. In this the Hilltop has led the way with a summer program of baseball and softball and tennis at Westgate Park, with Glenwood filling in the year-round.

Soon after being organized, the Hilltop Kiwanis Club started an athletic program for its members and will sponsor a baseball team for its scouts this summer. The oldsters of the club will have another season of softball to add laughs to Westgate onlookers.

Bowling has become one of the most popular sports on the Hilltop... both old and young are crisscrossing the Hilltop Recreation and other alleys all during the season.

Beacon Light Golf Course provides a heavy play for the young scion. Jack Kidwell is back from armed service to act as pro. The Hilltop Business Association is now organizing a Wednesday afternoon golf league to play at the local course. The Hilltop has lost an ardent golfer in Whitcomb Marlowe, who has gone to Boston, Mass., to pursue his work in photo-mount manufacturing and his golf.

The Hilltop Conservation Club has come into being through the desires of many Hilltop men to get together for better organization in taking care of the state's game and natural resources. They meet monthly in the basement of the Hilltop Sporting Goods Store at 2461 W. Broad-st., where they talk over their past hunting and fishing trips as well as the technicalities in getting their game.

Organized play seems to be the keynote in all sports now rather than the old catch-as-catch-can method of scheduling games. League-play and tournaments have been emphasized during the past few years, and show every indication of being the thing of the future.

With the Hilltop's great interest, and determined backing of sports events, the future of sports here appears very bright. If the present over-all picture is any indication we are of the opinion that this boom will continue to progress as the community grows bigger and better.

Magly Field Improvements Under Way

A determination to make Magly Field the most complete high school athletic plant in central Ohio is the goal of school officials backed by an enthusiastic West High Boosters Club.

An ambitious program of improvement, including playing lights to make possible night football, an all-electric scoreboard, 2000 additional bleachers and a press box are already under way at West High School.

Night football will thus be possible for the first time in the history of the school. A 10-game schedule has already been set up for the 1947 Cowboy grid team.

Materials are on hand and the contract has been let for the installation of flood lights for the playing field. Six 100-foot wooden poles were delivered to the field several weeks ago, on which the lights will be mounted. Work of installing the lights will be started as soon as the present baseball and track seasons are completed by Rollie Haines. The contract totals $14,000.

The electric scoreboard and press box will be paid for by the West High Boosters Club. The "go ahead" had been given by the club to school officials to purchase the board but complications arose in the design and type of board most suitable. A final meeting was held April 18, at which time a board costing in the neighborhood of $1300 was approved for immediate purchase providing the electrical units making up the board are removable. If they are not removable units, a second choice was arrived at for immediate order.

Members of the Boosters Club also examined preliminary plans for a press box to be erected on the present stadium at the Harvard Inn. As planned, the press box would accommodate 24 members of the working press, operators of the scoreboard and public address system.

No estimate is available at this time but members of the club immediately began making plans for another waste paper drive on May 25.

A paper drive put on by members of the club in cooperation with the West students grossed more than $1000. With an increase in the price of paper since that time it is expected that this mark can be raised.

The $1000 realized from the local sale is by far the biggest drive ever put on by any group in Columbus and was more than twice as large as any previous drive on the Hilltop.

To accommodate the anticipated increase in the crowd this year, 2000 temporary bleachers will be erected along the east side of the playing field. Originally it was felt that the present baseball bleachers could be moved over to a position back of the south goal posts but it was found that the cost of moving them would be greater than their original cost, so that idea was abandoned. It is understood that arrangements are being made to rent the temporary bleachers.

The total seating capacity of the plant next fall would thus be 8000. This is not expected to be larger than needed as the growing interest in night football has taxed the seating capacity of most high school stadiums.

Geo. Pekras Bought First Paper Off Press

George Pekras, manager of two Hilltop theaters, the Ritz, 2548 Sullivant-av., and the Rivoli, 2359 W. Broad-st., paid $1 for the first issue of The Hilltop Record off the new press when it was placed in operation Sept. 27, 1928.

R. D. Hastings, then publisher of the Record at 14 S. Oakley-av., framed the bill and it is still part of the Hastings household at 86 S. Ogden-av.

Dec. 12, 1935 — The Hilltop Lodge of the Fraternal Order of Eagles is to be instituted on Jan. 5.

April 14, 1944 — Rev. Jacob Ashburn will observe his 37th anniversary as pastor of the Oakley Avenue Baptist Church on April 14.

July 28, 1944 — The General Motors Company is testing ground at Georgesville-rd and W. Broad-st., where a GM plant may possibly be built.

Hilltop Has Three Improved Parks; City Owns 5.66 Acres For Fourth

Although Hilltop residents are fortunate in having three city parks at their disposal now, tentative plans are under way for additional facilities in the form of a fourth park in a tract of land between Woodbury and Columbian-avs, south of Sullivant, and a skating rink located in Westgate Park.

The 5.66 acre area between Woodbury and Columbian-avs was purchased by the city at a delinquent tax sale for $6,000, more than a year ago. This tract of marshy wasteland is not suitable for heavy buildings, making best fitted for a public park. Previous to the time of purchase it was estimated by City Engineer Paul Maetzel that it would require 1,000 cubic yards of earth to fill the area. Due to the marshy nature of the ground, the site has been a source of filth and an ideal breeding spot for mosquitoes for many years.

Playground Is Needed Since residents of the area south of Sullivant-av are located at a considerable distance from other parks and playgrounds on the Hilltop, the park will be of inestimable worth as a recreational spot if and when the City Recreation Commission, under city engineer Paul Maetzel, has been placed, takes action on it.

Similarly, although plans were completed last April for the skating rink to be built in Westgate Park, since that time there has been no definite action taken toward realization of the plan.

This can be attributed to three major obstacles: 1) sufficient funds were not secured in the solicitation made by the Hilltop Community Council in 1943 for the project; 2) it is difficult to find someone to do the work; and 3) the cost of building materials is out of proportion at the present time.

The sum collected from more than 700 Hilltop residents in the drive for finances to back the building of the rink has been placed in a separate fund and will not be removed until the time comes when the rink can be built.

It is hoped that a band shell and shelter house can border the rink, which will be used for roller skating during warm months and for ice skating in freezing weather.

Improvements Scheduled

Nearer actuality are proposed improvements at Glenwood and Holton Parks, where part of the $775,000 bond issue approved by voters in November, 1946, for recreational needs, will be put to use this summer. Two hard-surfaced tennis courts will be built at each site.

All of the local park areas need improvement. Both of the shelter houses at Glenwood and Holton Parks need paint, new windows and other miscellaneous repairs. The wading pools at each of these sites are in poor condition.

Westgate Park offers the most modern of recreational facilities with six clay surfaced tennis courts in usable condition. The landscaping at this local beauty spot could also stand to have much work done on it.

With the cooperation of local civic and business organizations, perhaps, in the interests of the community, these recreational sites can be restored to their proper beauty and usefulness in the not-too-distant future.

RECREATION CENTER IS PROPOSED

Hilltop Parks Provide Healthful Relaxation For Children

Committee Studies Need Of Such Plant

For several years Hilltoppers have talked and dreamed of a large community recreation center. Perhaps due to the advent of the war the project has progressed little farther than the talking stage until this year. Even now no definite announcement can be made to the effect that the project will become a realization but it is at least in the planning stage.

Nearly two months ago a group representing 18 civic organizations of the Hilltop met at West High School to discuss the matter. At that time a committee was appointed to determine whether there was a need for such a project and whether they felt the community would and could finance it.

On April 18 the committee reported to a similar called meeting of representatives of Hilltop organizations and stated that they had concluded, after an extensive survey, that there is a definite need of such a center, that it can be financed up to or beyond $200,000 and that an organization should be set up to investigate and develop the many phases of such a program.

Hilltoppers present at this meeting elected a four man board composed of Dr. C. O. Cramer, Jerry Spears, Rev. A. J. Wold and H. G. Deems, with instructions that they should proceed with the election of one of the men as chairman of the board and appoint any additional members of the committee as they might see fit.

Many angles of this program are as yet unexplored. While no definite plans can be announced for financing it, the original investigating committee made up of C. Carlton Hartley, Jerry Spears, Mrs. H. Herron, Bill Ferguson and Rev. Wold, expressed the thought that it would have to come about through some type of an incorporation in which stock or memberships could be sold but in no way to restrict the use of the center to only those who had contributed to its construction.

Many Uses Seen What the project might include is also still speculation. It is to be desired that it may house an indoor meeting hall, swimming pool, skating rink, social hall and meeting rooms, etc. Maintenance of the project, and operation thereof might be along the lines of that of a YMCA.

It has been pointed out that it is highly desirable that along with plans for raising money for the erection of such a building should go a well developed plan of operation of the plant and to provide money for its maintenance and operation after it is built.

The community has long felt the need of a supervised recreation program for youngsters and it is the hope of the committee that this will provide not only such a program for the children and young people but for whole family groups.

Treat Them As Individuals, Is Dr. J. F. Bateman's Formula

"We treat them as individuals, that's the main thing," Dr. J. F. Bateman, superintendent of the Columbus State Hospital, says of the patients who come to the huge brick structure located at the top of the W. Broad-st. hill.

"We can't stress enough the importance of treating these people as the sick persons they are. They are not insane. They are mentally ill and need medical attention and humanistic care."

Dr. Bateman has made the development of this ambition his life work. His chief medical interests are to eliminate the so-called "asylums" and to provide a modern humanistic medical approach to the problem of mental hygiene. In the past ten years, as superintendent of the Columbus State Hospital, he has worked unflinchingly toward these two goals.

At the present time there are 2400 patients at the hospital, by coincidence divided almost evenly as to males and females. To care for these mentally ill are 420 employees, each temperamentally fit to care for this type of person. To promote kindness and understanding in the employees, a prize of 50 silver dollars is given each month to the employee voted by his co-workers and the patients as best fulfilling the qualifications of "ideal attendant."

Supply 23% Of Food
Under the direct supervision of Dr. Bateman are numerous other persons who direct the do-zies of daily tasks at the hospital. A few of them include the chief of housekeeping, business manager, head gardener and head dietitian. The hospital furnishes 23% of its own foodstuffs by maintaining an adjoining farm and several head of livestock.

Ground was broken for the main building in May, 1870, after the previous hospital on E. Broad-st., burned down on a bitter, cold night in 1868. The cornerstone of the present structure was laid on the Fourth of July, 1870. Seven years later the building was completed, a four-story edifice having 1100 rooms, some of them dormitories capable of housing 30 or 40 patients. It is the largest Kirkbride building of its kind in the world.

With increased demand for accommodations in the hospital, six cottages were erected, on the grounds. At present, a cottage for mental patients suffering from tuberculosis is in use. A nurses' home and large barn, a laundry and bakery are only a few of the many buildings located on the 345-acre site of the hospital.

It is necessary to make a distinction between the mentally ill and the feeble-minded. The mentally ill are individuals who are temporarily suffering from mental disorders and, sometimes, with the proper treatment regain their normalcy and return to their work of life. A feeble-minded person is generally in that mental condition from birth and will probably never have normal intelligence.

Officials of the hospital are proud that 55% of their patients are cured. If a patient cannot be cured, he remains at the hospital for the remainder of his life.

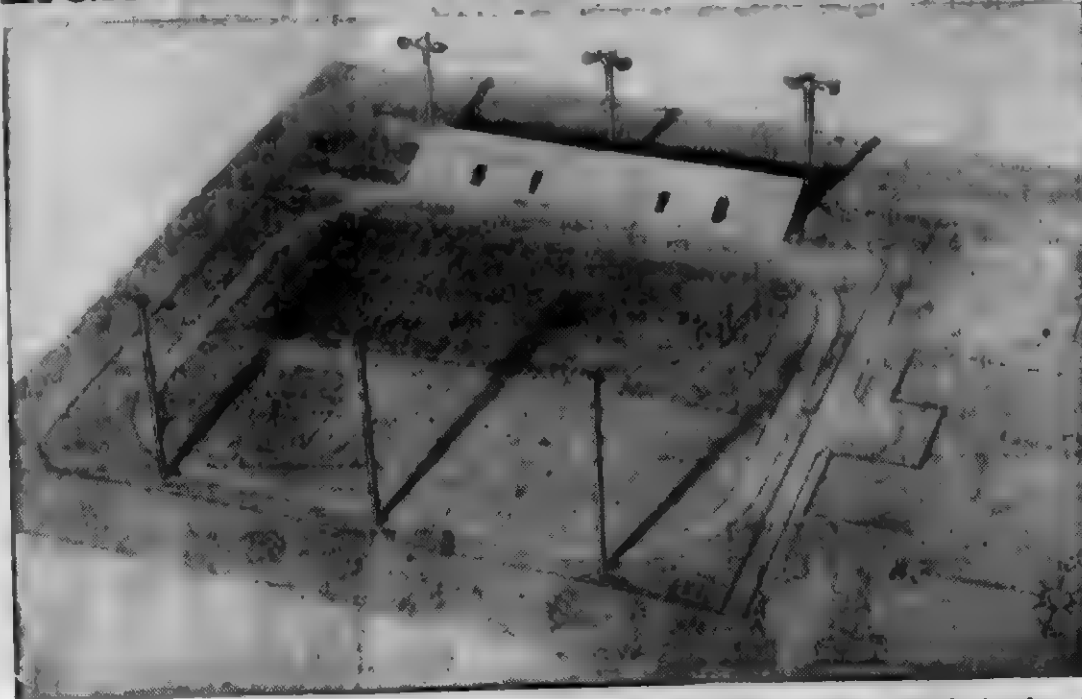

Only the most modern, up-to-date medical methods are used in treatment, a few of which are recreational, shock and occupational therapy, insulin and electric shocks. If the person is physically ill, he is cared for in the fully equipped hospital maintained within the walls of the hospital.

"If a certain case needs a treatment we do not have here, we get it," Dr. Bateman stressed.

The institution menu comes from four food supply lines, (1) the state institutional garden and farming project, which forms the backbone of the daily diet; (2) the state central warehouse for staples; (3) by requisition and direct purchase, enabling each institution to purchase individually any special or perishable products they desire and (4) the surplus commodity program of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Daily requirements in the menu include meat or fish, milk, butter, eggs, cereals, potatoes, vegetables, fruit, sugar, lentils, coffee or tea. Approximately 168 bushels of potatoes are used per week, and 1000 pounds of beef are consumed per meal. This is only a small portion of the actual amount of food needed to properly feed inmates of the institution.

Dr. Bateman, who graduated from Ohio University in 1922, later attended Cornell University and the University of Cincinnati, where he was awarded his doctor's degree. He was a professor

Softball Is Popular Here

Hilltoppers like their softball. Just drive past the Columbus State Hospital park any night this summer and you will find hundreds of persons gathered to watch the Columbus Night League in operation. Westgate Park's four diamonds attract scores of others to the twilight attractions played there.

At the State Hospital grounds the night loop will be playing regularly on Wednesday and Friday nights with makeup games on Mondays and Saturdays. Lazarus' intramural league will use the field on Tuesday nights.

In the fast night loop this season will be Columbus Depot, Hilltop Garage & Service, 740 AC, Williams and McNab, Lane-Ackins, Hilltop Van, Borean Construction and Meadowbrook (one team), Columbus Merchants, Whiteacre Morticians and Woods' Plumbing and Heating.

The season will open May 14. Church League Plays On Monday

Out at Westgate Park the West Church League will use the four diamonds Monday nights while the Lutheran League will be in action Friday nights.

The eight-team West Church League will begin play May 9, with games starting at 6 p. m.

The schedule of games for the first night of play is as follows: Burgess Avenue Evangelical vs. West Park; Westgate Evangelical vs. Hope Memorial; Hilltop Church of God vs. Hilltop Evangelical; St. Algeus vs. Glenwood Methodist.

The Lutheran Athletic Association will operate 20 senior softball teams and 12 intermediate teams. Games will be played at Westgate and Tuttle fields Friday nights and at Franklin Park on Mondays. The play will start May 6. It is not known exactly what teams will play out here at the present time.

These are the churches entered: Senior teams included Grace, Christ, First English, St. Peter, Hilltop, Emmanuel, St. Paul, Rome, Trinity, Hope, St. John, St. John, Grove City, Faith, St. Paul, St. Luke, St. Mark, Peace.

Buckeye Awning Firm Is Well Represented

Sam Buchanan, assistant sales manager of the Buckeye Tent & Awning Co., is perhaps one of the most enthusiastic of Hilltop supporters. Everything he has to say about the Hilltop is good.

For the past 24 years he has been with the company and now devotes his entire time to the Hilltop.

J. T. Hughes, 184 N. Harrison, and J. P. Boyhan, 476 Belmont-av., are also officials of the company.

New and different awnings are being offered by the Buckeye firm this year and they invite Hilltoppers to call and a representative will visit the home with samples.

Gahanna; Zion, Obetz; Bethlehem, Zion, Martin Luther.

Intermediate teams include Grace, Christ, Hilltop, St. Peter, Emmanuel, Clinton Heights, Trinity, Hope, St. John, Center, St. Paul.

Promotion Of Athletics Is HAA Goal

A group of young men of this town have organized a football team, representing the Hilltop. All fellows had served in some of the armed services during World War II.

At this time has come an organization known as the Hilltop Athletic Association. Today organized to promote athletics generally in the community. The new group set up the following goals:

Cooperation with other organizations on community projects.

Promotion of civic spirit in a wholesome competition in sports with other sections of this and surrounding towns.

Moral and physical betterment.

Won 7 Grid Games

Playing for the first time since days at West High, the grid compiled a record of seven wins, two ties and two losses. Six contests were out of town and were played as benefactors to cover the cost of injuries incurred during the season.

Injuries to two of the players amounted to more than $200.

Following the close of the football season the HAA was organized. Meetings were held at the home of George Woodland. Starting with an original membership of 27, the group soon grew to 36.

A basketball team was organized and plans were discussed for baseball, track, swimming, weight lifting and wrestling teams. Applications for membership are all being accepted.

Carl (Smitty) Smith Is Dean Of Columbus School Coaches

Rounding out his 27th year as a coach in the Columbus Public School system and 26 of those years at Sterling Junior High, Carl E. Smith, 230 Columbus-av., may well be termed the "Dean of Columbus Public School Coaches." He was one of the first three men hired by the board of education when the original physical education program was set up 27 years ago.

His first year in such activity was at Westington Park Shelter House where he conducted physical education classes made up of students from five south side schools.

Commenting on his Sterling Junior High baseball team this year, he says at present they aren't doing so well but he is one who believes the game isn't over until the last ball has been thrown and the season is not over yet, so they will improve.

Many good ball players have landed at West High after playing under Smitty at Sterling and in all probability West will get another good pitcher next year when Don Smith, the Sterling ace hurler, goes there. Recently Smitty fanned 18 out of 15 men who faced him.

Smitty has an arrangement with Al Bannister of the Columbus Red Birds whereby he gets all the used baseballs from the local lot and he in turn gives these to his nine teams and likewise furnishes them to the other city junior high teams for batting practice. Cracked baseball bats are also repaired and taped up to provide sluggers with a stick.

With the opening of the season the nine teams will be entered in the Red Bird Knighthole League. In his 26 years at Sterling, Smitty has 11 city championships to his credit.

Fern Sharp Provides Entertainment And Helpful Household Information

By Rhonda Van De Mark
The average woman particularly likes food, fashions and furnishings but Fern Sharp makes these three F's her business.

This Hilltopper's radio program "Round Robin Revue," has the longest existence of any other "for women only" program in the state. It has been found that many women's programs "die a slow death," so to speak, but Miss Sharp's has gone continuously for 10 years over Station WBNS.

Her constant quest for something new and different to bring to the housewife who stays most of the day, is one attribute to the success of her program. "Women in the home want to know what's going on today, not yesterday or the day before," Miss Sharp contends.

To satisfy this desire by the housewife to have some special bit of town happenings to tell hubby when he comes home, Miss Sharp delves into fashion shows, the theatre and the best dining places as well as numerous cookbooks, and injects what she finds into the homemaker's humble abode as she sews the hem in Judy's dress or mends holes in hubby's sox.

Her information is both helpful and entertaining. She gives recipe instructions for an apple sauce cake one minute and launches into news of a fashion review the next. In between she supplements her three F's with a fourth, "famous faces."

Appearing on her program recently have been such personalities as Sigmund Romberg, world-famous composer of light operettas, Edward Everett Horton, stage and screen star, and Bernadine Flynn, the original "Sade" of "Vic and Sade." ed in advertising and public relations before entering the radio field.

After doing writing and continuity work for radio for six years, she began the "Round Robin Revue" in 1937 and it has been going steadily since.

Edited Food Copy

As to food, Miss Sharp once did write work on food "copy" for radio programs directed to women audiences and worked with many women editors all over the country who specialized in writing food articles. One of her prime interests is the association, "Round Robin Cooks," which meets to discuss good food and to have a thorough session over latest developments in the kitchen. The group, organized originally by Miss Sharp, has more than 400 registered members.

Her hobby during the past ten years has been trying to find interesting notes and news about town that would be of interest to her listening audience. She is sorry that she has not had time to work more on another hobby, oil painting and water colors.

With her day beginning usually around 5:30 a. m. when she hurriedly dashes off to her cubbyhole office on the second floor of the Buckeye Building, Miss Sharp is not one to stay out late evenings. It is her hope that some day she will be able to have a children's program, as she enjoys working with children on the radio to a great extent.

She recalls one incident in which a ten-year-old lad appeared on her program to be interviewed. The boy was running second with Miss Sharp's recipe of the day, a special open kettle onion soup. Inquiring of the chap, "And, do you like soup?" she was elated to hear him say enthusiastically into the microphone, "I love soup!" Whereupon she ventured further, "Then should get along just fine, because today I am going to tell my radio audience about delicious onion soup."

"I hate onion soup," the boy replied, equally as enthusiastic, and right in the microphone.

Besides serving as director of women's activities for Station WBNS, Miss Sharp belongs to numerous clubs and organizations, among them the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, Altrusa, Association of Women Broadcasters, the Columbus Advertising Club, and is a councilor on the Campfire Girls board.

Accident Prevention Is Life Work Of D. K. Finley, Safety Council Mgr.

Accident prevention in its many phases is not only the life work of D. K. Finley but his chief hobby as well, for in addition to spending a full day at the office this hard-working Hilltopper devotes many evenings to giving talks wherever any group is willing to listen to his plea for safe driving and walking.

He has made much headway in making Columbus safety conscious. His work as manager of the Columbus Safety Council includes safety work of all kinds, in the home, in the shop, on the street and highway, fire prevention, etc.

Finley started out in life as an accountant. He turned down an opportunity to attend Princeton where his father had graduated. It was while on the accounting staff of the DuPont Company's Carneys Point gunpowder plant that safety really got in his blood.

At that time there was no workmen's compensation plan. Insurance for the workers in this gun cotton plant was almost prohibitive because of the high premiums. He saw many cases in which families were left destitute or had to be provided for by the company as a result of industrial injuries, many times resulting in death. Realizing the need for action, the company launched a far-reaching program of safety education among its workers. Finley had an important part in launching this program.

Goes To Providence, R. I.

Later he set up similar safety programs for several large industrial firms and in 1928 he was employed as industrial safety engineer by the city of Providence, R. I. Between that time and 1929 when he came to Columbus he achieved outstanding recognition as a safety engineer. The New England city with only 30,000 less population than Columbus succeeded in lowering its traffic death toll to an average of 16 per year as against 83 per year for this city. In 1937 Columbus had 93 deaths from traffic. In spite of high death rate, this city has also won the first place for safety in the country for cities of comparable size and has won some honorable mentions.

Finley came to Columbus as representative for a vehicle accident traffic control but left that concern in 1932 when business conditions were so bad.

"I had to have something to eat so I started the safety council here," he recalls.

With the backing of a few influential persons he was able to sell the city on the need for such an agency. In 1937 the Columbus Chamber of Commerce took on the responsibility for carrying on the work. It is now a full council covering the entire field of safety in the home, industry and public, both as to accident prevention and fire prevention as well.

Emphasizing the need for a safety program in the home, Finley points out that there were 70 accidental deaths in the homes of Columbus residents last year.

This safety official is a veritable encyclopedia of safety information. He can quote countless statistics from memory and has his office filled with records of types, locations and causes of every conceivable accident that has happened in the city since he set up the work.

Finley has been a Hilltopper nine years. He and his wife live at 733 S. Hague-av. Their daughter, Betty, is married to Howard Moon, another well-known local resident.

While Floyd F. Green was mayor, he was appointed to organize the civilian defense set-up for Franklin County.

He is a tennis enthusiast, having served as president of the Columbus Tennis Club. He can be seen on the Westgate Park courts many evenings during the summer. He has been president of the Westgate Tennis Club during the past year.

Finley has put safety on the air in Columbus, Station WBNS has used a five-minute talk as a sustaining feature for several

CAUTION SIGN IS ERECTED

A big improvement in the traffic situation on W. Broad-st recently was the erection of the large caution sign shown in the above Citizen Photo. It was erected on the New York Central overhead at the western city limits. Its purpose is to slow down incoming traffic from U. S. Route 40.

Hilltoppers Developed Gardening Habit During War; Many Still "Till The Soil"

Though a young man's fancy supposedly turns to the amorous at the first spring bird's whistle, dad is most likely to begin dreaming of neat rows of green beans and thriving red, ripe tomatoes clinging to vines of his garden.

Over a hundred such dads, oftentimes accompanied by the Mrs. or Junior, can be found almost any evening at one of the two large-scale gardening projects located on the Hilltop.

One of these plots is owned by the Columbus Board of Education, and is located between Westgate and Huron-avs south of Fremont-av. The second, privately owned by H. F. Cunningham of 4744 Fisher-rd, is situated in the 3000 block of Valleyview-dr.

Both gardening projects date back to the first days of the war when the government urged extensive victory gardening to save food. After the war, by popular demand, the plan was continued. There are 90 lots approximately months. He has prepared a type of safety talk a little out of the ordinary in that he injects humor into the more serious subject of accident prevention.

30x150 in the Westgate addition and 37 on the Cunningham land.

Fifth Year

This is the fifth year the Westgate tract has been gardened co-operatively. The 10-acre tract was purchased about 1928, with the land for West High School in the event that some day a site might be needed for a junior high school.

Paul Linder, 460 Huron-av, is president of the gardening group; John Rohr, 255 Binns-blvd, secretary-treasurer; and John Krivdo, 455 Binns-blvd, a committee-one in charge of hiring someone to plow and disc the plots before the growing season begins. Both Linder and Rohr have served in these capacities with the exception of last year, when Rohr was replaced by Howard Nicklaus, now deceased.

A rental charge of $1 per lot is made to defray the expense of preparing the land for gardening. Collection of this amount and notifying prospective gardeners of the current year's plans are part of Mr. Rohr's duties. No charge is made by the board for the use of the land.

Cunningham's land had only six gardeners at the beginning of the war but the number increased to 37 at the peak of the crisis. At the present time this has declined and he has several vacancies. Cunningham works his ground and in past years has conducted contests for the best garden, offering cash awards as prizes.

Scores of other Hilltoppers who ordinarily "farm" that vacant lot next door have found the surveyor's stakes in the ground this spring or a steam shovel already at work preparing for the erection of another home. With the increase in building activity most vacant lots have been brought up as prospective home sites. This means that city gardeners will have to go outside the city limits if they expect to continue their vegetable-growing activity.

Mar. 25, 1938—C. J. Rice announced plans for building a $40,000 Westgate Electric Building.

Aug. 23, 1940 — Valleyview's first mayor, Lafayette G. Wareham, was sworn in last week.

Beacon Light Golf Course Will Be Favorite Retreat For Local Golfers

With the approach of the summer months, the Beacon Light Golf Course, under the management of Jack Kidwell, will be one of the most popular sports spots on the West Side.

The course, the only one in the western section of the city, a nine holes, opened March 29.

Ever since the first warm day, there have been ardent golf players at the course. Kidwell expressed the belief that this will be another record year. Last year was the biggest in the 18-year history of the course.

A new irrigation system was installed recently to water greens and tees and the course will probably be in the best condition ever.

Season memberships are on sale at the local club house.

Cowboy Football Eleven in Fourth Place Last Year

The West High Cowboys won their fourth straight title, suffered four setbacks and tied for a tie in nine games in the 1946 football season, finally placing fourth in City League competition.

Victorious over Aquinas, South, Cincinnati Hughes and Springfield, West tied East and Newark in a return bout and was handed defeats by North, Linden and Central.

In two pre-season warm-ups at Newark, 1946 state champions, the Cowboys tied 20-20 at Magly Field Aug. 31 after Bruno Masdea, fleet "scatback," streaked 60 yards for a touchdown. The return game Sept. 6 was won by the West eleven in a thrilling 6-7 victory at Newark. With the thermometer hovering around 90 mark, Carl Hosler, navy veteran and returning letterman, kicked 35 yards for a field goal in the last minute of play to clinch the game.

The season officially opened on a lucky Friday, the 18th, when West capitalized on pass interceptions and topped Springfield on the losers' field, 25-13.

They Coach Cowboy Grid Team

This picture of Coach Mack Pemberton (left) and his assistant, Fred Heischman, was taken at the start of the 1946 football season. The two men will work together on the strategy to be used by the West High School Cowboys when they play under floodlights to be installed at Magly Field this summer.

Former Softball Pitcher Sends 'Em Down The Alleys

Don Shafer, 27, S. Duquesne, is another Hilltop bowler on the rise. He has become well known in the Columbus bowling circles, for his grace and precise timing and rhythm on the alley.

Don Shafer

Don, who bowled with the Commercial and All Star Leagues at Riverview and carries an average of around 204, was an ardent horseshoe and softball pitcher about a dozen years ago, and was said to be considering entering the state horseshoe pitching tournament. He graduated from West High School, where he played baseball and was named on the All High team.

Kip Seibach, a former big league baseball star and a big league bowler, used to watch Don pitch shoes and recreation ball, and asked him why he didn't take up bowling. Shafer, however, "couldn't see much to the game" at the time.

Then one day Don stopped in at the local alleys where Seibach was manager. Someone asked him to sub in a game, and as a favor he complied. That was in 1933 and the beginning of his bowling career. The thought that he might become a good bowler

One highlight of his career was in 1937 when he teamed with Fred Wolf to shoot 1307 in the doubles of the Kentucky Derby for second place.

The very first time he rolled for the Classic League in 1942 he made a 742 score.

Don made his highest three game total of 748 at the Hilltop alleys in league competition. At publication date that score was still the high for the local lanes in league competition.

Shafer's big thrill came the an American Legion team for the Levee Cab Company.

He started managing teams for the cab company four years ago and has realized no little satisfaction from his association with the boys.

"It seems like 99 per cent of the boys appreciate what you do for them in baseball," Mark asserts.

Mark moved to the Hilltop from the West Side right after the 1913 flood. He attended Highland Avenue School, playing baseball and basketball. After finishing school he played semi-pro ball around central Ohio for several years. At various times he pitched for the Miller AC's, Shamrocks, Grove City, in the Scioto Valley League and Hilliards in the Columbus Western League.

If there is one outstanding quality about this genial coach and manager, it's his stability. He is still working at the first job he ever took. He is now completing his 30th year as a salesman.

He and his wife, the former Robbin White, and son, Mark, Jr., live at 668 S. Eureka-av. man for the Woman's Bakery Co. drew him back to the alleys.

Averaged 190 First Year

The following year he carried an average of 190 and it hasn't dropped below that figure since.

following week, the Cowboys took a decision from the Bulldogs 9-0 on a muddy, slippery field. Several costly fumbles and snappy pass interceptions by the Central aggregation in West's final league game Halloween evening gave the Pirates a 12-6 victory.

The annual homecoming game Nov. 8 against Cincinnati Hughes was a success for the West men when they outscored the Big Reds 26-18.

A quick look at the season's scores:

- West—25, Springfield—13
- West—0, Arlington—13
- West—6, Aquinas—0
- West—0, North—6
- West—0, Linden McKin—18
- West—13, East—13
- West—9, South—0
- West—6, Central—12
- West—28, Hughes—18

The reason was the first for Mack Pemberton as head coach. He was chosen for the position at the resignation of Dale Rose, who is now head mentor at Capital University. Mack was assistant football coach at West two years prior to his selection as football boss and has a good sports record at Defiance College, where he was graduated in 1937, and Sunbury High School, where he served in the capacity of principal and head coach.

Mack is assisted by Fred Heischman, formerly physical education instructor and coach at Roosevelt Junior High. A graduate of Capital University, he was outstanding as an all-round athlete in school. He entered the navy after two years at Roosevelt and returned to his former position there upon receiving his discharge.

West ranked second in representation on the imaginary All-City eleven picked annually by Dispatch and Citizen sports writers, eight of its first eleven being listed on all-city teams or receiving honorable mention.

Carl Hosler rated a place on the first team of both newspapers, while Ralph Watts and Bruno Masdea received first team rating by the Dispatch and second team classification with the Citizens.

Jack Thrush was picked for the first team on one eleven and was given honorable mention on the other. Don Borror, Jerry Chinn, Curt Westerman and John Cleveland were also awarded honorable mention.

M. Stephens Enjoys Work With Youth

One of the Hilltop's most enthusiastic baseball fans is Mark Stephens.

Not only is he a "dyed-in-the-wool" type of fan but he also spends every spare moment of his own time during summer months coaching, managing or otherwise promoting baseball among the teen-age youth of the city.

Take the coming season as an example. He recently organized an eight-team Saturday afternoon league for boys who may not be quite good enough to play on the regular Knot Hole or American Legion teams in the city. So much interest has been shown in this new league that already there is a possibility of it growing into a 12-team affair which would necessitate two six-team classifications.

The teams will be made up of about half ex-service men. There is no age limit so many of the fellows who are too old to play the regular leagues will have a chance to play ball this year again. They elected Mark president of the league. Play will begin the second Saturday in May.

You might think that this new project would keep a fellow pretty busy during his leisure hours—but not Mark. In addition to managing the new league he will manage an intermediate and a senior Knot Hole team and

THIS IMPROVEMENT IS FOR WESTGATE PARK

This is an artist's sketch of how the skating rink and band shell would look as proposed for Westgate Park by Hilltop Community Council.

Mrs. Bender Raines Still Has Copy Of Record Predecessor -- Hilltop News

Mrs. Bender Raines, 560 Nashoba-av., has in her possession a yellow copy of The Hilltop News, forerunner of The Hilltop Record, with the dateline, Dec. 24, 1915.

The aged four-page issue boasts in a streamer topping its front page, "Read by 8,000 Hilltoppers Every Week." Published each Friday, The News was subscribed to at the "munificent" sum of 50c per year and credited with being the "official organ" of Hilltop business men.

Estelle C. Burnside, 51 N. Powell-av., was owner, business manager and advertising director, assisted by Eugene Hensel, editor, then a student at West High School at its location on Central-av. Hensel is now a prominent downtown attorney.

With no other form of advertising medium on the Hilltop, Miss Burnside saw an opportunity for selling space to Hilltop business people. The News began publication in the first months of 1914.

Employed as a compositor at the Champlin Printing Co., N. Fourth-st., Miss Burnside soon found that her job and managing the newspaper monopolized her time, and she was forced to sell. S. K. Todd, now deceased, purchased it, and operated it until early 1917. S. J. Westlake printed the first issue of The Hilltop Record a few weeks later.

Articles of current interest to Hilltoppers included announcement of a lecture on Mound Builders and Indians to be given in the OSU Museum Dec. 30 by H. C. Shetrone, 83 N. Burgess-av., then assistant curator of the museum. Dr. Shetrone became director emeritus of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Society earlier this year to devote his time to writing pertinent articles on Ohio archaeology.

Notice was made of $400 net profit from proceeds of West High athletic contests. A statement was made at that time that many seasons of such success financially "will put West in position to have an athletic field of its own." Magly Field was completed a little more than 20 years later.

Mention was made of the installation of Robert Morris Chapter, OES, then in its second year on the Hilltop. Fanny Okg was installed as matron with Clarence Williams, patron.

Cantata Announced

A cantata, "Holy Night," was scheduled to be given by the choir of the St. Paul's United Evangelical Church, and announcement of the marriage of Aloysius H. Bender and Esther M. Williams, both of Park-av., was made.

Listed in the "Professional Men's Directory" were such well-knowns as Dr. Howard Whitehead, Dr. L. B. Turner and Cecil J. Randall, attorney. (All three gentlemen still reside on the West Side.)

Noted in advertising columns were holiday greetings from The Economy Variety Store (still located at 2402 W. Broad-st.) The Hilltop Dry Goods & Shoe Store, then operated by L. M. Seiler, proprietor, and now Seiler's at the same address, 2404 W. Broad-st.; and The Hilltop Garage & Supply Co., "agents for the Maxwell," at 2506 W. Broad-st.

Cussins & Draper, "agents for McCalls Patterns," also announced to friends and patrons that they had in stock "Ladies' and Gents' Furnishings, Dry Goods, Boots and Notions."

Jan. 28, 1944—Ethel Estell, 227 N. Eureka-av., won the $25 bond in the recent Hilltop Record subscription contest conducted at West High School.

Glen Hamilton In Business Here 25 Years

A familiar face around Hague and Sullivan-aves since 1922 has been that of Glen Hamilton, who has operated a Sohio service station at that corner for 25 years. Hamilton was born while his family lived on Fakin-rd. He attended West High School and spent one year at Ohio State University. He was associated with the New York Central Railroad until 1918 when he entered the service.

The local station owner likes to fly, "just now and then," he says, and was with the Civil Air Patrol at the Sullivan Avenue Airport for a time. He is a member of the Camp Chase Post American Legion, the West Gate Masons, and the Glenwood Methodist Church. The Hamiltons, who live at 2804 1/2 Sullivan-av., have a daughter, Betty Lou, who will graduate from West High School in June.

Adrian Van Wilsen helps Mr. Hamilton with his service station.

Hilltopper Is Zoo Manager

Since 1930, when the Columbus Zoo was first begun, Earl Davis, 2834 Eakin-rd., has been associated with it in one phase or another. At present and since 1943, he has been the manager.

The job of managing the zoo is not a part time affair, but is a full time career all year long. Davis says that they are busier in the bad weather than during the fair, caring for the animals. Plans are now being made to move the zoo to a location where an expansion program may be carried out, as the present quarters are

Frank Colley Is Staunch Rooter For Hilltop

By Esther Weakley

Frank Colley is a staunch rooter for the Hilltop. He has lived at 3006 Ellis-pl since 1929 and says he would not like to live in any other section of Columbus. He and Mrs. Colley have one daughter, who is a graduate of West High. Mr. Colley has been assistant sports editor for the Columbus Citizen three and one-half years; is director of press and radio for the American Association of Baseball; also president of Ohio State Baseball League.

Born in Cincinnati, he graduated from Hughes High School in that city, later graduating in accounting from Ohio Northern University. After working for a textile firm in Greenfield he decided upon a newspaper career. He was telegraph and sports editor, also city editor, for the Springfield Sun, was later sports editor for the Pontiac Daily Press at Pontiac, Mich., and was sports editor for the Columbus Dispatch before taking that position at the Citizen.

Baseball is Mr. Colley's hobby as well as his business. For 10 years he was secretary-treasurer of the American Association Chapter of Baseball Writers, resigning last year. He covers high school sports and does routine reporting.

The son of a Methodist minister, he is a member of Glenwood Methodist Church.

taxed to the limit. There are 813 animals, which fill every cage and pen, to be tended.

Davis, who was made assistant manager in 1940, is a member of the West Gate Lodge and the Westgate Methodist Church. He was a North Sider until his marriage to the former Mildred Bowler, a Hilltopper. They moved to the Hilltop in 1929. Mr. and Mrs. Davis have one son, Don, a student at West High School.

Westmont Circle Was Organized in '43

The Westmont Circle of the Child Conservation League was organized May 10, 1943, at the home of Mrs. B. J. Harper, 522 Hilltop-av. It was sponsored by the Indianapolis Sr. Circle of the CCL.

The object of this organization is to guide and stimulate parents and teachers in the acquirement of definite knowledge and a broader culture, relating especially to childhood and its need. It is trying to show the parents that the home training determines what the child will be in later life.

The meetings are held the first Monday evening of each month at the members' homes. There were 12 charter members; at present the membership is 20.

The officers for 1947-48 are as follows: Mrs. John T. Stacy, 601 Chestershire-rd., president; Mrs. Howard Harris, 204 S. Westgate-av., vice-president; Mrs. H. Ralph Kagan, 289 N. Ogden-av., secretary; Mrs. Curtis V. Wade, 185 N. Ogden-av., treasurer.

Friends will admire your clothes if you keep them looking smart — and that's what our own expert cleaning and pressing service can help you do.

Check your wardrobe now... get use from those serviceable clothes. OUR SERVICE is fast, too. We operate our own dry cleaning plant, which means prompt service and individual attention to every garment.

top fans will more than likely e a chance to see him in action ous times during the season getting under way.

Bob Howison went to spring training camp with Hoover and is now back with Jersey City, a Giant club in the International League. Bob pitched three games for Jersey City last summer after returning from service.

With Ft. Lauderdale
The Richards brothers, Bill and Jack, are now playing with Ft. Lauderdale in the Florida League. Last year Jack was one of the new hurlers for Miami University, later signing with the Boston Braves, owners of the Florida team. Bill played most of last season with Owensboro in the Kitty League. He played the hot corner and carried an impressive batting average all season. He was out of several games due to an injury but was back to finish the season.

Two other Hilltop brothers, the Gilmeres, went to the Red Bird training camp this spring. However, Dick decided he would go to college instead of playing ball this year. He will play with the Model Dairy team here in Columbus this summer.

Brother Don, who is just 18, distinguished himself in one game he pitched for the Red Birds down at Daytona Beach this spring. He left Columbus April 15 to join the St. Joseph, Mo., team.

Diz Wilson played last year in the Eastern Shore League. His present whereabouts are not readily available as this is being written but it is believed by one of his former coaches that he is the property of Brooklyn. He pitched during his days at West High.

Duke Simpson, a Hilltop boy who attended Aquinas, was with Kansas City for a part of last season and then entered the armed services in the fall.

With Springfield
Latest ex-Cowboys to take a whirl at organized ball are Carl Hosler and Bob Phelps. Both are playing with the Springfield Giants in the Ohio State League. Hosler played tackle for the 1946 West High football team after returning from the navy.

Phelps, a pitcher, distinguished himself with West for his services on the mound. He graduated last spring.

Just a few of the boys who have won recognition on the collegiate diamond in recent years are Dick Colburn, George Ours, Richard Carter, Ned Bell and Frank Richey. There have undoubtedly been several more but time does not permit a further search for them in the records at this time.

Colburn, an outfielder, and Ours, a pitcher, were with Ohio University last season. Carter played the infield for Findlay College. Bell, who lost his life in the service, played the infield for Ohio University, while Richey, now freshman football coach at OU, distinguished himself on the Wesleyan diamond.

Parks Home Was Once An Old Church

By Elizabeth Downing

Long ago in the days of our pioneers made camp at an old deserted Quaker church at the corner of Wilson-rd and W. Broad-st. Each season brought the vagrant bands, not to mention the hobos and the tramp who in the course of their wanderings took shelter for the night in the deserted shell.

Now farther along the way on Wilson-rd, there was a woods set back from the road, which made an ideal spot for overnight camping trips. Among the group of campers were a couple by the name of Dr. and Mrs. James A. Park. They, along with four other couples, delighted in getting away from the city now and then, and brought tents and cooking equipment and spent their week-ends there. And so it was that Dr. Park first saw the old church and realized that it might be made into a week-end place close to their adopted woods.

Dr. Parks, who studied medicine both here and abroad, then had offices where the present Le-Veque-Lincoln Tower now stands. It was while sitting in his office one day that he re-designed the old church to make it into the beautiful home that it is today.

Furnished House With Antiques
The Parks have furnished their home almost wholly with antiques. They have pieces from every part of the world. However, no written description could ever begin to give a picture of what the interior of this home is made up of. The chairs in the living room are needle-point, rosepoint and Aubusson tapestry, with a petitpoint settee just inside the door. The walls display beautiful paintings, one of which is by Frederick Weber and portrays the celebration of Alexander The Great and Thais (called the most beautiful woman who ever lived) after the destruction of the capital of Persia. The mantel is the most compelling piece of furniture in the room. It is topped with a set of three French clocks, encased in glass hemispheres. The set was brought from New Orleans before the Civil War. They have delicate Dresden figurines made in Germany, graceful marble statues from Italy, Chinese lamps and hand painted vases. All of these pieces are beautifully arranged in a long, high-ceilinged room on exquisite oriental rugs of every hue and design.

All of the rooms in the home contain many old treasures. A grandfather clock more than 100 years old, an old spinning wheel, candlesticks made in Scotland, which belonged to Dr. Park's great-grandmother, pieces of Limoges china, a massive Chinese lamp of bronze and many, many more.

Dr. and Mrs. Park have one son, Harry, who is an attorney, and a granddaughter, Suzanne, who is 18.

The Parks celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Dec. 8, with an open house.

Dr. Park says about collecting antiques, "It isn't something you decide to do, you happen to see an article that appeals to you and you price it. If the price is reasonable you think it over and may decide to buy it. It is something that is acquired through the years. Each piece in my home was picked up 'in a different place and at a different time. In collecting you don't buy a piece every day; you might even go along for months without finding anything you desire.' Of their home he remarked, "We don't have anything any better than anyone else, it's just 'different'." (And that it is.)

Shooting Range Used By Police And Civilians

Sgt. John Grimm, 24 S. Burgess-av, is the instructing officer at the Columbus Police Department's pistol and rifle range located at 2869 McKinley-av. The range, which is one of the largest and most modern in the state, according to Sgt. Grimm, is open to any civilian who has a membership there, besides any law enforcement officer in the county.

The range was constructed in June, 1941. It will open the first week of May, and any member who wishes to learn to shoot be instructed. The range is operated by electricity, with 24 targets in a row, and has both 25 and 50 yard firing lines. It will be open every day except Monday, from 10 a. m. until 6 p. m.

There are approximately 250 persons who take out memberships for the range each year, excluding the law officers. The civilian members may use the targets at any time during the season. They expect to have these state pistol matches at the local range this year.

Oscar Castle, who lives on the property at the site of the practice range, acts as watchman.

Sgt. Grimm expressed the desire to have the public inspect the field at any time.

Greetings

On the occasion of the 30th Anniversary of The Hilltop Record we, the physicians of the Hilltop, take this opportunity to extend our sincere congratulations and to wish The Record well in years to come.

By the very nature of our profession we are not in a position to enter into the many civic activities of the community but we do assure the public that we are back of every endeavor that is good for the Hilltop and West Side.

This community has always been a fine place in which to live. Wide awake interest in its continued progress will make it an even better residential community.

POPULAR PLACE WITH BATHERS

In another month this will be one of the most popular spots on the Hilltop on hot afternoons and evenings. It is the Hilltop Swimming Pool, to be operated again this year by Robert Case.

Bob has set Decoration Day as the official opening for the pool. Numerous improvements have been made to the plant this spring. They include additional locker basket and dressing room space, new cement beach, added playground space inside the fence, and play facilities for the skating rink floor.

From Fireman To Editorial Work, Morison's Career

By Esther Weakley

Mr. Morison is the kind of newspaper man that every cub reporter dreams of becoming. During his 28½ years with The Columbus Citizen he has done everything there is to do on a paper, from writing obituaries; covering night-blooming what's-her-name; interviewing presidents, fan dancers, Mae West and other celebrities; a writing labor and abroad "shop" columns; reporting criminal, federal and state court trials; fires, murders and even, doing the church page.

Mr. Morison. Lovelorn's column, but I'm betting that he has. Mr. Morison has been the Citizen's state editor; assistant editor; has covered the State House and City Hall; was military editor during the war; made up editor for 10 years, and has done a few hundred other editorial chores.

A few of the high spots of his career are the covering of the Ohio Penitentiary Fire in 1930, at which time he helped get out seventh extras; the robbery at the Hilltop office of the Ohio National Bank, which he and Citizen photographer Sam Caldwell missed by only a few minutes; and the shooting of Officer Cline by the robbers later. He enjoyed the trip to Pensacola, Fla., on the Navy plane "Seipen," which he took with other newspaper and radio men. He has covered football and baseball games; wrestling and boxing matches; and in the old days reported many games played at Nell Park. He has worked under ten editors.

Before going to The Citizen, Mr. Morison was employed as a fireman on the Big Four Railroad, which accounts for his special interest in railroading and railroad men. A veteran of World War I, he attended Polytechnic College at Los Angeles. His hob-

Hilltop Girl One Of City's Outstanding Bowling Fans

Rita Wolfe and one of her trophies.

At 19 Rita Wolfe has a bowling record behind her that most any bowling fan would envy. Miss Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wolfe, 174 S. Eureka-av., began her career at the early age of 11, with her father, the owner of the local alleys since 1939, coaching her.

She was scheduled to attend the national tournaments in Grand Rapids last Sunday as a member of the Hilltop Recreation team. Today she is to go to Akron with a make up team, backed by Mr. Wolfe, for the state tournaments.

In 1945 Rita won the city singles for women with a score of 690, and this year she finished second in the contest. Also this year she finished second in the mixed doubles with Carl Breckenridge. She won a bowling ball in the Citizen's Annual Headpin Tournament in February, and at the date of the interview, she had the highest score, 651, in the Ladies' All Star League which bowls at Riverview, not to mention the three bowling pins she has for proof of her ability.

Her hobbies include all kinds of sports, principally bowling, also music and dancing. The attractive blonde is now employed at the Jaeger Machine Company and describes her work there as "perfect."

Rita, who celebrated her 19th birthday April 11, has nine brothers (two of whom are at home) and a sister. She is a member of St. Aloysius Church and a charter member of the Catholic Youth Organization, a recently formed group of that church. In June, 1946 she graduated from Holy Family High School, where as a senior she had the lead in the class play, "Almost Eighteen," and was crowned the "May Queen."

Her hobbies include all kinds of sports, principally bowling, also music and dancing. The attractive blonde is now employed at the Jaeger Machine Company and describes her work there as "perfect."

Don't Leave Children Alone

Parents are people. They like to get out in the evening once in a while. And there's no reason why they shouldn't. But there is a reason—a good reason—says the Ohio State Safety Council, for not leaving small children shut up alone in the house or apartment while the parents are away. That reason is clear enough when you think of the many news items about children being burned to death or being injured in some kind of accident while alone at home. Not even the necessity of going out grocery shopping is worth the risk of leaving small children alone. Don't you think that's true?

Hilltop Sports Fans Follow Destinies Of West Teams

The eyes of most Hilltop sports fans are fixed on the fortunes of the athletic teams at West High School during a good part of the year. Football, cross country, basketball, golf, track, baseball, and to a limited degree, swimming and tennis, come in for their share of sports followers.

Pictures of the four major sports teams appear in this section of the 30th anniversary edition of The Hilltop Record. It's not likely that there will be a city championship team in the group but all are expected to finish in the top bracket of city league teams. The football team finished in fourth place while the basketball team ended in a tie for second place. Baseball and track are of course not decided yet.

More Alleys Are Needed

By Paul Leighninger

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article was written by Paul Leighninger, a partner in Seiler's Department Store, 2404 W. Broad at Paul is one of the community's leading sports enthusiasts, having participated in the organization of bowling leagues for teen-age boys and girls in the community with the cooperation of Bill Wolfe, owner of the Hilltop Recreation Alleys.

While the Hilltop is "booming" in all directions, all of us who are interested in sports hope that the recreational facilities will increase proportionately and there is no question that this well community in which we live is sadly lacking in this respect.

Bowling is big on the Hilltop—very big, in fact, in spite of the lack of alleys. All one has to do is to look at the All-Star League or any other "fast" league to see Hilltop names galore such as Don Shaffer, Bob Howison, Charlie Haas, Norm Coon, George Kanavel and Art Bishop. To my knowledge not one of these fine bowlers bowls on Hilltop lanes and I'm just as sure that these same fellows would be tickled to have a nice up-to-date alley which would draw the same class of competition to which they are accustomed.

Then further, here is this marvelous industry that has recently "blessed" the Hilltop—the Fisher Body-Ternstedt Plant. Of course we are anxious, especially those connected with local business firms, to impress these people that they need go no farther than the Hilltop, whether they want a fine porthouse steak, a good movie, a properly-filled prescription, a new Frigidaire, a Goodyear tire or an Arrow shirt. But when the gentlemen say, "You CAN take care of us on these things but where can we bowl next fall?"

That's where we can't furnish the answers for the same reason that the Ternstedt golfers have to drive all the way up to Indian Springs for their golf league. We will have to suggest that maybe Olentangy or the Broad-Olympic might be their best bet.

I know that every man who is interested in the Hilltop is becoming a bigger and better place would be glad to give a new recreation center out here his loyal support, and with bowling outranking all other sports by fantastic proportions today, I think that America's most popular adult sport could be cashed in beautifully by some far-seeing individual or group looking for a spot for such a project.

We all hope it won't be long.

West Drops Meet To North High

The West High thunders dropped a dual meet to North High at Magly Field on Wednesday afternoon by a score of 55 to 63. Coach Rufe Glass came up short handed on first string men at the last moment, undoubtedly causing the defeat.

Bruno Masdea had to be out of town, Jim Dennis was not in uniform, Kenneth Masdea was not available and Bob Jones pulled a muscle in the very first event and was out of the rest of the meet.

In spite of the handicap Miller took first place in the high hurdles with Jones coming in second. Harper took top honors in the mile, Lanigan the high jump and Hicks the broad jump events.

The half mile relay was won by a Cowboy team made up of Ellis, Smith Schroeder and Hicks. The mile relay, composed of Ellis, Evans, Hicks and Stout likewise came in first.

Cowboy Five Finished In Tie For 2nd

This was a good year for basketball at West High School—no "hot" year but nevertheless a good year.

Playing under the direction of George Williams, who returned from the service a year ago, the Cowboy quintet was a fighting aggregation all the way, showing continued improvement as the season progressed.

The season ended in a three-way tie for second place in one of the most hectic league races seen in the city in a number of years. For the season West won 12 out of 31 games played in addition to one district tournament win.

In the City League the Cowboys won eight out of the 12 games played, defeating each team once and pulling upsets over North and Central at crucial times.

Outstanding throughout the season was the play of Captain Jack Thrush and Paul Theisen, a sophomore who broke into the lineup early in the season.

West went on to defeat Aquinas in the first game of the district tournament held at Delaware. It was the first Cowboy tournament win since 1938. The strong Grandview five came back in the semi-finals to ston the West threat. Williams was handicapped by the fact that Paul Theisen was unable to be in uniform.

Thrush led the city league individual scoring column with a total of 156. He led second place Boland of Aquinas by a substantial 25 points. Theisen finished in third place with 122 points and Walter Hicks, rated the eighth position with 117.

Thrush and Theisen rated places on one mythical all-high quintet and Thrush was voted the most valuable player of the season by his teammates.

Here is a record of the games won and lost for the season:

West Park Is Winner Of BB Sr. Loop Title

West Park Methodist came through to win the senior West Church Basketball League championship—its first in 20 years. The Methodists then proceeded to "get tough" in the city playoffs, getting by their first three opponents.

The Class B division of the senior loop was won by Salvation Army.

West Park chalked up seven wins against three defeats in the regular season of play.

Playing for West Park were R. Giger, Vera Lettmer, Johnny Bethel, Chuck Kennedy, Marty O'Donnell, Dick Smith, Tom Arnold, Al Link and Harold Cooper.

The team was coached by Red Dunlap and managed by Ray Laughlin.

all except one game of the regular season and was nosed out of the city finals by a one-point margin.

Hoge Memorial pulled the only upset over the Burgessites during the season.

On the championship team were Jimmie Rose, Pat Collins, Bob Glasgow, Stan Deitchip, Don Kundi, Lester Smiley, Herb Carpenter, Bob Freshcorn, Bob Henkle, Ray Panos and Archie Turner. Howard Dellinger managed the team.

There's Been A Revival Of Interest In Track At West High School

By Paul Wichterman

There's been a big revival of interest in track out at West High School. Long considered in the category of "secondary sports," it has taken its rightful place along with football, basketball and baseball as a major sporting event.

Last year's city championship squad was the first in the history of the Cowboy school so far as present-day coaches can recall. This year, with many inexperienced boys, the team has victories (as this is being written) over Linden McKinley, East and Upper Arlington, with defeats at by Springfield and North.

In addition to these results it placed fourth in the tough Huntington Relays in which 22 teams competed this year.

Much of the credit for the revival of interest in this sport goes to the persistence and hard work of the coach, Rufe Glass. Approximately 50 fellows turned out as candidates in both the varsity and junior high departments this spring. This is in sharp contrast to a few years ago when scarcely enough men were on hand to make up a full team.

Don't Sell 'Em Short

While no one is selling the 1947 team short, it is not expected to do the things accomplished by the '46 squad that helped win first place in the city and first place in the Huntington Relays to mention only a few of the honors.

Included in the holdovers from last year and considered regular point getters are Bruno Masdea, who specializes in the dashes; Walter Hicks, dashes and broad jump; Dick Hamman, distance runner; Kenneth Mahan, distance; Fred Harper, distance; Paul Love, distance; Jim Dennis, 440; Dave Hamilton, pole vault; and George Lohr, broad jump.

All of the above were varsity or reserve lettermen from the '46 team.

Showing continued improvement as the season progresses are Bob Jones, hurdles; Glen Schroeder, dashes; Bob Smith, dashes; Dick Lanigan, high jump and low hurdles; Kenneth Evans, 440; Rowland Stout, 440; and Sam Ellis, dashes.

This galaxy of track talent graduated from West last spring. Needless to say, their positions have been tough to fill in many instances.

Austin Hutt, Bill Smith, Darrell Hall, Bob Snouffer, Jim Price, Ralph Dennis, Ted Biggers, Bill Pringle and Howard Young.

Hutt hung up a string of ribbons and trophies and set new Magly Field records in the mile and half mile. His half mile time of 1:58.2 was rated the third best in scholastic records throughout the nation last year.

Smith starred in the 220 and the broad jump and holds the Magly Field record on the discus throw. Young's forte was the high jump.

Relay Team Outstanding

Last year's relay team was outstanding. It won the Huntington event with ease, came in third in the Wesleyan Relays, third in the Newark races and finished in the district by a single point.

This year for the first time in the history of the Cowboy school, Magly Field will be the scene of the Hilltop Relays, an event that will have the participation of all six city-league teams.

The affair is to be held on May 23 and is scheduled as a twilight affair. It is to be done up in style with ribbons for all events and trophies for major achievements. It is being looked forward to by many who follow the track events as one of the major events of its kind in this area.

Here's looking forward to bigger years in track at West High School.

WEST HAS 6 RECENT BASEBALL CROWNS

Football, Track, Baseball Rate High At West High School

Won District Title In '39 2nd Last Year

The walls of the athletic office out at West High School are lined with pictures of recent baseball championship teams. In fact the string of honors would be the envy of any high school, for since 1939 the Cowboys have come up with one district, six city championships and a second place in that order.

In 1939 West did not win the city title but came out winner in the district playoffs and went to the semi-finals in the state tournament. Then began the unbroken string of six consecutive city crowns.

The winning streak was snapped in 1946 but the Cowboys ended up no worse than second place. As this is being written, the '47 nine has won five while dropping one.

The defeat was administered last Tuesday at the hands of Linden McKinley, strong contenders for the city crown this year.

Wins were chalked up over Aquinas, St. Charles, East and Grandview.

Tramper Grandview
The Cowboys broke loose with a barrage of hits which, coupled with seven Grandview errors, resulted in an 18 to 6 victory on the Magly Field diamond. Chuck Weeks got credit for the win, giving up seven bingles. West came up with 10 hits and five errors while the visitors had as many errors as hits.

Jack Thrush got three for four at the plate, Don Skipper connected for two out of three, and Don Borrer slammed out a two-bagger. Jerry Chinn worked behind the plate and was relieved by Bob Schlegel.

Looser started on the mound for Grandview. He was relieved by Delin in the second, who in turn gave way to Grinstead in the fourth. Rudy, Ketter and Steffe each took turns behind the plate.

The score by innings was as follows:

Grview 0 2 0 0 1 3 1—5
West 0 0 7 2 5 1 3—18

Right now the Cowboys do not look like a team to cause too much concern as far as a title goes but the season is still young. Bad weather prevented much practice before the season opened so that anything could happen.

One encouraging sign can be seen in the return of Paul Theisen to playing form. Theisen had been on the sick list since the end of basketball season and only recently got back in uniform.

Coach Williams can do with another first string hurler. So far he has worked Weeks, Bill Buckingham and Thrush on the mound.

Up to now the team has not shown consistent hitting power. Davis of Linden held West to a scratch single but of course Davis has been doing just about the same thing to some other ball clubs. He's got that kind of "stuff."

Here's a schedule of next week's games:

Monday, at Springfield.
Tuesday, North at West.
Thursday, at St. Charles.
Saturday, at Chillicothe.

Governor Sets Safety Month

Governor Thomas J. Herbert, honorary chairman of the Green Cross for Safety Campaign, has proclaimed the month of May to be Safety Month in Ohio. The governor has called attention to the 5,264 persons who died in Ohio accidents during 1946 and the 553,000 others who were injured.

J. C. Highland, general chairman of the Green Cross for Safety, stated that Ohio's accident losses last year were estimated to be $194,206,000. This amounts to $26.32 per person living in the state, an increase of $1.67 over the 1945 figure.

Almost 80,000 persons were permanently disabled or disabled in some way, 5,000 of them being children.

A number of cities and counties are conducting local Green Cross for Safety Campaigns in cooperation with the Ohio State Safety Council which seeks 100,000 Green Cross members all over the state.

Game Protectors 'Get Their Man'

According to figures released by Lester C. Bailey, chief of the division of conservation law enforcement section, Ohio's game protectors, numbering nearly a hundred, may rightfully take a bow for not only 'getting their man' but holding on to them with a conviction. Records for 1936 show that out of the 1776 arrests for violations of hunting and fishing regulations only three of the violators were not convicted in court.

Violators in Ohio, aside from the pain imposed in the pocketbook section, should consider themselves fortunate in comparison with violators in several other states, since here in Ohio, the eye of the law at least (not in the eye of fellow hunters and fishermen) is 'square' with society when he has paid his fine. In several states in addition to paying the fine, the violator's name and address and his specific act of law-breaking are mailed to newspapers and magazines throughout the state for publication. The New York City Bureau of Parks and Recreation's weekly press release carries page after page of names and addresses of those who have run afoul of both good sportsmanship and the law.

Mrs. Smith took a great interest in the doings of her neighbors. It was a great day for her when a new arrival came to the house next door, and she watched with interest as furniture was carried into the house.

"What did you find out about the social standing of the folks across the street," her husband asked her.

"They're not much," was the reply. "They have no automobile or radio, or even a grand piano. I can't imagine what they have got."

"Perhaps," rejoined her husband, "they have a bank account."

Riding Academy Here For 20 Years

The John Davis Riding Academy, located at 2547 Eakin-rd for the last 20 years, has established itself firmly in the lives of Hilltoppers.

On Saturdays and Sundays, the rush times of each week, there have been as many as 230 or 240 riders patronize the stables per day.

At the present time there are about 85 head of horses at the academy. Davis keeps his own horses and also boards them for his regular customers. Club groups from local schools make up a large number of Davis' customers. He owns and operates his business without assistance.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis, 583 S. Wayne-av, have one daughter, Mrs. Eileen Luggar, who lives on the Hilltop.

Lehman Coaches Jr. High Sports

Orris (Red) Lehman

Many of West High School's basketball and baseball athletes of recent years got their start under Orris (Red) Lehman, junior high coach since 1942. His chief interest in school work, however, is health education.

Lehman teaches 37 classes per week in this field of education in both the junior and senior high schools. He has a master's degree from Ohio State University in that field of study and has some work completed on his Ph.D.

Before coming to West he was principal and coach of all sports at Amity, near Mt. Vernon, for six years. His wife, the former Harriett Altenburg, is from Mt. Vernon. They have two daughters, Joan, 10, and Ann, 18 months. The family lives at 81 S. Powell-av.

One-Legged Titlist

Dec. 3, 1943—Mrs. Hazel Ber-caw, 78 S. Richardson-av, will open a beauty and gift shop at 2842 W. Broad-st.

ALL 'ROUND ATHLETE

Dick Slager

Dick Slager, who will be long remembered in the realm of sports and scholastic honors at West High School, is playing an important part in spring football practice at Ohio State University from the quarterback slot.

Several boys have been competing for the position in the hope that one might be picked by new OSU mentor Wes Fesler to fill the spot in the 1947 season. To date Dick is high on the list and may see some action in Big Nine contests this autumn.

Dick's prowess in four fields of sport plus his ability to "crack the books" makes him well-known for versatility. During his three years in high school he won 12 varsity letters in five sports, football, baseball, basketball, tennis and track. Five all-city teams included Dick's name in his three years at West. In addition he received honorable mention on 1945 and 1946 all-state baseball teams. In 1945 he was picked as an alternate to go to low-rd.

George Phillips On OSU Varsity Tennis Team

George Phillips

George Phillips, 19, does not consider the accident "unfortunate" which resulted in the amputation of his right arm at the elbow when he was 22 months old.

George has overcome what might have been a lifelong handicap to less courageous people, and is "tops" in three fields of sport, baseball, bowling and tennis.

George, the son of James P. Phillips, 142 Southampton-av, owner of both the Broad-Hague and Billmore Restaurants, is now a member of the varsity tennis squad at Ohio State University, where he is a sophomore, studying personnel management. He is also a member of Atlas Ebonite Balls, first-place bowling team in the Hilltop Recreation League. His bowling average is 183.

George possesses a spontaneous wit and is neither embarrassed nor disturbed when telling about chasing a ball on S. Hague-av, stumbling into the streetcar tracks and being run over by the interurban car. "Even at 22 months, I was a versatile chaser of balls," he jokes.

In addition to his success at bowling and tennis, his favorite pastimes, he played two years with Green Cabs in the Knothole Baseball League where he was right fielder. He has also "indulged" in golf.

Besides being an athlete, he assists his father at his restaurants and can "juggle plates" as well.

Oct. 22, 1943—Miss Imogene Hughes, 188 Belvidere-av, was one of two rescued from the icy waters of Buckeye Lake early Sunday morning when a speedboat capsized, causing the death of the other six of its eight passengers.

Sept. 3, 1938—James Han, 37 S. Roy-av, has been placed in charge of the new Miller Oil Company station at the corner of Broad-st and Chase-av.

Jan. 14, 1938—Robert Hanson and Flora Adams were winners in an essay contest at Starling Junior High School recently. They will receive bronze medals.

HE COACHES THINCLADS

Rufe Glass

Coach of track and cross country at West High School is R. C. (Rufe) Glass. He came to the Hilltop five years ago and has been handling both the junior high and varsity teams.

In addition to his track work he coached basketball during the '44, '45 and '46 seasons. His cross country teams won championships during his first two years at West while his track team of '45 won the first championship for the Cowboys and was considered tops in these parts.

Glass came here from Eaton where he coached basketball, track and assisted with football. He was there four years.

He is the father of two daughters and a son. The oldest daughter, Sue, 14, was the second best speller in the Citizen Spelling Bee held last year.

The younger daughter, Kay, is 10, and Dick is 7. The family lives at 172 Guernsey-av.

Mr. C. Carlton Hartley, Publisher
The Hilltop Record

Dear Mr. Hartley:

It has come to my attention that the Record is this year celebrating its 30th Birthday. Congratulations.

You have behind you these many years of fine service to a fine community in a fine city.

Any safeguard of our liberty must be protected; freedom of speech is certainly such a safeguard. The community paper has a particular opportunity and an active obligation to preserve that right. You have assumed that obligation in the past, and I send you my best wishes as you undertake that responsibility for the future.

The Hilltop Bean Dinner Will Be Revived This Summer; Melvin Heads Committee

A committee was named this past week by Dr. R. J. Miller, president of the Hilltop Business Association, to make plans for reviving the Hilltop Bean Dinner. The dinner has not been given dinner and soft drinks are on sale. The dinner gained more city-wide publicity than perhaps any other single annual affair, with the exception of the minstrel show. People attended from all parts of the city and county.

There were contests for all ages: rides for the kiddies, usually a bathing beauty contest, a band concert, a jitterbug contest, street dancing and sometimes a boxing match along with the serving of beans from mid-afternoon till late in the evening.

Held late in July, it was an acknowledged half holiday for every place of business on the Hilltop.

The first dinner was held July 27, 1938, with George Painter, local real estate salesman, as chairman of the first picnic. The West High School band furnished music that year.

The following year E. O. Melvin was chairman of the affair. The third annual picnic was held July 31, 1940, and dedicated to the Franklin Sparks family who had just been acclaimed the Columbus typical family. Charlie Kent headed the committee in charge that year.

The fourth and final bean dinner was on July 30, 1941, with Mr. Melvin again serving as chairman of the event.

Absent from the agenda of Hilltoppers now for five years, another bean dinner would no doubt make life seem normal again and would probably be a bigger success than ever before.

202 Scouts At Camporee Over Week-end At Camp

Two hundred and two scouts and scouters from 17 scout troops attended the spring camporee held at Valley Ranch last Saturday. The early arrivals were a newly organized Troop 86 of Grove City, under leadership of Scoutmaster Weiman Moore and John Stuart, committeeman. They arrived in sufficient time to have their gang explore the camp site and were actively engaged in outdoor games while the other arrivals checked in with Cecil Cope, scoutmaster of Troop 161, at the staff headquarters.

Sea Scouts from Ship No. 2, under the leadership of their skipper, Vern Sanford, and Charlie Reichelderfer had set up their camporee first aid headquarters and launched a boat in the Darby Creek which was the center of attraction and it presented an opportunity for the boys to do some fishing and boating. John Jester, scoutmaster of Troop 220, assisted by Larry Oliver, John Kirkpatrick and Ray Weidner, had arrived in an army truck and were the first to establish headquarters in the wooded area of Valley Ranch. They were followed by Troop 33, under the leadership of Robert Woerner; Troop 5, under Scoutmaster Hubert Coontz; and Troop 212, under the leadership of Scoutmaster Harry Crawford, Assistant Scoutmaster Howard Hoffman and Committeeman Earl Cline, Sr.

Those named to the bean dinner committee are: Ed Melvin, chairman; Lou Saunders, co-chairman; Charles Kent, Curt Roberts, Paul Wickertman, Chet Herbert, John Davis, Charles Reichelderfer, William Coon, Harold Greene and Mary Benta.

The traditional bean dinner dates back to early pioneer days in Ohio. It was introduced on the Hilltop by local business men who had lived in southern Ohio. Besides the free dinner of boiled beans, served in tin plates purchased for that purpose, hot

Military Personnel Need License To Hunt and Fish

Conservation Commissioner H. A. Rider pointed out recently in reply to numerous inquiries from military personnel and posts that the temporary courtesy extended members of the armed forces exempting them from buying licenses to hunt or fish in Ohio ended at midnight, Dec. 31, 1946.

These units represented the backwoods gang at the camporee and had the farthest to hike for water but had access to a large

This was followed by district-wide games of Capture the Glig, Blues and Blacks, and Capture the Lantern, under the leadership of Sam Alford, William Ewald and Scoutmaster Cecil Cope. District Commissioner Jack Sensenbrenner, Assistant District Commissioner George Tarbutton, Neighborhood Commissioner Ted Webb and District Advancement Chairman John Apel attended the camporee. The evening activities were climaxed by a camp fire in the shelter house, with stunts by various troops, and a song fest. The scoutmasters presented a little stunt, "Sir Echo," which topped off the evening's festivities, followed by the singing of taps and the scoutmaster's benediction.

A camp staff meeting and steak fry was conducted by the members of the advanced scoutmasters' training course under the leadership of Field Scout Executive Gil Bolin. Sunday morning found camp sites wet as a result of the precipitation, which helped to give the scouts a true understanding of camping under inclement conditions. Herb Leach, scoutmaster, and Troop Committee Chairman James McGinnis of Troop 14 rose at the crack of dawn to take the boys into West Jefferson for religious services while a non-denominational church service was conducted and directed by Harry Crawford, Harry Drake and Dale Rose. Troop 18, under the leadership of Scoutmaster Jack Galloway and Dale Rose and James McCready, assistant district commissioner, were busy taking advantage of the natural surroundings and were passing their boys on many advancements during the cool morning hours.

Ralph Hart, Troop 79, and Richard Glass, Troop 131, Rome, also found that this was an advantageous time and gave their boys a chance to climb the ladder of scouting. Troop 214, under the leadership of Scoutmaster Howard Harris and Tom Garrity, with the assistance of Chairman Ray Eyerman and F. J. Sheehan, arrived in a five-car caravan with their boys early Sunday morning to cook out and spend the remainder of the camporee with the district.

However, as the rain increased and the ground grew muddy, troops were willing to forego the balance of the program as a safety precaution in view of the jeopardy of the health of the boys. The troops began checking out in the late morning hours. Troop 147, under the leadership of Tom Faust and E. Brown, broke camp in record time, however they were given a close second race by the scouts of Troop 225 and Harold Ball. The participation awards which were to be presented at the climax of the camporee will be awarded at the District Court of Honor on April 30 at the State Office Building due to the early break-up of the camporee.

He Won't Go Away

"Buckle," the Tappan family's deer at Lockwood, N. Y., just won't go away to the woods and be like other deer. He was found in a nearby field last summer when he was so young he could hardly stand. He likes the Tappans so well he goes after the cows with the children, eats calf feed with their calf, answers Mrs. Tappan's whistle. She's shown giving him a cookie inside the house, where he makes himself at home on occasion.

THE MARK OF GOOD TASTE—FURNITURE AT WHITE'S

Fire Takes A Life Every 50 Minutes

An analysis of the approximately 700,000 fires which occurred in this country last year indicates that a fire breaks out somewhere in the nation about every 50 minutes. Every 50 minutes someone dies in a fire or from burns. Despite the tragic statistics of lives lost in hotel and factory fires, the report shows that more lives are lost by fire in the home than in any other place. Day in and day out, year in, and year out, a fire breaks out every 50 seconds in someone's home, bringing grief and destruction to 1060 families every 24 hours.

Statistics of the fire causes show that, as usual, carelessness is responsible for 80 per cent of all the fires that occur. The careless use of matches and cigarettes accounts for one-third of the fires, while defective wiring and electrical appliances, faulty cooking and heating equipment, and carelessness with gasoline and other cleaning fluids account for an additional 44 per cent. In the face of such facts, it is understandable why firemen sometimes become discouraged in their never-ending fight to reduce the nation's enormous fire loss. Every home owner and every factory employee must become fire conscious and strive to correct the conditions that permit a fire to break out every 50 seconds in this country. The Fire Prevention Bureau, with the few firemen available for inspection work, cannot hope to do a complete job of discovering all of the fire hazards in Columbus. Every person in the home must assume his or her responsibility in reducing fire hazards. It's your home and it's your life that may be involved and it's your duty to protect it.

Jones Operates Complete Aviation Center For Hilltop

Flying has innumerable adaptations to the small business concern.

That is a doctrine that Gomer Jones, operator of the Sullivant Avenue Airport and Clickinger Field, keeps preaching wherever he goes. He has some good case histories to bear out this view too. Here is a typical example:

Not long ago Joyce California, a small shoe manufacturer here in Columbus, called to find out if it would be possible to have a plane fly to Newcastle, Pa., to pick up a supply of cork and haul it to the Mt. Vernon plant.

A Stinson four-place plane was readied for flight and as soon as the final okay was given by the firm, the pilot left the Hilltop field, about 2:30 in the afternoon. The flight was completed to Newcastle where the shipment was waiting. It was flown to Mt. Vernon and the pilot checked back in at the local field about 6 o'clock.

Around 8:30 p. m. the company official called the airport to see if there had been any report on the flight. He was astonished to learn that the pilot had completed his mission and returned home more than two hours earlier.

Time Is Money
"You see, that's just one way that flying can serve the small business man," Jones said. "Time is money and when a piece of equipment breaks down, the cost of an express flight for small parts is small compared to the time saved by getting that machine back in production again."

Jones is an ambitious merchandiser of his wares. Last year his firm grossed a quarter-million dollars in the sale of Stinson planes and service. He is the Stinson distributor for this area. He has complete facilities for sales, service, flight instruction and charter service.

He believes in giving the public a taste of the wares he has to sell. Last Sunday as a feature of National Aviation Week he invited all the members of the Hilltop Business Association to a free airplane ride around to the city's various airports. Inclement weather prevented his carrying out the project but he promised that the offer would be renewed some Sunday when the sun is shining.

"Get them talking about aviation and its possibilities, then some day they'll have occasion to try it."

That's his theory and from the looks of things it's paying dividends.

The local field has four pilots on duty all the time and two extras. Two other pilots are on hand at the Clickinger Field over southeast of the city.

Hilltop Hymn Sing Is Unusual Religious Service; Several Denominations Take Part

One of the most unusual phases of religious life in the community is the Hilltop Hymn Sing. Now in its third year, it started as a spontaneous movement on the part of church goers who enjoyed singing hymns together.

Members of more than a dozen local churches meet in some church every other Sunday night following the evening worship hour. The place of meeting is rotated from one cooperating church to another so that the singers have an opportunity to sing in most of the local churches before the round is completed.

Assembling at 8 o'clock, a full hour is devoted to the singing of the old hymns under the direction of the choir director of the church or some one who may be invited to do it for the evening. Selections are made by the singers themselves who ask for their favorite hymns to be sung. Once in a while there may be a solo or a duet or any other special number that may be called out of the audience on the spur of the moment.

The program pretty much follows the pattern set by the director for that evening. Usually only one or two verses of a hymn are used so that a wider selection of songs may be accommodated.

During the brief intermission period the secretary takes the attendance by churches. As the name of the church is called out all the members stand and are counted. A report on the number present and the number of churches represented for the evening is given by the secretary.

near the close of the program.

Banner Awarded
One feature that has kept interest high all these months is the awarding of an attendance banner each night. The banner is kept only until the next "sing" and then it is eligible to be won by members of another church.

The banner is awarded on the basis of the church with the highest percentage of its evening church attendance present at the song service. This gives both large and small congregations an equal opportunity to win the banner. It can be won on consecutive Sundays by the same church if attendance justifies it. However, the host church is never eligible for the banner.

The hymn sing idea was born in the Hilltop Ministerial Association and has continued to be operated under the guidance of a committee named for that purpose. It is entirely interdenominational. From time to time there have been visitors from many churches throughout the city who have heard of this unusual religious fellowship.

Attendance during recent months has averaged from 175 up to 225, occasionally much higher. Just before Christmas the Hilltop Kiwanis Club joined forces with the "hymn sing" group and filled Glenwood Methodist Church almost to capacity. The first year enthusiasm was so high that the song services were continued right through the hot summer months without a break. Last summer it was thought best to recess for a little more than a month during the hottest part of the season.

Many of the hymns selected are the spirited type that center on the reality of Jesus and man's personal relationship to Him. The songs chosen for a single evening may run to the exact opposite or found in the prayer hymns, devotional numbers, etc.

The Hilltop Hymn Sing group has its own version of the "Hallelujah Chorus." It is a spirited chorus sung by the men and women responsively and involves considerable gymnastics in that these participating sing and must be seated during the rest measures. Since some of the measures are very short it involves some agility to do the right thing at the right time. The younger members particularly enjoy it and call for it almost every time the group meets. Only a few of the older folk elect to "sit that one out."

All Ages Attend
The ages of those attending run all the way from children in the lower grades of school to persons in their upper seventies. However, the adults are much in the majority.

During the Lenten period the program was varied to the extent of having one of the pastors present a 10-minute devotional message on some theme that had a bearing on the Easter season. This was given at the intermission period so it resulted in the singing of only two or three fewer hymns.

Offerings are never taken and the invitation is always extended to all hymn lovers to attend. The only funds raised since the start of the movement were to defray the cost of having the attendance banner made.

In community religious life the "hymn sing" is a unique event. The fact that it has carried on so long indicates the degree to which it is enjoyed by those who attend. At the start the committee made no definite plans for its duration.

"We will carry on as long as people want to sing," they said. So far Hilltoppers have given no indication that they want to abandon this unusual type of Christian fellowship in together. It has resulted in people from one church getting acquainted with members of other churches so that all feel a bond of fellowship that was not there before. In no other part of the city of Columbus is there anything like it.

A native of Illinois, he was educated in Chicago schools and attended Crane College. His hobbies are sports, music and the collecting of wish-bones and other good luck charms. So if you're a wish-bone lying around you might send it to him. (He prefers them up-pulled and unwashed.)

The outstanding event announced by Mr. Corley was the arrival in Columbus last fall of the navy plane, The Frigate Bird. He had lipped for half an hour while awaiting the plane's arrival, and to his surprise discovered later that the entire Columbus Broadcasting System. Some of his regular stints on WBNS are "Traffic Roll of Honor," heard Tuesdays and Thursdays at 11:15 a. m.; "Farm Time," heard daily at 11:30 a. m. and a new pro-

Sullivan Improvement Is Scheduled

One of the three street improvement projects on the Hilltop may be given attention late this summer. City Engineer Paul Mestel has announced, but nothing is expected to be done on the remaining two until 1948.

The repaving of Sullivan-av from Hayes-av west to the corporation line is now No. 2 on a list of three city paving projects to be attempted this summer. Freble-av and Indianapolis-av being the other two. Plans are being drawn for the Freble job at the present time and when it is completed, Sullivan-av will receive attention. This should be in August or September.

Two other Hilltop projects are the addition of curbing and sidewalks on Mound-st from Wayne-av to Binn-bld, and improvement of a block on Binn-bld from Vandenberg-av south to the city limits. These will not be undertaken by the city in 1947.

Mestel has blamed the long delay upon the inadequate salaries of city planners and engineers that "city planners and engineers cannot be hired with less money than that which a truck driver receives."

The Sullivan-av undertaking is expected to cost $130,000 and will be paid for out of part of the $650,000 bond issue passed in 1945, plus assessments against property owners. It has been decided by the City Council that the bond levy will provide 65 per cent of the cost and property owners will carry 35 per cent of the financial burden.

The Mound-st job is estimated to cost $73,000 and is part of a city-wide program to improve eight streets within the next four years.

The improvement on Binn-bld will be handled by the city engineer's office when possible, the cost of the work to be borne by the property owners plus city assistance at 50 per cent. Two per cent of the total cost will be paid by the city.

Lovers Lane

Live oak and cypress trees, with hanging moss, provide here a "lovers lane" of matchless beauty. Only God can make such a scene. The tall trees, verdant foliage and the sun shining through are all reminders of God's love and His countless provisions for man's happiness.

This lovers lane is a spot of such beauty that human feet have made and kept a pathway here for generations. Here lovers may commune with nature and God, and realize the glory of His many blessings.

God made this lovers lane thousands, perhaps millions of years ago. This place has watched the passing parade of life and love. It will see the lovers of countless ages yet to come, walk through its archway of woodland beauty.

Lovers lane is visited by night and day, rain and shine, Summer and Winter. Regardless of whose feet have trod this pathway, God alone has been there ALWAYS. His love will inspire many of those who pass this way in the years that lie ahead.

The church of God teaches of this love. It invites you to attend services regularly and to bring your family into God's presence in His own house each Sunday and for weekday religious observances.

Sewers Are In Along U. S. Route No. 40

A large percentage of earth excavation has been completed and all storm sewers have been installed as part of the preliminary work of widening U. S. Route 40 from the city limits west to Georgesville-rd. Robert Werner, 187 N. Harris-av, engineer over the division, states, the Phillips

Hilltop Will Get New Fire House: No. 17 Engine House Is Landmark In Community

This Is Engine House No. 17

One of three probable locations, all on Sullivan-av. in the vicinity of Chester-av. and Roy-av., will be the site of the Hilltop's next firehouse.

The plots are being considered for purchase by the City Council. As soon as a decision is reached, negotiations will begin for erecting the work of building one of the most modern and well equipped engine houses in the city.

The new house will complement No. 17 house, located at the corner of Broad-st and Wheatland-av, at present the only Hilltop fire station. With the large expansion of buildings and population to the southwest, especially along Sullivan-av, it is necessary to have another station in that direction as soon as possible.

Plans for the new firehouse are drawn and will result in a type of fire building corresponding in architecture to its neighboring houses. The house proper will be a one-floor bungalow style, surrounded by a landscaped lawn.

The building will closely resemble a tunnel in construction although not in appearance. This will enable the trucks to drive in the back door and to the front of the building facing the street, eliminating the old practice of driving up to the front door and backing in. A parking courtyard will be located at the back of the building.

A kitchen, dormitory and recreation room will be to the side. The building will be revolutionary in that there will be no traditional "pole", now used for quick descent when firemen are awakened by an alarm.

Money Available
A bond issue was voted to pay for the new building but enough was not appropriated for the services of personnel earning a standard living wage. It is hoped by fire authorities that this will be remedied before plans formulate for the new building.

No. 17 house is responsible for all first alarm calls west of Central-av. A pumper and truck is sent for each call in addition to a pumper from No. 10 house at Glenwood and Broad, and a chief from the house at Fourth and Chestnut.

In case of a hotel, school or church fire special equipment from No. 3 house on Third-st. is rushed to the scene. This includes foam for gasoline and oil fires, electric saws for cutting through metal, a generator for light in dark basements, an acetylene torch and gas masks.

Equipment at No. 17 house includes 1200 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose for attaching to fire hydrants, 400 feet of 1 1/2 inch and 250 feet of 1 inch, both for attachment to the pumper, a three gallon foam tank, a pumper, a truck and a reserve engine.

Employs 20 Men
When fully manned the firehouse employs 20 men, working on the platoon system of 24 hours on, 24 hours off. Each unit of 10 men has two officers. At the present time, Capt. Kidd and Lt. Lombardi supervise No. 1 unit, and Capt. Stringer and Lt. O'Connor are in charge of No. 2 unit.

One man is responsible for cooking, assisted by his co-workers in sundry kitchen duties. The men pay for their own meals and supply their own small kitchen equipment, such as dishes and glassware.

Ten beds are located on the 2nd floor. The lower, a well-known outward aspect of the building, is for drying the hose. It is necessary that the hose be dried thoroughly after use to avoid mildewing of the woven cotton exterior. All hose is rubber-lined.

Each unit is responsible for a certain hydrant district where a rigid inspection is made frequently. This is to see that all hydrants are dry in winter weather, that they do not have weeds or tall grass around them during the summer, and that all business places within that district are complying with state fire laws as to rubbish collection, dark halls and locked exits.

Plans and specifications have been completed for a new piece of equipment which will be added within the next 18 months at No. 17 house. Named the Quad, it is a combination pumper and truck with ladders. There will be two placed in the city, the other in the north end.

Executive Named For Camp Fire

Mrs. Betty Fouke, of Youngstown, has been appointed Camp Fire executive of Columbus and Franklin County, succeeding Mrs. Mary Demorest, 2141 W. Broad-st, who resigned on April 15. Mrs. Demorest has long been associated with the Columbus office.

The officers of the Columbus Camp Fire organization are Judge Fred L. Donnelly, 100 Clinton Heights-va, president; Mrs. Harry Erick, 2545 Steele-av, first vice president; Mrs. Wesley France, 1233 Wyandotte-rd, second vice president; and Joseph Ray, 310 Acton-rd, treasurer.

A complete story on the Camp Fire members and leaders may be found on page 3D, col. 7 of today's Hilltop Record.

Sewer, Water Services To Be Extended

Surveys on sewer lines to run west along Frank-rd to Harrisburg-pk along the city sewage disposal plant are being completed and officials of the county planning engineer's office have positioned for water lines to be installed in this area shortly.

Many other projects have been requisitioned however, and with the shortage of manpower, it will be several months before work begins in this sector.

The sewer extension program will benefit Briggsdale and the Green Lawn Cemetery vicinity as well as providing sewer service for the new children's home site and the new school building.

Grover F. Clements, Franklin County planning engineer, has proposed that the city waterworks extend lines westward from Georgesville-rd to service Rome and down the Harrisburg-pk. It is understood that the storage tank and other facilities at the Village of New Rome, which gets its water from wells, are in need of replacement.

An additional proposed water extension will run north along Hague-av to the Skidmore School. San Margherita may take advantage of the water facilities at a later date.

A definite time for beginning any of these projects has not been decided upon.

Volunteers Of America Ready To Collect Paper

"Since the ending of hostilities and the disbanding of the various salvage committees most people feel that the need for salvaging old paper is ended. This is definitely not true since the consumption of old paper is today at a higher level than at any time in history," Reuben Abramson of the industrial committee told a group of Volunteers of America Advisory Board members during a recent meeting held at the local headquarters, 370 W. Broad-st. "Salvaging of old paper will be necessary to meet the demand until full production in industry is reached once more."

Abramson, general manager of Segal-Schmidt Company and a long-standing member of the Volunteers of America Advisory Board, spoke to the group which met to plan the spring salvage drive for the organization.

"The Volunteers of America has raised by sale of salvaged paper more than half of its annual budget," he stressed. "Thus a campaign serves the dual purpose of helping the welfare organization as well as assisting the alleviation of the paper shortage."

Five different types of paper go into the salvage program according to the speaker. They include: discarded newspapers, corrugated boxes, old magazines, kraft paper, and scrap. Separation and baling as done by the local post of the Volunteers of America greatly aid the supply of old paper used by mills to make new paper. Trucks are made new paper. Trucks are made new paper.
